

BIG BLUE SCALPS INDIANS IN UPSET, 33-7

Pulitzer Prize Winner To Address Assembly

Hodding Carter, liberal Southern editor and Pulitzer Prize winner, will address the Omicron Delta Kappa tapping assembly Dec. 11.

Editor of the Greenville (Miss.) Delta Democrat-Times and the author of several books, Carter is widely known for his progressive though gradualistic stands on the question of improving race relations in the South.

Carter, who is 46-years old, was born in Hammond, La. He received his B.A. degree from Bowdoin College and studied journalism at Columbia and Tulane. He has received honorary degrees from Bowdoin and Harvard.

Married and the father of three sons, Carter served in the U.S. Army from 1938 to 1945. He became editor of Stars and Stripes and Yank and received the War Department Citation in 1946.

Duo-Pianists To Give First Concert Dec. 7

Local Concert Group Presents Man, Wife

Luboshutz and Nemenoff, duo-pianist, will present the first concert of the Rockbridge Concert-Theater Series on Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. in the VMI Gymnasium. The man and wife couple appeared in Lexington in 1950 when their playing of duo-piano arrangements proved to be extremely popular.

Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff have made a distinguished place for themselves as exponents of music for two pianos. Their appearance in Lexington is a part of their 18th anniversary tour of the U.S. They have recently returned from a tour of Europe, where they scored signal successes in London, Paris, Athens and Israel.

Their program here will include a Sonata in D Major by Mozart, Brahms' Variations on a Theme by Haydn, Rondo by Chopin, Debussy's Lindaraja and a suite from the Ballet On Stage written for and dedicated to Luboshutz and Nemenoff by the modern American composer Norman Dello Joio.

Succeeding events of the series will be performances by Iva Kitchell, dance satirist; Andres Segovia, Spanish guitarist; and the National Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Howard Mitchell.

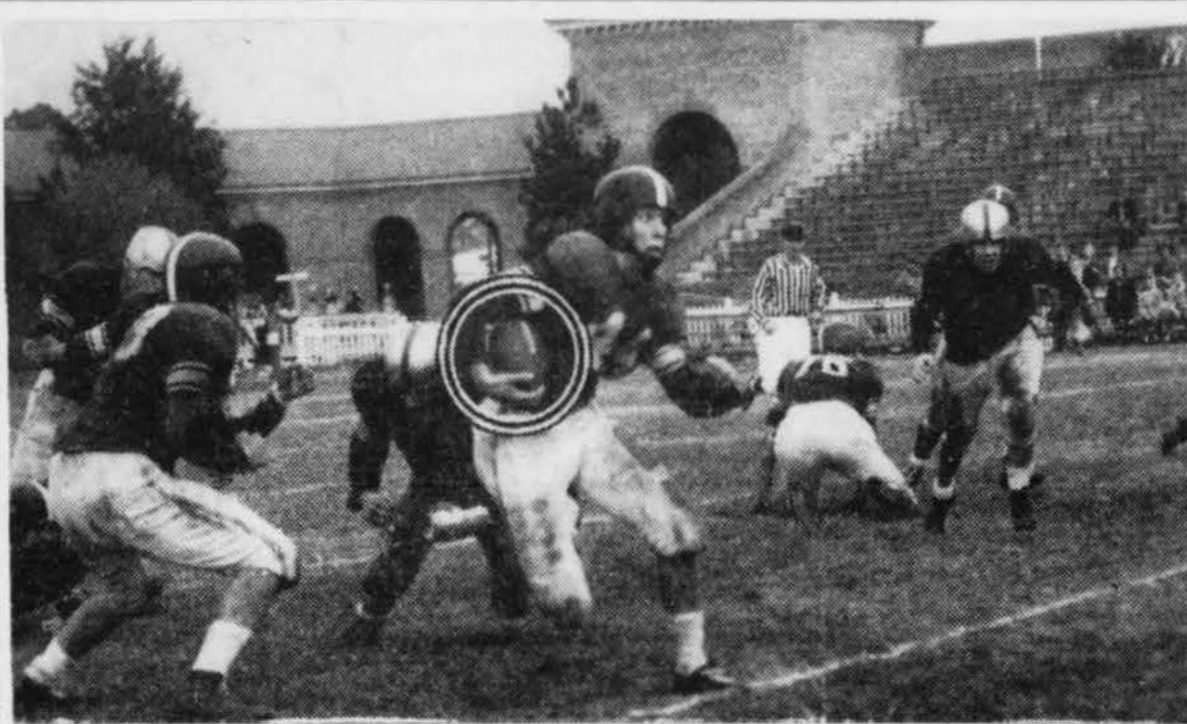

Student tickets to the series are still available at a cost of $4.

