

Wood Announces Contest For Bicentennial Magazine

Students Are Urged To Write Articles For W. and L. Publication

By BILL METZEL

The student contest for articles to be featured in the publication celebrating Washington and Lee's complete information concerning Bicentennial has been opened and its conduct released by the student Bicentennial committee. Three selections will be made from contributions dealing with the following general themes:

1. Student government and the honor system at Washington and Lee.
2. The role of the fraternity in and outside of college.
3. The place of religion on a college campus.
4. Athletics at Washington and Lee.
5. The importance of extra-curricular activities in college life.

In preparing this list of subjects, the members of the committee have endeavored to leave the writer a wide scope in expressing his views on matters of genuine significance to students here and to those interested in the university. Entrants may compose their own titles using these ideas as guides to the make-up of their work.

Frank Cunningham, distinguished young novelist and alumnus of Washington and Lee, about whom an article appeared last week in The Ring-tum Phi, will judge all entries in the contest. Mr. Cunningham has said that he would like to write a special recognition to each of the three winners in a copy of his recent best-seller, Big Dan.

The productions of these men will be featured along with those of many of the outstanding persons in the journalistic field in a compilation which will have national circulation and attention inasmuch as the publication is to be of national character, the articles should be written with this idea in view. Copies will go to all alumni, friends, and students of Washington and Lee. Most of the nation's leading cartoonists have either already submitted drawings for the brochure or promised to do so, and many of the best editorialists are preparing special columns. Newspapers in all parts of the country have shown an interest in the publication and its progress.

It will be important for contestants to note these details of participation. The article should be approximately 2000 words in length, not more than that, and preferably not much under it. The completed essays may be turned in to any member of the publication committee: Art Wood, Marshall Ellis, Fran Russell, Ozzie Osborne, or Bob McNeil, on or before May 15.

Contributions should be typed and double spaced. It is requested that the Lexington addresses and the home addresses of the authors be attached.

The work of the students themselves is an essential feature of the book, both as an expression of how the men of Washington and Lee, in her two hundredth year, feel about the university and as an indication of the kind of work W. and L. men do.

"This is an opportunity to play a leading part in a project which is going to be a truly great tribute to our university," Chairman Wood stated.

Travel Magazine Features W.&L.

Current Holiday Has 'Old Dominion' Write-up

"Virginia Portfolio," a 16-page article on Virginia containing three pages devoted to Washington and Lee, will appear in the April issue of Holiday magazine, which will be on sale tomorrow.

Occupying the lead position in the section dealing with Virginia educational institutions, Washington and Lee is called the school "where every student majors in courtesy."

One page on W&L contains a full-page color photograph of the Lee Incumbent Statue which ranks among the greatest color photographs ever taken, according to a local observer who viewed an advance copy. Photographs of the campus were taken by Bradley Smith, who visited the campus in October.

The article discusses traditions of the school, including the honor system, and is, in general, an endorsement of what W&L represents, according to the local observer.

It also includes items on Monticello, Shirley Mansion, VMI, Blue Ridge Country Store, and the University of Virginia.

The magazine will be on sale at the Co-op, McCrum's, and the State Drug Store.

Little, McMath Elected To Head Lambda Chi

At a recent meeting of Lambda Chi, the following officers were elected: Dan Little, president; Ned McMath, vice-president; Guy Hammond, secretary; Gene Blankenbicker, house manager; Joe Cling, social chairman; and Al Whittemore, ritualist.

Gene Griese was appointed delegate to the National Convention.

Bill Hamilton Named To Fill Top IFC Post

Seven Fraternities Join To Prevent Ratification Of Proposed Constitution

Bill Hamilton, Sigma Nu, stepped into the presidency of the Interfraternity Council last week to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of Jim Moorehead, the former president.

Hamilton previously had been the secretary-treasurer of the campus organization. Wiley McGehee, Sigma Chi, moved up to fill that position.

At the IFC meeting last week seven fraternities joined to prevent the ratification of a constitution for the organization.

The opposition centered about the method of electing future IFC officers. The seven fraternities voting against the constitution sought an amendment establishing the rotation method of electing officers, spokesmen said.

When the majority members refused to consider the election situation, the seven fraternities joined to block passage of the constitution.

Officials from SAE and Lambda Chi, two of the opposition fraternities, said that they were able to block the constitution since a three-fourths vote of the council was necessary for ratification.

The IFC in the past has worked under gentlemen's agreement without any written constitution.

NOTICE

In next Tuesday's edition of The Ring-tum Phi, the state delegations for the Mock Republican Convention will be announced.

