

Reservists Urged to Remain As Army Men Are Subject To Active Duty Monday

Gaines Believes AERC Does Not Face Call Until "Fairly Late in the Semester"

While army reservists at W&L become subject to call to active duty on Monday, officials here and in Washington have again urged members of this and all other reserves to remain in school until they actually receive their induction orders.

In a statement issued this week announcing that W&L will always remain open for students in certain categories, President Gaines says that AERC students will probably not be called until "fairly late in the semester," and that naval and marine reservists, whose date of call has not yet been determined, should "certainly continue regular college work."

National Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt has specifically urged college men time and again to continue in school until they are summoned. Men in "college status" will receive military preference.

From the few details of the army's new specialized training program that have seeped through, officials here gather that men will be called one by one, depending very much upon their majors, the number of semesters they have completed—i.e., information compiled about them before exams and now on file with the army.

With facilities for handling so many men now inadequate, the induction of reservists is expected to be a graduated and slow process. Answer to the question, "Will freshmen be called first?" is known only to the War department at present, and it may not even be known to them.

Gaines Statement

Here is the text of President Gaines' statement regarding the reserve situation and second semester plans:

"In an effort to help our students, facing difficult decisions, particularly with regard to second semester plans, I offer the following statements as expressing our understanding of the present situation:

"1. Students in the naval reserve, including the marine reserve, and students not in any reserve should certainly continue regular college work.

"2. Students in the army reserve will probably not be called until fairly late in the semester and, by reason of the faculty's plan for partial credit, can make substantial progress even in a fraction of a semester toward their degrees.

"Tuition refunds will be made to students called, based upon a fair proportion of the time and credit of their actual stay.

"3. It seems probable that, in the main, students who remain in college until called will have advantage from the point of view of military opportunity over students who are not in a 'college status' when called.

"It was for this reason that the reserves were established, so that students might remain in college until graduation or until actually called.

"4. The University will maintain at all times its regular program for students who may be (a) under 18, (b) physically not fitted for service, or (c) taking technical work. Our present student body can be helpful in explaining this fact to any prospective students who may be in one of these categories.

"Students are cordially invited to consult any member of the administration staff or of the University faculty for a conference about individual problems."

ODK Sells 200 Corsages Made from War Stamps By Local Woman's Club

Nearly 200 war stamp corsages were sold at the Fancy Dress set last week, Bill Noonan, chairman of the corsage committee, said today. The decorations were made by the Lexington Business and Professional Woman's club and were sold at the dances by ODK.

Each corsage contained nine 10-cent war stamps and sold for one dollar, the extra 10 cents covering the cost of making the decorations. No profit was made by either ODK or the Woman's club.

Four housemothers were in charge of selling the corsages. They were Mrs. Taylor, Sigma Chi; Mrs. Rutzler, Sigma Nu; Mrs. Coleman, Delta Tau Delta; and Mrs. Burlingame, Phi Delta Theta.

Collegian Staff to Meet

There will be an important meeting of both old and new members of the Southern Collegian staff in the Student Union, Monday at 4 p.m.

Capt. Rubinstein To Give Concert On February 10

Capt. Beryl Rubinstein, distinguished pianist and composer, who is a member of the faculty of the School for Special Service, will give a concert Wednesday night, February 10, in Doremus gymnasium with proceeds from the 55 cent admission charge going to the Army Emergency Relief fund.

The varied concert program, intended to appeal to all music lovers, will include selections from Mozart, Chopin, Beethoven, Gershwin and Strauss, as well as several modern numbers.

A native of Athens, Ga., Capt. Rubinstein made his debut as a concert pianist at the age of eight and at 13 played with the Metropolitan Opera orchestra. Then followed two years of study in Europe with Busoni and da Motta, after which he returned to America and made his professional debut in New York in 1916. Since that time he has appeared as soloist with all the great American orchestras.

Capt. Rubinstein joined the faculty of the Cleveland Institute of Music in 1921 and in 1932 was appointed director of the institute. He obtained a leave of absence from this position to enter the army last August.

He joined the Special Service unit at Fort Meade, Md., and was transferred here in December with the school. Capt. Rubinstein has been instrumental in organizing musical entertainment, such as informal singing and camp bands, in numerous army camps in this country.

Faculty and student sponsors for the Rubinstein concert on February 10 are:

Prof. J. G. Varner, Prof. Francis Drake, Prof. John A. Graham, Prof. Lewis D. Williams, Seymour Smith, Prof. T. A. Smedley, Prof. George J. Irwin, Waller Dudley, Jack Lanich, John Taylor and Larry Mansfield.

Tickets for the benefit concert may be purchased from the sponsors or at the Swing Shop or Weinberg's music store and will be soon distributed to all fraternity houses.

17-Year Olds Eligible For Army Air Force, Army Reserve Corps

Students in the 17-year age group may join both the Army Enlisted reserve and the Army Air Force reserve under a new provision, Adviser A. W. Moger learned yesterday by telephone from Baltimore headquarters of the Third Service Command.

These 17 year-olds will be called to active duty, however, during the six months period after they have reached their eighteenth birthday. They join the air force as aviation cadets and the AERC in an unassigned rating.

Dr. Moger also learned that members of the Air Force reserve who apply for active duty will be called as soon as possible, but will enter as privates, remaining in that status until provision can be made for their training as aviation cadets.

While several boys at W&L have been called to active duty despite their having been on the reserve list, Dr. Moger announced that these orders had been revoked and the mistake corrected. Boys in the air force reserve will not be summoned until the long list of men on active duty roll are taken first, he added.

Any student in the air force reserve on the deferred plan who receives orders for active duty is asked to see Dr. Moger immediately.

Dr. Gaines to Broadcast

Dr. Francis P. Gaines will speak Sunday morning at 8:30 on the Baptist Hour over Station WDBJ, Roanoke, on "Christian Youth in This Chaotic World."

The program, sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention, will be broadcast over a special network of southern stations. It is a part of a series of talks to be presented each Sunday morning for the next two months.

Darby Calls for More Calyx Campus Pictures

There is still time to turn in informal snapshots for the Calyx, and those who desire to have their snapshots in, should turn them in to either Al Darby or Charles Martin, it was announced today. The Calyx will accept them for two more weeks.

Only six fraternities are represented so far, and the Calyx requests the remaining fraternities, including the non-fraternity union, to send their pictures in as soon as possible.

Darby requested that pictures of the activities of the Army School for Special Service, taken by either officers of the school or W&L students, should be turned in also. Informal snapshots of the soldiers marching, playing baseball or returning from classes are especially desired.

Milton Caniff Returns Girls' Pictures Chosen For 1943 Yearbook

The 55 pictures submitted to the Calyx beauty section have been returned by Milton Caniff, author of the comic strip "Terry and the Pirates" who selected from them 12 beauties to appear in this year's Calyx. There will be four girls to a page as the annual is reducing the space formerly allotted to the beauty section. A drawing of the Dragon Lady by Caniff which is dedicated to the 1943 Calyx and a picture of Caniff at his drawing desk will also appear with the pictures of the selected girls.

