

Gaines Believes Vacation To Remain Unchanged; ODT's Statement Awaited

Officials Check Rumors Of One-Month Vacation For All Boys' Schools

Washington and Lee's Christmas vacation—and that of every other men's school in the country—now hinges upon an official statement to be issued "shortly" by the Office of Defense Transportation, President Francis P. Gaines said this morning.

While the official ODT statement on the much-discussed matter was expected in today's mail, Washington's ruling has not yet been received, he added.

"No final announcement can be made at the present," Dr. Gaines said in his late-morning statement on the question to which all W&L—faculty and students—have been seeking the answer since early last week.

Dr. Gaines, however, hazarded a guess, subject to later modifications, that the holidays would be as announced in the University catalogue, December 19 to January 4. Dean Gilliam ventured the same prediction in a statement yesterday afternoon.

If the holidays go through as scheduled, students should make travel reservations immediately, Dr. Gaines emphasized.

The rumored possibility that W&L students would receive a one-month vacation seems to have no foundation, Dr. Gaines pointed out, adding that boys' schools could not afford to lose that much time under the new speedup programs brought on by the war.

Dr. Gaines, who was in Washington the first three days of the week, is a member of the special education advisory committee which conferred with Joseph B. Eastman, director of ODT, on the problem, but he did not reach the capital in time for the session, he said.

The University president now knows the answer to the question that everyone was trying to answer without information during the past week. He must wait, however, for the official ODT statement before he can release the news, according to wartime regulations.

The ODT, Dr. Gaines continued, was pleased that girls' schools, who can lengthen their regular terms, were granting longer vacations, because it will ease the transportation burden which has arisen this Christmas. Increased travel by government officials and by men in the nation's armed forces has created a jungle-like transportation tangle this year.

Original basis of widespread rumors which had W&L students receiving anywhere from nearly two months to only one day Christmas vacations was an ODT statement discouraging travel between December 15 and January 15. The faculty did not know whether to interpret it as a "suggestion" or an "order."

The answer will arrive by mail very "shortly."

Student Body To Hear Author On Wednesday

William Henry Chamberlin, widely known author of books and magazine articles and Russian correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor for 12 years, will speak on "Russia" at a compulsory University assembly Wednesday noon in Lee Chapel.

Chamberlin, who wrote "Russian Iron Age," will be the first of a series of speakers to address the student body at compulsory assemblies this year. His latest work is an article, "Why Civil

ODK to Tap Initiates

Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership society founded at W&L in 1914, will hold its annual tapping ceremony during the latter part of the assembly, Prof. Rupert N. Latture, founder and faculty adviser to the group, announced today.

After new members have been tapped by Lee Kenna, the only ODK member returning to school, they will be initiated that night in the ODK Circle Room of the Student Union. The annual banquet following the initiation ceremony will be supplanted this year by a desert and coffee course.

In addition to eligible students, one or more alumnus may be tapped into the organization at Wednesday's meeting, Mr. Latture said.

Liberties Now?" in the October issue of Harpers Magazine.

The class schedule for Wednesday's assembly features 55 minute classes for the E and G blocks, while 35 minute meetings will be held at the other hours. The change, designed to proven shortening of laboratory periods, was announced together with the assembly by Professor Latture, chairman of the lectures committee of the faculty.

The complete schedule follows:

8:25-9:00
9:00-9:35
9:35-10:30
10:30-11:25
11:25-12:00
12:00-1:00 Assembly

Seymour Smith to Speak

Seymour Smith will speak at the regular meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Students are invited to attend.

270 Girls Will Attend W&L Weekend Functions

Girls—270 of them—coming from points as far west as Drake, Iowa, as far north as Vassar on the Hudson, as far south as Montgomery, Ala., and as nearby as Southern Sem—began moving into Lexington early tonight for the fall's first big weekend.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, leading the 16 other fraternities, will entertain 28 girls during this crowded weekend with its slate of two football games, a giant pep rally and the IFC informal hop. In second place were Sigma Nu and Delta Tau Delta, with 20 each.

An incomplete date list follows:

Alpha Tau Omega (12)

ODK Issue Wednesday

The issue of The Ring-tum Phi, scheduled to appear next Tuesday evening, will not be published until Wednesday immediately after the ODK tapping ceremony at the University Assembly. This is being done to comply with a long-standing tradition of putting out a special ODK issue on the day that the new members of the campus leadership fraternity are announced.

Dance Rulings Go Into Effect At IFC Dance

The University Dance Regulations will be in effect at tomorrow night's Interfraternity Council Dance as well as at all other University dances, Lee Kenna, student body president announced today.

The regulations are:

1. All Washington and Lee dances shall be free from intoxicants and the effects thereof.
2. Any person attending a dance in violation of Regulation 1 shall be removed from the gymnasium immediately and suspended from attending further dances until his case has been tried by the Executive Committee of the student body.

