MERCER SPEAKS TO LARGE CROWD

Many Students Hear His Address in the Chapel—Speaks Again

Speaking to an audience of more than 400 men in the chapel last Saturday night, "Ted" Mercer urged upon the students of Washington and Lee the necessity and prime importance of clean living. "The three fundamental vices of the American college man of today," said Mr. Mercer, "are drink, gambling, and social impurity. The temptations of a man, who is off at school, are probably greater than those of any other class of individuals, and it is for this reason that the college man needs more than any other to be on his guard."

Continuing along these lines, Mr. Mercer showed from his own experience and from the experience of other men with whom he is acquainted, that being a "good" fellow does not pay. He cited a number of cases to emphasize the fact, that he was not speaking from theory or hearsay evidence, but from the actual facts, and concluded by making a strong plea for men, who will have enough backbone and courage to do what they know is right, regardless of what the other fellow says or does.

Dr. Pollard presided over the meeting, and after those present had joined in singing the "Swing," "Pete" Gibson led in the Long Yell for "Mercer." The address was listened to with close attention, and was well received by those who heard it.

Mr. Mercer also spoke to a large audience in the Presbyterian church last Sunday night, narrating a number of his past experiences in the famous Water Street Mission and among the schools and colleges of the country.

Tomorrow night he will, with Tom Farmer and A. C. Harte, of New York city, hold a farewell meeting in the chapel to which all the men in school are invited.

STAUNTON BUILDER GETS CONTRACT

M. B. Stoddard Submitted Lowest Bid—Completed by Aug. 1, 1915

The contract for the erection of the Doremus gymnasium for Washington and Lee university was let by the building committee Saturday to M. B. Stoddard of Staunton. The successful bidder's price was, excluding the foundation, which is now under way, and is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000, was not announced.

Under the terms of the contract the builder is to complete the building and turn it over to the college authorities by Aug. 15, 1915, or be liable to a forfeit of fifty dollars for each day's delay after that date. Mr. Stoddard will be remembered as the builder of the University Com-

Washington and Lee scored a third overwhelming victory Saturday, when Roanoke College was humbled, 59 to 0. The Generals, with a switched lineup, made rapid onslaughts against their adversaries in the opening period, registering four touchdowns in quick succession. The march was checked in the second quarter, while Roanoke threatened to penetrate the Blue and White goal line in the third period. But, before it neared the line, a fumble resulted and the advance was arrested.

The Generals played a remarkably strong offensive game, but did not star on defensive play. In the third quarter, the Roanoke backs registered three successive first downs. Through the line, the White and Blue backfield did not advance with giant strides, but the superior speed of the General backs overcame Roanoke. Sensational runs were responsible for three of the eight touchdowns. Donahue registering two scores on a fifty one yard sprint in the first quarter and the final touchdown after a thirty six yard run. Young intercepted a forward pass in the opening period and darted unchecked eighty one yards across the goal line, after cleverly evading the secondary defense.

The first goal of the 1914 campaign was registered in the third period. After the Generals had experienced three futile downs, Young essayed kicking a goal from placement on the forty yard line and succeeded, the oval soaring through the bars easily.

The forward pass was put into operation several times, Seeley registering a touchdown in the opening quarter on a pass of twenty eight yards. Penalizations handicapped the Generals quite often, especially in the third quarter.

Recovered Fumbles Aid Generals

Recovered fumbles aided the victors. Twice Pierotti, who played an aggressive game at center, recovered the pigskin within scoring distance of the line, while Harrison made a neat recovery. Young and Gallagher did not gain the opportunity to punt, but kicked off in fine style. Three times Young booted the ball over the goal line. Roanoke College did not have a punter, but on the fourth down Duncan would draw back and throw a long forward pass out of bounds. The bit of strategy worked well at first, but the officials soon prevented its use.

Donahue, Seeley, Gallagher and Young scored touchdowns in the first quarter, while Donahue added his second in the second period. Young's goal from placement prevented a barren third quarter, but Young, Sweetland and Donahue registered in the last session.

Young kicked each of the six goals he essayed, while Gallagher booted the last two.

Individual stars were numerous.

