FINE SCHEDULE FOR BASEBALL

Manager Beckwith Arranges to Play Yale, Harvard and Army

Meeting the leading college teams of the eastern and South Atlantic divisions, Washington and Lee will have a superb baseball schedule if the tentative draft remains unchanged. Manager Frank J. Beckwith, after laboring for months on the schedule, announces that the program for the Generals has been completed, although contracts have not yet been signed. The season will extend through May 12th. In past years, the baseball team has suspended play after May 1st.

The Southern trip has been abandoned. Replacing it, the Generals will tour the East, playing Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Army, LaFayette, Lehigh and Rutgers. In Lexington, eighteen games will be witnessed. Rutgers, Cornell, Colgate and Marshall College will be played, while the regular games with North Carolina A. and M., Penn State, West Virginia, Davidson, Guilford, Wake Forest, Trinity and South Carolina will be retained on the schedule.

Although no contracts have been signed, the schedule as announced below is practically assured:

Games in Lexington

March 28-29—Lafayette.
April 12—Rutgers.
April 3—Penn State.
April 5—Cornell.
April 7—Colgate.

GYM WILL BE IN USE NEXT YEAR

Contract Will Be Let Soon—Completion Next July

The Doremus Memorial gymnasium, a structure that will cost about $100,000, will not be finished until the 1914-'15 session will have closed. Although excavation for the foundation of the new gym. started during the summer months, it will be July 15, 1915, before the contractors will promise a completion of the new structure.

When the announcement was made that the building would be erected, it was hoped that by the importation of large forces of labor, the students might have possession of the gymnasium by Feb. 1st. However there were some appreciable delays in the plans and other matters, and the excavations were more difficult than expected. For this reason, the contractors could not be in a position to guarantee a completion of the structure before the date aforementioned.

The contract has not been let as yet. On Oct. 7th, bids will be opened and the contract awarded. Concrete work will begin as soon as a decision is reached. It is not known when excavations will be completed, but work will be continued at top speed.

Meeting with scant opposition, Washington and Lee overwhelmed Morris-Harvey college and registered a record setting score Saturday, 103 to 0. Opening with a swift aggressive movement, the Generals continued a determined march against the lighter Morris Harvey line that was never checked. The fleet footed backs skirted the ends for long gains, while they penetrated the line with as much ease.

The Generals mustered their full offensive strength. The forward pass was introduced successfully for four of the fifteen touchdowns were scored on well directed passes. When the regulars rolled up a commanding lead, Coach Elcock dispatched the substitutes to relieve them and they continued the rout.

Sensational runs featured the victory. Bill Smith, the alternate half back, registered the longest advance of the fiasco in the fourth period, sprinting sixty one yards to touchdown. John Gallagher spurred fifty two yards to a score in the second quarter, while Donahue circled left end for forty five in the opening period. Young scored a touchdown, following a thirty-eight yards run around left end in the third quarter. The forward pass was ably manipulated by two substitutes, Graham and Hallman. Graham scored twice on passes, while Hallman gained a touchdown on a miraculous one handed catch of a pass. Seeley registered the fourth touchdown on a hurl from Bagley.

Camp Startles Spectators

Camp, the big 265 pound guard, entered the fray in the last quarter and played a strong defense game. He held Kirk and two who were endeavoring to open up the line motionless on one play. Ted Shultz and John Harrison played star games on both offensive and defensive maneuvers.

Faulty punting proved costly to Morris Harvey. Kirk, Snodgrass and Coffman punted, but neither had much success in punting the oval. On three occasions, short punts were caught by the Generals and developed into touchdowns. Young, kicking for the Generals, booted the oval for long distances. He also kicked nine goals after touchdowns.

But for the infliction of penalties, Washington and Lee might have scored 140 points. Three times Young crossed the goal line, only to be recalled for some illegal practice of a teammate. Donahue lost a touchdown in a like manner. Off-side play and holding were the illegal practices that were penalized. Gallagher registered four touchdowns while Young scored three and Donahue two.

Young opened the fiasco with a punt to the twenty yard line. McEl-downey returning it five yards. Kirk advanced one yard, but Snodgrass was thrown without gain. On the third down, Montgomery fumbled and Harrison recovered. Young broke through the line for seven yards. Gallagher crashed through the line for eight yards and scored the first touchdown. Young kicked goal.