3. The penalty for a first infraction of Regulation 1 shall be exclusion from one half of the dances of a session, commencing with the date of the offense; provided, that for drunkenness or other disorderly conduct, or for any second offense, or for the possession of intoxicants anywhere within the gymnasium during a dance, the penalty shall be exclusion for not less than one calendar year. For visitors and alumnus, the penalties shall be not less than those provided for students under similar circumstances.

4. No visitors shall be admitted to any dance unless vouched for in writing by a student or by some person officially connected with the University. If a visitor is found guilty of violating Regulation 1, above, a student vouching for him shall be excluded from one or more sets of dances.

5. Smoking is prohibited at all times on the dance floor and in the balcony.

6. General conduct shall conform to the generally accepted standards of good society.

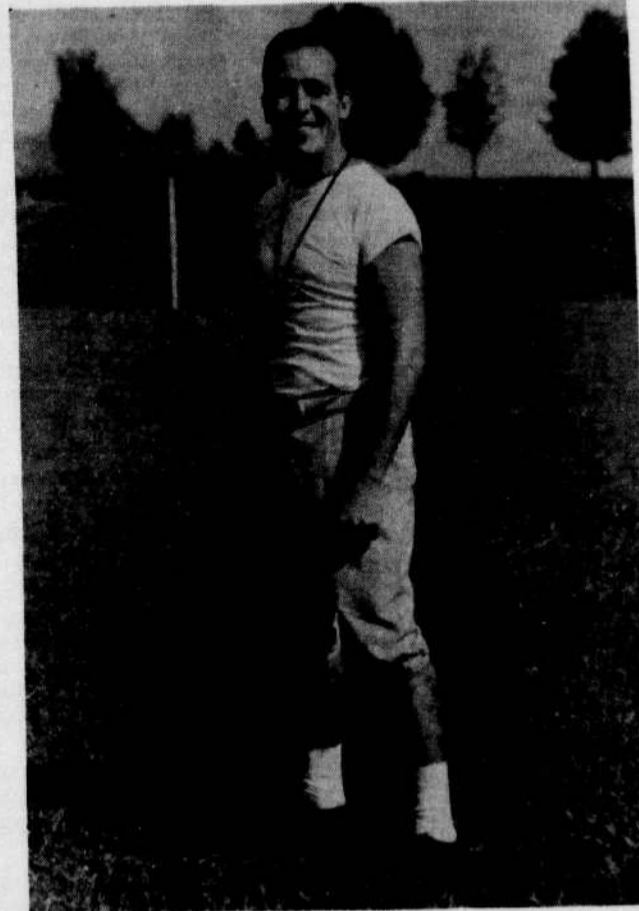

7. The Dance Floor Committee is vested with full authority and accepts responsibility for the enforcement of these regulations.

Band Meets at 1:30

Members of the W&L band are to meet before the game tomorrow on the steps of the gym by 1:30 p.m. in order to be admitted to the game, band members must be in full uniform, including the hat. The next meeting will be held Monday evening at 7:30 in the Troubadour Theater, John Kammerer, manager said today.

Tonight's Pep Rally Sparks First Home Football Tilt; IFC Dance Saturday Night

Speaks at Rally Tonight

Confident General Coach Jerry Holstein will set the spark to the weekend at tonight's pep rally, will lead the Blue against Hampden-Sydney's Tigers tomorrow afternoon.

Faculty Announces Plans to Hold Formal Graduation in January

A formal graduation ceremony will be held at the end of the first semester in January, the faculty decided at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

The graduation, for which no actual plans have yet been made, was approved by the board of trustees at their annual fall meeting this morning. No date has been set, as this will hinge on the decision as to Christmas holidays, President Gaines said.

Washington and Lee will support the present status of students in relation to the armed services, it was decided in a discussion concerning the bill pending before Congress to reduce the draft age to 18.

The Association of American Colleges will meet in Philadelphia Thursday, October 29, to draft its proposal to the government, Dr. Gaines said. He added that it is probable that the group will adopt the stand taken by its committee to Relate Colleges to the War Effort, which decided to ask the government that students be allowed to stay in the reserves under the control of the colleges.

If the government will not accept the proposal of the association, which is composed of the presidents of all the nation's accredited colleges, students will probably be called to active duty and the more promising students assigned to schools, as under the Navy's pre-flight program, Dr. Gaines said.

As a member of the association's board of directors and chairman of the committee dealing with the subject, Dr. Gaines stated that he will support the program which also calls for the forming of student corps, a plan for unifying the reserves which is slightly similar to the program during the last war.

Although the government's decision probably will not be made for from 30 days to six weeks, Dr. Gaines announced that he felt sure that most students will be able to complete this school year. If the colleges' proposal is rejected, W&L will get aligned with the new program immediately, he added.

Leaves of absences were granted to four members of the faculty at the trustee meeting. Professor Robert W. Royston, of the mathematics department, will leave November 2, having received a naval lieutenant's commission this week.