Game in Detail

First quarter: Roanoke won the toss and took the north goal. Donahue elected to receive the kick. Kreiger kicked to forty yard line, Young returned thirty four; Gallagher gained one; Donahue circled right for fifty yards for touchdown. Young kicked goal.

Young kicked over goal line and the ball was brought out to Roanoke's twenty yard line, Bonham hit the line for four, Keieger fumbled and Pierotti recovered. W. and L's ball on twenty yard line. Beuhring hit the line for four, Young added one, Donahue lost eight yards on attempted pass, Young was thrown for four yards. Roanoke's ball on their twenty yard line. Bunting gained one through line, Hoffman around left end for two, Bonham five yards through line, Krieger attempted a pass which was incomplete. Ball over to W. and L. on Roanoke's twenty seven yard line. Young and Beuhring both failed to gain, the next play was a pass from Donahue to Seeley which added twenty eight yards making touchdown. Young kicked goal.

Young kicked sixty yards to Bonham who returned ball to twenty yard line, Bonham fumbled, Pierotti recovered. W. and L.'s ball on Roanoke's eighteen yard line. Beuhring smashed center for four, Gallagher hiked around left end for eight, on a sideline play Donahue gained six yards and Gallagher went over for touchdown. Young kicked goal.

Young kicked over goal line and ball was brought to Roanoke's twenty yard line. Hoffman tore through the line for six, Bonham repeated his tactics for three, and Kreiger made first down through tackle. Bunting dashed around end for eighteen, Hoffman, Bunting and Bonham made first down on successive line lunges. Tavener replaced Kreiger. Travener fumbled but Duncan recovered. Bonham plunged through center for eight and Hoffman made first

GEORGETOWN HAS A STRONG ELEVEN

Team Has Average Weight of 174 Pounds—Seven New Men on Team

After winning, by overwhelming scores the preliminary games with Marshall, Morris-Harvey and Roanoke College, Washington and Lee will meet a worthy foe in Georgetown. A mighty aggregation in weight and aggressiveness opposes the Generals. The average weight of the Varsity men is 174 pounds. From tackle to tackle, Georgetown averages 187. The backfield boasts of a mark of 161. In every respect, Washington and Lee is outweighed by several pounds.

In matter of experience, the Generals excel. Seven of the eleven regulars, who are expected to start against the Catholics, are monogram men. Seven of the Georgetown grid iron array are newcomers. Ward-Mahlum, McKenna, Gorley, Campbell, Golden and Noark, all of who have been assigned regular positions, are first year men, while Cusack and Foley have played one year. Barren has battled for two consecutive campaigns, while Captain Murray is playing his fourth season.

In height, Georgetown does not possess out one man over six feet, but averages five feet ten inches. The average age is slightly over twenty one. Here are the men Washington and Lee must down:

Player	Pos.	Years on Team	Height	Weight	Age
Cusack	L. E.	2	5.9	165	20
Ward	L. T.	1	6	202	19
Mahlum	L. G.	1	5.10	170	22
McKenna	C.	1	5.3	190	22
Barron	R. G.	3	5.11	190	22
Gormley	R. T.	1	5.11	226	21
Campbell	R. E.	1	6.1	156	21
Foley	Q.	2	5.7	145	22
Golden	L. H.	1	5.10	165	22
Murray (Capt.)	R. H.	4	5.8	161	22
Noark	F.	1	5.11	175	21

SUBSTITUTES
Cronin	L. E.	1	5.8	164	22
McCarthy	L. T.	1	5.11	197	20

Crowe	C.	1	5.9	170	21
Conwell	R. G.	1	5.11	210	23

Landreau	L. H.	2	5.9	160	20
Joyce	R. H.	1	5.8	165	22
Weiser	F.	1	5.10	155	22

It is a matter of conjecture as to who will face Georgetown. Coach Elcock has devised two lineups and has not definitely decided who will start. The backfield, Sweetland and Beuhring are waging a merry fight for fullback. "Cannonball" Beuhring, the hefty fullback, has never reached his true form, while Sweetland has played a wonderful line lunging game. At center, left guard and right end, similar fights are being made for positions. Pierotti showed to advantage against Roanoke at center, and may hold the position for he played center with Everett high in Boston. Barrow may be shifted to left guard. Or perhaps, Dingwall will operate at guard, while Barrow will go to center and Pierotti to end.