The 12 beauties of this year's Calyx as selected by Caniff are Miss Jean Taxhit, Chicago, submitted by Dick Turley; Miss Yeslie Wooten, Long Island, submitted by Don Murray; Miss Jeanette Pressley, San Antonio, submitted by Frank Goodpasture; Miss Bamie Edwards, Birmingham, submitted by Joe Ellis; Miss Jean Kirk, Newark, N. J., submitted by Bill Allison.

Miss Kathryn Beasley, Lynchburg, submitted by Ralph Taggart; Miss Betty Phillips, Birmingham, submitted by Cliff Beasley; Miss Emily Loftis, Charlotte, N. C., submitted by Charles Belcher; Miss Matilde J. Paty, Elizabethton, Tenn., submitted by Guy Hairston; Miss Nancy Crum, Dana Hall, Mass., submitted by Dave Jones; Miss Mildred Mohum, Grosse Point, Mich., submitted by Jim LaPlante; and Miss Ann Swallow, Swarthmore, Pa., submitted by Harrison Kinney.

Civil Service Commission Issues Call for Experts For Civilian War Service

The Civil Service Commission has sent out a call for economists, economic analysts and statisticians for civilian war service in the federal government and has begun recruiting for these positions on a national basis.

Salaries vary from $2600 to $6500 per year plus overtime. The greatest need for trained men is in the fields of transportation and labor, although marketing, international trade, money and banking, and housing are also important fields. Other experience will be put to the best use, and complete information may be obtained at the local post office or by writing to the U. S. Civil Service Commission at Washington.

These positions include dealing with economic and statistical problems arising from the reoccupation of areas once held by the enemy and other factors of great importance to the war program. The requirements for these positions consist of five years of college education or experience in economics or statistics and are necessary for the lowest wage bracket. There are no age limits or written examination and qualified persons are asked to apply immediately.

Kappa Sigma recently elected Barton Morris, senior from Roanoke, president for the second semester. Other officers chosen were Ken Coghill, vice-president, and Bob Mahan and Wally Dutton, guards.

Allie Lane Selected To Head Committee Of Frosh Assimilators

BATES BRYAN Assumes Presidential Duties

Frank Goodpasture, Clancy Johnson Fill Vacant Posts

Allie Hartsfield Lane, law student from Lakeland, Fla., has been named chairman of the Freshman Assimilation committee for the second semester, and Frank Goodpasture and Clancy Johnson have also been appointed to the group. Student President Bates Bryan announced this morning.

Lane will fill the post left vacant by graduation of law student Bill Soule. He formerly worked on the Calyx and Ring-tum Phi and is a member of the Glee club and Christian council.

Bryan, who took over the reins of the school's student government this week in moving up from the vice-presidency, pledged to do his "best in fulfilling the duties of my new position."

Well realizing that the Executive committee of the student body is faced this semester with a string of headaches a mile long, particularly in the financial field, Bryan asked for close student cooperation with the group in ironing out problems created by the effect of the war here.

He announced that the nine new freshmen who entered the University this semester will meet with the committee tonight, and that they will be required to adhere to the five freshmen rules.

Just because freshmen have been permitted to remove their caps does not mean that they can forget the other four traditions of gentlemanly conduct, conventional dress, speaking and keeping off the grass, Bryan added with emphasis. The committee will prosecute violators.

One position on the assimilation group is still vacant and will be filled shortly, the new president said. All other slots on committees and elected positions were filled before exams.

Bryan, a Phi Delt senior from Chattanooga, Tenn., moved up to the presidency to supplant Lee Kenna, who was graduated last Sunday. Appointed earlier to fill his shoes as vice-president, was Bill Noonan, SAE senior.

The two new members of the Assimilation committee are both juniors. Goodpasture is a Sigma Nu from Bristol, Tenn., and Johnson, a Beta from Dalton, Ga.

Fancy Dress Distinct Success Officials Say

The thirty-seventh Washington and Lee Fancy Dress dance set was pronounced a distinct success today by several of the dance officers, after the first checkup on the financial outcome of the dances.

Bev Fitzpatrick, set president, announced that there were 330 subscriptions sold in the pre-dance drive and another $650 was taken at the door from the three dances. About 600 period costumes were sold, each in keeping with the American Heroes theme. Fitzpatrick said today that no accurate estimate of the total amount of money taken in at the set can be made because all IOU's are not yet in and all bills have not been collected.

About 500 girls from all over the country attended the three-day affair, and the campus took on an attitude of gaiety, despite the fact that many students were wearing Fancy Dress costumes for the last time.

Jack Teagarden was generally acclaimed as one of the most danceable bands to play here for quite some time. The musical outfit proved that they can play sweet and hot numbers as well as the blues renditions for which they are famed.

'Southern Coach and Athlete' Has W&L Athletics for Theme of Issue

By FRED HOLLEY

Athletics at Washington and Lee is the theme of the January issue of Southern Coach and Athlete, a monthly magazine devoted to sports in the South. "a magazine for coaches, players, officials and fans."

The first article is a historical sketch, entitled "Washington and Lee University" and written by Joe Ellis, who graduated in last Sunday morning's exercises. It reviews the facts of the school's history from its earliest beginnings as Augusta Academy down to the crisis it faces at the present time. On the same page appear photographs of the Chemistry building, Washington, Payne and Robinson halls, the colonnade, Lee chapel, the Freshman dormitories, now converted into barracks for officer students at the Army School for Special Services, the 1942 football coaching staff, and the 1942 football squad.

The second article, entitled "Athletics at Washington and Lee This Year," was written by Dick Houska, journalism student and sports publicity director. This article opens with a discussion of the 1942 football season, reiterating the respect which we all feel for a fighting team. Houska does not fail to mention The Roanoke Times' tribute, "Hats off to the Generals," nor the fine game played by Dave Russell against Maryland, which won him the accolade of "Player of the Week" from the Richmond Times-Dispatch. Going on to the basketball season, the acquisition of George S. (Gummy) Proctor as coach was noted, as well as the fact that this year's mat squad is being coached by veterans and co-captains, Sammy Graham and Bud Robb.

The next article, entitled "History of Athletics at Washington and Lee," was written by R. A. (Cap'n Dick) Smith, director of athletics. The victorious season of 1934, when Tex Tilson's footballers took the conference title, is recorded as well as the many years of prowess in wrestling set up by the mat team under Archie E. Mathis.

E. P. (Cy) Twombly, director of hygiene and physical education, wrote the next article, "The Physical Fitness Program at Washington and Lee University." This deals with the tests given by the University to determine students' physical condition and swimming ability, the obstacle course and the extensive intramural sports program.

