New Counselors Chosen; Bailey Will Be Head

Twelve Dormitory Counselors were appointed this week and four old Counselors were reappointed for the 1954-1955 session.

William Bailey, president of the Student Body will be next year's Head Counselor. Assistant Head Counselors will be James A. Reeder, a Beta from Shreveport, La., and William N. Craig, a KA from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Reappointed for next year were: William L. Dols, Frank Gibson, Jr., and Raymond D. Smith, Jr.

The new Counselors are: Kenneth L. Abernathy, David M. Clinger, Robert M. Cullers, Ellis B. Drew, Charles M. Drum, Charles M. Patrick, Jr., F. M. P. Pearce, Jr., Beau A. Redmond, Noel R. Spence, Samuel A. Syme.

The five alternates in order are: Christopher H. Alexander, George I. Smith, Jr., Nicholas G. Mandak, Rudolph J. Stutzmann, and Harold Sturgill.

Bailey has been ordered to report for induction into the Army early in June, pending an appeal he has placed with the Army. Should his appeal be denied and he be called to active service, the position of Head Counselor would go to the first Assistant Head Counselor, James A. Reeder.

True SIPA Love Ends in Marriage

Southern Interscholastic Press Association, now in its 25th year at Washington and Lee, has produced thousands of journalists——And at least one happy marriage.

Among the more than 900 delegates, speakers, and guests attending the convention this week are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tait Trussell of 4801 Park Ave., Washington.

The Trussells met on the SIPA registration line in 1949. Mrs. Trussell, formerly Woodley Ann Grizzard, was a delegate from Lakeland, Fla., and a candidate for president of the SIPA convention.

Mr. Trussell was a senior journalism major at Washington and Lee and began a campaign all his own.

Last December, four years later, they were married in St. Petersburg, Fla.

As for the SIPA election? Mrs. Trussell lost.

Dr. Griffith Elected

Dr. Edwin Griffith was elected president of the Virginia Social Science Association April 24 at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va.

Dr. Griffith and Dr. Allen W. Moger attended the meeting.

Professor R. N. Latture was elected to the Executive Committee.

Council Adopts New By-Laws

By BILL NORMAN

A revision of the Christian Council by-laws, defining membership in the organization and establishing a workable executive committee, was adopted by the executive committee of the organization last Wednesday.

The change came about because of the state of confusion resulting from the vague nature of the old constitution, which stated that all W&L students were "members" of the group. "We did not know who to turn to when something came up that required a vote," Roy Herrenhohl, president, said.

The new constitution emphasizes the difference between sustaining and voting membership. Each student is a sustaining member of the Christian Council, since a portion of the Campus Tax that he is required to pay goes to the Council.

Voting members, on the other hand, are limited to those who have (a) signed a statement in sympathy with the purpose of the Council, and (b) regularly participated in at least one committee of the Council.

The impetus for these changes

Claude Thornhill Orchestra Signs For First Night of Finals Dances

Claude Thornhill and his orchestra will play for the first night of Finals Dances to be held June 2 and 3, Wednesday and Thursday, following final exams. No band has yet been announced for the following evening.

Thornhill began his study of music at an early age and later continued his studies at the Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati and at the Curtis Institute of Music.

Work with the Kostelanetz radio program, Hal Kemp, Benny Goodman, and Bing Crosby developed his arranging talent.

He then formed his own band and made his debut at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York. But after two and a half years of touring many of the leading hotels and theater's Thornhill's career was interrupted by the navy.

In the services he replaced his friend Artie Shaw as band leader of the Navy's musical aggregation, the Rangers.

He returned to civilian life and under contract with Victor and Columbia Records he became responsible for such hits as "Johnson Rag," "Moonlight Bay," and "Autumn Nocturne."

Claude Thornhill is a composer, arranger, and pianist. His unique orchestrations are built around the work of five saxophones and a French horn. In his playing he concentrates upon a combination of music with a classical background and the current trend of music popular today.

Also appearing with Thornhill's orchestra will be vocalist Ginger Lamare.