Harrison and Seeley have impressed Coach Elcock and either may start the battle at right end. Ira Simms will cavort at left end. With this uncertainty existing, no comparisons of the weight of the contending

GENERALS ARE PREPARING FOR GEORGETOWN FRAY

Coach Elcock Watches Washington Bunch in Action — "Send-off" Meeting Thursday Night

Washington and Lee will not be taken unawares by the Georgetown formations and wily tricks unless Coach Exendine displays an entire new system of tactics. Coach W. B. Elcock viewed the Washington eleven in action Saturday, while Assistant Coach Bill Raftery witnessed the Navy-Georgetown clash in Annapolis. They feel they have had ample time to get a line on what Georgetown has in players and maneuvers.

Both agree that Georgetown is strong, but neither is pessimistic about the outlook. Georgetown, they feel, will out weigh the Generals, but will not possess the speed, especially in the backfield. However, Coach Raftery declares the Washington backfield is far from slow.

While Elcock watched Georgetown, the Blue and Gray had several viewing the W. and L.-Roanoke college encounter. A hectic fight is anticipated in Richmond.

Realizing the importance of a victory over Georgetown in Richmond the student body will give voice to its enthusiasm in a rousing send off to the team Thursday night. The followers of the Generals are in hearty sympathy with Coach Elcock and the team and wish to evidence their appreciation of the hard work of both coaches and players.

The tentative program is to have the meeting opened with short, snappy talks by ex Captain Moomaw, Coach Elcock, Assistant Coach Raftery, Captain Donahue and others, outlining the situation of the team and the importance of giving it good strong support. The band will take advantage of the opportunity to make its second appearance in public, and promises a full repertoire of lively tunes.

The speaking completed, the band will lead off in the "Swing", after which a short rooting practice is to be held. All the old yells will be run through two or three times until they can be given with the right amount of "pep", and it is hoped that Cheer leader Davis may have a few new ones to announce. The freshmen will be expected to be well up on the yells, and to join in on them vigorously, with possibilities of nocturnal punishment in any cases of failure to do so.

It is the plan of the committee to have the entire student body at the station Friday morning to give the team a good send off.

Quite a number of people from Salem and Roanoke, Va., motored up to see the W. and L.-Roanoke game last Saturday.

SOUTHERN COLLEGIAN TO HAVE MANY NEW FEATURES

First Issue Will Appear Late in October — Bear is Editor

With several new features, the Southern Collegian will make its initial appearance this year during the latter part of October. James E. Bear was recently elected by the executive committee as editor of the Collegian and he has appointed the following staff: M. L. Masinter, assistant editor in chief; W. M. Brown and William Lamont, short story editors; W. M. Brown, Y. M. C. A. news editor; Ralph Ferrell, exchange editor, and N. B. Adams poetry and essay editor.

Two new departments have been added to the Collegian to make it most attractive. The Spotlight department directed by Morris Masinter will feature students who attain excellence in athletics, scholarship and other phases of college life. The Miscellaneous department, edited by W. M. Brown, will see the addition of humorous matter to the usually staid literary columns of the quarterly.

The magazine promises to possess a snap that has been lacking in past years. Paul Derrickson is manager of the publication and feels that the students should support the Collegian.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Owing to the meeting in the chapel tomorrow night, at which "Ted" Mercer and Tom Farmer will speak for the last time before leaving W. and L., there will be no Y. M. C. A. meeting tonight.

On last Tuesday night the first student meeting of the school year was held in the chapel at 7:30. The subject: "The College Man's Duty," was ably and enthusiastically presented by all the speakers. J. C. Fisher spoke on the college man's duty to the community; R. W. Fowlkes on his duty to student activities, and T. McP. Glasgow on his duty to the University, which is his alma mater.

A. C. Harte, traveling secretary for the International association and one of the well-known speakers at the Kansas City convention, will be in Lexington on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. He will be open to interviews at any time regarding the foreign mission work, and will also make a short talk in the chapel on Wednesday night.

Kid Williams, instructor in chemistry, is confined to the hospital with a threatened attack of diphtheria.

