

Neptune's Elysium Set for Ten Tonight

Boyd Williams Will Speak at Pep Rally at 7

Boyd Williams, General line-coach, will speak at 7 p.m. tonight in front of the gym highlighting the first Homecomings pep rally since 1953.

Ted Kerr, head cheerleader, said several new cheers will be introduced during the rally.

Also during the rally and during the football game tomorrow each fraternity has been asked to compete for a "Spirit Trophy." The cheer-leading squad will present the cup to the fraternity showing the best teamwork, originality, planning and spirit.

The houses will be judged on their activity throughout the Homecomings weekend and the winner will be announced Wednesday.

Kerr also said 1,000 paper megaphones, provided by the Reynolds Tobacco Company, have arrived and will be available at the game.

The megaphones, along with 1,000 mimeographed copies of the General cheers will be distributed before game time, 2:15 p.m.

Also awarded this weekend for Homecomings "spirit" will be four prizes for fraternity house decorations. The prizes are: first place, a silver tray; second place, a lamp; third place, a glass serving dish and fourth place a set of two candelabras. These prizes are being presented by the W&L Alumni Association.

Judging will be done tonight and again tomorrow morning so that electrical as well as daylight apparatus may be viewed fairly.

Pi Sigma Alpha Elects Officers

Pi Sigma Alpha, national honorary political science fraternity, made plans for the forthcoming year and elected officers at their first meeting recently.

The newly elected officers are: Carl Swanson, president; Pete Jacobs, vice-president and Wes Eason, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Newcomb 35. On Nov. 11, the members plan to journey to the University of Virginia to hear an address by Democratic hopeful, Adlai Stevenson.

The fraternity is holding bi-weekly meetings where all phases of the National Convention are being discussed along with the potential candidates and their prospects. These seminars are being conducted with an eye to the role that the fraternity hopes to play in the Mock Convention held here in the Spring.

White Friars Pledge 27 Sophs; Plan Beer Party for Next Week

Twenty-seven new men were pledged to White Friars last night and a beer party for the Friars and the members of Pi Alpha Nu has been scheduled for next Friday.

Three houses, ZBT, Phi Kap and Sigma Chi, were not present at the meeting to announce their selections.

Those named are: Kappa Sig, Brooks Pollock and Kay Chandler; Beta, John Binford and Bill Wisdom; KA, Aboo Steves and George Thompson; Phi Delt, Chuck Corn and Bill Barnett; Sigma Nu, Charlie Cella and Rufe Safford; PiKA, Dave Johnson and Phil Laughlin.

SAE, Wally Witmer and Vernon Holleman; Phi Psi, Cal Couch and John Peale; Pi Kap, Bob DeGraff and Joe Lewis; Lambda Chi, Joe Ripley and Al White; DU, Lew John and Dan Cox; Phi Ep, Barry Goldsmith; Phi Gam, Kaj Brent and Sonny Fenstermacher; Delt, Chuck Crawford and Don Fowler.

The new pledges will be required to wear green socks, necktie and hat during the week following the Opening Dance Set and must get 55 signatures on their paddle.

The new men will also be required to pull a toy on a string for the five-

SWMSFC Declares '13' Club Action Of '55 Fund-raising Unauthorized

On Wednesday, October 19, "13" Club pledges approached students and asked them to contribute money for the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee. The action, intended as if it were to benefit our organization, nevertheless brought to mind some doubt as to the average undergraduate's aware-

Draft Test To Be Given

All applications for the Selective Service Qualification Test to be given on Nov. 17 must be completed and mailed by Nov. 1 it was announced today by Dean of Students Frank J. Gilliam.

Those desiring to take the student deferment test are requested to go to the local selective service board in Lexington on East Washington Street opposite the Court House.

Information as to the filling out and mailing of the applications will be provided by Mrs. Beatrice Price, secretary of the local board.

24 Debaters Answer Call For New Men

By PHIL INSLEY

Twenty-four men responded to the call of the W&L Debating Team last week in an effort to fill out the 1955-56 team. Six sophomores and 18 freshmen turned out, Cliff Smith, student manager, said today.

