

ELECTION DEADLINE WEDNESDAY

General Crews To Leave Tuesday For Dad Vail In Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Washington and Lee's Varsity and Freshman crews will depart from Lexington Tuesday morning for Poughkeepsie, New York where they will take part in the annual Dad Vail Regatta to be held May 20.

The junior varsity boat has been scratched from the race because of illness and injury in the varsity shell, necessitating a transfer of junior varsity oarsmen to the varsity.

The Regatta will consist of crews from many New England schools including Dartmouth, Boston U., Amherst, and Brown and is known to most experienced oarsmen and the "Little World Series" of crew racing.

Outlook Was Bright

The Generals will enter the race with a season's record of 2 wins against 4 setbacks. The Blue oarsmen have crossed the line ahead of Dartmouth and Rutgers this year while losing to Boston University, University of Tampa, Rollins College, and Marietta College. The outlook was exceptionally bright at the season's beginning, but recently the varsity boating has been seriously weakened by the loss of four veteran oarsmen through injury, illness and indifference. They are: Bob Mauck, stroke, who retired from the crew because of the pressure of pre-medical studies; Joel Berry, number 2, who was ordered to quit by the University physician due to a heart condition; Roger Mudd, number 6, who was forced to retire because of the pressure of academic work; and Bob Huntley, number 4, who is definitely out for the remainder of the season because of illness.

The loss of these four men has riddled the first varsity shell and greatly reduced the W&L power. They will be replaced by sophomores from the Junior Varsity.

Chapman Only Veteran

The varsity lineup will include only one Dad Vail veteran, Captain John Chapman, who will perform in the number 7 seat. Other varsity starters include Dick Denny, stroke; Mel Hicks, 6; Tom Warfield, 5; Boyd Leyburn, 4; Jim Walsh, 3; Bob Horn, 2; and John Maley, bow. Coxswain for the varsity shell will be Dean Luedders.

Generals' Second Appearance

This year's appearance in the Regatta will mark the second time the Generals have participated in the event. Last year the Blue oarsmen finished third behind Boston University and Rollins College which was W&L's initial entry in the affair. It may be interesting to note that both of these crews have defeated the Generals this spring but only by slim margins. The Beantown Boys edged W&L on the loser's course by two feet at the line and Rollins dropped the Generals by a length during their extensive spring tour through Florida.

The other W&L entry, the Freshman crew, will make their third appearance of the season in the Regatta. The Baby Blue oarsmen lost to Boston University's freshman crew in March and will tackle John Marshall High School of Richmond tomorrow afternoon. The frosh will be stroked by Roger Chappelka while 79 lb. Harvey Dodd, the smallest coxswain in Poughkeepsie racing history, will be in the driver's seat for the first year men.

The Generals plan to leave Lexington Tuesday morning and arrive at Poughkeepsie about noon Wednesday. Workouts have been scheduled by Coach Jim Anderson for Wednesday afternoon, Thursday, and Friday before the Regatta.

... BULLETIN ...

Early this afternoon, the leaders of the Independent Party reversed their previous stand on the timing of student body elections, and Bill Cogar, chairman of the Nominating Convention, announced that the Convention will be reconvened Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Independent leader disclosed to the steering group negotiating possible reforms in student body government, "We feel that any further postponement of student body elections will be detrimental to the interests of Washington and Lee. With the definite agreement of the University Party that some plan will be worked out after the elections, we agree not to postpone the elections any longer."

Under the time-table agreed to by both sides, the Nominating Convention Monday will be followed by the student elections on Wednesday. The steering committee will then meet again Thursday afternoon and begin the task of elaborating on the general plans which have been worked out for a student senate and honor court. Leaders of both sides expressed the hope that a definite amendment may be presented to the EC by Monday.

The surprise reversal of opinion on the part of Independent leaders was attributed to pressure exerted by Student Body President Mark Saur, who threatened executive action to prevent the interference of the faculty to force the elections.

Just last night, Independent leaders had met and agreed to continue their policy of delaying the elections until after the amendment had been passed, but the unexpected turn of events developed out of a special meeting this morning.