Spring Issue of Collegian Out

By JERRY HOPKINS

Editor Frank Giddon has announced that the Spring issue of the "Southern Collegian" will be distributed this weekend.

This issue, late because of full press schedules and the early spring vacation, will feature a short story written by Ben Benjamin entitled "When a Man Comes Home."

The twenty-eight page issue will also contain the work of Cecil Edmonds in "A Sem Girl Confesses."

Class Elections Monday at 7:30

Music Instructor Here Next Year

President Francis P. Gaines has announced the appointment of Robert Stewart as the first full-time instructor in music at W&L.

Prof. Stewart has been appointed assistant professor of music, effective in September.

He will direct the Glee Club and the band and will teach the academic course called "Introduction to Music." He will become a member of the Department of Fine Arts, headed by Dr. Marion Junkin.

A native of Buffalo, N. Y., Professor Stewart studied at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. His major work was in violin, composition and conducting.

After teaching at several high schools in the Chicago area following his graduation, Professor Stewart returned to the American Conservatory as a member of the faculty. He has most recently been teaching in Arkansas.

He has conducted several musical festivals, served as judge in district and state music contests and has organized and conducted numerous orchestras.

Candidates for class officers were nominated this week* by the Independent and University Parties.

Class elections will be held Monday night at 7:30. Rising sophomores will meet in Lee Chapel, juniors in Washington Chapel, and seniors in the South Room of Tucker Hall.

Initiates Hear Godsell Speak

Geoffrey Godsell, newscaster for the British Broadcasting Corporation, will speak to members of the Washington and Lee University commerce fraternity Friday night at initiation ceremonies.

Godsell, who originates many of his broadcasts from the United Nations headquarters, also serves as BBC correspondent in Washington.

He will talk twice here. At the initiation ceremonies he will speak on problems arising from within the United Nations and Saturday morning at an International Law class he will talk on the work of the British news correspondent in Washington.

Twenty members of the rising junior and senior classes will be welcomed into the fraternity, President Robert Glasier said today.

The new men who will be initiated Friday night are: Arnie

The rising intermediate law class will meet in the East Room of Tucker and the rising senior law students in the West Room of Tucker.

- The candidates:
- Senior Executive Committee: Jim Reeder and Roy Simkins, University; Forney Daugette and Dave Clinger, Independent.

  - Sophomore Historian: Herb Hummers, Independent; Dick Crutchfield, University.

Prof. Davidson Speaks May 5

Dr. Donald Davidson, Professor of English at Vanderbilt University, will speak here Wednesday, May 5, under the auspices of the English Department.

At 4 p.m. May 5, Dr. Davidson will lead a discussion group in the Student Union on the subject, "The Break with Realism." "Poetry as Tradition" will be the topic of Dr. Davidson's evening address in Washington Chapel, scheduled for 8 p.m. The public is invited to both occasions.

Donald Davidson, noted poet and lively critic, was one of the founders of The Fugitive, the famous verse magazine of the Tennessee Agrarians who gathered at Vanderbilt during the twenties and thirties.

Davidson was one of twelve Southerners who, in a volume entitled I'll Take My Stand, declared their faith in the special values of the Southern tradition and point of view. Among his fellow-contributors to this volume were Robert Penn Warren, Allen Tate, Stark Young, and John Crowe Ransom.

DR. DAVIDSON has published in many little magazines, including Shenandoah. Among his best known books are The Tennessee, one of the Rivers of America Series, and Lee in the Mountains, by far the best poem ever written on General Lee.

ROTC Honors Dr. Gaines

The entire ROTC battalion will form May 12 to honor the president of Washington and Lee, Francis P. Gaines.

Not only will the president be honored, but also various segments of the battalion will receive recognition. The Best Drill Company Trophy will be presented at this time.

Distinguished Military Graduates and Students will be recognized. High Scorers in the recent test on the VMI target range will receive decorations.

The National Defense Transportation Association ROTC keys and scrolls will be awarded.

The Sons of the American Revolution ROTC medals will go to the best first year basic course student and the best second year advanced course student.