Roger Bear was injured about the head in a street car accident in Staunton.

MAJORITY MEET THEIR EXPENSES

Records Show That More Than Half of Students Pay Expenses

A perusal of the records in the registrar's office reveals the somewhat surprising fact that of the total number of students enrolled in Washington and Lee the majority are meeting their own expenses either wholly or partially. A recent count ascertained that the total number of students in school is 486. Of this number 238 gave in the statement that they either wholly or partially met their own expenses, 212 bore no part of their expenses and thirty eight failed to answer the question.

Of the 238 who receive aid, 105 are meeting all of their personal expenses, fifty one of this number being in the law school and fifty-four in the academic. Of the 133 who are paying part of their expenses forty nine are enrolled as lawyers and eighty four are academic students. Thirty eight law students and 174 academic students are receiving all of their expenses from sources other than themselves, a total to which probably most of the thirty eight who failed to answer the question should be added.

While the list of those meeting their own expenses, of course, contains a good number who are paying their way from their personal incomes from estates, probably the majority are men who are being supported by work in college outside of their curriculum duties. The total number that this search reveals only adds more to Washington and Lee's claim of being essentially a democratic institution in every respect.

Alumni Notes

Jesse E. Lewis, ex '09, married Miss Evelyn Reynolds of Birmingham, early in September.

Merrill Pratt, assistant coach in football under Dr. Pollard, was married in September to Miss Leontine Ramsaur in Boston.

Edward S. Delaplaine, a member of the debating team that defeated Tulane last year, is studying law at the University of Maryland.

Frederick Ordeman, who was instructor in chemistry last year, is studying at Johns Hopkins for his Ph. D. degree.

George Kern, '14, has entered the Richmond Theological seminary. He accepted a position as professor with the Tennessee Military Institute, but changed his plans.

Tom Rothrock, '12, resigned as coach of the Union University football team recently. Financial retrenchment by the University necessitated the change.

Emory C. Nusc, who was a member of the Sophomore class last year and who married Miss Young of Lexington on Sept. 16th, is at present residing in Frederick, Md., at the home of his grandfather.

William McChesney Martin, '95, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust company of St. Louis, Mo., has been chosen chairman and Federal reserve agent of the Federal Reserve bank, which will be established in St. Louis according to an official announcement at Washington, D. C.

COLLEGE GOLF CLUB PROPOSED

A movement, headed by E. B. Hampton, is now on foot to start a golf club at Washington and Lee. Such action had been anticipated, as several devotees of the game were students at W. and L. It is announced that a nominal fee will be charged for the use of the local links, and the aggregation of niblick swingers will soon be under way.

Matches will be sought with the Lexington club, the University of Virginia golf team and others; Washington and Lee will enter the list of colleges boasting of golf teams.

Among those who are contemplating joining the club are: E. P. Davis, W. P. Burton, E. B. Hampton, J. L. Riley, P. H. Jones, J. H. McGinnis, J. G. Glass, W. G. Langhoun, J. M. Faulkner, T. M. Glasgow, R. H. Gardner, J. B. Wadsworth, J. Howe and M. W. Paxton, Jr., who holds the record score of thirty four for the local nine hole course.

John Faison has joined the hospital corps with an attack of fever, which may develop into typhoid.

A Distinct Surprise

Announcement by the University that attendance to all University assemblies in the future would be compulsory, with a fine for failure to present an excuse for non attendance, was received with surprise by the student body. That such action would be taken by the faculty was neither forecast nor intimated. While the ruling is not drastic, it contains a feature that will hardly strike a responsive chord among the students.

Attendance to the University assemblies was supposed to be compulsory last year, but the ruling was not strictly enforced and a number of students failed to attend or present excuses for having been absent. Feeling that such action should not be countenanced, the faculty adopted the resolution without having appealed to the students for support or to obtain their views on the matter.

The catalog, issued this year, does not contain any intimation that absence from chapel is punishable by fine or disbarment from classes. Inasmuch as the students were never consulted in the matter, it would seem that an undue advantage was taken of them. We are willing to admit that students should attend and support all functions of the University, but we feel that the students should have been consulted in a matter so pertinent to them.