John Walker To Speak Before Phi Delta Phi At Initiation Banquet

Mr. John Walker, president of the Virginia Bar Association, will be the principal speaker at the Phi Delta Phi initiation banquet, March 24, according to Charlie Blackburn, president of the legal fraternity.

Blackburn added that a rush party for 24 prospective initiates was held last Wednesday at Goshen Pass.

He explained that the standards for initiation into the fraternity have been raised from a 75 to a 78 average, and he added that the prospective initiates would be subject to this new regulation.

Shaw Speaks on Race Relations

Orator Says Negroes Desire 'Citizenship'

"The only thing the Negro really contends for is first-class citizenship," declared Mr. Leander J. Shaw in a talk to the Christian Council Friday night. Mr. Shaw, principal of the Negro Lylburn Down High School in Lexington, spoke on "The Role of the Individual in the Improvement of Race Relations."

In a talk to the Christian Council Friday night, Mr. Shaw, principal of the Negro Lylburn Down High School in Lexington, spoke on "The Role of the Individual in the Improvement of Race Relations."

Mr. Shaw asserted that a change in race relations cannot be effected by mandate, but "there must be a change in the minds and hearts of men."

"Any change in the mores must come from the mutual respect of each group for the other," he said.

The speaker called for an end to "elbowing and name-calling." He asserted that the problem must be worked out by face-to-face every day contact, and that a feeling of respect for each other is necessary to eliminate friction.

"The laws are not up to the people's attitudes," he declared. The speaker told of a recent anti-segregation bill for Virginia which was buried in committee. The bill, which would abolish segregation in transportation and assembly, never got on the floor despite the fact that no witnesses in the hearing spoke against it. The committee said the bill was buried because it would confuse the Tuck anti-Truman plans.

Deploping the scarcity of professional schools for Negroes, Mr. Shaw gave figures showing the effect of this lack. There are five times as many white as Negro doctors in proportion to population; for whites there is one lawyer to 702 persons—for Negroes, one for 24,000.

After the talk, there was an informal round table to discuss various aspects of race relations.

Horse Show To Be Held On April 24, Says Taylor

Washington and Lee's first Intercollegiate Horse Show will be held at the Lexington Fair Grounds on Saturday, April 24, according to Forester Taylor, chairman of the Horse Show Association.

Entries have already been received from Southern Seminary, Mary Washington, VMI, and VPI. The show's committees will be announced in next week's Ring-tum Phi.

Ticket Drive Begins April 9, Says Murphy

By LOU JACKS

Johnny Archer, whose dance band is a record-breaking favorite at Virginia Beach's Cavalier Beach Club, has been signed to play for both nights of Spring Dances, Paul Murphy, president of the set, announced yesterday.

While, in line with plans for an inexpensive set, Archer is not "big name," Murphy said that he thought the Spring Dance Committee had made the best selection possible under the existing financial circumstances. "Johnny Archer has an excellent dance band," Murphy said. "And we have been working under the assumption that danceable music is primarily what the students want."

Saturday night's dance will be informal. This was decided definitely after a poll of the fraternity houses was taken last week under the auspices of the Interfraternity Council. Married students were especially favorable to the idea of making one night informal. The Friday night affair will, as in past years, be the Cotillion Club Formal.

Advanced sale ticket prices have been set at $5.00 with the drive beginning tomorrow under ticket chairman Jim Morehead. Advanced sales will end on April 9. "This," said Morehead, "is the cheapest tickets have been since the students. We're going to give the student body a good dance, the very best possible, and we hope that the relative inexpensiveness of the tickets will induce a large advance sale."

The Archer orchestra, which comes to Washington and Lee for the first time on April 16 and 17 has appeared at many of the East's top hotels and clubs. In addition to the fashionable Cavalier Beach Club, where it broke all popularity records last summer, the orchestra has played at the Hotel Statler in Washington, the Sheraton Roof, the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, and Palm Beach's Whitehall Hotel. Archer's "sophisticated" music has won recognition in high society circles, as well. He has played at many debutante parties and weddings, including that of John Roosevelt. Archer himself is a pianist, and his style and that of his band has been compared to that of Carmen Cavaleo. Mary Stevens, featured vocalist with the group, not only has a pleasant voice, but was chosen Miss Rhode Island in 1945.

All in all, Archer promises to provide a good dance set and to be popular with the students. As one member of the Dance Committee pointed out, "W&L dances have helped several coming bands on their way to outstanding popularity, including Hal Kemp and Kay Kyser. This may be another."