Spring Registration

All academic and commerce students who plan to return in September will register May 4 through May 6 for any work they plan to take during 1954-1955.

A registration fee of $25 will be collected at this time from all students who expect to return next year.

This Is Our Stand

We fully realize that in the past The Ring-tum Phi has steered clear of endorsing any party or candidate on this campus. Always, we have felt our duty was merely to inform and not instruct.

But the repeated attacks against Bill Bailey and the Independent Party should not go unnoticed.

The letter Swanson and Jackson wrote today and the statement from Charlie Smith earlier this week need answering. It seems to us that the gentlemen who wrote these letters could have known absolutely nothing of the situation. We are sure if they were aware of the Independent Party organization, its nominating methods, and its constant pledge to have a two-party system on this campus there would be more thought before speaking.

We are thoroughly familiar with the Independent Party. We have watched it work—have seen it nominate Campus Club members or two members from one house because the party honestly felt that the men were the best for the job.

We have read the pledge of the Independent Party. This pledge states clearly that members of this party can vote as they see fit regardless of party affiliation. This same pledge limits the membership of the party so that the "monster" Bailey is supposed to be creating can never exist.

As for Bill Bailey: he is a member of the Independent Party; he is also president of the Student Body. Any Washington and Lee student knows well that no one has fulfilled his office nearly so well as Bailey. He is an excellent administrator and has always acted in the best interest of the student body.

This paper will continue to support the Independent Party so long as the Independent Party upholds the ideals set forth in its pledge to its members and to the student body. — C. E.

Letter:

Bill Bailey Really Clever Politician

The Ring-tum Phi
Dear Editor:

At a political rally a week ago Wednesday, Independent Party leader, Bill Bailey, said there was no danger of the Independent Party creating a "Monster we are trying to destroy."

Yet this is exactly what the same Bill Bailey did when he approached John Bowman of the Kappa Sigma house in an effort to get that house to join the Independent Party. Bailey's shift from noble words to not so noble deeds was related to the University Party Steering Committee Wednesday by Frank Hundley, Kappa Sigma political representative.

Bailey's action is typical of Independent Party politicians who have been clamoring for a "two-party system" for years. This balance was in existence until Tuesday, as evidenced by the split ticket victories of the past two years.

The political seducing of Kappa Sigma Tuesday stabbed the true two-party system in the back, and threatens a return to the worst sort of "clique politics." This is in sharp contrast to the idealistic statements made by Independent Party politicians a year ago today.

On April 30, 1953, Bill Bailey told Independent Party nominating delegates that he hoped party officials would not consider admitting any more fraternities "at least not this year or next."

At the same time Bailey said that when any political party becomes too large "it foreshadows its own downfall, and until it does collapse, student interest in politics necessarily declines." Independent Party houses and non-fraternity men, now have a majority of approximately 125 votes over University Party houses.

Truly Independent voters will realize that Independent Party leaders have been using idealistic statements for political gain, and will vote for the best candidates in Monday's class elections regardless of party.

Sincerely,
JAY W. JACKSON
CARL D. SWANSON

Act of Love Best Picture This Year

What is there to say, but that an Act of Love was the best picture that has come to the State so far this year. As with any good piece of literature, one can find themes, thoughts, ideas and speculations crossing one another. Why are the Americans hated so in Europe? Do they deserve it? Or, what mysterious power in the universe employs the finger of fate to turn her wheel and then decide exactly what is to take place. Why did Captain Henderson intrude, intercept his own opinions into Robert Teller's life? Look at the results! The death of a beautiful and sincerely passionate girl, plus the haunted mind of her one love. Was this picture a reincarnation of the Faust legend? A little far-fetched perhaps, but why not?

Kirk Douglas gave his usual unusually fine performance. A newcomer Dany Robin played Lisa with superb skill and tenderness. Another star of the picture was the photography. The fadeouts and leadins were wonderfully done. This was by far the best camera work, excluding the Living Desert, in 1954.