Soloist Irene Beamer To Sing In Lee Chapel Sunday; Praised By Critics

Applauded by the usually severe New York critics for her concert debut in 1946, Irene Beamer, contralto soloist from Cleveland, will appear in Lee Chapel Sunday at 4:30. Sponsored by the Washington and Lee Concert Guild, Miss Beamer will sing selections from the works of Schubert, Mahler, Dunhill, Barber, and others.

A graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, where she majored in voice under Horation Connell, she has appeared with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, directed by Leopold Stokowski, with the Cleveland Opera Company, and with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Arthur Rodzinski.

Praised by Critics

When she made her New York debut, critics from the New York Times, the Herald-Tribune, and Musical America praised her tone quality, her clarity with languages, and her smoothness with difficult scores.

This year, Miss Beamer appeared in the lead role of the Cleveland Playhouse production of "O Susanna" and was the soloist in the Cleveland Public Hall singing of "The Messiah" before Christmas. She is now preparing for a role in the Cleveland Park Summer Theater.

Doctor Bayard Dodge Will Be Guest Speaker Before IRC Monday

Dr. Bayard Dodge, President Emeritus of the American University of Beirut and International College, Beirut, Lebanon, will speak before the International Relations Club on Tuesday, May 16th, at 7:30 p. m. in Washington Chapel.

Dr. Dodge has been associated with the University for thirty-five years. Wendell Willkie, in his book One World, stated that he learned more about Near Eastern affairs from one hour's talk with Dr. Dodge than anywhere else.

Among his many honors are Lebanon's Order of Cedars, a main thoroughfare in Beirut bearing his name, and the Egyptian highest honor of Commander of the Order of Ismaria. President Keswani, of Syria, conferred upon him the order of Gent, commander grade. Other honors which Dr. Dodge has received include the Legion d'Honneur, Monte Lebanais, Monte Syrian, Grand Officier de d'Ordre, and Royal du Phoenix.

While sponsored by the International Relations Club, the public is cordially invited to attend the speech.

Gilliam Demands Group Decision In Lieu Of Faculty Intervention

By MARVIN H. ANDERSON

With the possibility that several unforeseen monkey-wrenches might add to the already confused campus political struggle, the 12-man steering committee from both the University and Independent parties by yesterday afternoon had worked up what now appears the most significant reform plan yet suggested.

Three Sophomores Given Key Posts On Ring-tum Phi

Joel Cooper from Norfolk, Va., and Bill Gladstone from Birmingham, Ala., both of whom are sophomores this year will assume the responsibilities as Managing Editors of the 1950-51 Ring-tum Phi it was announced today. The position of Associate Editor was awarded to Frank Callahan from Lynchburg, Va., which rounded out the three top posts on next year's newspaper, according to Editor-in-Chief elect John Boardman.

All three of the appointees have been associated with the paper for two years and have demonstrated their merit and ability which was the basis for the promotions.

The new editors will assume their duties at the beginning of next year when the semi-weekly publication swings into action on Tuesday, September 26.

Loneragan Handles Sports

Heading the Sports staff will be Ted Lonergan, varsity letterman from Flanders, New Jersey. Lonergan has been a sports writer for the past two years and a favorite columnist of many W&L sports fans.

The post of Assistant Editors will be filled by Marvin Anderson and Frank Parson both Sophomores next fall. Filling new positions, these assistant editors will be responsible for checking assignments and headwriting.

News Editors for the 50-51 Ring-tum Phi are Dick Carden and Ben Benjamin while the Copy Editors will be Bentz Howard and Ruel Tyson.

Although most of the other posts have not as yet been filled columnists for next year include Benno Forman, Deroy Scott and John Tobyanson.

Unanswered so far, however, is the vital question of timing and a possible solution to faculty intervention. Mark Saur, student body president, and Chris Moore, chairman of the University Party, both reported to the negotiating group yesterday that Frank J. Gilliam, Dean of Students, had set May 17, next Wednesday, as the final deadline either for the group to reach some decision or for the Executive Committee to order elections in lieu of outright faculty intervention.

Independents Refuse

To the suggestion placed before the group by Moore and John A. McWhorter (U-Phi Kap) that the elections be held on Wednesday and that the steering committee then turn its proposals over to the new EC for consideration, the Independents, meeting last night, reported that they had "no comment."