Young gathered in Snodgrass' short punt and advanced it five yards to the forty yard line. On the first down he crashed through the line for seven yards gain. Donahue skirted left end for forty five yards advance. Young plunged five yards. Milner made first downs with eight yards. Gallagher tore through Marshall's line for eighteen yards. Following Milners' advance of three yards,

FIVE GENERALS ON INJURED LIST

Simms, Beuhring, Sweetland, Bryan and Pierrotti Out—Will Oppose Georgetown

Full strength may not be mustered by the Varsity football team until the eventful clash with Georgetown in Richmond. Ira Simms, regular end; R. L. Beuhring, fullback; A. F. Pierrotti, end; F. G. Sweetland, sub. fullback and B. D. Bryan, tackle, were unable to enter the clash with Morris Harvey on account of injuries received in the opening game and early scrimmages.

There is a possibility that some of the injured quintette will play against Roanoke College, but they may be saved for the Georgetown encounter. With Beuhring at fullback, Simms at left end and Pierrotti, at right end, the Generals will possess a powerful punch. Sweetland starred in the opening game and demonstrated that he was a dependable line plunger. He will get into the big games.

Bryan is to be reckoned with. The big Texan is a likely candidate for the line and ranks as one of the first substitute linesmen. Beuhring, Simms and Sweetland are being relied upon heavily by the coaches.

Roanoke College is expected to put up a hard fight. In Benham, Roanoke has a likely back. Saturday Roanoke College was forced to the limit to defeat Fishburne 7 to 0. The Salem eleven is coached by G. H. Spruhann, a product of the University of Mississippi.

TED MERCER HERE FOR SHORT STAY

Arrives Unheralded But Will Speak to Students—Will Give Interviews

Unheralded "Ted" Mercer arrived in Lexington yesterday. He will remain in town for a week or more, during which time he will address the students of Washington and Lee. Mr. Mercer has just had a busy summer in New York and expects to spend a short time in Virginia, enjoying a slight rest before beginning his year's work among the various schools and colleges. Acceding to the request of a number of students and business men of Lexington, he has consented to spend part of his time here.

"Ted" Mercer will be well remembered by those who were in College last spring as that vigorous and forceful speaker who assisted Dr. John R. Mott in his evangelistic campaign at Washington and Lee. He proved a great favorite with the students here, as he has with the 75,000 college men whom he comes in contact with during his yearly visits to the various schools and colleges. His highest aim is to aid the college men in living clean and respectable lives.

He was born in Georgia and spent

GENERAL SQUAD IS QUITE HEFTY

Camp Is Heaviest, Bagley Lightest—England Is Dean of Crew

Three weeks of gruelling training has reduced the Washington and Lee football squad from nearly fifty to thirty six gridironists. Around ten lettered men, Coach Walter B. Elcock has built a hefty squad.

Little Battle Bagley, who for three years has been a candidate for the General team, is the lightest man on the entire squad. Bagley weighs 121 pounds, minus the football togs. Bill Smith, who was awarded a monogram in 1913 as sub-quarter and half, is the next lightest with 130. Smith is a wonderful punter and a swift runner.

In W. M. Camp, the Generals have a worthy successor to "Fats" Miller. Although Camp does not possess as wonderful a physique as Miller, he eclipsed the big guard's mark for corpulency. Camp boasts of 265 pounds of adipose, while Miller tipped the scales at 256. "Cannon Ball" Beuhring is the heaviest player on Varsity. He weighs 205.

England Leads in Years

Robert England, substitute halfback in 1913, is the dean of the squad. England is twenty-four years old. No other player's age exceeds twenty-three. Mercer Graham and H. P. Collins are the most youthful members of the squad. Both are seventeen.

Towering six feet four inches, Ted Shultz and Buck Miles are the tallest members of the W. and L. roster, while Donahue, Bagley, McGregor and Faxton vie with each other for the most diminutive in stature. Each of the four named measure 5 feet 7 inches.

The individual members of the squad, with various individual details, follow:

Captain E. A. Donahue, age twenty one; weight, 150; height, 5-7; position, quarterback. Third year on Varsity.

Ex-Captain M. R. Miles, age twenty-one; weight, 181; height, 6-4; position, right tackle. Fourth year on Varsity.