Professor George S. Jackson, of the English department, has finished his work at W&L and will report for active duty as a naval lieutenant within a few days. The other two men, Lt. F. James Barnes, USNR, of the political science department, and 1st Lt. William M. Hinton, USAS, of the psychology department, left before the beginning of the fall session.

"Should manpower be drafted by war industries?" is the question to be debated at the next regular meeting of the Forensic Union to be held Monday evening.

Zamoiski Leads Cheerleaders, 1942 Collegians

Students will descend en masse upon Doremus Gymnasium at 7:30 tonight to cheer at the year's first giant pep rally, scheduled for the Washington and Lee-Hampden-Sydney game on Wilson Field Saturday afternoon, and set the spark to a weekend which, from all indications, promises W&L students and their dates "an awful big time with plenty of fun and entertainment."

With $375 already turned in from preliminary campus ticket sales for the Interfraternity Council informal dance Saturday night from 9 to 12, Jimmy Walker, council president, said today that the weekend dance will certainly be a great success.

Joe Zamoiski, head cheerleader, said today that the cheerleaders have completed final arrangements for the rally and are ready with new uniforms, new cheers and entirely new setup to help the students in making plenty of noise for the game.

He added that the squad will take on a "flashy appearance" this year and will have new motions and stunts to replace the signals which formerly emphasized the yells.

Elliott McCauley, Jimmy Holoran, Norman Fischer, Ray Smith, Howard Vanderbuilt and Larry Garvin will comprise the squad this year.

In making final arrangements for the rally, Zamoiski said that the entire football team would be on hand for all the students to see before the game. He added that this time each player would be brought in the gym separately and introduced to the students before the actual cheering got under way.

With Bud Bell, head cheerleader last year, as master of ceremonies, main speakers for the rally will include Student Body President Lee Kenna, Head Coach Jerry Holstein, Field Captain Teddie Ciesia and George Wood, who will represent White Friars, honorary sophomore fraternity sponsoring the rally.

Rally music will be provided by the newly reorganized band and the Southern Collegians. Roger Campbell, band director, said recently that a "new and more singable" version of the "Washington and Lee Swing" would be the main musical feature of the rally.

"Students have always wanted to yell more at the games in the past," the rally leaders said today, "so that's just what we are striving for this year. We are going to get the students yelling and keep them yelling throughout both the rally and Saturday's game," they added.

Zamoiski requested today that all freshmen attending the game sit in the center section of the W&L side of the stands in order that they may help to lead the cheering and provide a nucleus for the singing. The band will also be placed in the center section, he added.

In announcing results of the preliminary ticket sales after last night's IFC meeting, President Walker said that Vernon Millsap, Jim La Plante, Lynch Christian, Al Sharitz, Phi Sellers and Art Thompson will serve on the door committee for the Saturday night function.

The Southern Collegians, featuring three vocalists and 15 new dance pieces, will provide music for the dancing students and their dates. Vocal arrangements will be sung by Zamoiski, McCauley and Stan Carmichael.

With decorations limited to a colorful arrangement around the band stand, Walker said that

Easy Does It

Two football games, a pep rally Friday night, a couple of hundred dates, VMI hops for seniors, our own Interfraternity informal on Saturday night—it all adds up to the first big weekend that W&L students have had this year.

It should be a lot of fun. There is no reason for it to be expensive for anyone. There will only be four or five more dance weekends this year, and they all should be looked upon as interludes of relaxation and fun only. Enjoy yourself by all means, but do nothing which would give local citizens, visitors or the administration a justified opportunity to criticize our conduct.

Send It On

When you finish reading your copy of each issue of the Ring-tum Phi, send it to one of your friends or fraternity brothers now in the armed services.

It will cost you only one cent an issue to do this, and since most of us don't have the time to write long and newsy letters to our buddies now in training or in action, it should prove an excellent way to keep former W&L students informed of what is going on about the campus.

It is probably difficult for us here in our cloistered halls to imagine the great delight which some W&L soldier, marine or navy man will get out of reading about his school and his fraternity and his student friends.

Don't put any writing on the paper, wrap it in a plain wrapper (an envelope with the ends cut off will do the job), stick a penny stamp on it and address it to one of our former students in any camp or naval base on this continent. Unfortunately, shipping space prevents newspapers being sent to foreign bases as third class mail.

The editors would like to send a free subscription of the paper to every W&L man in the service, but unfortunately it is impossible. So let us each take it upon himself to make this small contribution to one of the boys in khaki or blue.

Add: Speak Up

It should have been said in the recent editorial urging students to express themselves through the "Letters" column that the Ring-tum Phi will not print any unsigned letters received. If the writer does not wish his name to be known, the letter will be printed without it, but the editors must know the name of the person writing any letter or article which is carried in these columns.

Note to one "discontented cow," author of an unsigned letter received in the morning mail: While there was nothing particularly revolutionary or daring about your suggestion regarding Christmas holidays, the Ring-tum Phi will "dare to print" anything that you or any other student will dare to write and sign.