University REW Features Myers

Speaker Will Emphasize Philosophy of Religion

Dr. Edward D. Myers, one of the speakers for the University Religious Emphasis Week, is primarily interested in the philosophy of religion. Dr. Myers is a graduate of Roanoke High School and was born in Martinsville, Va., in 1907. He took his B.A. at Roanoke College in 1927 and his M.A. at Princeton in 1928. Three years later, in 1931, Dr. Myers took his Ph.D. (in Philosophy) also at Princeton. He has also done Summer work in Arabic and Islamic Studies at Princeton and has taken a Summer course in Danish Language, Literature and Institutions, Copenhagen in 1939.

Dr. Myers will deliver three lectures. Lecture number one will be concerned with "The Dominant Characteristics of the Time in Western Society." The second lecture will be concerned with "The Reasonableness of Faith—a Skeptical Approach to Religion." In regard to lecture number three, Dr. Myers said that he was not certain that this lecture "will go along the lines indicated and I had thought that perhaps it would be better not to have that lecture rigidly decided in advance but to leave a little leeway and chance of revision after seeing how the discussion following the first two will go." Thus this lecture is not permanently decided but as now stands will concern "The Implications of the Christian Faith."

Among the appointments held by Dr. Myers are the following: Instructor in Psychology and Philosophy, Birmingham-Southern College (1936-1937); Ass't. Professor of Religion, Trinity College (1942-1945); Secy. of Admissions and Dean of Freshman and Dean and Professor in the Humanities, Roanoke College (current position). He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; American Association of University Professors; Guild of Scholars in the Episcopal Church; American Conference of Academic Deans; Virginia Academy of Science, American Society for the Advancement of Teaching; and others. He has published fifteen articles on religion, history, liberal education, Russia and other subjects in various journals as well as The Foundation of English, New York, 1940, MacMillan.

Foreign Service To Be Discussed

Mr. Frank S. Hopkins, Assistant Director of the Foreign Service Institute of the Department of State, will address W. and L. students in Washington Chapel at 12:05 p.m., Friday, March 19.

Mr. Hopkins will talk personally with any students interested in the Foreign Service from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the Student Union. At 7:30 Friday night he will lead a round table discussion, sponsored by the International Relations Club, on the role of our State Department in foreign affairs.

Coming to W. and L. at the invitation of the members of the faculty of the Political Science Department, Mr. Hopkins will be able to give students authoritative information regarding the kind of opportunities which are open to students interested in foreign service careers.

Mr. Hopkins is a native Virginian with academic experience at Willam and Mary, Columbia, and Harvard. He was also a newspaper reporter on The Baltimore Sun for some years before he joined the Foreign Service Department.

"SHE AIN'T LONG WITH THIS WORLD:" The death-bed scene in the New Troubadour play, "Shadow and Substance," which has its premiere tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Troubadour Theater in Red Square. Left to right: Brewster, Martin, Albin, Allen, Swink, Bell, and Forkgen.

FRATERNITY ROUNDUP

By FRAN RUSSELL

The Swing: Students have been a bit perturbed by the recent attitude of Southern Seminary officials regarding the Washington and Lee Swing. An article was featured on the front page of The Ring-tum Phi that stated that the Swing was taboo because of the line "We will roll old Sweet Briar on the sod."

We have since discovered that the objection was not to the previously mentioned line, but to the three words that follow it. This objection is not the first that has been leveled at the lyrics of the Swing.

The Glee Club found it necessary to revise the words a bit on their New York trips in 1939 and 1940. During the recent Fancy Dress, it was necessary to increase the sound effects to make the Swing presentable for broadcasting.

We expect to hear that The Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech has also been purged most any day now....

The Quartet: Music lovers got a break Sunday afternoon when the London String Quartet presented its chamber music in Lee Chapel. The concert was another step in the right direction.

Considerable talent should be brought to Lexington next year between the Bicentennial celebration and the Rockbridge Concert Series. Don't forget that the campaign for membership is still going on for the Concert Series, and the number of memberships will determine the quality of the program. Call Miss Mary Monroe Penick for your ticket tomorrow.

Roundup: Brian Bell has the Betas wondering who is responsible for his improved dress, his well-modulated speech, and correct manners. Spring, and a young man's fancy.... Two KA's, C. A. Voelker and B. J. Franklin set some sort of a record; they made a bet they could out-party the PIKA's and were still going strong Sunday morning at 10 a.m....

The Deltas held a formal party Saturday night. The house was decorated with flowers and candle-lit. An eight-piece band from Roanoke furnished the music. Thirty-five dates were present from surrounding girls' schools. Roger Kimball was celebrating his championship in the intramural 165-lb. class. Mary Whitley Christian gets the girl of the week nod; she's Lynch's sister. Fred Johnson thought it all up and even put Jake Cheatam to work....