The cover of the magazine carries out the theme of W&L, featuring the popular photograph of the campus.

The Ring-tum Phi

Founded in 1897

Published every Tuesday and Friday of the college year. Editorial and business offices: Student Union. Phone 573. Mail address: Box 899. Printed by the Journalism Laboratory Press.

Entered as second-class mail matter at the Lexington, Virginia, post office under the act of March 3, 1879.

National advertising representative: The National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Avenue, New York, New York.

Subscription, $3.10 a year, payable in advance. Advertising rates on request.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of Collegiate Digest

WILLIAM R. TALBOTT, JR. Editor
CORNEAL B. MYERS, JR. Business Manager

EDITORIAL STAFF

News Editor Ed Jackson
Managing Editor Charles Rowe
Copy Editor Dick Bartlebaugh
Desk Editor Jack Gonzales
Sports Editor Ellis Moore
Sports Editor Earl Vickers

Columnists

Al Cahn, Jack Gonzales, Hal Keller, Ellis Moore,
Jerry Shamhart, Earl Vickers

Reporters

Bien, Hairston, Hillman, Holley, Loeffler, Moxham, Peguillan,
Smallwood, Triplett

BUSINESS STAFF

National Advertising Manager Bill Sizemore
Local Advertising Manager Lin Holton
Assistant Advertising Manager Bill Tatgenhorst
Subscription Manager Bruce Quayle
Circulation Manager Jerry Close
Accountant Sam Silverstein
Staff Assistants Adams, Corbin, Marable

Friday, January 29, 1943

OPINATIONS . . .

By Hal Keller

Last Sunday was a gloomy day all around. In the first place our date left early in the morning. That got us off on the wrong foot to begin with.

In an attempt to dispell our gloomy thoughts we spent practically all the rest of the daylight hours in McCrum's Emporium, the center of life in Lexington, thinking that the constant ebb and flow of humanity would put us in a happier frame of mind.

However, the effort was fruitless. The ebb and flow of humanity got on our nerves which were already pretty well frayed after a week of exams and two days of dancing.

But the pay-off came when fellows we had known for four years started drifting in and buying tickets to distant places. In the rush of the weekend we had forgotten that we were having a mid-winter graduation.

And so we went out to the buses to wish the "fated fifty" goodbye and good luck. Their responses were many and varied. One had tears streaming down his face when the bus pulled out, another left very stern and solemn faced. But the majority of them left smiling, rather sickly we'll admit, but smiling for all that.

That's the way for all Washington and Lee men to go, smiling outside but determined within.

We hated to see those fifty men go, but in a way we envy them. They are, for the most part, going off to war and war is not pleasant. But then they are going to the aid of their country while the rest of us stay here at school. Sure, everyone has told us that we are doing the best thing by staying here and preparing. Inside we admit sensibility of the argument, but there is still the desire to get out and do something, something active.

But we're here to stay until we are needed. All we have to think about is our job here and how to do it to the best of our ability. The men who have already left will keep their end of the job and ours as well until we can come to their aid prepared to give the best that's in us.

To get on a lighter vein. We want to apologize to Bev Fitzpatrick for the crack last week. Fancy Dress was a darn sight better than we thought it was going to be and the figure was very appropriate. All we want to say is that you should have taught some of those fellows in the figure how to salute. For the benefit of A.D.D. the military description of the hand while at salute is "... fingers extended and joined..." and not cupped and spread as though you were straining the vegetables out of soup. Needle, needle.

Prize Shaft: Looks like the AERC gets the medal for being biggest butt of the year. Local girls' schools used to get that honor, but even they can't compete with the army. Happy hunting, gentlemen.

Keller

Alumni . . .

By Jerry Shamhart

Robert Burch Second, '38, lieutenant in the Army Air Force, was killed on January 6, when the four-motored bomber on which he was navigation officer crashed at Madill, Oklahoma. The plane was on a routine tour of duty from its base at the Salina, Kansas, army air base when the crash occurred. Lieut. Second received his wings and commission at the Navigation School of the AAF at Hondo, Tex., last September. He was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha at Washington and Lee.

Lieutenant Ross V. Hersey, '40, AUS, was wounded on the Tunisian front recently, and is now recuperating in an American base hospital. Hersey was a member of the British-based invasion force which landed in North Africa late last year.

Bob Cavanna, '42, was commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve on December 2, after completing training at the Midshipmen's school at Columbia. He was assigned to temporary duty at the Norfolk Naval Operating Base.

Doug House, '42, is a sergeant in the anti-tank officers candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga. He is scheduled to receive his commission in February.

Homer Jones, '40, Ensign in the Naval Supply Corps, reported to Dartmouth late last year for indoctrination training.

Joseph Allen Overton, '42, finished his bombardier's training at the Santa Anna, Calif., army air base with a 90-plus average, and expects to be commissioned next month.

Arch Puddington, '42, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the intelligence section of the armored force at Fort Knox, Ky., recently.

Jack Reiter, '41, completed his officer's training at the anti-aircraft OCS at Camp Davis, N. C., on December 10, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the army of the United States.

Lou Robinson, '43, is now a naval aviation cadet at Pensacola. He was transferred there from Anacostia, D. C., last summer, on completion of his primary and basic training.

Bob Wagg, '43, recently finished his training as an aviation cadet at Jacksonville, Fla., and was commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Air Corps. He was assigned to carrier duty with the fleet.

John Hall Sherrill, Jr., '39, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the armored corps, AUS, on completion of officers training at Fort Knox, and has been assigned to the 83rd Reconnaissance Battalion of the Third Armored division.

Andrew Jackson White, '39, now serving at the Greenville S. C., army air base, received his Army Air force wings recently.

Lieut. Jack Reeves, '42, received his pilot's wings in the Army Air force last November, and is now piloting Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers. He is at present stationed at the Smyrna, Tenn., air base, where his combat crew will be trained for foreign service.

John D. Goodin, '39, recently promoted to first lieutenant, AUS, is completing his pre-combat

FILMS . . .

By Al Cahn

The man whose bark is worse than his bite, Monty Woolley, stars in the Sunday-Monday feature at the State. "Life Begins at Eight - Thirty" is the story of a once great actor who is now just a has been. His daughter, Ida Lupino, tries to give him a shot in the arm and rejuvenate him into returning to the glittering footlights.

Cahn

Her efforts only result in catching a lover for herself and for Mr. Woolley eighty-three is the curtain call for the drinks to start working on him and not the show to begin.

With Woolley's cracks and Ida Lupino's acting, "Life Begins at Eight-Thirty" is a hit.

Tuesday and Wednesday is no let down either with the "Navy Comes Through." This is a dish of patriotism fanned by Pat O'Brien, George Murphy and Jane Wyatt. Seasoned into the serving is a substantial story concerning a munition-laden ship to England with a Navy gun crew to see it through.