Regarding the demand of the "discontented cow" for a Thanksgiving holiday as "compensation for the penalty which we must suffer" if the Christmas vacation period is suspended, we fail to agree that our staying here during Christmas so that members of the armed services will be able to go home for one last furlough would be looked upon by the average W&L student as a "penalty." Inconvenient and disturbing? Certainly it would be. But it would hardly come under the class of "suffering."

Campus Comment

By Mal Deans

RAILROADED: Dick Houska wasn't feeling very bitter last weekend, so on Thursday he lit out on the 8:15 from Buena Vista to go up to Philadelphia for a wedding. Houska has always liked weddings. Everything is gay and free, and he doesn't have time to be bitter.

Anyhow, Houska's train got him to Harrisburg at some ungodly hour in the middle of the night, and in company of Bill Hamilton and Wally Clayton, old Dick decided on a hot dog and coffee before the train for Philly left. Now Clayton never goes first class and Hamilton didn't give a damn, so those two carried their suitcases all around the Harrisburg station themselves. But not Houska. After all he was going to a wedding. Houska engaged a porter.

Soon it was train time and the boys started walking through the station. The porter was in the lead, Houska was right behind him, and then came Clayton and Hamilton, panting under the burden of one suitcase each. Suddenly they came to what Clayton and Hamilton recognized to be the train to Philly. But the porter and Houska continued on.

"Hey Dick!" sung out Clayton, "Here's the train to Philly."

"Nuts!" came the reply. "This porter knows where he is going."

And so Clayton and Hamilton boarded the train to Philly. Houska and the porter strode off thru the station, disappeared into a tunnel, and Dick was seen by no one until he slouched into class the following Tuesday.

Houska has finally returned to Lexington, but he's very non-committal. Somehow we don't think he ever got to that wedding.

MYSTERY: The other day a little gal at Macon got a wire from Lexington asking her if she wouldn't like to come over to the KA house for I-F weekend with good old Johnny Jordan. I believe it was unsigned. In any case a little later Jordan got a very nice reply saying that she'd just love to come.

Johnny just can't quite figure the whole thing out. He's a peace-loving sort of guy and he kinda wonders why anyone would want to do such a thing to him. After all he doesn't particularly want a date. He'd rather spend the weekend cruising around with a couple of roughnecks like Jack Murrell or Bill Talbott.

Johnny has reconsidered tho and is going to take the date. After all, he muses, you can never tell when or where you'll meet your dream girl.

LIFE LINES: One the boys down at the Beta house gave Beech Alexander, star pledge, a letter to mail the other day and three cents to buy a stamp with. The next morning the letter and the three cents turned up in the Beta house at the P. O. Seems Mr. Alexander thought that the box served not only as a place to get mail, but one from which to send it as well. The boys at Sigma Chi were kidding Dick Jeffries about being a prospective member of "13" Club, and were making various remarks about the force with which "13" Club members are wont to wield paddles. Jeffries' reply: "Fellows, no one's going to beat J. R. (he loves to be called J. R.) this year. This is J. R.'s year and he's going to do all the beating that's done!" The Kappa Sig pledges are finding distance a major factor in the rain. Hence Clayton's Taxi is kept busy carting the boys out there at lunchtime on rainy days.

THE MAILBOX: Corpulent Chuck Jackson recently received the oddest shaft of them all. Here's how the note went:

"Dear Chuck, I am falling in love with you and I am very scared about it. So therefore I don't think we'd better see each other any more. Don't you think that's the sensible thing to do?"

Jackson is no longer on the Hollins team. He is a defeated man.

GRAPEVINE: For once Al Cahn hits a movie correctly. "The Pride of the Yankees" is double-A. . . . Dave Jones discussing his two dates for the same dance: "Oh well, things always seem to work themselves out okay." . . . The strip-teasers in Los Angeles were recently curtailed in their activities. Several of them immediately proceeded to the office of the men that had banned their acts and proceeded to perform an extremely lively strip-tease, which excited the old boys somewhat. Said one of the strip artists, "It's a damn shame, that's all. We're building morale up. The boys of this country ought to at least be able to SEE what they are fighting for!" Shirk has a fool-proof scheme to get us all home for Christmas vacation. . . . Speaking of Christmas vacations, if ODT's statement on travel between December 15 and January 15 is a strictly restrictive one, "Shirk's Scheme" or not, we'll all sing carols under Washington's statute on Christmas Eve. . . . Chauncey Durden called the football squad, "the travel weary Generals" and for once he called it right.

Southern Collegians To Feature Soloists, New Songs at Dance

By ED JACKSON

Clad in grey-flannel zoot suits and featuring three male vocalists plus 99 tunes, including 15 up-to-the-minute versions, the 1942-43 Southern Collegians move from their training camp in their own studios to the platform in the center of Doremus Gymnasium tomorrow night for a one-night stand at the IFC's Monogram Club dance.