Privately, one Independent member of the committee, Bob Glenn (I-Pi Phi), stated that there was absolutely no assurance that the new EC would pass the proposals in the form of an amendment to be presented to the student body and that no real belief that the fraternities within the University Party would support the reform amendment.

University Men Pledge Support

The Little Clique men emphasized that beyond the "good faith" granted to the Red Square representatives to present the plan favorably to their houses, it was a betting proposition as to whether the reforms would pass in an election next year.

In Red Square, on the other hand, Chris Moore stated flatly that if the proposal to submit the reforms to the Executive Committee Monday night and to have them voted on Wednesday, before any general student body election, was made by the Independents, the University Party "would not support such an amendment on Wednesday."

Red Square Plan

Moore emphasized that the men in the University Party fraternities would "be opposed" to any reform plan before the general elections, but added that he felt confident that he and his University Party associates on the steering committee could convince the fraternities that the plan elaborated during the past two weeks was a "genuine, intelligent idea." He stated that the Big Clique men would at least be more inclined to support reform after the election than now, when "campus democracy is being thwarted by delaying tactics."

At the meeting yesterday, McWhorter and Moore indicated that they would do all within their reasonable powers to have the plan accepted by the University Party after the elections, but Jim Hedrick, (U-Beta), added that he was "not going to coerce" anyone into accepting the plan.

Moore repeated over and over again the idea that the men in the University Party fraternities are "disturbed and angry" with the Independent "tactics." "Everywhere we go," Moore said, "the boys tell us, 'Don't give in, don't give in.' The University Party Chairman reported that his group had com-

Lee Chapel Hostess Finds Unusual Questions Make Post Interesting

For 15 years a truly "Washington and Lee" lady, whose very background and life reflect the traditions of Virginia and the Old South, has been quietly conducting hundreds of thousands of tourists through the Lee Chapel, a shrine of the South in itself.

Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, who otherwise would be prominent in historical circles for her research work on the Confederate side of the Civil War, has received visitors ranking from foreign nobility right down to bus loads of school children from all over the country, North and South alike.

To both Yankee and Southerner, this mother of one of the University's professors of English carefully explains the aging and memorable story of Gen. Robert E. Lee, the traditions of the Chapel which he built while president of Washington College, and the endless little stories which have collectively built the Lee tradition into a part of America's philosophy.

Although constant repetition has engraved the Chapel story into her mind—she repeats it to as many as 35,000 or 40,000 visitors a year—Mrs. Flournoy is an astute student of history herself. In addition to her work as a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, she is the author of two books on Southern history.

But her work in the Chapel isn't as monotonous as it would seem, she says. She can repeat from memory scores of humorous questions which she is asked. Take the case of the four Chinamen who registered in Chinese characters. Then there was the lady who asked if the Lee family tree was tall standing, or if the "building on the hill were a hotel." She remembers that one perfectly serious gentleman wanted to know if Grant was buried in the Chapel or if Lincoln went to college at W&L.

Although the winter months slow up the trek of tourists, the "rush" begins each year around March 15, builds up speed in the spring when busload after busload of school children visit Lexington, and by July and August, Mrs. Flournoy states, the crowds really begin to come.

Some of the main attractions to her as receptionist in the Chapel though, are the "big names" which often appear on the Register outside of the room enclosing the recumbent statue of Gen. Lee. Just a few years ago, Gen. and Mrs. Dwight G. Eisenhower visited the Chapel. Two Englishmen of considerable importance, Dr. Fleming, the discoverer of penicillin, and Adm. Sir Dalrymple Hamilton of the Royal Navy, were recent tourists there.

After that, there is the constant flow of people who proudly bear the names of their distinguished ancestors honored by Washington and Lee. A few months ago, Mrs. Mary Washington Del Rio, of New York, who stated that she was the great-great niece of George Washington, stopped in. Another visitor was the great grandson of the painter who did the portraits of Marshall and Madison hanging in the Chapel.