A trio from Roanoke, Luce Kregger, Anne Fowlkes, and Jo Anne Curland, entertained the Kappa Sigs and made very obvious impressions on Dick Pruitt, Fletcher Sisk and Lucius Johnson.... The Lambda Chi's are taking it out on Bob Smith: Bob, who has been on the Hollins team all season, received the shock of his life at Sweet Briar, which he was visiting for a little extra-curricular activity. Whom should Bob run into but the little woman from Hollins, who was attending the Peace Conference. She was surprised, too; she thought Bob was over in Lexington studying....

PIKA entertained a great share of the campus Saturday night; the party was formal, music was furnished by Phil Buchanan's band from Waynesboro. The boys had imported thirty-five lovelies from various parts; we were impressed with Mary Anne Lewis, Felicia Jackson, Martha and Sally Davis. George Stott planned it out and was largely responsible for its success....

The SAE's scattered with the spring weather to various campuses. Current plans call for a big Spring house party on May 8.... The Pi Phi's entertained some of the boys from the wrestling team Saturday afternoon with a party and dates. Mike Boyda is dating Betty Wamsley, daughter of the Pi Phi housemother, Mrs. Kerr....

Phi Deltas started their festivities Saturday afternoon with a cocktail party, dinner, and formal ball at the Mayflower Hotel. Thorpe Minister handled the party arrangements, and thirty-five dates came to the party....

Phi Eps entertained the Executive Secretary of Phi Epsilon Pi, Mr. Paul Spiwak, over the weekend. This was the first time the secretary had visited Washington and Lee, and he was much impressed with the campus and local chapter.... That young man about town and nearby cities, Phi Psi's own Spencer Morten, made such a favorable impression on the local kids that they made a return visit Friday night....

Phi Kappa Sigma partied informally; the dates were pretty, Bob Gates smiled, and Sen. John McWhorter proved he could look dignified while sleeping in a straight-backed chair. Garland Harwood was his usual genial self, greeting everyone and seeing that all demands were filled....

The Sigs are expecting a big crowd of students down to their big ball at the Hotel Patrick Henry next Saturday night. Last year's Sweetheart was Julie Holt of Sweet Briar. Bill Craddock, social chairman, said that the choice of Sweetheart for 1948 was still "undetermined"....

Doc and Snuffy Sharer threw a party for the Phi Gams to celebrate winning the intramural wrestling championship. Phi Gam had three finalists and three runner-ups. Bill Ingalls took the 121-lb. class, Doc Sharer took the 128-lb. class and had to defeat fellow Phi Gam John Hamric to get it, and Dick Whiteman walked off with the 136-lb. berth....

THERE WAS PRE-FABS IN YO' EYES . . .

By DAN PINCK

"Every girl thinks that every boy should get married. I think so too."

I don't think any student at Washington and Lee should be bothered by the lack of living space. Businessmen aren't, and they will help you find a pantry in old Pantry Town.

Two people don't need much room anyway. Your GI check stretches as far as a bar of steel, and a bar of steel is a lot more valuable than you would ordinarily believe.

If you can get a girl who will have you, don't bother about not living in a pre-fab. Some of my best friends are married, and they are living on the golf course. They pay their rent by picking crab grass—which makes a tasty club salad.

Others are living in funeral parlors by renting casket-space. These friends say that it's much more comfortable than Cave Mountain, though, they admit, it does take a little time to get accustomed to the hum-drum surroundings.

An old clown said, "I do marry that I may repent." You can repent easily on $90 a month. I don't want to admit impediments to the marriage of true minds, but there are some. Lack of living space, though, is not one of them.

During the war I waited two years for a girl while I was overseas. When I got back I told her she would marry me.

"Righto," she said; "but do you have a pre-fab?" She began throwing away dirty dollar bills that I had in my hip pocket.

Obviously she wasn't the girl for me, and I told her no.

I met a Red Cross girl in China. She was used to living in a shack, and I didn't think she would mind roughing it with me in Lexington. When she got back to the States and saw my father's '32 Ford, she liked me less, and we called the whole thing off.

Few girls take home economics in college nowadays. I think they all should—they ought to major in it. When I met a girl who ran a dairy farm, I ran after her.

"Lady, you're what I've needed."

"Brother, tell me more."

"How's about coming down to Lexington to live with me? I know a lady who knows a man who's ninety-six, who's going to die of heart failure. We'll get comfortable quarters there. I'm already signed up for a w c and three closets. I'm No. 21 on the Ping Pong Table List, and with any luck at all, we'll have one in four months."