R. C. Beuhring, age twenty-three; weight, 205; height, 5-9; position, fullback. Fourth year on Varsity.

H. K. Young, age twenty-one; weight, 160; height, 5-11; position, left half back. Second year on Varsity.

W. H. Smith, age twenty-two; weight, 130; height, 5-8; position, quarter and half. Second year on Varsity.

E. B. Shultz, age, twenty; weight, 190; height, 6-4; position, left tackle. Third year on Varsity.

NEW YELLS WANTED BY W. & L. CHEER LEADERS

Executive Committee Offers Free Trip to V. P. I. Game for Effort

At a recent meeting of the executive committee that body appeared in the role of savior of the freshmen. The restricting hand of the Sophomore class was stayed temporarily when the committee rejected and referred back to those gentlemen their recent edict prohibiting freshmen from being seen on the streets and in public places of amusement at night after 9:30, excepting Saturday's and holidays.

Furthermore it was decided by the committee to offer a prize of a free trip to Roanoke and at ticket to the V. P. I. game. This gift will go to the student of Washington and Lee who submits to the committee the best song or yell suitable for use at any of the games. There are no further conditions; and any original idea, parody, for adaption will be accepted. This does not mean that any of the old songs or yells are to be abandoned, but that the student body, merely wishes something new to help rattle the Blacksburg rooters when the slogan "On to Roanoke" materializes.

BOB VANCE ELECTED TO HEAD FRESHMAN TEAM

The annual freshman election was held last Tuesday afternoon in the English room. The new men showed little interest in the election, as only about one-third of the class were in attendance. P. P. Gibson, president of the student body, who presided, gave the new men a short talk in regard to the requirements necessary to fill the various offices, laying particular stress on the responsibility resting on the executive committeeman.

Two ballots were necessary to elect a president. On the second, Robert Vance won over Roy Bryant by a slight majority. Roy Bryant was chosen for vice president; George Bell, for secretary-treasurer; McCue Marshall for historian, and W. F. Sutton, Jr., for executive committeeman.

After the election Mr. Gibson turned the meeting over to the newly elected president, who gave a short talk, thanking the members of the class and urging every freshman to give his best efforts for the good of the class of 1918.

his college days at the University of Virginia. While there he began to fall into bad habits, with the result that he finally left school and for years roamed over the country, drifting at last to New York. Here he lived a drunkard's life for some time, and had reached the lowest ebb, when one day he chanced into the famous Jerry McAuley Water Street Mission, where he was converted, due to Tom Farmer, who gave him the first welcome hand he had received since he left college. From that time he has been interested particularly in saving other college men from a similar fate.

Personal interviews are Mercer's hobby. He wants to meet every man in college and be of aid to him. Interviews will be arranged during his stay here. Announcement is made that he will speak at the Presbyterian church next Sunday night and that other addresses will be delivered.

BAND FAILS TO PERFORM AT MORRIS HARVEY GAME

Four Members Unable to Play—Fifteen
Will Appear Saturday

There was no band at the Morris-Harvey game, as was expected. Leader C. M. Switzer announced that the initial appearance of the band had to be postponed on account of the absence of four members. There is only one bass in the band and he, R. G. Vance, was unexpectedly called to Roanoke. T. S. Jones, a cornetist, was kept from playing by illness, while W. P. Groseclose and L. Chafin, altos, being members of the V. M. I. band, were detained there.

The necessity of an alto was deemed so pressing that the harmonists decided to postpone their premiere rather than brave fortune with a sadly depleted corps.

Next Saturday however, the musicians will be at the game, fifteen strong, to render the Swing and other airs, the head of the organization said.

Leader Switzer has called his men in the history room for practice three times each week. Many new selections are tried, and old ones revived. So when they make their first appearance this year they will be able to give their best selections.

LAW STUDENTS HEAR BURKS

The Junior Law men had their first opportunity of hearing Dean Burks who lectured to the classes of Mr. Moreland Monday and today.

It is very probable that opportunities to hear Mr. Burks will be rare in the future, because, although the Dean will be in his office in Tucker Hall nearly all the time during the present session, his work on the Revision of the Virginia code will require all his available time.

METHODIST CHURCH RECEPTION

A number of students attended the annual reception held by the Methodist church Thursday night in honor of the students of Washington and Lee and the cadets of V. M. I. The ladies of the congregation acted as hostesses in the Sunday school room where the reception was held. Refreshments were served and a most enjoyable time reported by those present.