"Steve, you can't knock this movie," I was told as I left the theater. Granted I can't knock the movie itself, but there is one point of order upon which I would like to express my views.

Look at the advertising program given an Act of Love! Hollywood tried to palm off on the public the idea that this picture was something they might see at a peep show on Broadway and Forty-Second street. The placards given out around the country looked like they were drawn for Mickey Spillaine's next novel. I, for one, did not experience the usual feeling of disappointment because the picture did not live up to its sensational sexual billing.

Bob Hope frolicked his way through Casanova's Big Night with a little help from Joan Fontaine. Bob's writers were way ahead of the game and the Hopean quips were far above par and unusually sharp.

The best line of the picture made no sense at all, and I quote: "Farful-Farful pitnik." You figure it out! Billed as the menace of Venice, Bob weaved his way in and out of ladies bedrooms with astonishing regularity, for a tailor's son at any rate. Fun for adults, bring the kids, too!

I read in The Ring-tum Phi that Dr. Foster helped make The Living Desert. Not that he drained the clouds, but that he was on the staff. To Dr. Foster and Walt Disney go our thanks for a wonderful movie. Perhaps the best battle scene since Ivanhoe was between the tarantula and the wasp. "I hate snakes," is a common pass word around both men and women. If you do, The Living Desert will guarantee to chill your spine for many years. You may even jump if your garden hose takes a sudden twitch. We eagerly await your next full life drama, Mr. Disney!

"A SOUND OF VOICES DYING"

By Glenn Scott

April 30 (elsewhere May 3)

This brilliant first novel gives an unforgettable picture of the latest generation in American colleges since World War II. It is a story that tells how this generation lives, thinks, and feels, and shows what it has in common with the era that produced, and was influenced by, "This Side of Paradise," and "The Sun Also Rises."

Glenn Scott, class of '54, Washington and Lee, will be at THE BOOK SHOP, 23 West Washington St., from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. Saturday, May 1, and will autograph copies of his book for those who wish him to do so.

Jay Handlan, Former Scoring Ace, Named to Industrial All-Stars

Jay Handlan, outstanding scoring ace on Washington and Lee's basketball teams from 1948 to 1952, was recently named to the all-star team in the National Industrial Basketball League.

Handlan, a six-foot two-inch forward, from Wheeling, W. Va., was selected for the honor while playing his second year of ball for Akron Goodyear team. He was chosen for the ten man team by the coaches of the league.

In his sophomore year with the Goodyear aggregation, the former Helms Foundation All-American enjoyed his finest season since 1952 when he completed his fourth year of remarkable scoring at W&L.

At the close of his college career he had scored 2,004 points to become the third man in major basketball history to reach 2,000 points.

Handlan had his best year while a junior here when he scored 66 points against Furman to set a new Southern Conference individual scoring record. The same year he finished with a 27.5 points per game average which tied for second place scoring honors in the nation.

During this past season with Goodyear, Jay scored 174 points in 14 games for 12.4 per game average. He was also ranked seventh for the most valuable player award in the league which features such teams as the Peoria Catepillars, 1952 Olympic champions, and the Phillips Oilers.

Jay is the son of Mrs. Sara Evans, housemother of the Phi Kappa Psi house.

Frosh Golfers Tounce Tech 7-2 in Roanoke

Washington and Lee's undefeated freshman golfers won their third match yesterday as they downed the Virginia Tech team, 7-2, at the Hidden Valley Country Club in Roanoke.

Joe Scales posted the low medalist's score with a 74 and went on to win his own match. Ted Kerr, Don Rosenfeld, Don Ferris and Tom Smith were also victorious.

The frosh golfers have two more obstacles to overcome before completing a perfect season. They meet the Staunton Military Academy team next week and close with the perennially tough UVA freshmen.

Freshman Lacrosse Team Wins Over AMA; Remains Undefeated

The freshman lacrosse team kept its perfect record intact on Wednesday afternoon when it made it two in a row beating Augusta Military Academy 17 to 0.