"Sounds like the Miami of the north. Nope, I like the farm better. Though I like you a lot, Dan."

I haven't guided Cupid's missiles very well. I now know a girl named Ulul (that's Lulu, spelled backwards) who's majoring in economics. I like her more and more each time I see her old man's Cadillac. She wants to know my Dun & Bradstreet rating and she wants an account of the probable expenses for two in Lexington.

I found them through the local agent of the Office of Supreme Stupidity. Here's the expense account for the average married couple not living in a pre-fab:

Rent .....	$65.00
Food .....	50.00
Phone Calls Home .....	30.00
Magazines for wife (True Story, Thrilling Detective, etc.) .....	8.00
Fraternity "house" dues .....	15.00
Dinners for friends (the old Taylors and Overholts) ..	12.00
Good Food .....	60.00
Goody food bought in joints ..	14.00
Lexington charities .....	30
Movies .....	0.00

Campus Time Now Ready For General Circulation, Glenn Chaffer Announces

Campus Time, the new magazine for Eastern Seaboard colleges is now ready for circulation. Glenn Chaffer, campus business representative announced today. The first issue is out and a copy of it is in the University Supply Store.

The next issue of the magazine, coming out in early April, will feature Washington and Lee, Chaffer announced. Fancy Dress will be highlighted with picture coverage.

Campus Time is not sold on a single copy basis, Chaffer said, and because of circulation problems, subscriptions must be taken for the next five issues. Subscriptions for the issues February to June may be obtained from Edna Sutherland at the University Supply Store for $1.00.

Laundry ..... 35.00

The outcome is $289.30. Housing is no problem. This account is for a couple living inside, with running heat and water.

Robert E. Lee said in a letter to John Hood from Camp Cooper, Texas, in 1864: "Never marry unless you can do so into a family that will enable your children to feel proud of both sides."

"I see the point of that," said Ulul. "Still it would be nice if you could have a pre-fab." I agreed.

So don't be disheartened if you can't get a pre-fab. As everybody except an economist is aware, two can live as cheaply as one.

And if you work it right, you can be the one.

BRAIN FOOD . By Brian Bell

Much has been said already and the veritable tempest in a teapot has almost subsided about the boycotting of Washington and Lee by certain Southern Conference wrestling coaches. However, reverberations from the initial volley are still resounding and a few words at this late date should still have some news interest.

One of the most frequently asked questions has been "What teams will we wrestle?" Coach Broadbent does not seem to be too perturbed about the future lack of Southern competition and had been contemplating even before the weeping willows of the Carolinas started howling, of scheduling quite a few northern teams. In fact, Broadbent had been visualizing the time when W&L will be a member of the Eastern Wrestling Conference, the hierarchy of wrestling east of the Mississippi.

Virginia's wrestling coach rates W&L as among "the top four teams in the East and potentially among the first 10 or 12 in the nation." Coach Broadbent would like to prove this. A union with the Eastern Association would mean wrestling Lehigh, Muhlenberg, Navy, and other wrestling kings. Don't be surprised if next year's schedule has these teams on it.

As to the statement by the lubricated minds that wrestling at Washington and Lee is subsidized, we are sure the wrestlers themselves were glad to know this. One grappler wondered why he was working as a filling station attendant if he were on scholarship; a W&L champion thought back to days in the fall when he got up at five o'clock each morning to work in the local creamery and decided he must have been crazy since he was on scholarship all the time; three other varsity wrestlers looked around the gym equipment room where they were working and wondered what they were doing there; and Ken Lindell was heard to remark that he was glad to know he was on scholarship and was last seen trying to get two years' back pay from Cap'n. Dick.

Interesting to note the schools complaining—Carolina, student population 8525, where everything from mumbly-peg to intercollegiate necking is subsidized and Carolina State, population 5500, whose undefeated Southern Conference basketball champions sneered in print when they were asked how many North Carolina boys played on the team—the answer being none, of course. They all come from the Midwest to play basketball for State because they like the climate.

Washington and Lee, population 1250, has always emphasized wrestling. It's a major sport. Large crowds watch every match. An intramural tourney is held every year. W&L has been famous for its good wrestling teams for years. The present great team should not shock our Carolina competitors so much.

It boils down simply to this. We have a better coach and we say it proudly. He knows where to get good wrestlers and he gets them. N. C. and N. C. State think they should be top dogs in everything, and shed bitter tears and issue blatant statements when they get a licking. We will continue to have a great wrestling team whether Carolina and its cohorts like it or not.