To make it a mighty tasty dish, there's knot-a-minute thrills on the high seas, action against subs, mines, storms and anything else lying around the set. Romance, suspense and comedy are provided by Desi Arnaz who is saving the U. S. because the U. S. saved his Cuban homeland.

The Lyric also comes through Wednesday and Thursday with a return on "Holiday Inn," the super musical with Bing Crosby and Irving Berlin's music. If you haven't heard "White Christmas" enough by now, you can hear it again via the Lyric where the termites hold hands to keep it up when a truck passes by—pretty good!

We hazarded "Varsity Show" yesterday at the Lyric and were glad to see what 1920 really looked like.

Our column has become saddened overnight with the news that Deans is being inducted Saturday in This Man's army (are you sure, Fred?). Seriously though, we're sorry to see you go, Mal, and the best of luck to you.

Screen and Radio FAX

Paulette Goddard is due to take another bath for the benefit of the movie fans in Paramount's (FILMS, Page 4)

Dean's List January 24, 1943

- | | |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Adams, V. C. | McLean, J., Jr. |
| Armstrong, W. H. | McRae, F. W., Jr. |
| Atkins, J. B., Jr. | Magee, J. H. |
| Bagley, J. H. | Makoe, F., Jr. |
| Barns, P. D. | Millar, H. C., Jr. |
| Barrett, J. L. | Moore, E. O. |
| Barritt, C. W. | Moore, G. W. S. |
| Bartlebaugh, R. E. | Moore, R. H. |
| Bell, F. R. | Morris, B. W., Jr. |
| Bird, G. T. | Morris, G. C. |
| Boucher, F. R. | Mortzfeldt, L. O. |
| Browder, W. R. | Murdock, L. F. |
| Brown, E. P. | Myers, C. B., Jr. |
| Cahn, A. L. | Nelson, M. R. |
| Cohen, R. I. | Norton, E. G. |
| Cook, J. D., Jr. | O'Connor, J. H. |
| Cook, R. M. (Freshman) | Page, P. P. |
| Cooke, R. E. | Parsons, J. S. |
| Coulling, S. M. B. (Freshman) | Peebles, J. N. |
| Crittenden, W. C. | Quayle, R. B. |
| Crockett, H. B. | Rast, C. L., Jr. |
| Crockett, R. O. | Richardson, D. L. |
| Day, C., Jr. | Roe, J. W. |
| Ellis, J. F., Jr. | Runyan, I. V. |
| Embry, D. R. | Sacks, S. E. |
| Galloway, L. W. | Scherr, E. H. |
| Garretson, D. E. | Schewel, H. H. |
| Gunn, J. W., Jr. | Sellers, P. A. |
| Guthrie, W. B. | Shamhart, P. B., Jr. |
| Hamilton, W. C. | Shepard, R. H. |
| Harper, J. C., II (Freshman) | Shirk, K. L. |
| Holley, F. S. | Silverstein, J. A. |
| Holton, A. L., Jr. | Smallwood, H. D. (Freshman) |
| Houska, R. J. | Smith, D. H. |
| Irons, R. S. | Smith, H. G. |
| Jackson, R. E. | Smith, L. N., Jr. |
| Jackson, T. H. | Stone, C. H. |
| Jarvis, F. N. | Strickland, G. M. |
| Jefferson, J. S. | Talbott, W. R., Jr. |
| Johnson, C. M. | Taylor, R. J. |
| Johnson, R. F. | Thayer, H. R. |
| Kaplan, B. M. | Van Buren, W. B., III |
| Kaylor, O. T. | Van Gelder, W. B. |
| Kelly, J. J. | Wells, E. D. |
| Kimbrough, H. M. | Wilcox, W. S. |
| Kinney, H. B. | William, F. R. D. |
| Lanier, L. A. | Wood, G. T. |
| Lowry, F. W. J. | Wyatt, N. F. |
| Lyons, E. P. | Zelicker, E. A., Jr. |
| McCoy, W., Jr. | Zombro, J. E., Jr. |
| McGehee, J. W., Jr. | |

Campus Comment . . .

By Jack Gonzales

It's all over now. Fancy Dress, January graduations, the farewells to friends, and the weekend parties. Somehow it seemed as though this last weekend marked the dying gasp of an era. An era that began here at W&L in the late thirties and began to fade with Pearl Harbor. An era of big, formal houseparties, of weekends traveling 300 miles for a good time. An era of lavish, expensive dance sets, of jitterbugs in white tie and tails, and lastly, and most symbolic, of sleek, shiny, convertibles. Those expensive looking cars driving through the streets of Lexington with even more expensive looking blondes in the front seat somehow marked the period here at W&L. It was the "Age of Convertibles."

It's ended now. It was fun while it lasted.

Every year it has been more or less of a tradition for the new Comment writer to say a few words about his predecessor in his first column. However, Hal (the Opinator) Keller beat us to it this year, and in last week's issue he said goodbye to Mal in his own inimitable way. We don't know how many people read the column and we don't want to indulge in comparative personalities by estimating how many people we think read it. Nevertheless, we would like to go on the record as saying that we think his words were unfair and uncalled for. Writing Campus Comment is at best a dirty and thankless job. Mal Deans did a swell job writing it for the past eight months and the fact that he held on that long is a shining example of fortitude. If what he wrote was dirt at least he tried to keep from hurting anyone with it. I know that anytime someone felt that he didn't want an item concerning himself printed, Mal didn't run it. Maybe he didn't please everyone all the time but is that possible with this sort of column?

So long, Mal. The boys that knew you will hate to see you leave. You have left memories of beer and bull sessions at the "Rookery," run-ins with the local gendarmes, hilarious nights at El Patio, and endless quotations of Ernest Hemingway. Good luck to you. Maybe the Army papers do have gossip columns. It's too bad the Marines can't use an opinator.

Fancy Dress turned out better than most people expected. Teagarden's band didn't look like much but they sounded plenty good. . . The Kappa Sig party Saturday afternoon kept things from slowing down. The band and half the campus was there. . . Transportation for the girls this weekend was pretty bad. The four o'clock south-bound bus loaded with Hollins girls couldn't get started on Sunday. The driver turned over the motor and his transmission spilled out all over McCrum's back yard. They finally got a bus for them at six and nobody was mad because of the delay. . . The dance was pretty fine considering the handicaps Fitzpatrick had to work under. He deserves a lot of praise for the way the set went over. . .

Max T. Allen, '23, Joseph E. Bir- (ALUMNI, Page 4)

A Change of Hands

Today marks a new phase in the life of The Ring-tum Phi. An accelerated scholastic program and increased demands of the war upon so many students here have brought rapid turnovers in staff personnel of almost all campus organizations. So it is with the paper, for its former editor has been graduated and has prematurely handed down to us the responsibilities of carrying The Ring-tum Phi through the remainder of the school year.