Registrar's Office Reports 31 Students on Honor Roll

The mid-semester honor roll, released today by the Registrar's office listed 31 men, compared with 36 this time last year.

Only two freshmen made the honor roll; there were five in 1952. Out of the five freshmen in 1952 only three made it as sophomores.

To make this mid-term honor roll a student must have a grade point ratio of 2.5. The Dean's List, made up of students with a 2.0 average, is not compiled until the end of the semester.

Carl Bolt starts on his 91-yard kickoff runback against William and Mary. The Indians' Jerry Sazo has just missed a tackle on Bolt and is falling to the rear. Tommy Martin (23) W&M's left end, is out of the play. Bolt's run gave the Generals their second touchdown and broke the spirit of the Indians in the 33-7 upset rout.

Bolt Scores Three Times In Last Half

By HENRY MORGAN

Underdog Washington and Lee surprised William and Mary Saturday with a smashing 33-7 victory to knock the tribe out of the running for the Big Six title.

Carl Bolt, who came back in the last half to score three touchdowns, after being carried off the field in the second quarter, led the Blue to win.

The Generals stole the Indians own iron-man reputation from them, as Captain Bill McHenry and quarterback Joe Lindsey played the entire game, and Jay Heckmann, Jack Hare, and Tom Fieldson missed only about three minutes apiece. Heckmann broke his hand on the second play of the third quarter, but stayed in and played the rest of the contest in fine style.

Generals Lead

W&L grabbed the lead with a score early in the second quarter. Starting from their own 24 the Blue moved to their initial touchdown in 12 plays. Connie Flanders, Don Weaver, and Bolt led the way to the ten yard stripe from where Flanders raced over.

Charlie Sumner, W&M's injured quarterback came in at the beginning of the second half to lead the losers to their only score. After taking over at midfield, the Indians moved to pay-dirt in three plays. Sumner passed to Walt Herrman to put the ball on the W&L 28.

After Bill Bowman was stopped at the line of scrimmage, Sumner again tossed to Herrman who eluded two General backs to score. Quimby Hines added the extra point to tie it up, and it looked as if the Tribe might rally.

Bolt's Run-Back Turns Tide

Bolt took the following kick-off on the ten and raced all the way for the T.D. that put the Generals on the march. The "Dublin Duke" wove his way through the Indians to the 45 where Cy Barcellona blocked the last man to spring him loose.

In the closing minutes of the third quarter, end Harold Sturgill intercepted one of Sumner's passes and brought it to the General's 45. The Blue moved to the tribe 18 on runs by Flanders and Weaver and a Lindsey to Sturgill pass; only to be sent back to the 43 on a clipping penalty. But they weren't to be stopped. Lindsey passed to Sargent on the 20 and Fred Benham and Sargent moved the ball to the 4 from where Bolt plowed over.

Heckmann Scores Clincher

With Herrman back to punt on the 15 Heckmann broke through to block the kick, scooped it up on the 4, and raced over for the fourth and clinching touchdown.

However, W&L wasn't through yet. Sturgill again paved the way for a score as he recovered Al Grieco's fumble on the W&M 37. On third down Lindsey faked, then handed off to Flanders who swept end to the 3. Bolt smashed over on two tries for the final T.D.

W&L made 16 first downs to W&M's 12, and outruled the losers 254 yards to 156. Bolt with 85 yards, and Flanders with 70.

Barrett To Speak Tonight On Ecuador at IRC Meet

Dr. L. L. Barrett will speak in the operation of Point Four in Ecuador at the International Relations Club meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the Student Union.

Dr. Barrett has just returned from a two-year visit to Ecuador. He was with the U.S. State Department there.

Completion of club organization will follow the discussion.

Next Dramatic Reading Set For Dec. 16

"Androcles and the Lion," a play by Bernard Shaw, will be the next dramatic reading presented by the Troubadours. It will be held on Wednesday evening, December 16. The public is invited.