The whole thing has been good publicity for us and helped to make the boycotting schools the laugh of the South. Even Chauncey Durden saw fit to put the blast on the cry babies. The whole thing has done us more good than harm and the envying gnash of teeth from the South should sound as music to our ears after the subjugation we have been forced to endure at their subsidized hands in other sports.

One of the boys in the black knit ties and seersucker suits at Charlottesville was heard to have asked worriedly whether the other schools would ban U. Va. in boxing after Thomas Jefferson's mistake won the fistic title. Don't worry too much please. If worst comes to worst our wrestlers can meet the Wahoo boxers in what ought to be some match.

Generalizing . . .

By RODNEY FITZPATRICK

During all the rumpus and publicity over wrestling last week, Chauncey Durden mentioned one of the sore spots in our athletic set-up. Durden reported that Carl Wise had asked to be relieved of his basketball coaching duties because "there are no basketball scholarships at W. and L. to entice prep and high school stars." A sore subject indeed.

Mr. Wise's request for relief has never been reported in that manner, but is based on the fact that as backfield coach in football he is unable to devote sufficient time to the cagers in the all-important early season practice sessions. The fact remains that there are no basketball scholarships here, and that every school which visited N. C. State's Southern Conference tournament is known to have from 5 to 15 full scholarships for basketball.

The situation offers two alternatives: we must either subsidize or schedule weaker teams with no thought of regaining our old prestige in the sport. However the problem is much deeper than appears on the face of this summary.

Throughout the '30's when W. and L. was a perennial power in the conference and made frequent trips to Madison Square Garden, basketball was "for the boys" as the old folks say. Now the game competes with football in the high finances necessary to produce a winner.

Our athletic department does not have a large budget and has been reluctant to make the necessary expenditures to keep pace with the times. Yet our basketball team this year was sent like a pea-shooter to face the cannons of West Virginia, Carolina, Duke, and Tennessee with the primary object being money. If these affairs could have been called real contests in advance, we venture to say that the profit made by the school would have been sufficient to pay a full scholarship for some deserving athlete. In plain words, this school could place a minimum of five full scholarships at the disposal of the basketball coach without it costing them one penny in the long run.

Furthermore, action should be taken immediately, if W. and L. is ever going to do it. Right now every coach in the conference is contacting the high school boys who have just completed their last year of high school eligibility, and right now is the time that our basketball fortunes for the next 3 or 4 years are being settled. If something is not done, we sincerely hope that the schedule maker can find a few schools smaller than Roanoke College or Hampden-Sydney as we feel sure both schools will be turning out a better team than our beloved alma mater.

Since we have already spent most of this weeks space in a critical attitude, we may as well finish our say. Harry Broadbent is planning to request an additional $250 dollars in next year's wrestling appropriation in order that our Jayvee wrestlers may continue in action along with the varsity and freshmen teams. It appears now that the appropriation will be denied and that such boys as "Tiger" Townsend and Jim Connelly will be left without a schedule. The small sum requested will not materially affect an athletic budget which already probably includes that amount for shoe strings and rubber bands. Let's keep our few winning teams winning my allowing some depth to the varsity.

P.S.—Our undefeated Jayvee wrestlers would probably have placed second in the conference tourney this year, according to several members of our varsity who placed first.

Phi Gams Take Wrestling Title; Eight New I-M Champs Crowned

By ANDY McCUTCHEON

Winning three individual championships and racking up a grand total of 106 points, the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity literally walked away with the Intramural Wrestling Championship.

Led by Bill Ingals, "Doc" Sharer, and Dick Whiteman, champions of the 121, 128, and 136 pound divisions respectively, the Phi Gams also had three runners-up in John Baldwin, 112 pounds, John Hamrick, 128 pounds, and Dave Croyder, 155 pounds.

Following the Phi Gams in total points were the Phi Deltas with 59 points, the Sigma Nus with 52 points, and the SAE's with 36 points.

Sigma Nu was the only other fraternity able to annex more than one individual champion. Bill Clements won the 145 pound class while Mike Radulovic, varsity footballer, took the unlimited crown.

Ed Rushton, Beta swimming star, pinned John Baldwin, Phi Gam, to win the 112 pound title. Rushton's pin came with 1 minute and 24 seconds of the first period gone.

Bill Ingalls, Phi Gam gained a third period fall over Bob Warfield, KA, to take the 121 pound class. Behind 4-2 in points, Ingalls executed a quick third period reversal and went on to pin Warfield.