The paper's future, as that of many other institutions, holds adversities with which we will have to cope. A depleted staff and restricted finances will limit our means of carrying out the fullest possible program as experienced in former years of normalities. Despite these factors, however, we accept the duties of The Ring-tum Phi with a solemn determination to strive for the ideals and objectives formulated in the spring of 1942.

The present semester will demand much of those students having the opportunity and privilege of continuing their education at Washington and Lee. It will demand cool judgment, forethought and sincere dedication to hard work. It will demand cooperation in programs instituted for the benefit of all. It will demand understanding and unselfishness when sacrifices are requested of the students.

We shall strive throughout the semester to satisfy these demands and promote student adaptability to the requirements so suddenly placed upon them.

We shall continue as our predecessors have done to mirror and encourage student reactions to current problems. Such a purpose is indeed a difficult one for the student body here is not prompt in voicing its opinions. The program may best be carried out by the publication of letters from the students and occasionally turning over a feature column to someone not regularly contributing to the paper. In this program, we invite student interest and cooperation. For active participation by the students themselves in voicing their opinions will enable The Ring-tum Phi to cement the varied ideas and suggestions of a small student group into a single effort working toward a single goal.

We shall encourage the student body to consider The Ring-tum Phi a student publication, printing student news, reflecting student opinions, striving for student interests and acting as a coordinating link between all campus groups.

To the Army School for Special Service and to all other groups which may come to our campus we pledge cooperation and an active interest in their programs and requirements. The future will witness a decided increase of servicemen here, and closer relationships will be formed as time progresses between officers and students. The objectives of the two groups are the same, for both are devoting time and abilities to the single purpose of winning a war which has delved deep into the heart and soul of everyone on the campus. We intend to serve every campus group this semester, coordinating the interests of each to the good of all.

With the paramount purpose in mind of dedicating ourselves to the ideals, traditions and objectives which belong so really to Washington and Lee University and promote so rapidly a concerted effort for the protection of our democratic way of life, we begin again to fulfill the responsibilities of The Ring-tum Phi to those whom it serves.

Generals Face Lynchburg Tomorrow After Triumphs Over Tigers, Soldiers

Blue Shows Punch In 48-25 Trouncing Of Hapless H-S

Washington and Lee went on its biggest scoring spree of the current basketball season last night as the Generals continued their winning ways at the expense of a weak Hampden-Sydney five, 48-25. The victory marked the fifth success the W&L team has rolled up and the fourth victory in a row for the improving Blue team.

Tomorrow night the team will meet its third non-conference foe of the week when it engages the Lynchburg college quintet at 7:45 in Doremus gym. Little is known about the players from over the mountain except that they dropped a 58-40 decision to Hampden-Sydney Wednesday night and for this reason alone W&L will enter the game favored to cop its fifth straight victory.

Clancy Ballenger led in producing the barrage of baskets that dropped in against the Tigers. The lanky guard accounted for 13 points and was followed closely by Captain Leo Signaigo and Leon Harris with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

The Generals showed a marked improvement in all departments last night over their play in their last game, especially on the defense. Les Pugh, the Tigers' high-flying guard who was fourth in the state scoring race prior to the game, was held to eight points by the close guarding tactics of the Blue. The whole Hampden-Sydney team had trouble working the ball in for close shots and most of their points were set shots.

On the offense the team was functioning better than in most games but still didn't work the Proctor system of ball as it should be worked. The team played an alert game, however, and that type of play will be needed against the tougher competition coming up next week.

Hampden-Sydney looked for a while as though it might put up a struggle. At the end of five minutes the score was tied at 5-5, but the Generals suddenly got hot at this point and pulled ahead to a lead of 15-7 with half the period gone. With Signaigo, Harris and Fred Vinson doing most of the scoring W&L rolled the score up to 27-11 at the intermission.

The first part of the second half saw W&L continue to drop balls through the Tigers' basket with monotonous regularity. Plays worked that haven't worked all year went off smoothly, and all shots, whether set, dribble in or pivot refused to do anything but swish through the cords. With the score at 43-20 Coach Proctor inserted the second team which functioned so well against Camp Pickett Monday night. The second stringers seemed to have lost their touch, however, and managed to score only five points in five minutes and the game ended at 48-25.

Compliments of the
Robt. E. Lee Barber Shop
Robert E. Lee Hotel Bldg.

BE SURE
of your number
before you call.

LEXINGTON
TELEPHONE CO.

College Sealed Jewelry
Washington and Lee Belts
See
HAMRIC and SMITH
Jewelers

Friday, January 29, 1943

Page Three

Wrestling Prospects Brightened As 3 New Men Report for Duty

Only a week before the initial trip southward, W&L mat prospects have been considerably brightened by the addition of three new men to the squad.

Lillard Ailor, Southern conference champion in 1941 and runner-up in 1942, reported for work yesterday. He will probably be the chief General threat for the heavyweight class. Ned Lawrence, returning from the '42 team, also reported yesterday for the first time. Lawrence will wrestle in the 165 pound class.

A potential star, Dave Lewis, is the third new member of the wrestling group. He entered W&L with the midwinter freshmen class. Lewis was on the championship team of his high school, City College high of Baltimore, and promises to be a big factor in the mat picture here. He will wrestle in the 155 pound class in all likelihood.

The Blue and White matmen will meet North Carolina in the start of their season at Chapel Hill next Friday night, and from there will travel home again to wrestle Duke. The following week,

W&L Tankmen Drop Schedule

Captain Bill Webster put the final damper on Washington and Lee's swimming hopes today, when he announced that it would be impossible to have a team this year due to academic regulations and a noticeable lack of free-stylers.

This is a sad blow to the Generals student body because prospects for this year's team were brighter than they had been for the past ten years.

The team had a number of veterans returning including Captain Bill Webster, who was high point man for the team last year, Bob Mehorter, Billy Babcock, Frank Goodpasture, Lynch Christain, Bill McKelway and Bob Hite. Outstanding freshman prospects were Dan Ball, Bill Olendorf, and Hedley Clark.

Tentative meets had been scheduled with William and Mary, VMI and VPI. At the present time, some of the team members are planning to enter the Southern conference meet in various relay events.

'B' Team Defeated, 61-28, By Fast Greenbrier Five

Completely outclassing the Generals "B" team, Greenbrier Military Academy romped to a 61-28 win on the losers court Monday night.

Never behind, Greenbrier led 28-14 at the half and continued the rout in the second period. The winner's attack was paced by Johnny Peck with 13 points, while Don Moxham led the Baby Generals with 11 points.

Walthall, Woolfolk, Peck, Miller and Bayer started for Greenbrier, while Moxham, John Short, Lou Hahn, Jack Watson, and Shep Zinovoy composed the Generals starting lineup.

February 20, they move to Blacksburg for a meet with VPI, preparatory to the Southern conference tournament the weekend of February 27.