Buddy Charles Fans Sixteen As Virginia Shades Generals By 2-1 In 11-Inning Slab Duel

Eubanks Whiffs 7, Walks None, In Narrow Defeat

By JAY GROSSMAN

The Generals' fell before the strong late inning pitching of Buddy Charles, star University of Virginia righthander, Wednesday afternoon on Wilson Field, as Virginia scored in the top of the eleventh inning to win 2-1.

Jack Eubanks went the route for W&L, giving up eleven hits. "Euby" gave up no bases on balls and sent seven "Wahoos" back to the bench via the strike-out route.

Charles, who is said to be one of the best pitchers in the state, pitched excellent ball throughout his eleven innings on the mound, allowing only seven hits while striking out sixteen. He gave up five bases on balls.

Willis Woods led the Generals at the plate with two hits for three official times at bat. "Woody" got on base twice more when he was walked in the first and was hit by one of Charles' pitches in the fifth. "Lefty" Thomas got the Generals' only extra base hit when he tripled to left-center in the fourth inning with only one away, but died there as Streuli got the "hit away" signal and popped out to the shortstop. The next batter fanned to end the inning.

Aicholz paced the Virginia team with three hits for four times at bat including a double in the second inning.

The Generals opened the scoring in the third inning as Agnor beat out a bunt down the third base line and advanced to second when Charles over-threw first. Woods then singled over the mound, sending "Doot" across to make the score 1-0.

Virginia tied the score in the fourth when Eubanks hit Davenport in the back, and, after Phillips flied out to Thomas, Huff doubled to right field, scoring Davenport, and advanced to third as Putney juggled the ball.

Huff tried to stretch it home, but a nice throw by Putney to Thomas caught him in a run-down between third and home and Waters tagged him out.

Virginia went ahead in the top of the eleventh, as, with one away, Winn, Virginia centerfielder, hit a Texas League single to left field and advanced to second as Eubanks attempted to pick him off and Thomas missed the throw.

Davenport grounded out, Agnor to Thomas, but Phillips smashed out a single to send Winn across with the winning run. The Generals went down without a hit in their half of the eleventh.

Brilliant defensive play on the part of the Generals saved scores many times. In the second inning Aichholz hit a long double over Holler's head in left field, but, when he tried to stretch it to a triple, a beautiful relay from Holler to Agnor to Waters put him out as he slid into third.

The same play occurred in the eleventh when Charles, first Virginia batter of the inning, hit almost to the same place. This time Shuck, who had replaced Holler in the Washington and Lee lineup, threw to Agnor, who relayed to Waters at third for the putout.

The Generals pulled the only double-play of the afternoon in the eighth inning when, after Winn had hit a 3-2 pitch over shortstop for a single, Davenport hit a long foul fly ball down the left field line. Holler made a beautiful running catch and threw to Agnor who, playing heads-up ball, whipped to Thomas catching Winn off first base.

Fresman Race Saturday

Seeking an even split in dual competition for the year, Washington and Lee's freshman crew will race John Marshall High School here tomorrow afternoon on the James at 2:30 o'clock.

W&L Calcimined On Courts By 'Cats; SC Net Tourney Staged At Davidson

By TED LONERGAN

Losing only three sets, all in the doubles competition, the Davidson Wildcats humbled the Washington and Lee netmen 9-0, Wednesday at Davidson.

Ranked as the dark horse in the coming Southern Conference tournament, the tournament started yesterday, the 'Cats were at their best.

Ken Rockwell, the Generals' number one man, didn't win a game, as Rodney swept the nets for a 6-0, 6-0 victory. Buck Bouldin fell to Cobb by identical scores, 6-3, 6-3.

Bob Knudsen succeeded in winning but one game against Stroud, and Fanjoy defeated Mohr by the same 6-0, 6-1 margin. Seger and Dean dropped matches to Kesslet and Kennedy. The final set in the Kennedy-Dean match ran to 7-5, the closest the Generals could come to victory in the singles events.

Davidson sent new men into the doubles competition. Only one man,

Kennedy, repeated for the second time. Palmer and Crossland whipped Rockwell and Bouldin, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6. The final set was close all the way, but the new players had the edge. Child and Kalogridis took the measure of Knudsen and Seger 7-5, 2-6, 6-2. In the final match Kennedy and Wade took Dean and Mohr, 6-4, 7-9, 6-2.