Bill Miller, Kappa Sig, and Joe Ripley, Lambda Chi, both sophomores with a year of college debating experience, form the nucleus of the team.

The final group will consist of 10 men. The varsity and junior-varsity teams will each have four men and there will be two alternates. Eliminations will begin Monday.

The first meet is a forum to be held with the University of Virginia at Charlottesville on Oct. 28. This forum is experimental in that it is not an actual debate but a discussion. The discussion will be to acquaint the teams with the topic to be debated upon throughout the year. This year's national debate topic is "Resolved: that all non-agricultural industries should guarantee employees an annual wage." This topic has been brought into focus by the recent CIO-Ford Plant agreements.

W&L has hopes of using the debate team and the Forensic Union as a basis for obtaining a charter from Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary speaking society. The small membership in the Union in the past has hindered activity at W&L.

No definite schedule has been made other than the U.Va. forum. Tentative plans have been made for attending the Morris-Harvey Forensic meet in Charleston, W. Va., early in December and a pre-Thanksgiving schedule is now being formulated, Smith said. W&L will engage schools from Ohio, South Carolina, West Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky in the Morris-Harvey meet.

Last year W&L finished among the top ten college debate teams in the nation.

Poetry Contest Deadline Soon

College students were invited today to submit original verse to be considered for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The closing date for the submission of manuscripts is Nov. 5. Entries should be sent to: National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Dennis Hartman, secretary of the Association which sponsors this contest, said that in the past ten years of college competition over 100,000 manuscripts have been submitted.

He added that of these, approximately 4,500 have been accepted for publication.

All entries must be typed or written in ink on one side of the paper. The student must include his home address, name of his college or university and his school address on each manuscript.

Full Schedule Is Provided For Alumni and Students

The colorful atmosphere of Neptune's Elysium will prevail tonight when the combined Homecomings-Opening Dance Set weekend of 1955 will officially get under way. Both nights of dancing will be to the music of the Sauter-Finegan Orchestra.

The Phi Gams will start things rolling this afternoon with a

Troubs Release Production Dates For First Drama

The first Troubadour production of the 1955-56 year, "Much Ado About Nothing," will be presented from Nov. 8 through 11 in the Troubadour Theater, Mr. Jack Lanich, director of dramatics said today.

The cost of admission is covered by the campus tax.

Final casting has been completed. June Moffat, director of dramatics at Southern Seminary, and Jordan Smith, Phi Gam, have been selected for the lead roles. Both have appeared in previous Troubadour plays.

Others named are: Jack McQuigan, Dale Cornelius, Jim Moffat, Mel Meekins, Ray Stultz, John Evans, Butch Calloway, John Jennings, Fred Tarrant, John Candler, Dave Lindcamp, Duke Norell, Bob Morton, Phil Reidford, Art Grove, and Dick O'Kane.

Others appearing in the play are Ann Barcus and Joy Sharp from Southern Seminary and Jan Tracey of Lexington.

W&L Students Announce VPI Football Games

A W&L student and a W&L alumna are sneaking over to "the other side" each Saturday.

They are Joe Knakal, of Culpeper, a junior, and Bob Bradford of Blacksburg, and they are broadcasting all of Virginia Tech's football games this season.

Knakal does the play-by-play of the Gobbler games, which is carried by a number of stations around the state. Bradford does color on the games.

When Bradford was still at W&L he and Knakal worked together on local radio station WREL.

Knakal is vice-president of his fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha, and executive officer of the Gaines Guard. He is also a pitcher for the Generals.

Twelve '13' Club Juniors To End Pledging Duties With 'Mud Fight'

"Thirteen!" Twelve members of the junior class are now shouting this time-honored and crusade-plagued word after every twelfth step they take.

Smug, Blase and Bored

Two Saturdays ago we witnessed about the worst display of school spirit ever to occur at W&L. The cheerleading staff could not milk a drop of enthusiasm from the student body throughout the entire opening game.