The ruling is not drastic. Indeed it can do nothing but work good. The fine is not intended to produce revenue to tide the fortunes of the University, but merely to force the students to present excuses for having failed to attend the assemblies. The authorities do not feel that their edict is too drastic or stringent. They realize the necessity of respect of their wishes. But despite all this, it must be conceded that the students ought to have been consulted. Had the matter been presented to them in an impartial manner, the end in view could have been obtained without the students feeling their approval or good will was not valued by the faculty.

Are College Students Serious?

The college student is generally pictured as a rather sleek looking individual with empty heads and full pockets, his most pregnant desire being to spend the sheels of his sire in as short a time as possible. But when cold figures are obtained, nothing is proved to be more far fetched. The majority of students at Washington and Lee are paying either partly or wholly their attendant expenses.

When a man is willing to work his way through an institution of learning by his own travail, it reflects a spirit of earnest desire to obtain an education. The democratic spirit that pervades Washington and Lee is shown in the admiration for men who are earning their way. Many of the most popular men in college are numbered among the self supporting.

Perhaps this situation is more acute this year than in the past. With the depression that prevails over the country and especially in the South, many have been forced to assume the personal responsibility of providing an education, who, under ordinary conditions, would have been in a position to attend college with expenses paid. Not only is it true in the law school, but also in the academic circles.

Statistics show that 228 men in 448 statements recorded are partially or wholly paying their own expenses. Of the entire number registered, but thirty eight failed to record the fact.

Boost the Band

Washington and Lee now boasts of a band that should become a regular feature. Under Leader Switzer the harmonists proved that a student organization could produce enough enthusiasm and pleasure to warrant its efforts. It is probably the best band that Washington and Lee has possessed in years.

The Athletic council and the Executive committee, realizing that it merited support, donated thirty dollars to the band, which will be used to procure new selections and other necessities. But the most necessary support is that of the student body. Applause greeted every selection that the musicians rendered Saturday. Such spirit will make it still better.

When the football rally is staged Thursday, the band will make its second appearance.

Hard Schedule Faces Generals

To achieve victory in the remaining six games, Coach Elcock and his henchmen will have an arduous task. Following the momentous clash with Georgetown in Richmond, Wake Forest will be encountered. Slight opposition is expected with the Baptists, but then come four gruelling battles. V. P. I., Swathmore, West Virginia and North Carolina A. and M. must be met before Thanksgiving.

The Virginia Techs do not imperil the Generals as much as do Swarthmore, West Virginia and the Aggies. West Virginia is stronger than in 1913, while the North Carolina Aggies seem to be just a hefty. The result against Georgetown will tell the tale. Therefore it behooves the General supporters to rally behind the team and give it every whit of encouragement.

"On to Roanoke"

This famous slogan is printed to remind the followers of the Generals that there will be a mighty clash in Roanoke with V. P. I. ere long. Let every preparation be made to view Washington and Lee encounter the Techs, traditional rivals and worthy foes.

LITTLE GENERALS LOSE FIRST GAME TO S. M. A. TEAM

The Little Generals lost the first game of the season to Staunton Military academy Monday in Staunton 14 to 0. The S. M. A. backfield crashed through the White and Blue line for consistent gains, Schamb scoring both touchdowns.

The first came in the opening period, while the other occurred in the third. The cadets failed to kick goal, but scored a safety. Bagley, Trigg, Henkle and Wadsworth starred for the scrubs. The lineup:

S. M. A.	Position	W. and L.
Mattson	L. E.	Hallman
Sawyer	L. T.	McHenry
Brennam	L. G.	Krusen
Enide	C.	Trigg
Randolph, Douglas	R. G.	Shore

Substitutions: Paxton for Collins; Macgregor for Haliman.

PEG O'MY HEART HERE

"Peg O'My Heart" will appear at the Lyric Thursday night with Doris Moore in the title role. The play had a record run in New York City and will be one of the best attractions coming to Lexington this season. The same company will appear in Richmond and Lynchburg.

During the past week, "Broadway Jones" and "Mutt and Jeff" were seen at the Lyric. Although few saw it, Broadway Jones was a genuine treat. The company was quite capable. Mutt and Jeff was much better than many musical comedies seen here. The chorus was striking looking and well trained.

mons. His bid was the lowest of sixteen competitors, the estimates varying considerably. Work on the foundation has been delayed on account of the difficulty encountered in grading the site of the building but it will be finished in sufficient time to enable the contractors to get an early start on the erection of the structure.