SENIOR ENGINEER ELECT OFFICERS

The Senior Engineering class elected the following men at its meeting last Monday, Sept. 28th. President, C. S. Davidson; vice president, B. H. Farghar; secretary, S. G. Keller; treasurer, G. S. Morrison; historian, G. M. Penick; executive committeeman, J. C. Fisher.

Southern Seminary viewed the Generals' overwhelming victory over Morris Harvey college Saturday. About sixty-five drove from Buena Vista to Lexington Saturday in time to see the game. It was their first visit this year.

A meeting of the Junior class was called for Monday afternoon, but when only eight appeared it was decided to postpone all action. Three class offices are to be filled, they being vice president; secretary and historian.

Should Respect Officials

In all sports there must be some official whose ruling is final. Thus in football, the decision of the referee must be accepted at all events. In the stands at the Morris-Harvey game some of the spectators disapproving of the referee's decision that Donahue had run out of bounds, voiced their peevish feelings in audible tones. Openly they hooted the official. Such practices are unsportsmanlike. Especially was the action uncalled for, as Washington and Lee was leading its adversaries by a commanding margin. The rulings of the officials should be respected by the players and given the moral support of the spectators. Whether the referee in question erred in his decision should not be taken into consideration. If an official is elected by the management to referee the games, he should be respected and upheld in any action that he might feel just.

We apologize to the official for the unthoughtful act of the few spectators in the bleachers and wish to assure him that such actions did not meet with the approval of the student body.

Schedules Are Pleasing

Washington and Lee is rapidly gaining an enviable position in athletics and is adopting more progressive policies in regard to the schedules of the teams. The basketball schedule, as presented, is a distinct improvement over those of the past two years. Instead of closing the baseball campaign on May 1st, when many nines begin their earliest season, the Generals will play until May 12th this season. It is a feature that will meet with the hearty endorsement of the student body.

The northern trip, which will replace the customary tour through the south, will place Washington and Lee in the limelight. With Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Army, LaFayette and Rutgers numbered among the opposing teams, the Generals will meet the most representative colleges in the east. The draft of the games to be played is highly commendable.

While no official announcement has been made of the schedule for the basketball team, it will contain features hitherto lacking. Three important games will be staged, one in Richmond, Lynchburg and Roanoke, thus giving the followers of the White and Blue an opportunity to view the Generals in action under impartial conditions. There is but scant chance that the title will not fall to the victor in these three encounters.

Welcome Ted Mercer

The announcement that "Ted" Mercer will speak to Washington and Lee students will be hailed with delight. He proved to be one of the most forceful and convincing speakers that has ever appeared in Lexington and made a vast number of admirers on his last appearance here the past spring.

Those who heard Mercer will need no urging to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him again. To the new students, it might be stated that his addresses are intensely interesting and profitable. During his brief visit to Washington and Lee last spring, he solved many questions for the wavering and will undoubtedly prove of aid during his present visit. He is a man of striking magnetism and a strong personality.

The Ring-tum Phi Staff

The Ring-tum Phi welcomes candidates for the reportorial and editorial staffs. As positions on the publication are gained through competitive trials assignments will be made on various topics until the editors are satisfied that the respective candidates have had sufficient opportunity to show their true ability. When the conclusions are arrived at, the personnel of the staff will be announced.

As the Ring-tum Phi is essentially an organ of the student body, it will chronicle all the news and happenings of the students and their activities. Those who have had previous experience on publications are urged to offer their services, although previous experience is not absolutely necessary to guarantee success.

MUSICAL CONCERT ANTICIPATED

A rare treat is contemplated for the patrons of music in Lexington. Under the auspices of Miss Annie R. White, the New York Concert company may give a concert in Lexington during the latter days of October. Miss Laura Combs, whose lyric soprano voice has caused much favorable comment, will be featured if a sufficient number of patrons will guarantee the success of the concert.

Mrs. McDermott, who last year gave a recital in the Library building, recommended Miss Combs highly to Miss White, and urged her to make an effort to secure a concert. Four other artists are in the company with Miss Combs.

Little Generals Will Play Fishburne and S. M. A. Eleven

The metal of the second Washington and Lee eleven is to be tested soon in mortal conflict. Following out last year's policy of having the Little Generals meet the leading preparatory elevens, Manager Laughlin has already scheduled games with Staunton Military Academy and Fishburne Military School. Other battles are pending.