One would think support would be at a peak for the return of football after a one-year absence. But no, the student body had something of a reputation to live up to: it acted smug, blase and bored.

It's unfortunate to mar a dance-set weekend with an editorial such as this but the situation is a definite cause for concern. At 7 p.m. tonight the first Homecomings pep rally since 1953 will be held in front of the gym. During the rally each fraternity will try (we hope) to demonstrate that they have more spirit than do any of the others in an intramural battle for a "Spirit Cup."

But even more important than pre-game spirit will be the enthusiasm and support needed at the game itself. One-thousand and paper megaphones and one-thousand copies of the W&L cheers (all easy to learn if tried once or twice) will be distributed during the opening minutes of the contest. There is no logical reason now why support should be anything but the best.

We realize that this is not a "rah-rah" school. We are rather glad that such is the case. But the main purpose of a rally and game support is to let the team members realize we are behind them.

We expect no miracles but we do want the players to feel that the University as a whole—and not just a few well-scattered fans and a six or seven-man cheering squad—is supporting them. Let's give them the support they rightly deserve.

Jacobs Thinks Adler Superb; Wayne Takes Slow Boat to China

By Pete Jacobs

"Love is a Many Splendored Thing" is an excellent example of how a beautiful and rewarding motion picture can be transposed from a very simple story. William Holden and Jennifer Jones act out the parts of the American reporter and the Eurasian girl superbly.

In complete disagreement with my rival, I feel that Mr. Adler has done a superb job of direction. (People no more will remind him how bad "Soldier of Fortune" was.) P.S. It looks like 20th Century Fox has another winner as far as the best song from a motion picture is concerned!

Another one of the really fine English motion pictures to hit town this week, "Doctor in the House" is English humor at his best. There is no question that this picture really ribbed the question of Socialized Medicine in Great Britain. Don't you notice that every time an English picture is made, one or more issues of the times is lightly regarded.

J. Arthur Rank

Oh well, I guess J. Arthur Rank is the only person that's making money—not from the movies, but from personalized guided tours of the Thames. Kenneth More, who was also in Sadie, is rapidly becoming the most versatile and popular actor in England. All in all "Doctor in the House" was a bloody funny cinema.

There was a time when I would be quite surprised to see Anthony Quinn in a poor movie. My astonishment has ended as of this week, and I am now a normal human-being again. "The Magnificent Matador" was absolutely terrible from beginning to end. You know what the trouble was: Maureen O'Hara's red hair shook up the bull so much, that he gored the director. From the final print it looked like the bull finished the job.

John Wayne is in another movie! Yes people, this is John's 3,423,567 role, and do you know that he hasn't changed his voice or expression since his first, "Blood Alley" does the usual for John—nothing. This time he is a captain of a ferry boat transporting "mucho" Chinese to the crown colony of Hong Kong, from the territory of Communist China. Lauren Bacall goes along for the ride, but it's strictly tourist class all the way.

Do you know that Wayne made a $3,000,000 picture called "Jet Pilot," three years ago and it is still perched on a shelf at RKO pictures!

Little Known Facts

The movie "Oklahoma" opened in New York this past week. It is due for its Lexington opening when Halley's comet appears again.

When you see "Ulysses," you will be wondering how the Department of Sanitation ever entered into the motion picture field. I never saw so much garbage in a two hour span!

The movie world was saddened to hear of the sudden passing of John Hodiak, one of Hollywood's brightest young stars. Mr. Hodiak is the prosecuting attorney in the brilliant picture "Trial," and he was at work on a new movie about men who test scientific discoveries for our government. Death claimed him at the age of 41!

After this, there is nothing more to say!

CALYX PICTURES

Tuesday, Nov. 1—Phi Ep; Wednesday, Nov. 2—Kappa Sig; Thursday, Nov. 3—Pi Kap; Friday, Nov. 4—Law Students; Monday, Nov. 7—Non-fraternity men.

Kegs of beer will be awarded to houses with 100 per cent appearance.