Winterset, the first regular production planned by the W&L theater group will be presented during the second week in December. Maxwell Anderson's drama will star Dale Cornelius, Jack McGuigan, Fred Easter, Ray Stultz and Dave Collins, all of W&L; and Miss June Deakins, dramatic director of Southern Seminary.

Daily rehearsals have been in progress for the first production of the 1953-54 season. The tense drama was suggested by the famous Sacco and Vandetti case in Massachusetts in the late 20s.

The weekly reading of dramatic scripts, a new program of the Troubs, is designed to give students an opportunity to gain experience on the stage. Interested students are invited to take part in the readings, but should report to the Troubadour theater at least a week before the scheduled performance.

IFC Approves Rush Week Changes; Five Minute Rule To Be Enforced

The Interfraternity Council approved several new rush week rulings, changed the dates of the IFC Songfest, and discussed a campus-wide Christmas party for Lexington kids at its meeting last night.

Among the changes made in the rush rules freshmen will call the houses which they are to pledge on Friday afternoon during Rush Week and make appointments for pledging ceremonies Saturday. The half dates of the past rush week will not be part of the 1954 schedule, but will be combined into one dinner date.

The rule, saying fraternity men must be out of the dorm within five minutes after a date is over will be enforced again, with the fraternities waiting for their rush-ees in front of their respective tables if the freshmen are late for the appointments. A telephone will be made available to fraternities at the IFC table in the dormitory.

A member of the IFC will explain rule procedure at Freshman Camp. All rush chairmen will attend a meeting before rush week in order to clarify all rulings.

The new schedule for the IFC Songfest includes: six fraternities on Monday and Tuesday, five on Thursday, and the winners on Friday. Wednesday contests were changed because of a conflict with the Rockbridge Concert Series program scheduled for that night.

ROTC Rifle Team Defeated by U.Va.

The ROTC rifle team suffered its second defeat last week, losing to the University of Virginia, 1815 to 1849.

Bill Fray remained in first place on the W&L squad with a 372. Other scores were: Spence Frantz, 370; Walk Jones, 364; Oscar Bing, 355; and Charles MacIntosh, 354. A match was also fired against Providence College, but the results have not yet been released.

Capt. Brashears said that there are still several positions open on the team for men who are interested and feel that they have sufficient ability. He added that the VMI range will be open to any prospective members from the 1st to the 15th of December, on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m.

Positions are also available for two managers of the team. These men, he said, would be in charge of all equipment and be responsible for the issuing of ammunition and target. In addition, they would be entitled to fire anytime that the team met for practice.

The managers, as well as the team members, receive merits for their participation.

Georgian's Sweet Syrup Pays Off For W&L

By MARVIN ANDERSON
The sweet syrup that a 19th Century Georgia pharmacist discovered years ago paid off for Washington and Lee last week.

How much a year the University will receive from the estate of Coke heiress Lettie Pate Evans, valued in excess of $5,000,000 is now the big question.

The most conservative guess as to how much W&L will receive each year from the estate was made when a partner in the Roanoke law firm handling the will stated off-the-record his guess would be about $15,000 a year.

Figuring the amounts of the various bequests as they were listed in local newspapers, Alumni Secretary Cy Young and Director of University Development Donald Smith came up with a figure such as $25,000 each year.

Others have put the figure higher, admitting that they don't know for sure. It was even rumored late last week that it might amount to more than the income from the Doremus endowment bequests. If that were true it would be almost like adding way over $1,000,000 to University endowment funds.

Appraisal of the net worth of the estate, which will be settled in Virginia where Mrs. Evans died at her home, Malvern Hall, Hot Springs, is being complicated by the fact that the testatrix owned considerable real estate in Georgia. Mrs. Evans was originally a native of Bedford County, Va.

Briefly, here's how Washington and Lee will fit into the bequests under the will: it will receive each year 15 per cent of part of the income from the residue of Mrs. Evans' estate which will be administered by the Lettie Pate Evans Foundation, Inc., a Georgia Charity.

Certain specific bequests which might total as high as $3,300,000 or more have been made; included in that is a large bequest to Emory University. The rest goes to the Evans Foundation, and

Miami Triads To Hold Party at Natural Bridge

Miami Triads will hold their joint house party at Natural Bridge Dec. 12, it was announced today.