On next Monday the scrubs will journey to Staunton, where they will clash with S. M. A. Reports from Staunton indicate that the football team will not be as strong as it was last season. S. M. A. downed a team composed of the General squad last year, 12 to 0. The scrubs, who will be selected to play, will outweigh those who met S. M. A. last year by several pounds.

Fishburne Military school has accepted terms to play W. and L. but the dates have not been announced.

Those who will be placed on the second team are not known, as Coach Elcock has not as yet hardly drawn any definite division between his players.

THE UNIVERSITY SUPPLY STORE IN NEW QUARTERS

Sandwiches and Drinks Are Served in New Store—Is Outgrowth of "Co-Op"

One of the most noticeable changes on the campus this fall is the appearance of the new University Supply store, as the outgrowth of the former "Co-op," but much enlarged and vastly more complete. The store is run for the sole benefit of the students, although it is backed financially by four members of the faculty, who, however, receive no returns other than interest on the funds they have advanced. Tickets are on sale for $1.50 which entitle holders to share in the profits at the close of the year in proportion to their purchases during the session.

A very complete stock is on the shelves including everything in the line of textbooks, stationery, supplies, candies, athletic goods and so on. There is a soft drink counter where milk shakes and other refreshing drinks are dispensed. Sandwiches and cakes are also for sale.

The store is under the management of "Ted" Shultz and several assistants.

LANNIGAN RETURNS TO WORK

Ernest J. Lanigan, head of the Washington and Lee publicity department, arrived in Lexington last Saturday to assume charge of publicity. During the past year, through his efforts, the University has been awarded liberal space in virtually every representative newspaper in the country. From the far east to far south, Washington and Lee's news has been heralded.

Mr. Lanigan is recognized as one of the leading sporting authorities. He is a regular contributor to the Sporting News and holds an enviable position as a baseball statistician. He belongs to the Baseball Writers association. He has served as sporting editor of the New York Press, the Cleveland News. He is a regular contributor to many of the largest papers in the United States.

JOGGER ELCOCK IS A FIGHTING COACH

New Generals' Mentor is Aggressive—Plays Roughly But Fairly

"Jogger" Elcock is a fighting coach.

Reminding one somewhat of former Coach Jim Reilly in his nervous and cheery way, Elcock is a man of much sterner personality and of a different cast. From the first Elcock impresses one as a cool fighter, untiring and unceasing.

A player is hurt on the field. There is no sympathy, no hesitation another takes his place. Each man must swallow his own medicine. There is no chaffing, no fooling in Elcock's domain. From the moment the player enters the field until the time of his exit, he is under the coach's eye. In fact Elcock's minute surveillance of every play and his memory of every player's name, whether a Varsity man or not, is almost uncanny.

With this faculty he drives and pounds his material into shape. Above all he is aggressive.

Elcock's coaching is something entirely novel in the South. He is an intense believer in open play, and has introduced his own tried and successful methods in such. Each day he puts the General squad through many novel experiences and drill, both to harden their muscles and vitiate their energy.

Not only does Coach Elcock believe in field work alone. Many times since the first practice he has called the squad to the chemistry lecture room at night. Each player has his rule book, and play after play are gone over, and rules and penalties studied minutely. Thus the coach's policy is carried to the extreme, making each man as efficient mentally as he is physically.

With such a development the team cannot fall short of Elcock's own declaration that Washington and Lee should have the best and most aggressive team ever in the South.

He is a firm advocate of rough football, but in a clean manner. Underhand methods in football will not be tolerated by the new leader, but he feels that football is a man's sport and should be fought with rough, manly tactics.

LITERARY SOCIETIES MEET

Washington and Graham-Lee Elect New Members—Debates Hold Innerest

The Washington Literary society held its second regular meeting Saturday night. The president, S. L. Robertson, presided. As member of the debating council, which selects the members of the debating teams, Morris Masinter, was elected.

E. S. Smith opened the program by speaking extemporaneously on "Prohibition of War by Arbitration." The debate: "That Virginia Was Wise in the Step She Took for Statewide Prohibition on Sept. 22nd." Mr. Glasgow and Mr. Hundley upheld the affirmative side against Mr. Ridenour and Mr. Masinter for the negative. The affirmative won.

The following new men were initiated into the society: R. C. Cole, I. D. Smith, W. O. Burtner, F. B. Potter, J. W. Blake and A. L. Bennett.