Letters to the Editor:

De-emphasized Ball Is Praised Heartily By Transfer Student

Editor, The Ring-tum Phi
The Friday Edition
Dear Sir:

In the past issues, much space has been given to what appears to me, a highly controversial topic. This topic is the University's de-emphasis of football. Having not been a student here when so-called "big-time" football reigned, I am not qualified to write about the effects it had on the school at that time, but having just transferred from the University of Notre Dame, where the sport is held as some sort of deity, I do feel capable of pointing out several reasons why I prefer the de-emphasized version here at W&L.

I first noticed a marked difference as I watched our scrimmage with Johns Hopkins. How strange it seemed to me to be allowed to watch a real scrimmage. At Notre Dame, students are allowed to watch a practice session for thirty minutes every other day. This thirty minutes was always the opening of the session and consisted of nothing more than wind sprints and various calisthenics. A seven-foot board fence surrounds the practice field and each gate is zealously guarded by student managers and campus police. The Liberal Arts building adjoins the field and here too, managers are posted to drive away the curious.

Are these curious ones enemy spies? No, just students, trying to get a look at "their" team. But is it really "their" team? Sure, they'll go to the Friday night pep-rally and scream like a bunch of banshees—but only because it's compulsory. They'll volunteer help to a player whose grades will make him ineligible—but they'll be brushed off with a casual, "If they want me to play ball, they won't flunke me."

Is this what the campus advocates of big-time football want? Do they want to make it a business as it is elsewhere? Having seen both sides of the question, I'll take the de-emphasized version.

Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler Writes As Convention Nears

Early rumblings of the 1956 Mock Convention and never-to-be-forgotten experiences of floats, pretty girls in convertibles and big-time campus politics sounded this week with the arrival of a letter from Democratic National Committee Chairman, Paul M. Butler.

The text of the letter, sent to Dr. Francis P. Gaines and forwarded to Mr. Rupert N. Latture, professor of political science, is printed below:

Dr. Francis P. Gaines, President Washington and Lee University Lexington, Virginia
Dear Dr. Gaines:

It is our hope that young people everywhere will take a lively and informed interest in the Presidential election next year, particularly young men and women of college age who are just becoming voters. My own feeling is that political activity is an undertaking that should be especially encouraged among students so that this responsibility becomes a lifetime habit.

We at the Democratic National Committee plan to make special efforts to stimulate political discussion and activity among college students next year, and I am writing to you and other leading educators at this time in the hope of enlisting your cooperation.

Many schools already have Democratic and Republican clubs. It is our aim to work with established campus groups, and to encourage the organization of ones where they do not exist. We think it would be a splendid thing for the country if the electorate were enriched by campus political clubs working within the framework of our major political parties. Unfortunately, there are some colleges and universities which now forbid the existence of student political organizations. It is our hope that such restrictions will be reviewed and that further consideration will result in their repeal.

I am writing my opposite, Leonard W. Hall, Chairman of the Republican Party, to invite him to join me in encouraging such student political activity. Political education, participation and debates benefit all parties as well as the nation as a whole. It seems to me that there could be few more fruitful extra-curricular citizenship training activities. I would welcome an expression from you on this subject.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL M. BUTLER

Columnist Reveals True Picture Of Scholarship Program Here

By ART MCCAIN

To those few of us who did not read the report of Dr. Gaines with quite the care it deserves, the following information may be something of a surprise.

Washington and Lee has more than doubled its scholarship grants during the past two years. Due to the work of the administration, an often maligned and seldom applauded group, the school has received the equivalent of one million, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in scholarship endowment. This increase means that the amount of income available for scholarships next fall will be ninety-thousand dollars, well over twice the thirty-eight thousand dollars available in 1953.

What does this mean to us? It means that ten years from now one boy out of every five walking down the colonnade will be on scholarship. Look around and see how many are on scholarship this year.

When our sons come here they will be proud of the national scholarship rating of W&L. They can be proud because of the work being done here now.