Comedy reared its humerous head in the 128 pound division when John Hamrick, Phi Gam, appeared to wrestle fraternity brother Doc Sharer attired in mask as a professional wrestler. Entertaining the fans with a take-off on the pro wrestling game, Sharer was finally awarded a first period fall over Hamrick.

In the 136 pound division, Dick Whiteman decisioned Ed Newton, Phi Delt 4-2. Whiteman got a first period takedown and a second period reversal against Newton's second period reversal to top the 136 division.

Bill Clements, Sigma Nu, last year's 136 pound champion decisioned John McCoy, NFU, 6-2 to win the 145 pound crown. Clements got a takedown and two reversals against McCoy's single reversal.

In a nip and tuck match, Davvenport, defending champion in the 155 pound class, gained a third period takedown to decision Dave Croyder, Phi Gam, and retain his championship.

Roger Kimball, DTD, decisioned Jim Gallivan, SAE, to take the 165 pound class. Tied 4-4 at the end of the match Kimball was awarded the title by virtue of his riding time. Behind all the way, Jim Gallivan executed a late third period reversal and had Kimball in a near pin as the match ended. Ahead 6-2 in points, John Browning went on to pin Bruce King, Sigma Chi, in the third period to gain the 175 pound title.

Bill Cadle, Pi Phi, got a third period fall over Sigma Nu's Bill Pacy to win the 190 pound crown. Both schooled in the Harry Broadbent style of wrestling, Pacy and Cadle gave the crowd some of the best wrestling of the evening.

In the unlimited division, big Mike Radulovic pinned Pat Robertson, SAE, in the final period to take that title. Radulovic was leading in points 5-0 at the time of the fall.

Intramural Director Norm Lord announced that scheduled workouts would precede next years wrestling tournament. Scheduled on the recommendation of the school physician, Dr. Reid White, to safeguard the health of intramural athletes, these practices will reduce the number of medical cases resulting each year from the wrestling tournament. A similar plan will be used in track and swimming.

Delts Maintain I-M Point Lead

The Delts remain the leaders of the intramural scoring race; this week with 280 points, followed by the NFU with 207, and the Phi Gams with 196.

The Phi Deltas are fourth with 175 points, although their score does not include basketball. The Phi Psis, Phi Deltas, and KAs have play off a tie for second in their basketball league.

Of the Phi Gams' 196 points, 106 were gained in the wrestling tournament. The Phi Deltas were second with 59 and the Sigma Nus third with 52.

The SAEs had 36, Delts 35, Phi Kappa Sigs 29, Betas 26, NFU 24, KAs and Sigma Chis tied with 21 each, Phi Psis 18, Pi Phis 14, Zebes 9, PiKAs and DUs 6 each, and Kappa Sigs and Lambda Chis 3 each.

Matmen To Enter AAU In Richmond Saturday; Team Predominantly JV

Saturday, March 20, will mark the finale in the 1948 wrestling season for W&L. That is the date when Coach Harry Broadbent will send his charges to the State AAU meet at Richmond.

Although the team will be made up of mostly JV wrestlers, three varsity men, Cal Guest, Joe Sconce and Irv Wicknick will go along to provide support in the 128, 136, and 155-lb. divisions respectively.

Since W&L's Southern Conference championship wrestling squad was made up of nearly all freshmen, Coach Broadbent will not send any men to the National Intercollegiate Wrestling meets. Freshmen are ineligible to wrestle in this meet.

The rest of the team will be made up of Bill Townsend, 115 lbs.; Doug Smith, 121 lbs.; Jim Connelly, 136 lbs.; Ken Williams, 145 lbs.; Walt Williams, 155 lbs.; Joe Slaughter and Bill Maynard, 165 lbs.; John Browning, 175 lbs.; Dan Boone, 191 lbs.; and Jack Kernicklen, heavyweight.

"Doc" Sharer will also wrestle in the 121-lb. class, but since he is a transfer student he will wrestle as an unattached amateur.

The meet is a one-day affair and although the type of rules to be used haven't been announced yet, Coach Broadbent stated that National AAU rules will probably be followed, which differ only slightly from intercollegiate rules.

Following the wrestling meet will be the Grapplers Club banquet on Monday, March 22 at the Dutch Inn at 7:00. This is the second annual banquet of the Grapplers Club and it will be held to honor the undefeated JV's and the varsity, who were Southern Conference champions this year.

The highpoint of the evening will be the awarding of the Mathis Trophy to the most valuable wrestler on this year's squad. A trophy to the most improved wrestler will also be awarded.