The third regular meeting of the Graham Lee Literary society took place last Saturday night with an unusually large attendance. Quite a large number of names were offered for admission, and seven new names were initiated.

R. N. Latture, declaimer of the evening, delivered an interesting little poem by Edwin Vance Cook, filled with a plea for manhood and courage in the many tasks of life.

W. M. Brown spoke extemporaneously on "The European War as a Factor in the Advance of Civilization," followed by Morgan Keaton on: "President Wilson's Foresight and Policy." The debate was: Resolved that the United States Should Build a Merchant Marine to Protect her Commercial Interests." Messrs. Shirk and Fowlkes upheld the affirmative in a manner worthy of praise, while the negative was ably defended by Messrs. Preston and Blackford.

MANY CANDIDATES OFFER FOR CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Coach Fletcher Trains a Hefty Squad For the Big Event

In preparation for the S. A. I. A. A. cross country run, Coach Fletcher is slowly developing Washington and Lee's team. Seventeen aspirants are trying for positions on the cross country team, while early twenty others are being trained for other track events.

J. B. Johnson, winner of the local five mile event in 1913, and Englebert, runner up, compose a nucleus around which Coach Fletcher hopes to evolve a strong long distance squad. Dean, Moore, Hastings, Rivers, Adams, Coates, Beall, J. M. Johnson, A. S. Johnson, McCready, Setwart, McNitt, Green, Newburger and Troiano are other candidates for the cross country five.

The course of the run will be along the Natural Bridge road to Wilson Field. The finish will consist of two laps around the track.

Among the various candidates for track are a Chinaman and a Porto Rican. Lee hails from the Orient, while de la Haba is from Porto Ricc. In Penney, Bailey and Hastings, two recent recruits, Coach Fletcher feels that he had two very promising men.

Several track meets are being anticipated.

Professor Schermerhorn, the newly elected member of the law faculty, will present several copies of his most recent publication: "Essentials to the Action in Tort," to the law library.

MORRIS-HARVEY CRUSHED BY POWERFUL GENERAL MACHINE

Donahue ran seventeen yards to touchdown, aided by superb interference by Young. Young's accurate boot scored the second goal.

The ball was put in play on the twenty yard line, for Young's kick soared over the line. Three successive downs resulted in no gain for Marshall, while Snodgrass kicked on the fourth down, but W. and L. was adjudged offside and penalized. Kirk failed, but Montgomery advanced five yards. Morris Harvey was penalized fifteen yards for holding. This penalty gave Morris Harvey a scant margin from their goal line and Snodgrass was forced to kick. A low diagonal punt followed, Gallagher catching it and sprinting ten yards to the third touchdown. Young annexed goal.

Substitutes Enter Game

Following the third score, Trigg relieved Barrow, Krusen replaced Scarry, Harris substituted for Dingwall and Graham supplanted Seeley.

Young kicked fifty eight yards to Snodgrass, who returned the oval ten yards. Kirk failed to gain as the first quarter closed. But twelve yards separated the Generals from their goal.

The West Virignians essayed the forward pass with failure resulting. Snodgrass punted fifteen yards to Gallagher, who darted around left end for touchdown. Young kicked goal. Bagley relieved Donahue at quarter. Snodgrass returned Young's fifty five yard kick twelve yards. Harris threw Kirk for a loss. The forward pass to Coffman afforded a five yard gain, but it failed on the third down. Snodgrass kicked twenty five yards to Gallagher, who was downed forty yards from the line by Coffman. Bagley directed a forward pass to Graham and it resulted in a thirty five yard gain. The same maneuver was repeated, Graham catching it behind the goal line. Gallagher kicked goal, Young having been injured and relieved by Smith. Starnes replaced Harrison.

Gallagher returned Snodgrass' thirty yard punt, twenty yards. Smith went six yards around left end. IZARD was substituted for Miles. Gallagher ripped through the wavering line for fifty two yards and registered another touchdown. When he kicked goal, W. and L. had forty two points. Osborn relieved Montgomery at right half for Morris Harvey.

Gallagher kicked thirty yards to Pennington, who returned five yards. Kirk failed and Snodgrass kicked fifteen yards without gain, as Gallagher advanced the punt the same distance. McCutcheon broke up the forward pass on the first trial, but Starnes made six on a following pass. Bagley failed to gain, while Kirk intercepted a forward pass on his ten yard line. Coffman made seven yards on a forward pass, but Snodgrass and McClung failed, forcing Snodgrass to kick to Bagley. Gallagher lunged for twenty two yards. Milner and Gallagher alternating failed to make downs on four trials and the ball went over as the first half ended.

