Race Segregation Problem Can Be Solved, Flick Says

"Education must be taken out of the hands of the politicians" if the race problem in the public schools is to be solved, Dr. Walter A. Flick told an audience of 100 persons at the dedication of new additions to Effinger High School this week.

Dr. Flick, professor of education and psychology at Washington and Lee University, was the main speaker at the ceremonies which dedicated a kitchen and four classrooms costing about $90,000.

"We've always had a problem of who should go to school with whom," Dr. Flick said. "And we've always been able to settle it before and we can settle it now."

Speaking to more than 100 persons attending the dedication, he mentioned the problem of segregating boys from girls in the public schools, a problem long ago solved. "Now we have the race problem," he said.

THE PSYCHOLOGY professor urged that public forums be held on school problems in order to solve them before they become "issues."

R. M. Irby, former Rockbridge County superintendent of schools, discussed his experiences with the school board from 1920 to 1949, and C. C. Humphris, chairman of the County School Board, presented a tribute to the late Frank L. Tardy, former board chairman.

Dr. Flick first came to Washington and Lee in 1924. In 1935 he was promoted to full professor of education and psychology. Aside from his regular teaching duties he has experience in the field of labor and personnel problems.

W&L Group Presents Geological Findings to Academy of Science

A group of six Washington and Lee geology majors presented two papers before the Geology Section of the Virginia Academy of Science's 1957 meeting today in Old Point Comfort, Virginia.

In addition both W&L geology professors, Dr. Marcellus H. Stow and Dr. Troy J. Laswell, made addresses today. Dr. Laswell served as chairman of the Geology Section.

The six students making the trip were Jim Creel, Charles T. Davis, Robert Lurate, Carl Mangold, Jr., Lee Marshall, and William K. Young.

DAVIS presented a paper entitled "A Study of Heavy Minerals in the Sands of South River, Rockbridge County, Virginia," which was prepared in collaboration with Creel and Lurate.

The other student paper, "Heavy Mineral Studies of Sediment from Little River, Floyd County, Virginia," was presented by Mangold, who was assisted in its preparation by Marshall and Young.

Dr. Stow gave the opening address in the Geology Section this morning. He spoke on "The New Division of Caskie, '06, Rector of the University Board of Trustees extended greetings to the group and Dean of the University Leon F. Senrabaugh spoke on the State of the University.

A discussion of the State of the University was next on the program, with L. J. Desha, '06, Professor of Chemistry, Emeritus, presiding. Lewis W. Adams, Dean of the School of Commerce and Administration, and Clayton E. Williams, '12, Dean of the School of Law spoke to the group.

Following campus tours and a reception at the Robert E. Lee this afternoon, the alumni will attend a class banquet at the Mayflower, with Billy Cox presiding. A jamboree at 9 o'clock for the entire group is planned at the Robert E. Lee.

Stickmen Face Baltimore Univ. Here Sat.

W&L Victory Will Mean U.S. Class B Title

Tomorrow afternoon the winningest Washington and Lee lacrosse team in history will take on the University of Baltimore at Wilson Field in a game that will decide the Class B Championship of the country. The visitors are led by the fine one-two scoring punch of Al Cosgrove and Jack Downey. However, their outstanding goalie, Mike Daly, suffered a torn cartilage two weeks ago and may be forced to miss the all-important encounter.

Visitors' Record

Coached by former W&L star Bill Pacy, the Bee's will enter the contest with a record of seven wins and two losses, suffered at the hands of Army and Mount Washington, two of the country's best Class A teams. The Generals, out to avenge last year's 12-9 defeat which cost them the Class B title, possess a won-lost mark of seven and three, the victories coming over Loyola, Dartmouth, Delaware, Williams, Colgate, Duke, and Washington College.

Led by Ernie Bertz's three goals, Maryland thumped the hustling Blue and White, 13-3, Wednesday on Wilson Field. In winning their thirty-first consecutive college game, the Terps took a quick lead early in the opening stanza as Bertz fired home the ball from the right alley past goalie Jim Lewis, who didn't have a chance on the point blank shot.

The Generals fired back to tie the score a few minutes later as diminutive attackman Ned Pendleton faked his bigger defensive opponent out of position and put a back hand bullet past goalie Jim Kappler.

Visitors Retaliate

It took just eleven seconds for the victors to get back into the lead and this time to stay, when attackman Dick Britt fed Larry McLean on the crease for the tie breaking marker. Held to a surprisingly low 6-2 score at halftime the visitors came on with a rush after intermission scoring four quick goals to overwhelm the surprised but undaunted Blue.

Outstanding in a losing cause were Jim Lewis, who was credited with 21 saves, most of them of the spectacular variety, and Dick Whiteford. Co-captain "Whitey," despite playing with a cast on his broken thumb, scored two goals and was a tiger on loose balls.

Maryland now has one remaining game on its schedule that will mean the outcome of another championship. A week from this Saturday the Terps take on the pre-season favorite, Johns Hopkins, who three weeks ago defeated the Generals, 15-7.