Carolina won the championship last year, though beaten by W&L in their preliminary meet. Last week VMI won from the Chapel Hill aggregation by a 15-9 count. However three boys from Carolina who won their VMI matches will be pitted against the Blue squad. McKeever, who won from Bud Robb in '42 and also last week from the Keydet matmen, will start against Charlie Stieff in the 128-lb bracket.

Sammy Graham, W&L veteran, will start for the Blue in the 121 pound group. Either Joe Bagley or Joe Simpson will go on the floor as the General 136-pound starter. Bud Robb, who was Southern conference champion two years ago, will be set up against Urganhart in the feature attraction of the Carolina meet, at 145 pounds. Urganhart also won against VMI. Bird or Lewis will start at 155, and Bob Crockett or Ned Lawrence will meet Carolina's Mordecia in the 165-pound class. Jack Burger will be the Blue threat at 175 pounds.

The three day conference tournament will be held in Waynesboro between the six Southern conference teams at the end of the season to determine the Southern championship squad. With the new additions to the mat group, W&L's chances seem fairly good.

Captain Austin W. Coodrat of the Army School for Special Service, who is coaching the mat group, has said that he will be able to accompany the squad on their trips to North Carolina and Blacksburg.

Harter Leads Sigma Nus To Quarter-Final Position

Swamping the ZBTs 45-12, the Sigma Nus became the first team to reach the quarter-finals of the intramural basketball tourney Wednesday night.

Midway in the first half, the victors got hot and made enough baskets to give them a 19-6 lead at the intermission.

Led by Bob Haley and Bob Harter, the Sigma Nus made a rout of the second half, the final score being 45-12.

Staple and Fancy Groceries
Fruits and Vegetables
Old Virginia Cured Hams

M. S. McCOY

STATE CO. Inc.
(Formerly State Drug Co.)

Breakfasts Lunches
Complete Soda Fountain
Magazines

"Come in Before and After the Show"

Phone 41

Nelson St..

Vinson Paces Team As Substitute Star In 43-38 Pickett Win

Paced by a second team that assumed an early lead and never relinquished it, Washington and Lee's surging Generals took the measure of a favored Camp Pickett basketball team, 43-38, Monday night at Doremus gym and thus rang up their fourth victory of the season.

With freshman Freddy Vinson, who scored 10 points, leading the way, the second stringers completely outplayed the ex-college stars during the 18 minutes they played in the first half. When Coach Gummy Proctor finally put in his first team their only task was to protect the 21-15 lead the subs had left them.

The first break in the game's scoring came early in the contest when Vinson's set shot put the Blue ahead, 8-6. Dick Working added three more points and then Vinson netted four field goals in succession to establish the W&L lead at 17-10.

The remainder of the half saw the Generals successfully ward off all the soldiers' attempts to make inroads on the W&L margin and the period ended with Washington and Lee on top, 21-17.

Camp Pickett's game picked up in the second half and the W&L first team was hard pressed to maintain its lead. With five minutes left in the game the men in Blue possessed a shaky margin of one point. Clancy Ballenger, Working and Harry Harner combined here, however, to drop in four field goals and give the Generals enough points to insure a 43-38 victory.

Lambda Chi Cagers Win Consolation Tilt from KAs

Overcoming an early deficit, the Lambda Chis crushed the KAs 29-6 in a consolation game played Wednesday night in the intramural basketball tournament.

The KAs blanked the Lambda Chis in the first quarter, while they poured through three baskets to take a 6-0 lead.

However, from then on the KAs were unable to register a single point, while the Lambda Chis settled down and went on to win the contest by the one-sided score of 29-6.

Earl Vickers and Bill Furman led the winners with 10 and 8 points, respectively.

The halftime tally was 7-6 in favor of the Lambda Chis.

"GIFTS FOR GIRLS"

Glamorous gifts for

Gorgeous gals

at

MILDRED MILLER'S
GIFT SHOP

Generally Speaking . . .

By Ellis Moore and Earl Vickers

Generally speaking, every now and then a Wahoo organ which goes by the name of College Topics comes through with a little item which seems to call for some comment here. Here's the most recent item clipped from pages of Topics as it is politely called:

To the Editor:

I read your very good paper with pleasure, which is being sent me as an old editor-in-chief from back in the dark ages, 1908.

Did you read the Sports Column of the Times-Dispatch this past Sunday?

If you did, I think you will be convinced that Washington and Lee has put forward a new alibi for losing an athletic contest, an alibi that will put all other alibis by them made at any time in the shade. They never lost gracefully and never will; they alibi all their losses but this last alibi when they dropped a game to William and Mary by one point states that the official scorer, in the heat of combat, failed in his duties, in that he gave to William and Mary a foul shot which the William and Mary player missed. I have known this Lexington outfit since I was editing TOPICS in 1908 and I have yet to see them come out of a losing conflict without an alibi; they generally put one out in advance; and, if that fails, come up with a different and subsequent one after some team has beat the hell out of them. If the Gallup Poll were to report on the greatest alibi artists of all time, from Napoleon's sunken road to the present time, Washington and Lee would not only be All-American but All-World. They will probably drop this sport now that they are losing. I am glad that Virginia beat them by a single point also; wonder what alibi they will think of for that?

Very sincerely,

William H. Gaines
Editor-in-Chief, '08

The "bull" in this letter shows that the class of '08 was a highly representative one.

As usual this is just another case of a Wahoo being all wrong. Has anyone heard the discussion of the scorer's error in the William and Mary game being used as an alibi? Naturally everyone felt pretty badly about losing the first conference game of 1943 through the misuse of a pencil, but Coach Gummy Proctor's remark to the effect that it was "just one of those things" was

Students

'Patroniz' the

Ideal Barber Shop

First National Bank Building

For Good Food and

Quick Service

—visit—

El Patio

JEWELRY REPAIR

SKILLED REPAIRING
ON JEWELRY AND WATCHES

R. L. Hess & Bro.

Jewelers

A CHECKING
Account Means

Yes, and safety, too—and prestige. Paying your bills by check is the smart way to handle money, and it's a safe way, too. You need only a small minimum balance to establish an account, so why not do it?

Peoples National Bank

Member of the Federal Deposit
Insurance Corporation

JACKSON
BARBER SHOP

★
Opposite State Theatre

If You Enjoy a
GOOD HAMBURGER
Come to
STEVE'S DINER

When everyone else is closed
We are open

GUNS FOR RENT
and
Rifles and Ammunition for sale at Tolley's
Hardware

List of Library Purchases for December Includes Six Fiction, 41 Non-fiction Books; Erskine Caldwell Novels Now on Shelf

Forty-seven new books were purchased by the library from November 15 to December 15, according to a list released recently by Richard H. Shoemaker, acting librarian of the McCormick library. Six fiction and 41 non-fiction books were listed.