Next time you look at Washington Hall don't be deceived by its quiet permanence. That permanence is being achieved only by the constant, demanding and largely unknown work which centers within its seemingly quiet offices. You are not only a part and product of a great tradition but also of a growing tradition. Be proud of it.

Law School Announces Speakers

Milton Herndon, President of the Student Bar Association of the Law School, announced that the speakers program, sponsored by the association, will include well qualified men from various fields of law.

"It is our aim," said Herndon, "to have a leader from several of the basic types of practice on the program, and to have these men discuss the practical aspects of their respective practices."

This year's program was initiated last week by Mr. Arnold M. Schlossberg, Roanoke attorney. Mr. Schlossberg, a leader in the field of Labor Law, presented an interesting and informative talk on: "The Labor Lawyer," and discussed some of the problems in his type of practice.

Next on the program will be Mr. John G. Fox, Attorney General of West Virginia. Mr. Fox, a graduate of the Washington and Lee School of Law, will appear on Nov. 8. His subject will be: "Public Law."

On the sixth of December, Mr. R. W. Jordan, Jr., Vice-President and Counsel of Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation, Richmond, will discuss:

"Property Law" before the members of the association.

To open the program for the second semester, on Feb. 14, Mr. William L. Zimmer, III, a visiting member of the University of Virginia Law School and author, from Richmond, will present his views on: "Taxation and The General Practitioner."

On March 21, Mr. Collins Denny, Jr. from the firm of Denny, Valentine and Davenport, Richmond, will discuss the topic: "The Lawyers Place In Collective Bargaining and Labor Law From the Viewpoint of Management."

As final speaker on the program, Mr. Edmund D. Campbell, Washington, D.C., will present a paper on the topic: "A Practice in the Federal Courts."

Valient Knight Clashes With Unseen Beast

By Clay Carr

The harp that once through Tara's Hall,
Alas, will play no more—
But still the castle maidens tell
Of brave Sir Drinkmore.

Sir Drinkmore was big and bold—
His sword took three to lift it—
A beast was he in feats of arms,
And drinking equally gifted.

One day, as he sat in his great mead hall,
Sopping up beer as a chaser,
His favorite lady-in-waiting rushed in
And said "This is a disgrace, sir!"

"You quaff it up in your great mead hall
With these, your bawdy band,
While a monster, new and terrible,
Threatens your native land!"

"What ho, what hay, what heel!" he cried,

"What is this dreadful summons?"
"My Lord, a beast omniverous—
It is the dreadful Commons!"

"What ho, what hay!," he cried again
With rage down to his toes.
He seized his noble sword and lance
And struck a noble pose.

At last he mounted on his steed,
And dashed out to the fray.
Full soon he spied the Commons' trail,
Scarce half a mile away.

He drew his sword and swore an oath
To give the monster hell.
But, as he spurred his steed ahead,
Alas, his visor fell.

To get it up Sir Drinkmore
Used all his skill of warping,
But he failed—and then he heard
The fiendish monster roaring.

"What ho, what hay, what's that?!",
he yelled,
And drew his sword back out.
"I'll slit that monster stem to stern
And put him to a rout!"

For two full hours he swung his sword
At all that round him stood.
He couldn't smell or see the beast
But fought as if he could.

At last his noble arm grew tired,
And his noble brow was hot.
And so he turned and left the scene,
Declaring, "That is that."

Unto this day he doesn't know
What beast it was he fought.
But happy he sits in his great mead hall
Not thinking a single thought.

Generals To Face Southwestern At Homecomings

It's Do or Die, Chipley Asserts

The Washington and Lee football team plays one of its most important games of the season this Saturday when they meet Southwestern College of Memphis, Tenn. Coach Bill Chipley feels that this is the do or die game, with the showing of the rest of the season depending on the outcome of this game. Not only is it important in this respect, but it is also Washington and Lee's first homecomings game in two years.