After playing "under wraps" for nearly three weeks now, the new Collegians make their first public appearance at tonight's giant pep rally and will play for three hours at tomorrow night's informal hop.

Baltimore Joe Zamoiski, PEP sophomore, will lead the 12-piece band from the sax section, since there will be no "front man" this year. "The Mouse," said he would make every effort to put on a "great show" for W&L men and their dates at the climax affair of the first big weekend of the fall.

The orchestra will stage a brief pre-intermission program tomorrow night, highlighted by special arrangements of "Strip Polka," with Zamoiski doing the vocals; "Sing, Sing, Sing," featuring Delt freshman, Fielder Cook on the drums; "Amen," and the "W&L Swing."

Replacing Paul (P.T.) Thomas—who led the band, did the singing, played first trumpet and arranged the tunes last year—as vocalist are two sophomores, PIKA Elliott McCauley, baritone, and Stan Carmichael, tenor, both members of the championship Glee Club here last spring.

Among the 15 new popular tunes that have been added to last year's array by the Zamoiskimen are "My Devotion," "Strictly Instrumental," "I Cried for You," "Who Wouldn't Love You," and "Just as Tough You Were Here."

In promising a "good show for tomorrow night," the sax-playing leader added that he hoped students would come up to the bandstand during the dance and request numbers.

"We'll do our best to play them the way you like 'em," Zamoiski said. The Zamoiski-arranged sideshow is expected to include everything but the Hindu rope trick.

Tomorrow night's opening stand will find, in addition to veteran Zamoiski, four new men in the sax section. They are Bob Keebler, tenor; Bob Warfield, baritone; and Elliott McCauley and Campbell Gibson, on the altos.

Under freshman footballer Gibson, who plays first sax, the section "has shown great improvement and it punches and kicks as well as blending on mellow tunes."

The brass group will be composed of Trumpeters Lou Jorel, Tad Humphries, Carl Johnson and Hank Ashe. The spotlight will be focused on trumpet-soloist Ashe for the Thomas-written theme, "Yase, Kidney."

The rhythm section will show Fielder Cook, whom Zamoiski classifies as "terrific," on the drums; Gordon (Swish) Sibley, whose specialty is "Back-Beat Boogie," at the piano; and veteran Harrison Kinney on the bass.

In addition to the Monogram Dance engagement, the student orchestra has been signed for dances at Madison College in Harrisonburg, at the duPont plant in Waynesboro, and a booking for Hollins' annual Christmas dance is pending.

Archives Describe Incidents Of Lee's W&L Presidency

Only students working on themes and papers about the life of General Robert E. Lee have access to the newly established Lee Archives, set up by the University. Many anecdotes and other stories of Lee's life, never revealed to the public, are contained in the collection.

For example, there is one letter, written in 1868 shortly after the war, from the Freedman's Bureau of Reconstruction to General Lee, who was at that time president of Washington College. This bureau requested the famous general to restrain some of our as ever over-exuberant students from attacking local parades in honor of Grant's nomination for president. It would be amusing to read the general's reply to this letter, but no answer has ever been found.

Another letter deals with a student of Washington College, who had attacked a Union sympathizer. It seems that a local merchant, a professed Unionist, was skating on North River, when he was attacked unmercifully by a group of students, who apparently gave the damn Yankee a hard time for a while. This particular letter is annotated with Lee's personal notes.

FILMS . . .

By Al Cahn

Since tonight's show at the State is a special price affair and since the producers have a checker on duty, students are requested not to try to crash the movie after tonight's pep rally.

Mr. Daves has been more than generous in the past with this tradition, and we owe it to him. There will be more pep rallies at which time we may crash.

"Pride of the Yankees" closes its run tomorrow at the State, being one of the better pictures of the year. It is a biographical film started with Gehrig's early childhood and taking him up to his greatest triumphs. One particular scene that you will enjoy is the college sequence where Sigma Alpha Psi decides to pledge Lou after the usual wrangling that you all know so well. Off hand we'd say that Teresa Wright is batting 1.000 with the student body after her appearance in this and "Mrs. Miniver."

Just a reminder. This show is pretty long and it starts on time so get in early if you want to see all of the show.

This weekend of the billing, "Calling Dr. Gillespie" will be frantically trying to draw a crowd. Not a particularly bad show, but we imagine that you could tell the story without even seeing it. This time there's a homicidal maniac who gets involved in the plot.

We wonder if the Blair General Hospital ever has any other patients but the actors in the show.

As may well be imagined, Lexington and the college were both shaken to the very roots by this incident. The president took steps to find the culprit and deal with him accordingly. The Honor System must have seen some rather shaky days, as time passed and one student admitted—that he was not the criminal.

Speaking of letters, several examples of the general's correspondence are publicly displayed in various parts of the campus. The Forensic Union contains a letter in which he accepts a membership into one of the literary societies. Likewise, in the chapel that bears his name, there is another letter from Lee, accepting a membership in the Franklin Society and Library Company of Lexington.