Books purchased included:

Fiction: "God's Little Acre"—Erskine Caldwell; "Tobacco Road"—Erskine Caldwell; "The Book of Claudia"—Rose Franken; "Thorfare"—Christopher Morley; "O. Henry Memorial Prize Short Stories, 1942; "All Night Long"—Erskine Caldwell.

Non-Fiction: "Living Light"—E. N. Harvey; "Biology in the Making"—E. E. Snyder; "The Uncollected Poems of Henry Timrod"—Guy A. Cardwell, Jr.; "The Essays of Henry Timrod"—Ed Winfield Parks, ed.; "Kneel to the Rising Sun"—Erskine Caldwell; "On Native Grounds"—Alfred Kazin; "English Social History"—George M. Trevelyan; "Opportunities in the Armed Forces"—Maxwell Lehman; "The Eve of St. Mark"—Maxwell Anderson; "Victor Hugo"—Mathew Josephson; "Problems of Lasting Peace"—Herbert Hoover; "Army Life"—E. J. Kahn; "I Remember, I Remember"—Andre Maurois.

"Climate Makes the Man"—Clarence A. Mills; "Virginia is a State of Mind"—Virginia Moore; "Glimpses of World History"—J. Nehru; "Sabotage"—Michael Sayers; "Billy Mitchell"—Emile Gavreau; "Suez to Singapore"—Cecil Brown; "Conditions of Peace"—Edward H. Carr; "Europe, Russia and the Future"—G. D. H. Cole; "Race, Reason and Rubbish"—Gunnar Dahlberg; "Memoirs of Happy Days"—Julian Green; "Good Intentions"—Ogden Nash; "The Unity of India"—J. Nehru; "I Came Out of the 18th Century"—John A. Rice; "Person, Place and Thing"—Karl Shapiro; "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"—Cornelia Otis Skinner; "Men Before Adam"—Ann T. White; "Ten Years: the World on the Way to War, 1930-40"—Dwight E. Lee; "Treitschke's Origins of Prussianism"; "History in My Time"—Otto Strasser.

"Religious Trends in English

Poetry"—H. N. Fairchild; "Main Currents in American History"—Ralph H. Gabriel; "The Music Goes Round"—F. W. Gaisberg; "Book of Modern Composers"—David Ewin, ed.; "Women of the Bible"—H. V. Morton; "Nature, Man and God"—William Temple; "Knowledge of God"—David E. Trueblood; "The United States and the Far East"—S. K. Hornbeck; "Study of War"—Quincy Wright.

Alumni

(Continued from Page 2)

nie, '25, George T. Clark, Jr., '25, William H. Cluverius, '25, and John F. Hendon, '24, all lieutenants in the Naval Reserve, began their indoctrination training together at the Quonset Point training station on December 22 of last year.

James William Funk is a member of a class of aviation cadets to be graduated soon from the Air Force Advanced Flying School at Stockton field, Calif. Cadet Funk was a member of Delta Tau Delta and Pi Alpha Nu at Washington and Lee.

Edward McCarty and Joseph D. Eackles are now at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., for flight training, according to an announcement from the public relations office of that station.

Arthur B. Koontz, Jr., has been commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve upon completion of the prescribed flight training course at Pensacola. Ensign Koontz received his A.B. degree at Washington and Lee, and was a member of the varsity baseball team and of Phi Kappa Psi here. He will now go on active duty at the Pensacola base as a flight instructor.

Edgar M. Boyd has been commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve. Having been designated a Naval Aviator, Ensign Boyd will go on active duty at one of the Navy's air operational training centers before being assigned to a combat zone. He recently married Miss Kathleen Grady of Baltimore.

Robert Ellsworth Reuter recently graduated from the advanced Flying School at Spence Field, Ga. He has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Force.

Gaines Announces Gifts Amounting to $52,000

Dr. Francis P. Gaines announced today that over $52,000 has been given to the University. The gifts were outright financial and were made anonymously.

Part of the total, $25,000 was given to the general University endowment while $15,000 was given to be used in stimulating instruction in journalism. A total of $12,000 was given by the alumni, of which $1,000 was designed to pay for replacement of trees on the campus.

FU to Debate Voting Age

The subject before the Forensic Union on Monday night will be "Should eighteen-year olds be given the right to vote?" The affirmative will be taken by Paul Leonard, and the negative by Jack Hornickel.

Sigma Nus Elect Berry

Jim Barry, senior from Alexandria, Va., was elected vice-president of Sigma Nu last night. Wally Clayton, junior from Cranbury, N. J., was elected recorder.

Cold Checks Decline

The noticeable decline in the passing of cold checks over Fancy Dress weekend this year was praised by Jug Nelson, cold check committee chairman, today.

Nelson added that men with IOUs to either the Ring-tum Phi or the Calyx would be called up before the committee in the next few days.

Films

(Continued from Page 2)

"So Proudly We Hail." This bubble bath marks the fourth time that she has been photographed in a bath tub.

With the papers full of the Errol Flynn case, there's not much else that we can say except that it looks like Errol and the Brothers are getting a raw deal. The time elapse between the actual act and the court action seems just a little bit too long for our money.

We've just learned that Mimi Chandler, new paramount Starlet is chums with W&L's Jon Hermann and we understand that the kid got a letter from her the other day.

All the major radio networks will carry a special program saluting the President's birthday Saturday night... Amos and Andy are due for a vacation after February 15. Campbell's are running out of tin cans... Sir Cedric Hardwicke will be the guest on Inner Sanctum Sunday night... Eva La Gallienne has a nice program on the BLUE now called "Horror, Inc." Sundays at 5:15 p.m.

Paramount has turned out one of the first good pictures in a long while, "Star Spangled Rhythm." The film is now playing in New York before record breaking crowds. The show has more than thirty top stars. It's kind of a super vaudeville show that has the critics raving.

Special Alumni Magazine Has Alumni Fund Report

The Alumni office issued this week in a special edition of the Alumni Magazine the alumni fund report, supplement for 1942, giving the names of all graduate contributors to the fund.

The contributions amounted to $10,150.61, coming from 1187 alumni, some graduating as far back as 1867.

The money will be divided into three parts: $565.50 for the intramural field, $281.00 toward an emergency equipment fund, and the remaining $9,304.11 for unrestricted use.

Myers Heads ZBT

At a meeting of the Zeta Beta Tau, Bertram J. Myers from Norfolk, Va., was elected president of the fraternity. Other officers chosen were A. L. Cahn, Meridian, Miss., vice-president; Sam Silverstein, Charleston, West Va., treasurer; and Stanley Sacks, Norfolk, Va., secretary.

Army Training Program To Be Installed at VMI

A specialized army training program will be set up at Virginia Military Institute, the board of visitors planned recently.

The board authorized Major-General Charles E. Kilbourne to sign a War department contract, to accommodate a certain number of students without hampering the institute present corps of cadets, for whom an accelerated program was provided at the same time.