The Generals, who have lost two games this season, are hampered by injuries to first string men. Al Platt, starting fullback will see limited action as will Bimbo Bailey, first string halfback. Roger Doyle and John Garbau are also injured and will not see much action on Saturday. As a result of these injuries, the burden of the work will fall on such men as Paul Knox, Al Gitter, Pres Pate, Corky Briscoe, Bob Blair and Fred Heina. Also seeing a great deal of action will be Barb Neblitt, Watty Watring, Ike Smith and Don Stine, who is being groomed for the fullback position.

Southwestern, who has a strong running attack, is expected to shift to the airplanes on Saturday after watching the Generals lose to Davidson. However, their running attack will probably be used to its best advantage, paced by two speedy halfbacks, "little All-American" halfback Jim Higgason and halfback John Martin.

Southwestern Record

This is the first time this season that Washington and Lee has played a team on its own level. Although they have 17 lettermen, Southwestern is not a big team and have not had a winning season so far. They have beaten Sewanee, but have lost to Mississippi College and Centre. The score of their Centre game was 28-13 which compares favorably to W&L's 24-7 loss. The Blue and White know they have their backs against the wall and must come fighting in order to have a successful season. The team feels it has the stuff to produce victory number one on Saturday.

At Hargrave Military Academy yesterday, the Washington and Lee freshman football team met a powerful and homecoming inspired Hargrave team which rolled over the Generals 38-0. This was the Baby Generals first contest.

Soccer Team Drops Match To Powerful Duke By 2-1

By KIM WOOD

Washington and Lee's varsity soccer team suffered its third setback in as many games last Wednesday at the hands of a determined Duke aggregation, 2-1. Playing on their home field for the first time this season, the Generals commanded a 1-0 lead going into the middle of the last period, when the visitors suddenly let loose with two quick and unexpected goals.

In the first period, the Blue Devils started a relentless attack on the W&L goal, and it is a wonder they didn't score. Time and time again, the visitors had the ball deep in W&L territory only to be temporarily checked by the fine play of W&L fullbacks, Moose Shafer and Captain Jim Lewis. The Generals controlled the ball in the latter part of the quarter, and on one play they almost scored when the Duke goalie was forced to jump high into the air to retrieve a hard boot by right inside Billy Boyle.

Boyle, after attempting another goal in the second quarter, proceeded to worry his opponents with a dazzling exhibition of fine dribbling and passing. Along with center forward Beldon Butterfield, Boyle was the key figure in the General's attack in this period, which was marked by very even play.

The second half began in the same manner at the second period, with both teams playing on about an even pace. Boyle missed his third scoring opportunity on a penalty kick, which narrowly missed the right corner of the enemy goal. At this point the visitors again put the pressure on their opponents, and by doing so displayed their scoring potentialities which were so painfully evident in the early moments of the game.

The opposing threat on the W&L goal was temporarily thwarted by a beautiful block of an enemy kick from the left wing, executed by Blue and White fullback Schafer. Goalie Ronnie Smith then proceeded to make some fine saves of four enemy kicks directed at the W&L goal.

In this third period, the Blue and White scored their only goal of the game when sophomore Gardiner White booted in a high bouncer from the left of the enemy goal. White, who is seeing his second year in varsity action, was assisted in his goal by right inside Burr Miller. Later in the period the Generals again threatened to score when Frank Dillingham narrowly missed the goal with a kick from the right wing position.

One of the most exciting plays of the game occurred at the beginning of the fourth period, when Bill Boyle took the ball away from an opposing player and passed it to left wing Bob Lathrop, who caused the Duke

Autumn Tennis Tournament in Second Week

The Fall Tennis Tournament moved into its second week showing all seeded players advancing easily.

With the most impressive field of entry in recent years the third and fourth rounds should hold some interesting results. Outstanding participants in the tournament are: Charlie Thompson, seeded number one, an effective and hard hitting server; Buddy Dye, seeded number two, a veteran and former finalist in the Virginia State tournament; Charlie Hurt, a steady all-court player who is reportedly the big gun of the freshman entries; and Ace Hubbard, a champion of Delaware and a serious contender.