All these letters and many other valuable documents about the general's life are stored in the Lee archives, which have already provided material for several books.

Philip Dorn roes rather well as Gillespie's new assistant but this is too limited for his fine talents. He's soon to become one of the top actors in the business. We still miss the hairbreadth voice of Dr. Kildare, however.

The invisible man returns to the State Theater on Tuesday, this time to chase Nazis in "Invisible Agent." There's lots of trick photographer's art in this show which is quite amusing. We'll have more to say about this show on Tuesday.

The Lyric has its usual western on Friday. This time it's called "Arizona Terrors." Chapter 2 of "King of the Mounties" is also present. We had a glimpse of this epic of the north last week and it has possibilities, but now many.

"Sabatoge Squad" is the Monday attraction. From the title you might guess that it is a spy thriller. It is for about the first five minutes, but then like all "C" films it drifts back into the usual crime stories' file for the plot.

Hot Flashes: Just in case you are interested, the name of that gal who sang Cole Porter's "It's Just One of Those Things" in "Panama Hattie" is Lena Horne. She will have an important role in MGM's "Cabin in the Sky." She certainly ought to go places in Hollywood judging from her work in PH.

The highest prices in the history of the British Theater were paid to see the premiere of "Yankee Doodle Dandy" at Warner's Theater in London last night with the best seats costing a sum of about $20,200. About $5,050,000 was donated to the British War Savings Drive.

Republic Pix have announced the cast for their new musical "Hit Parade of 1943." Freddie Martin and his band combined with Count Basie and Company will provide the music. Susan Hayward provides some of the love interest. Looks like an interesting show to us.

Jane Withers wants to be a sweater girl now. That should be good. Dinah Shore's real name is Fanny Rose Shore. Complications set in and so she had to change it. Constance Bennett is back on the screen in Warner's "Forty Whacks." It is a mystery thriller.

Eleven-Gun Attack in Store for Tigers As Keyed-Up W&L Expects Triumph

WALTER SPRYE
H-S Back

TED CIESLA, Field Captain

Student Spirit Will be Repaid Fourfold, Coach Says, On Eve of First Home Clash; Ciesla to Captain Heavier General Team

"The fine cooperation and school spirit that the W&L students have shown toward this year's football team will be returned fourfold in fighting determination against Hampden-Sydney tomorrow afternoon."

So spoke Coach Jerry Holstein on the eve of his debut before Washington and Lee students as mentor of the Big Blue team, when the Generals clash with the Hampden-Sydney Tigers on Wilson Field at 1:45 tomorrow afternoon to usher in Lexington's football weekend.

Tomorrow's game with Hampden-Sydney will start at 1:45 p.m. instead of 2 o'clock as originally scheduled, Cap'n Dick Smith, W&L athletic director said today.

Both teams have been defeated three times this season and will open up with both barrels when they meet tomorrow. W&L, led by their lone senior back, Teddy Ciesla, as acting field captain, will have an edge on the Tigers as far as weight is concerned, averaging five pounds heavier in the backfield and 12 pounds more in the line.

If the Generals expect to win, they will have to hold down the Tigers' shifty offense, featuring triple-threat quarterback Walter Sprye, who has been outstanding in every Hampden-Sydney game this season. The Tigers lack experienced men, with only four lettermen taking the field against the Generals, but their team has been filled out by use of freshmen and last year's sophomores. Although Bill Houtz, freshman left-handed passing sensation, is not expected to start the game, he probably will see a lot of action and may prove a real thorn in the Generals' side. John Sivell, Ken Schuster and Harold Johnson are expected to repeat their performances so far this season and act as stalwart anchors for the out-weighted Hampden-Sydney forward wall.

After traveling over 3,000 miles for their first three games, the Generals have spent this week running through stiff scrimmages in order to be primed for a victory drive tomorrow. Because of a heavy downpour of rain, Coach Holstein ran the squad through plays in the gym yesterday and gave them a quick limbering-up workout this afternoon.

The Generals' starting line will be weakened by the absence of Dyke Norman, first string center, who received a shoulder injury in the Kentucky game two weeks ago. Coach Holstein said that Norman has recovered but that he was afraid to use him unless it was absolutely necessary.

"I expect to play on a soggy field tomorrow, and anything can happen in the mud," Coach Holstein stated. "In spite of a wet field, I am confident of coming out on top in tomorrow's game because I know that the team will be on their toes from start to finish and that the students will be back of us all the way."

The Generals walked over Hampden-Sydney, 26-0, in their last encounter in 1940 with Lillard Ailor and John Rulevich spearheading the Big Blue defense from their tackle positions. Coach Holstein said that he expected Ailor and Rulevich to do even a better job against the Tigers tomorrow.

Frank L. Summers, Hampden-Sydney head coach, will return to his old stomping ground tomorrow, having graduated from VMI in 1921. His alma mater will complete Lexington's football weekend when they clash with Maryland on the Keydets' Alumni Field at 4:00.