Church Youth Fellowship Will Meet Sunday at 7

Dr. K. K. Haddaway, pastor of the Methodist church in Harrisonburg, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Sunday at 7 p.m. Dr. Haddaway has been leading the services at VMI during Religious Emphasis Week.

Speaking

(Continued from Page 3)

and Wood kept the ball constantly on the move, waiting for someone to break for the basket, and these tactics paid off as evidenced by the six-point lead they left the "varsity" when they walked off the court late in the first half.

The first team's play in the second half was repetitious of all the games this year. Each game shows some improvement but the players still seem to have their minds on individual performances and set shots rather than the team work that is necessary for the Proctor system.

We hope the first team learned a lesson Monday night by setting on the bench for 18 minutes and watching their so-called substitutes play the type of ball that they have been expected to play but have not, except in rare and short instances. An indication that the "substitutes" will receive more action in the future stems from Proctor's remark that "there is no longer a second team at W&L"

Offhand: Leon Harris' decision to stay in school until the Air Corps calls him comes under the heading of very good news. "Stick" is one of the hardest workers on the team and this effort is beginning to pay off noticeable dividends this season... Camp Pickett, crowded with ex-N.Y.U. and other college stars, came to town with a record of seven straight victories... It's a little early yet, but we're looking forward eagerly to the night of February 27 when Virginia tangles with the Proctor-men at Doremus gym.

Faculty Heads List Students Qualifying for Service Reserves

Here are the students who have recently joined one of the reserves:

Army Enlisted Reserve Corps
Jim Boxley, Howell Hunt, Bates Bryan, Ev Schneider, Art Hack, Art Milona, Fred Cottrell, James Ottignon, Hartell Toney, Mal Tenney, Adolph W. Clark, Roland E. Cote, Willard H. Miller, Gordon Sibley.

Army Air Force Reserve
Wes Marsh and Al McKnight.

Marine Corps Reserve
Ralph Faulk, Dick Bartlebaugh, Garland Daniel, Bill McGraw, Bob Fraser, Dick Turley, Ken Wilson, Perry Simmons, Hank Young, John Niendecker, Jersey Bindon, Charles Tebbis, F. W. Lowry and John Casey.

Naval Reserve
Those in V-1 are: H. E. Reams, Holly Smith, Charlie Stone, Luke Smith, R. J. Haylor, Harry Wellford, Frank Addison, Ed Calvert, Bill Crittenden, Charlie Devine, Bob Gaines, Bob Garvin, Lin Holton, Charlie Johnson, George Moore, George Morris.

Graham Norton, Ken Puller, Bill Runyan, Barry Wright, Hank Ashe, Harry Brown, Bob Burris, Fielder Cook, Rodney Cook, Jerry Greenberg, Jack Grossman, Ben Huntley, Lou Hahn, Tom Kaylor, Dave McClintock, Myron McKee, Harry Orgain and Webster McLeod.

Gene Deas, Ambrose Givens.

Freshmen and sophomore interested in trying out for the sports staff of the Ring-tum Phi should contact Earl Vickers at 629 or Ellis Moore at 83.

42 Students on Honor Roll As 101 Make Dean's List

Forty-two students, including four freshmen, were on the honor roll at the end of the first semester, a list compiled by E. S. Mattingly, registrar, revealed today. Honor roll students must have an A average.

A total of 101 students receiving B averages, including four freshmen who received Dean's List grades, it was also announced.

Eighty-six students fell under the automatic rule, 27 of whom were reinstated by University authorities. Commenting on the general condition of the marks, Dean R. N. Lature felt that the grades were affected by war conditions and the probability of leaving school.

John Kelly, Harold Mankin, Ted Martin, Hal Mouser, Walt Carson, Tom Chisari, Carroll Fowlkes, Ben Kaplan, Bob Watkins, Ted Houston, Dave Jones, Bill Mowris, Robert E. Norman, Matt O'Keefe, Tom Randall.

Ed Jackson, Bob Vroom, Al Zimmerman, Dan Ball, Frank Brooks, Fred Loeffler, Bob Sinskey, Allan McAllister, Doug Cooper, Ray Dovell, Larry Garvin, Hedley Clark, John Gately, Niles Grosvenor, John Hudson, Bruce Keener.

Dick Kimball, Dick Lykes, Fred Sage, Pres Mead Bob Ridenhour, David A. Wells, Howard Wilkins, Robert C. Harter, Clarence N. Frierson, Robert M. Blaydes and Frank Berry.

V-7
Those in V-7 are: F.R. Bell, Jack Cancelmo, George Eshelman, Leon Garber, Bob Moore, Bert Myers, Perrin Nicolson, Bill Sizemore, Larry Sullivan, Bill Webster, Les Weller, Zeke Zombro, Jack Cary, Bill McIndoe and Charlie Rast.

Houston Kimbrough, Charles Sledge, Frank Goodpasture, Morrison Hutcheson, Vernon Mill-sap, Melvin H. Schept, Don Welch, Harold W. Laughlin and Earle Brown.

MEET and DRINK

The Ideal Place

to enjoy yourself and bring your friends too. You'll like the pleasant atmosphere that is one of the regular features along with good food and good drinks. Stop in today.

The Corner Store

Built For the Students By the Students

WARNER BROS. STATE

TODAY and TOMORROW

BUD ABBOTT
LOU COSTELLO

-in-

Who Done It?

SUNDAY and MONDAY

Life Begins At Eight-Thirty

-with-

MONTY WOOLLEY
IDA LUPINO

"Colleges at War"

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

The Navy Comes Through

-with-

PAT O'BRIEN
GEORGE MURPHY
JANE WYATT

NOTICE STUDENTS

L. R. BOWLING

Esso Stations

OPEN 10 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Call

451 N. Main

ASK THE FLYING TIGER FROM CHINA

"SCRATCH ONE ZERO"

"OUT THERE WE'D GIVE A BUCK FOR A COKE"

"THEY'RE STILL A NICKEL HERE"

"There must be something special about a 5¢ soft drink, when men overseas write home or bring back tales about it. That bottle and the familiar trade-mark Coca-Cola remind them of home. The delicious taste and refreshment of Coke bring a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things. Enjoy it yourself."

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS
Lexington, Virginia

SUITS AND TOP COATS $29.50 up

Gaberdine (all weather coat) $25.75
Interwoven Sox—Cheney Ties
Formal Wear

J. Ed Deaver & Sons

Phone 25

Lexington, Va.

MYERS HARDWARE CO.

Serving Washington and Lee
Since 1865

Don't Hesitate

See Our Complete Line of Gentlemen's Clothes of Quality and Appeal

Arthur Silver's

Robert E. Lee Hotel Bldg.

Remember us when you need a good

Laundry or Dry Cleaning service

★

Rockbridge Laundry

Zoric Cleaners