JV Stickmen Win

The JV stickmen defeated Augusta Military Academy, 13-5, there last Tuesday to conclude the season with a 2-2 record. Tom Penny and Dave Sowell each scored 3 goals; Howard Wolf and Bill Sours each scored 2; and Royce Hough, Dave Root and Ed Harris tallied one apiece.

Moundmen Stop Tech, Cavaliers, Tigers

By SID WHIPPLE

Billy McCann has reason to be smiling this week. Tuesday afternoon Joe Knakal stopped Virginia Tech 4-3, a team that had beaten him earlier this season. On Wednesday, Dom Flora, who makes a habit of beating UVa. on the basketball court, pitched and batted his team to a 5-2 victory over the Cavaliers at Smith Field.

Yesterday W&L rapped out 13 hits to crush Hampden-Sydney 11-2.

Against VPI Knakal fanned nine and pitched his way out of several tight spots. However, the big news this week was Dom Flora's one man destruction of the visiting Cavaliers.

Flora struck out five men, allowed only four hits, batted a home run, triple and single and knocked in four of the five General runs.

Flora Homers in Fourth

It was his first victory after two previous defeats but it could not have come at a better time. For the first four innings the former outfielder blanked the visitors. In the last of the fourth, Flora cracked a line drive home run between left and centerfield sending Cal Couch and John Alford home ahead of him.

Virginia retaliated in the top of the fifth when with one out, pitcher Russell scored from third on Bob Hardy's fly to left. The Cavaliers closed the gap in the eighth when centerfielder Bob Larison sacrificed Chuck Arnold home.

With W&L ahead, 3-2, in the last of the eighth, Turner reached first on an error. Couch grounded into a force play and John Alford flied out to left, but Flora tripled Couch home and scored the Generals' fifth and final run on Tom Moore's single.

Second Stringers Used As Netters Thrash Tigers, 8-1

The varsity tennis team won all but the number 3 doubles match in whipping Hampden-Sydney, 8-1, there yesterday. Coach Chipley used two substitutes in the singles and two in the doubles. George Stuart, Mauricio Glauser, Charlie Hurt, Tew DuBois, Frank Glaser and Herman Detering scored W&L singles victories, while Glauser and Stuart, and Woodson and Bielenberg were doubles victors.

Sydney and checked the home team with seven hits. Tom Moore, John Turner and Dick Belden paced the Generals' attack. Moore slammed a two run homer, Turner went 4 for 5 with three singles and a double, and Belden banged out a single, double and triple in four trips to the plate.

Dom Flora continued his current hitting streak with a scorching double. The win was the third in a row for the McCann men, who played an errorless game. For Hampden-Sydney it was their first loss in 6 games.

Joe Knakal will face Virginia at Charlottesville on Monday.

Kerr's 73 Wins Medalist Honors, But Golfers Bow to Techmen, 5-4

Virginia Tech surprised Cy Twombly's golfers, 5-4 in a duel meet held there yesterday. The Generals' Ted Kerr won medalist honors with a 73, as W&L closed out one of the best records in duel competition in the history of the school.

Ned Baber and Ted Kerr will lead their team in the annual State Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, to be held next Monday over the Cascades Course at Hot Springs, with Twombly chairman for the event.

Virginia Tech and UVa. should be the top favorites this year, with the former defending its team and medalist titles and the Cavaliers boasting probably the best balance in the field, according to Twombly.

Summaries of the W&L-VPI contest are as follows:

Demer (VPI) defeated Baber, 5 and 4; Kerr (W&L) defeated Cook, 4 and 3. Best ball VPI, 2 and 1.

Fletcher (VPI) defeated Farriss, 4 and 3; Vedder (W&L) and Collier broke even. Best ball VPI, 5 and 4.

McCormick (W&L) and Coleman broke even; Penick (W&L) defeated Keffer, 6 and 5. Best ball W&L, 6 and 5.

Sigma Nu and Phi Psi Win I-M Horseshoe and Badminton Titles

Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa Psi captured horseshoe singles and badminton doubles titles respectively as spring intramural competition approached its final stages this past week.

In horseshoe singles, Sigma Nu edged Phi Delta in the finals, 19-21, 21-2, 21-11. The Lambda Chi horseshoe doubles team reached the finals by virtue of a 25-20, 21-10 victory over Kappa Sigma. They will meet the winner of the KA-Phi Kap contest.

Ned Pendleton and Ace Hubbard captured badminton doubles honors with their 15-8, 9-15, 15-12 final round victory over Bob Levy and Sam Merrick, Beta representatives.

John Sinwell led the way into the finals of badminton singles by trimming ZBT's Carter Gingold, 15-2, 15-3. A finalist for the fourth straight year, the Phi Psi senior hopes to go all the way this time. In the finals he will meet Sigma Chi's Frank Adams, who earned a final round berth by beating Tom Kroetz (Kappa Sig) in 3 close games.

Platt, Rohnke and Dawson, Track Hopes in SC Meet

Washington and Lee's track team faces its toughest opposition of the season as it competes in the Southern Conference Track Meet at William and Mary today and tomorrow.

The Indians, Big Six champions, boast a perfect 7-0 record this year and are heavily favored to capture first place team honors. Davidson or Virginia Tech are both capable of pulling an upset victory, however.