The three fraternities sponsoring the party were all formed at Miami University (Ohio)—Beta Theta Pi in 1839, Phi Delta Theta in 1848, and Sigma Chi in 1855. The joint triad party is an annual affair. This will be the fourth year that it has been held at the Natural Bridge Hotel.

Plans for the weekend include a cocktail party starting at 5:30, a somgasboard dinner, and dancing to the music of the Southern Collegians.

The Commons: First Things First

A couple of weeks ago we expressed grave doubts as to whether construction of the proposed freshman commons would be in the best interests of Washington and Lee. We would like to examine this issue a little more fully today.

Construction of the freshman commons has been advocated by a small, but vocal, group of students in The Ring-tum Phi this year and last. Hugh Glickstein, Hank Turner, Ray Smith, and Friday Edition have all come out in favor of the building in their columns. ODK, after a somewhat hasty and superficial study last spring, went on record as approving the proposed dining hall.

Against this torrent of words, the Tuesday Edition stands alone. However, from conversations with many members of the student body we believe that a large majority of W&L students definitely opposes this compulsory beanery for freshmen. We have good reason to believe that several influential faculty members also question the alleged advantages which would result from the proposed commons.

There are some who will say that student opinion is of no consequence since the University administration will pay little or no attention to it. This may or may not be true. Yet we feel very strongly that the student body has every right to be consulted on a matter of this importance. The University may not ask for our opinions today when the desirability of building the commons is being discussed, but they will certainly not hesitate to ask for our money as alumni in the years when the building is being paid for.

Even if all the advantages which the proponents of the freshman commons claim for it could be realized, we believe that the University is confronted by many more pressing needs to which it should attend first.

Fraternity dining rooms and the beanery can now accommodate the freshman class adequately. Can anyone contend that the Troubadour and/or chairs on the basketball court constitute an adequate University auditorium? This is only one example of the University's definite lack of facilities. An upper-class dorm and center for non-fraternity life—divorced from the controversial commons—is another urgent need. An expanded gymnasium would also add much to University life.

It's a matter of first things first. We cannot see why the University should duplicate existing dining facilities when it needs many other things much worse. If and when Washington and Lee has everything it really needs—then let's talk about unnecessary frills. Until then, let's forget the freshman commons and concentrate on essentials.

Report to the Stockholders

Recently Hugo Hoogenboom in his Tuesday Edition column asked for the facts about alleged "fabulous" salaries paid to editors and business managers of student publications on campus. We certainly agree with him that students are entitled to this information.

The editor and business manager of the Calyx and the business manager of The Ring-tum Phi may be paid a maximum of $250 per year. The editor and business manager of the Collegian may receive a maximum of $125. Salaries for the editors of The Ring-tum Phi under the new two editor system have not yet been definitely decided upon but they will probably be eligible for a maximum of $125 each per year.

These maximum salaries are paid only if the publications concerned make a large enough profit to cover them. If the profit is not sufficient to meet these maximum salaries, the salaries are cut accordingly. In the event that a publication fails to make any profit, the Publications Board may vote salaries of up to $100 to the editor and business manager of the Calyx and the business manager of The Ring-tum Phi. Salaries of up to $50 may be voted to the editor and business manager of the Collegian and probably the editors of The Ring-tum Phi.

Considering the amount of work spent by the editors of The Ring-tum Phi (and we suppose the hours spent by other publications chiefs are proportionate) this averages out to an hourly wage of 33 cents if the maximum of $125 per year is paid. Is this a fabulous salary Mr. Hoogenboom?

Weekend at W & M Gets Big Hoo-Ray

By KENNY and SWANSON

Here's to our great football team!!! Such superb performance we have never witnessed before! Also a 21-gun-salute to the seniors on the squad and in particular to Jay "Where's the Backfield" Heckmann. You couldn't expect a more enthusiastic spirited group than the Generals were Saturday! The Team was a true credit to W&L.

CHEERING HONORS must go to Cy "Let's have the Swing Once More" Young. His post game enthusiasm was incomparable in the annals of anybody's history! Let's have more of these alumni parties! HOOOO-Ray!

Fraternities (and Sororities) welcomed W&L students with open arms. The two most heard comments were: "I've never seen anything like this party before," and "When can I transfer?" coming from William and Mary students.

MUCH CREDIT goes to Brian Shanley and "Southern Collegians" (Maslansky, Comegys, Abbott, Willard, Kozare, and Sprott) for really making the party a Whooping and Hoooraying success!