Generals Swell Score

The Generals continued their rout of Morris Harvey in the closing half, despite frequent substitutions. Coffman kicked thirty five yards to Miles, who sprinted twenty five yards forward. Young circled left end for a touchdown, only to be recalled as W. and L. was offside. Donahue

STUDENT SPEAKERS AT Y. M. C. A.

Dr. James Lewis Howe addressed the weekly Y. M. C. A. meeting in the chapel on last Tuesday night on the subject: "The College Man and the Church." In his forceful and inspiring way he urged every college man, old or new, to identify himself with some church, not only as a privilege but as a duty to be performed.

The Y. M. C. A. membership cards are now being distributed from the office of the general secretary. Every man in school is entitled to one free, on presentation of his athletic ticket or matriculation slip. These cards are good in all Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country, and can be used especially during vacation.

The regular Tuesday night Y. M. C. A. meeting will be held in the chapel tonight at 7:30 as usual. The speakers will be several of the most prominent men in the student body, and they will make short talks on the topic of "The College Man's Debt."

TOM FARMER TO LEAVE

After a long sojourn in Lexington, Tom Farmer is to leave. Within the next ten days, he will depart for a visit to the colleges through the south. Following the Mott campaign, Mr. Farmer came to Lexington to speak and has remained here since that time, from his health. During the summer months, he conducted a mission in East Lexington for the Presbyterian church.

circled left end for twenty five yards, while Young scored on an off-side play for a fifteen yard advance. He kicked goal. Young kicked to Pennington, whom Miles downed in his tracks. After two futile trials, Coffman punted ten yards to Young, who scored, to be recalled, when W. and L. was offside. When Kirk essayed the forward pass, Young grabbed the oval and ran sixteen yards to touchdown. He sent the oval through the bars from a difficult angle.

The count was boosted to 63 soon. After Young kicked, the Generals gained the ball. A well directed forward pass, from Donahue to Seeley, enabled the speedy end to gain twenty one yards and cross the goal line. Young kicked goal. Following the routine kickoff, the Generals recovered a fumbled ball and Donahue circled right end for seventeen yards and the tenth touchdown. Again Young scored a goal after touchdown.

Young reopened play with a forty-five yard boot to McClung. Morris Harvey college failed to gain and kicked twenty five yards to Donahue, who sputtered thirty five yards through a broken field. Young got away for a touchdown but Scarry was judged holding and consequently recalled. Following the penalization, the forward pass to Harrison failed, but Young skirted left end for thirty eight yards and scored a touchdown. He kicked goal.

Following Young's kickoff, several substitutions were made. Camp, McHenry, Myles, Hinkle, Izard and Starnes relieved the regulars. Young fumbled the punt. Coffman made eight yards on a forward pass, but his punt was blocked and rebounded back of the line. It was recovered by McHenry, who was accredited with a touchdown. Young failed to land a goal.

May received the punt, but was tackled heavily by three Generals and rendered unconscious. The whistle blew, closing the quarter.

Forward Pass Productive

In the fourth quarter, the score was boosted over the 100 mark, when three touchdowns were scored. The Generals had greater difficulty in advancing. Donahue gained six around end, while Graham advanced twenty yards on a forward pass, and registered a touchdown. Bill Smith failed to register a goal.

Wadsworth and Moses were dispatched into the fray. Smith booted forty five yards to McClung, who advanced ten yards. McEldowney was hurled for a loss by Camp, while the next two forward passes were incomplete. Kirk kicked to Moses, who was downed in his tracks. Hallman was sent to end. On the first down, the forward pass failed, but Hallman advanced twenty yards on the second attempt. Following a short gain by Donahue, Hallman caught a pass from Donahue with one hand and scored a touchdown. Smith kicked goal.

The last touchdown resulted when Bill Smith skirted left end for sixty one yards following a series of consistent gains. In the last few minutes of play, MacGregor, Collins, Adams and Paxton entered the game.

The fair students, whose visit is fondly recalled by Washington and Lee, will journey to Lexington on a special train from Lynchburg, will view a football game and return to College Park the same afternoon.