Many shots were wild and the play lacked skill and finesse, but the Baby Generals quickly showed their superiority. Joel Bernstein was the high scorer again as he tallied four times. The entire attack and midfield was able to score without difficulty due to a weak defense of AMA. W&L's defense, led by Co-Captain Tom Moore was strong. Goalie Pete Hartman made several good plays including a spectacular out-of-the-crease stop.

In the third quarter, Coach John McDowell allowed the players to get experience at playing positions other than their own. The defense played at attack, the midfield at defense, and the attack at midfield. Defenseman Doug Line broke into the scoring column at this time. Co-Captain Dick Moore played at goal for a period, leaving his usual attack slot.

Although the play was erratic, MacDowell expressed satisfaction with the progress of the team and with its spirit.

AMA will get a chance for revenge next week when they have a return match on Wilson Field.

Also next week the Brigadiers will get their first real competition when they play the freshman team from the University of Virginia. The younger Wahos beat AMA 22-0, and the game, to be played on Wilson Field, promises to be as close as last Saturday's varsity tilt.

Varsity Tennis Team Closes Successful Season Tuesday

Washington and Lee's varsity tennis team will end its successful season next Tuesday when the netmen meet Virginia Tech on the Blacksburg courts.

This past week the netmen played VPI, Virginia, and William and Mary. After defeating the Gobblers, 7-2, the Generals lost to a very strong Virginia team by an 8-1 count. However, the following day William and Mary went down in defeat by a score of 6-3.

The freshmen seem to be following in the footsteps of the varsity, easily downing Jefferson High School twice, 9-0 and 8-1. Yesterday the W&L frosh went ahead to win over a strong Virginia team, 5-4, in a close match.

Varsity Golfers To Meet William & Mary; Trackmen Challenge Davidson Saturday

The varsity golf team travels to Williamsburg Monday to meet William and Mary. According to Captain Dick Sherrill, the Indians are always hard to beat on their home course.

The Generals, who were State Champions last year, have done much better than expected this year. Despite having only one returning letterman in Sherrill, W&L has a 3-2-1 record.

The have beaten Randolph-Macon, VPI, and George Washington, losing to Virginia and VPI, and tying West Virginia.

So far this year, the big six on the golf team have been Sherrill, Fred Bear, Buddy Eanes, Bill Clem, Bob Broudy, and Doug Monroe.

On May 7 the team journeys to Richmond to compete for the Southern Conference title. Virginia looms as the favorite there, and seems to be the team to beat.

The varsity track team seems to be progressing much the same as Coach Miller predicted—the Generals have yet to win a meet.

This Saturday the squad meets Davidson on Wilson Field. The field events start at 2:30, the running events at 3:00.

Captain Walt Diggs is still out, having hurt his ankle against Lynchburg. The start pole vaulter will probably not see action until the Southern Conference meet held at Blacksburg May 14 and 15.

Bob Mann, has shown the most improvement this year, according to Miller. Last Saturday Mann won the two-mile run.

Christian Council

came from the Faculty Committee on Christian Work, and the Christian Council itself. It was found that the Council's executive committee was the only distinct organ of the group.

In the new by-laws, the executive committee is narrowed to include the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and the chairmen of four general groups of programs. In the past this committee was composed of the officers and the chairmen of each minor committee, making a total of 17 persons in all.

Activities sponsored by the Christian Council have been separated into four major groups, each having a general chairman who serves on the executive committee. These are general programs, University religious programs, church relations programs and community programs. The constitution also provides for two business meetings per year, where in the past maybe only one such meeting had been held. These shall be held in the Fall and Spring.

Next years Christian Council officers will be elected next Tuesday in the Student Union at 7:30 p.m.

So naturally... down goes the price to you of L&Ms — America's highest quality and best filter tip cigarette.

Thousands of dealers in America's largest cities (New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles) in signed statements report L&Ms their largest selling filter tip cigarette.

Why have L&M Filters rolled up sales records like this? For the first time filter tip smokers are getting what they want... much more flavor and aroma... with much less nicotine. After the first few puffs from an L&M, most smokers sum it up this way,