MASLANSKY'S description of Williamsburg: "Definitely QUIANT—Rahther English!" TED KERR summed up the whole situation with his customary "OH... OH!"

HERE'S TO THE QUEEN of Greece whom we were fortunate enough to see in Williamsburg. However the local constabulary was quick to inform us that Hoooray was definitely not the proper salutation for Royalty.

TED ALEVIATOS, who had prepared a welcome speech in "The Native Tongue" somehow did not manage to show for the delivery of it. We know H. M. Fredrika was disappointed!

PARTY OF THE WEEK: E. S. Mattingly has announced a formal reception to be held at the Starlight Room of the plush Central Hotel on Lexington's Fifth Avenue. In celebration of our new found connections only Coca-Cola will be served. The guest speaker will be Francis P. Gaines, speaking on "How to Win Friends and Influence People." Other guests will include Nurse Allen, Norm Lord, Red Sisley and Felix.

It seems some sort of re-enactment of the French Revolution was held last week. For information consult Phi Gam or Sigma Nu pledges!

DEBATE OF THE WEEK:
ROUND 1: Dr. Fishwick spars with a question.
ROUND 2: Dr. Griffith replies with a sharp RIGHT.
ROUND 3: Fishwick out by a T.K.O.

(For details see members of the Canterbury Club.)

FOUND: One rare old photograph of Mister Irwin smiling. An auction will be held at which collectors of the unusual may bid for this item.

MR. WILLIAMS (of math fame): "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

MATH STUDENT: "No wonder so many of us flunk your exams!"

SUPPORT THE BAND DRIVE! (And any other worthy causes).

led the winners while Bill Bowman led the Indians. The Generals defense was outstanding, and their big line out-charged the Tribe continually.

The Virginia sports writers, who picked the all-state team before several important inter-state contests were played failed to pick a single W&L player. Six W&M men made the first team, while Carl Bolt's second team birth was the only position given the Generals.

Thanksgiving Vacation Nears; Manhattan Team Paws Ground

By DAVE COLLINS

Well here we are at last on the brink of our first Thanksgiving Holiday. Most of us have scarcely had time to recover from Homecomings, and already we're set for another big weekend. Reminiscing a bit, this last Homecomings was just about the most perfect that a W&L senior could ask for as a pleasant memory of undergraduate days.

Who could ask for more? We played the Wahoos, we tromped them, and we welcomed an unusual number of wealthy alumni and pretty girls to the campus for the weekend. We had parades, jazz concerts, parties, the greatest football game possible, dances and even a few fires to jazz things up a bit.

WE ALSO HAD a most pleasant issue of the Southern Collegian known to its editor, Frank Giddon, as the Southern Giddonian.

From all our standards it was more enjoyable and appropriate than last year's Collegian under the editorship of Glenn Scott—popularly known as "The Dred Scott Issue," or just plain "Scott's Tissue." All in all it was a memorable weekend and one which will be hard to top in years to come.

But the most heralded weekend of them all, Thanksgiving, is upon us, and the all-hailed Manhattan-Thanksgiving team is pawing the ground in eager anticipation of the bold revelry that the weekend promises. Prospects are bright.

14 Students To Receive Band Letters

Fourteen members of the ROTC band will receive W&L band letters, as a result of recent action by the Athletic Committee inaugurating this recognition, Dr. A. R. Coleman announced today.

Those named were: C. John Baldree, Marvin L. Bishop, John S. Carter, David M. Clinger, Edward Cohen, David P. Comegys, Forney R. Dauge, John W. Englishman, Paul M. Maslansky, Larry T. Raymond, Charles L. Rice, Douglas L. Ritchie, Dirkin T. Voelker, and G. Benson Werthan.

The students, nominated by Col. John Bowes, band adviser, have been approved by the Executive Committee of the Student Body as well as the Athletic Committee of the Faculty.

In the letter of nomination Col. Bowes cited "... the time and effort they have put in, making it possible for the University to have a band. Their devotion to the band has been outstanding for three years."

Speaking for the Executive Committee, Jerry South said: "We feel that this recognition is necessary and justifiable because these students have given many hours to the school in preparation for the various football games, parades and concerts."

The award will consist of a blue coat sweater and a blue minor letter trimmed in white, superimposed with the white emblem of a lyre.