The varsity team will be looking forward to the fine quality of play these men will undoubtedly show and feel that their participation on the team this spring will enhance the team's success.

Harriers Beat U.Va., 26-29

Washington and Lee's cross country team defeated U.Va. yesterday 26-29 on the home course. The generals placed second, fourth and fifth with Duffy leading the field.

Belch Suggests Initiation Of Co-ed Athletic Matches

With the sun coming up tomorrow on a glorious day made more glorious by girls and parties and girls, I wish to write about girls. My editor's insistence on some sort of athletic affinity poses no particular problem. Sports and girls go hand in hand, and chronicling the relationship between this school, girls and athletics shouldn't be difficult, even reluctantly casting aside little nuggets about the All-American indoor sport, etc. etc. (this is a family newspaper).

I have several interesting ideas about the promotional possibilities of co-ed athletic contests, a field which is virgin territory in this area. Why not the SWMSFC institute a touch football game between our inter-lodge champs and a hand picked seven from the Big Four (Southern Seminary plays in a J.C. league) to take the place of the Corn Bowl? It could be called anything and played appropriately enough on the Intramural Field, scene of many another stirring co-ed battles. If it was well received we could make it a home and home series on through the winter splitting the profits between the Scholarship Fund and the host school, with my cut off the top. If the thing really snowballed it could replace freshmen dances next fall as anyone can see that it's mixer potential outstrips just plain dancing. It has infinite possibilities are a do-you-know common grounds for tongue-tied young frosh, too (i.e. "Do you know Pris Snell—She's Hoilin's watch-Charm guard. How about Mary Baldwin's line this year? Yes, they are light, but they're awfully fast. And so forth).

Mixed swimming meets are fraught with possibilities. Here we have a

WINSTON TASTES GOOD!

LIKE A CIGARETTE SHOULD!

King-size Winston is the filter brand that's making cigarette history. College to college, coast to coast, the chorus is the same: "Winston tastes good—like a cigarette should!" The rich flavor really comes through to you because Winston's exclusive filter works so effectively. Try Winston—you'll see!

accept contributions per se. In other words, the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee is not a charity organization; and it must be understood that we do not accept charity in any form. We would like to state, in closing, that this article represents not a criticism of the efforts of the "13" Club in our behalf, on the contrary, it is a distinct effort to explain the goal and methods of the Committee.

chance to publicize one of our lesser known sports and stimulate inter-school relations as well. With a bevy of beauties filling the East end of Doremus they'll have to tear down the wall to make room for the bleachers. This will mess up the rest of our elongated coffin perched on the hillside and necessitate the construction of a new gymnasium. A method in my madness. Again if all goes well competition could continue at Goshen under the supervision of Dr. Felix Welch of Polar Bear Club fame.

Washington and Lee lacrosse team annually decides by popular acclamation to engage Hollins College in an end-of-season affair complete with beer in the water bucket. It would be under girl's rules and I cannot understand why we never get the idea out of the embryo stage. But if we ever do I have one or two old Indian innovations, such as running through the woods and lasting for days and days, which would pep goalie to make a diving save of a kick that appeared to be a sure goal. Now it was the visitors' turn to take the offensive. Left halfback Simon Izaguirre tied up the game with a beautifully headed goal on an assist from right half back Henry Lavie. W&L counter-attacked with a hard boot by Lathrop, which just missed the enemy goal. Lavie subsequently scored unassisted on a corner kick from the left side of the field, thus giving his team the extra point which proved to be the clincher. The Generals have lost two tough ones, but maybe the breaks will be on their side next time when they meet Virginia at Charlottesville on October 25. Last year they defeated the Wahos twice. On November 3, the Blue and White will meet Roanoke College in a return engagement.

up the game considerably. I have voiced my ideas and I'm secure in the knowledge that my intentions are constructive and honorable. Let old fustbudget Hood imagine himself alone on the Isle of Intelligentsia pelting at freshmen who just want to leer at the library exhibition's nudes in peace he daren't cast verbal stones at GIRLS.