Probable lineup is as follows:

W&L	H-S
Wheater	LE Flanagan
Ailor	LT Sivell
Mehorter	LG H. Johnson
Lawrence	C Thomas
Fitzpatrick	RG Schuster
Rulevich	RT Holland
R. Norman	RE Johns
Cavaliere	QB Sprye
Ciesla (c)	FB Proffitt
Working	LHB Richmond
Harner	RHB P. Johnson

Special Football Program To Feature Campus View, Squad Picture, Lineups

A special feature of the official program magazine for the W&L-Hampden-Sydney football game will be an aerial view of the Washington and Lee campus and buildings. This unusual photograph, which is suitable for framing, also includes the Wilson Athletic Field.

In the form of a souvenir program, the magazine will include the usual squad lists of both teams and their jersey numbers. The starting line-up and the officials will be included along with all available pictures of Washington and Lee and Hampden-Sydney players.

The program magazine, published by the Athletic Association and printed at the Journalism Laboratory Press, will be on sale for twenty-five cents this Saturday.

Season tickets for all W&L home athletic events may be secured at $7.50 from the athletic office. Two tickets in one family may be had for $10.00.

Future Foes in Action

W&L's five remaining opponents after Hampden-Sydney are in for another busy weekend, with the Davidson Wildcats facing the toughest assignment in unbeaten Georgia Tech.

At Lexington, big Joe Muha leads VMI into battle with undefeated Maryland. Another good ball game pits Kentucky's mighty Wildcats against the stubborn VPI Gobblers. These two games are among the feature attractions on the South's gridiron menu. Virginia, with "Flash" Bryant back in the lineup, swings into action against weak Richmond.

The games follow:

VMI	vs.	Maryland
Kentucky	vs.	VPI
Virginia	vs.	Richmond
Georgia Tech	vs.	Davidson

Harrier Intra-Squad Meet Run Off This Afternoon

The intra-squad cross country meet which was scheduled to be run between the halves of the W&L-Hampden-Sydney football game Saturday was moved up to 4:30 this afternoon. The entire squad participated in the meet and Coach Pete Morrissey was enthusiastic over the prospects.

The athletic office is contacting the University of Richmond authorities to arrange a contest on October 31 along with the W&L-Richmond football game.

Another meet is tentatively scheduled with Bridgewater College, which will probably be the stiffest test of the year for the Generals as Bridgewater consistently turns out excellent harrier teams. Four veterans have returned from last year's state championship team.

Noonan, Bowie Tie In Fall Golf Playoff

Having tied with 76's in the special play-off to determine the winner of the all-university golf tournament, Bill Noonan and Bud Bowie will tee off this Sunday on the local course in an effort to break the stalemate.

With a high wind playing a prominent part in the proceedings, Noonan and Bowie both shot 76 in the runoff last Sunday. They had carded 72s in the regular tournament.

The two golfers have monopolized the title for the past three years. Noonan garnered the honors in his freshman year, but Bowie captured first place the following fall. Noonan recorded his second championship in last autumn's tourney.

Predicts General Victory Over Death Valley Tigers, Can't Understand Why Kappa Sigs Play Barefooted

Generally Speaking, Washington and Lee will get its first look at the 1942 edition of the Generals in action when they meet the Garnet and Gray on Wilson Field tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

For the first time this season, our team will enter a game the favorite and it feels pretty good to be a favorite for a change. The Blue will be out there fighting good and hard for the first time since the West Virginia game and the more students out there in the stands yelling their heads off for the team, the harder they are gonna fight.

Some people will tell you that a football team doesn't pay any attention to the cheers—that they don't even know that anyone is in the stands, but just ask the team. They want you there and they want to know that you are pulling for them.

It's hard to understand how the Generals, who put up a darn good fight against the West Virginia Mountaineers, fell down so badly against Kentucky and Rollins. We expected them to lose, but not by such decisive scores. We are ripe for a victory now and this looks like the time.

Another point to take into consideration is the fact that the team has covered over 3000 miles in the last three weeks and that naturally, they were pretty tired when they played those games. This week the Tigers come to us and meet us on our home field. This week the student body will be out there cheering for the team. This week the Blue will have a band playing for them and cheerleaders yelling for them. This week the Generals are going to win.

Frank Summers' Tigers have a lighter squad than the Generals and are particularly weak at the tackle slots, while we have nothing but a stone wall when it comes to tackles. John Rulevich and Max Ailor, at 220 and 205 pounds, respectively are two of the best in the state. The only triple threat and outstanding back that the Tigers have is 158-pound Walt Sprye from Danville. We can throw such backs against them as Dick Working, Paul Cavaliere, Dave Russell, Harry Baugher, Harry Harner and Ted Ciesla.