Five To Aid Broadbent in '48; Track Conditions Hinder Squad

Cinder Coach Harry Broadbent announced the enlargement of his staff yesterday as Cliff Muller, George Irwin, Carter Allen, Mr. A. R. Coleman, and Bill Chipley volunteered their services in training this year's crop of trackmen.

It was a definite disadvantage to Coach Broadbent last year when he could spend only a limited amount of time with each group of his trackmen and the mentor stated that the addition of these new assistants undoubtedly would bring about a more efficiently coached squad.

Cliff Muller, who has been carrying out the early workouts so far, is slated to handle the middle distance and endurance events, while George Irwin, former W&L sprinter, will be on hand to handle the dash men.

Senior law student Carter Allen, will prep the hurdlers and Mr. Coleman will aid Broadbent in the field events. At the close of spring football, Bill Chipley is expected to appear around the track as a further aid to those men entering in the field sports. Due to the poor condition of the track, workouts have not been brought into full swing as of yet. So far the pits haven't been put in the ovals and the main track is still in poor shape. For this reason the jumpers have been unable to go through their paces.

The dash and field men are to come mainly from the football squad which is now in the midst of its spring training. Such men as Jim Lukens and Vic Marler will be on hand to bolster the cindermen when the grid team disbands in April.

Although there hasn't been any extensive work done in the various events, Coach Broadbent has great expectations from several men who have been present at these early practices. Charley Cobb and Bill Gallivan have shown up well as dash men, while Bill Capers and Don Stillwell have shown promise at the quarter mile and distance events respectively.

Other men who will be counted

Vets With 2 or More Dependents Must Apply for Allotment Increase

Veterans with children must furnish the VA with a photostat or certified copy of each child's birth certificate in order to qualify for the subsistence raise, according to J. G. Woodson, head of the Lexington VA office. In the case of dependent parents, evidence of actual dependency must be submitted, Woodson added.

Single veterans or married veterans with one dependent will not have to apply for the increase. Only men with more than one dependent need write the VA concerning the increase.

If veterans with children submit evidence of dependency before July 1, 1948, they will receive retroactive payments at the new rate back to April 1, 1948.

The higher rates are applicable to periods of training on and after April first. However, since checks are not due until the end of the month in which the veteran is training, the new rate will not be reflected in checks until May first.

The increase will apply only to veterans attending school full time. On-the-job trainees and those attending school part time will continue to receive allowances based on the present rate.

Woodson urged that veterans with two or more dependents send the needed information as soon as possible to the VA Regional Office at 211 W. Campbell Ave., Roanoke 11, Va.

Ring-tum Phi Reporters Attend Newspaper Forum At Sweet Briar College

Dick Bidwell and Ozzie Osborne represented The Ring-tum Phi at an Educational Conference held at Sweet Briar College on Saturday, March 13.

With representatives from the papers of Radford, Madison, and Sweet Briar Colleges, they discussed the role of college newspapers in fostering better understanding of world problems.

It was decided at an informal discussion that college newspapers should devote more of their space to news of national significance. It was also urged by the students that college newspapers take a definite stand on current issues such as the problem of race relations.

Students were also urged to conduct frequent polls to ascertain student opinion on national and international issues.

The group was later entertained with a buffet supper.

Dr. Griffith Wins Faculty Debate Before FU On Subject of Extensive Government Spending

In the second faculty debate before the Forensic Union Mr. Hawk and Dr. Griffith, both teachers in the Commerce School, debated informally on the subject, "Resolved, That extensive government spending is the only way to bring us out of economic depression."

Supporting the affirmative, Mr. Hawk contended that strict supervision under government control is the only solution to our economic ills. He stated that government spending is the solution to economic depressions in our economy.

Dr. Griffith asserted that government spending is apt to be carried to extremes, and he cited the national debt as an example of this procedure. He added that would lead to economic chaos, and that government supervision would lead to the downfall of our capitalistic system, since the government would have excessive control over production.

The Forensic Union voted 15-14 that Dr. Griffith presented the better debate.

At the meeting, Gene Blankenbicker, president, announced the appointment of James Taylor as publicity director for the group. He stated that the topic for next Monday's meeting will be, "Resolved, That the South should secede from the Democratic Party."

The next regular meeting of the Forensic Union will be held next Monday night at 7:30 in the Student Union.

in the work they will have to do in preparation for the convention. It was pointed out that they would have to write to the actual Republican state chairman of their states to learn of that delegation's convention intentions. To add to the atmosphere of the convention hall, they will also collect wearing apparel and articles particular to the state which they are representing. As soon as the state delegations are appointed, the chairmen will have to meet with their charges to discuss the political aspects of their group.