Yesterday, the tennis competition of the Southern Conference opened at Davidson.

North Carolina's respected Chuck Taylor drew the number one position from the coaches, followed by Howie Atwater, William and Mary star. Taylor defeated Atwater Wednesday in straight sets as the Tarheels whipped the Indians, 8-1. It was the first Conference loss for William and Mary in many years. They have one of the toughest tennis teams in the nation.

Timber Ten Engages Union, RPI, And Williams In Junket To Hinterlands

W-L vs. Richmond Here On Diamond; Other Clubs Away

Most of Washington and Lee's sports activity this weekend will be staged abroad, but Lexington fans will be treated to the W&L-Richmond baseball game tomorrow afternoon on Wilson Field.

The tennis team started competition in the Southern Conference net tourney at Davidson yesterday.

Cy Twombly's golf team is entered in tomorrow's one-day thirty-six-hole Southern Conference golf tourney at the Old Town Golf Course, Winston-Salem, N. C.

The track team engages William and Mary there this afternoon, and the lacrosse team plays three contests in New York and Massachusetts, engaging Union College this afternoon, Rensselaer tomorrow afternoon, and Williams Mon.

An enterprising tour northward will see the Washington and Lee lacrosse club this weekend seeking to derrick its won-lost record above the .500 mark and its national rating up a notch or two.

This three-game junket in New York state and nearby Massachusetts is the most extended trip a Washington and Lee team has maneuvered this year, not counting the Holiday safaris of the wrestling and baseball outfits.

The Generals will engage Union College in Schenectady this afternoon, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute tomorrow in Troy, N. Y., and Williams at Williams, Mass., on Monday, finishing their 1950 campaign.

Currently rated by the Baltimore Sun as the nation's tenth-ranking amateur ten, the Generals left Wednesday afternoon by car around 2 p. m. They spent Wednesday night in Baltimore, home of most of the players.

Last night was spent at R.P.I. in Troy, which will be the club's base on this trip.

S. C. Golf Tourney Occurs Tomorrow In Winston-Salem

The United States' top 1950 collegiate golf spectacle will be staged tomorrow on the luxuriant Old Town Golf Course in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The Southern Conference Tournament, featuring the nation's top-ranking amateurs, Arnold Palmer and Harvey Ward, will probably see the finest golf in the loop's history.

Cy Twombly will carry a seven-man outfit southward to represent Washington and Lee in this one-day 36-hole medalist event. Wes Brown, Jack McCormack, John McKelway, Buddy Laupheimer, Dick (Harvie) Lewis, and David (Hoot) Mahan will in all probability tour the course for the Generals, with Billy Hall as alternate.

Six men will play for each school entering, the four best scores of each team determining the team winner. Duke, defending champions, will play this year without the advantage of Art (Side) Wall.

Major Nathan Adams, Auburn '40 Personnel Manager, U.S. Air Force

Following a three month course, Lt. Adams decided the Air Force was the place for him. He applied for pilot training, was accepted, proceeded to Maxwell Field.

He won his wings and reported to the 36th Fighter Group in Puerto Rico. The group soon returned to the States, giving Adams a chance to marry his college sweetheart.

Within months Adams was overseas, flying "chubarbs" (missions against enemy transports). He flew 63 P-47 missions within seven months, returned to the States late in 1944 for rest and recuperation.

V-J Day came, and Adams decided to make the service a career. He chose personnel work as his career field, was assigned for training to the Adjutant General's School at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Now a regular Air Force Major, he heads a 32-man section at Bolling Air Force Base. He advises his Commanding Officer on selection, assignment and promotion of all officers and airmen in the command.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Election Deadline

Independent Plan

According to Glenn, the position of the Independents is that the actual wording of the amendment should be worked out by a subcommittee of the steering group this week-end and passed by the entire group in time for it to be presented to the Executive Committee Monday night.

"If the EC passed the proposed changes, which both sides have elaborated," he stated, "then the amendment could be voted on this Wednesday to satisfy Dean Gilliam, and then Wednesday night, the Nominating Convention could be reconvened."