Don't forget to give the team its first boost at the big pep rally tonight in the gym. This is the first of the rallies planned this year and promises to be one of the best. It has been the custom at this school to crash the show after all pep rallies, but it hardly seems the place or time right now, when the State is showing a feature at advanced prices. After all, the Wahoo game is yet to come.

We'd like to apologize to the Pi Kaps, and especially Al Darby for the mistake that appeared in this paper last issue. The Pi Kaps scored one first down and not zero, in the Beta game Monday as the paper stated. Darby says that things would have been a lot different if he had gone into the game. He still hasn't forgotten that game he played in his sophomore year.

Simmons Tells Frosh Eleven 'They Did O.K.'

Washington and Lee's plucky freshman football players were in line for special praise from their coach, Perry Simmons, today as they completed a week of preparation for the team's next encounter against the University of Virginia frosh next Friday at Charlottesville.

"Two weeks ago," Simmons said, "we had a bunch of willing but very green boys who were just going into their first game against one of the best prep school teams in the state. With only two weeks of practice under their belts, the players went into that game with Staunton Military Academy with plenty of spirit but not much football experience."

"The expected happened when SMA, which had the finest team I've even seen at a prep school, defeated us 46-0," continued Simmons. "We absorbed a terrific drubbing but in doing so acquired the experience that is necessary to win football games."

The coach then related how he expected his team to go down in defeat again at the hands of the Richmond freshmen, who had beaten the St. Benedictine School eleven, 18-0, the week before. "We worked hard all week, scrimmaging the varsity, trying new plays, and working out a defense for the Spiders' T-formation, but I could not honestly see how we would win."

The result of the game was a sound 8-6 victory for the Brigs, in which the Richmond team was completely outclassed by the fighting W&L frosh.

"We've come a long way since the Staunton game and the boys are still getting better," Simmons concluded. "Constant scrimmages with the varsity have given us plenty of rough work and experience."

more year.

Speaking of I-M teams, Jack Crist and Dick Corbin really looked great in that Kappa Sig-Delt game last Monday. Crist was a little off his beam when he said that the Deltas wouldn't have much of a team this year. The way Corbin was playing out there Monday, he should be a cinch for all-I-M honors. Can't understand why most of the Kappa Sig backfield played in their bare feet though.

Under the tutelage of Coach Tom Dodd, the Phi Psis are on the roll. Dodd keeps a watchful eye on "his boys" to see that they don't play in the rain and catch pneumonia. Dodd is pointing his team for the Beta game, provided of course, they beat the Phi Deltas.

Not trying to stir up that old Dudley argument with the Wahos, but we honestly believe that providing he gets the ballyhoo that Dudley did from the southern scribes, Joe Muha is destined for all-American honors. Muha probably won't make as many teams as bounding Bill did, if he makes any, but he certainly deserves more national recognition than he is getting. If that guy fights for the army the way he does for the Keydets, the Japs will be awfully sorry.

ture two hops—one on Friday night and the second on Saturday night. Weather permitting, the Keydets will stage a Garrison Review on the parade grounds Saturday morning at 11:00.

The Commanders will start playing at 9:00 for the Friday hop and continue until 2:00 Saturday morning. Hours for the Saturday night hop are from 9:00 to 12:00.

In accordance with regulations set down by the two schools, only seniors, law students and members of the Executive Committee from W&L will be allowed to attend the VMI dances.

Bowen Chosen President Of Freshman Law Class

T. C. Bowen, PiKA, was elected president of the freshman law class in a runoff race Wednesday morning. Bowen defeated Jesse Benton, DU, after having tied him in the preliminary polling at the regular election time. The election was held under the supervision of Paul Brown, a member of the executive committee.

At a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday evening Bill Guthrie, junior, Bobby Vaughn, intermediate lawyer, and Zeke Zombro, senior, were named as non-fraternity members of the student body dance floor committee, which enforces the University dance regulations. The three men are all non-fraternity men and have been on the campus at least three years each.

ence, but the will to win that has been just as important a factor in our improvement."

In preparation for the Virginia game the freshmen have practiced with the varsity every day this week. Next week they will begin to taper off, concentrating mostly on a few new plays for the Wahoo game, Simmons said.

The Brigadiers have two more games scheduled after next week's battle. On October 30 they will play the VPI frosh, and on November 6 they will close with Maryland, both of these being home games.

Charity Chest Solicitation Few Dollars Short of Goal

One week after its official close, W&L's first annual Charity Drive was still a few dollars short of its goal tonight, but officials of the Chest still hoped to reach the $2,000 mark.

Chairman Neal Myers said today that he hoped contributions from a few men not contacted would help the total soar over the established figure.

Sigma Nus Name Sizemore

Bill Sizemore, Clarksville junior, was elected commander of Sigma Nu at elections held Wednesday evening, to succeed Jim Daves.

Frank Goodpasture, Bristol junior, was elected to fill the post of recorder vacated by Sizemore. Paul Barns, junior from Miami, Fla., was elected assistant house manager.