Any future letter awards will be made only on recommendation of the band adviser.

Soccer Team Loses To Terps; Lord Optimistic About Future

By JIM HANSCOM

Losing their final game to mighty Maryland, 3-0 last Friday, the soccer team concluded a "distressing season."

Although dropping all eight games on the schedule, which didn't include a single breather, the team ends the year as Southern Conference soccer champion. This oddity results from the fact that Washington* and Lee was the only school in the conference with a soccer team.

One factor in the poor showing this season was that there was some doubt that there would be soccer at all this year. The interest shown, however, has almost made soccer a certainty for 1954.

Rough Schedule

Coach Norm Lord remarked that for the most part "we played an overwhelming schedule against teams out of our class." However, he added, "we should have beaten North Carolina and possibly Virginia."

Lord gave special credit to co-captain Jim Lewis who was a bright star all year at his right fullback position.

Another man instrumental in helping soccer get on its feet again is Morgan Schaefer. Although ineligible to play, he did about everything possible to further his "first love." He acted as freshman coach, officiated, and helped in every way he could.

Team Should Improve

As to next season, Lord says, "I expect better things. Next year with a season under their belts, the boys should improve."

This year's freshman team produced some fine players, who could have played on the varsity this year, Lord asserted. The outstanding freshmen in Lord's estimation were Bill Boyle, Beldon Butterfield, Jim Stockton, and Bill Wintringham.

Phi Psi, with Herb Sickles finishing first and Roger Clark sixth, won the first annual freshman turkey trot yesterday.

This event is one of the four comprising the fall phase of the sports carnival. Points are determined as in a regular cross-country meet. Archery finals began yesterday and were concluded today.

Delta Upsilon was runner-up to the Phi Psis, who retired to their house with a turkey, accepted by their house mother, as their prize. Sickles, regular quarterback for the freshman football team, toured the special two and one-quarter mile course in just over 11 minutes.

Butrick Takes Tennis Crown

By BURT TYLER

The University Tennis Tournament finally came to a close last Wednesday as top-seeded Dick Butrick defeated Herb Hummers 6-4, 6-1.

Mainly due to the unpredictable nature of the asphalt on which the match was held, both players seemed content to play a backcourt game, and there was little net activity.

The two freshmen both complimented each other highly, regarding the match which was closer than the score indicates. The difference in the match according to Hummers, was Butrick's ability to come through and win the important points.

Butrick lettered on his high school team at St. Albans in Washington D. C. last year. During the summer he moved to Montreal, Canada. He spent the summer playing for a Quebec team, and was chosen to represent the Quebec district in doubles at the Canadian National Tournament where he reached the semi-finals. Butrick was number one man on the Phi Gam intramural team.

Hummers was unseeded in this tournament and played some fine matches before bowing to Butrick in the finals. His most impressive victory was over John Huebner in the semifinals. He was number one singles man and captain of his Valley Stream (N. Y.) High School team. Last summer Herb

SAE Triumphs Over Phi Delt In Grid Final

SAE is the 1953 intramural football champion by virtue of their 25-0 victory over the Phi Delt on Friday.

The four touchdown spread was somewhat of a surprise, since the Phi Delt had edged the previously undefeated SAEs, 7-6, in an earlier round robin playoff encounter.

All the SAE scores were the result of Charlie Dawson's passes. Two passes to Marv Meadors and a beautiful 36-yard heave to Greg McNeer set up three of the scores. Charlie Dana was on the receiving end of two of Dawson's touchdown aeriels. Jim Bonebrake and McNeer also hauled in pay-off tosses.

Notice

Winter sports will begin November 30 and last until February 27. The winter season will include volleyball, basketball, table tennis, and handball. The winter phase of the Sports Carnival will also get underway at that time. Bag punching, rope skipping, bowling, and billiards will be on the agenda following Thanksgiving vacation. Intramural bowling will continue after the holidays also.

Al Platt, a Phi Delt pledge, finished second while Lee Swan, Delt was third. Jim Hanscom and Herb Hummers of Delta Upsilon placed fourth and fifth respectively. Roger Clark nailed down the Phi Psi victory with a sixth place.

The entire event was under the supervision of Walt Diggs and several members of the Washington and Lee cross-country team. Norm Lord described the contest as a "fine display of physical activity as the 34 runners started on the