H. E. Pemberton, '18, departed for Muskogee, Okla., last week. It is reported that he feared another visit from the Violence committee.

BAND MAKES ITS FIRST APPEARANCE AT THE GAME

Composed of Fifteen Pieces, W. &amp; L. Musicians Make a Hit

Along with the other features of Saturday's game with Roanoke College was the initial appearance of the Washington and Lee band. The band is composed of fifteen students, all musicians of more or less previous experience.

The music played was especially pleasing both as to quality and class exhibited. The Swing was rendered several times and in addition a number of popular marches and hits were given an enthusiastic reception by the student body.

A great help to the band in the matter of equipment was the contribution of thirty dollars which was recently made toward it. Of this amount the executive committee appropriated fifteen and the athletic council fifteen. It is needless to say that the student body appreciates to the fullest the efforts of the men who so willingly expend their time and energy in making the band a success.

The personnel of the organization is as follows: Solo cornets, Switzer, Jones, Chafin and Dean; first cornets, Preston, Junkin and Rocheron; second cornet, Williams; first trombone, Groseclose; clarinet, Stone; Baritone, Showell; altos, Arnold and Riley; bass, Vance; snare drum, Carson; bass drum, Minter.

GEORGETOWN GAME WILL BE RECEIVED IN DETAIL

Wire Will Give the Struggle By Downs — Returns at the Lyric

The returns of the Georgetown-Washington and Lee game in Richmond will be received Saturday in Lexington by a leased special wire from the scene of battle. W. W. Preston, manager of the Lyric theatre, has given the Athletic association permission to use the theatre for the afternoon and the profit of the venture will be given to athletics. The game will be called play by play, with various matters of interest before the game and between the quarters. A special operator will receive the wires. Mr. Preston donated the use of the building without the slightest profit.

SICK ROLL INCREASES

The hospital corps is gradually increasing in numbers. T. S. Jones was the first to be confined to the Jackson Memorial hospital, but he was followed by Ki Williams, instructor in chemistry, and John Faison. "Dr." Williams is suffering from diphtheria while Mr. Faison has a slight attack of typhoid fever.

Quarantine threatens to upset the usual routine of the economics department. Paul Dulaney Converse, assistant in economics and politics, has been quarantined to his room, as he was exposed to diphtheria. J. C. Ogilvie, too, was quarantined for the same reason.

NOTICE TO KODAKERS

Coach Elcock invites the kodack fiends among the students to come to Wilson field tomorrow afternoon between 3 and 4 to get pictures of the General aggregation.

J. B. Gladney, '17, accompanied the little Generals to Staunton. His sister, Miss Florine Gladney, is a student at Stuart Hall.

Social and Personal

Dean Harry Campbell has returned from a visit to Philadelphia.

Professor Moreland was a visitor in Norfolk last week.

Dr. Howe was in Richmond last week.

Summerfield McCartney is back in school.

John Reeves was a visitor in Charlottesville Saturday.

L. A. McMurrin, '09, of Norfolk, was in Lexington on Saturday.

Junius Peake was in Lynchburg last week.

"Coche" Neal was in Lynchburg on business last Saturday night.

T. S. Jones has recovered from a slight attack of malarial fever.

Selden Jones has recovered from his illness and has left the hospital.

T. G. Woodson, '18, spent Sunday in Lynchburg.

Fulton Hogue was visited by his father Saturday at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Miss Augusta Pearce has returned to Lexington for an extended visit to Miss Nell Carrington.

Jack Martin and Dick Fowlkes spent Saturday and Sunday in Lynchburg.

Jack Newton, ex '15, of Roanoke, Va., spent the week end at the University.

Tom Hassell, ex-'17, who is in business in Norfolk, has been visiting at the K. A. house.

Dr. Reid White left last week for Philadelphia, where he will spend some time.

Clarence Sager, '14, is paying a short visit to the Alpha Chi Rho house.

S. O. Laughlin was in Richmond last week making arrangements for the Georgetown game.

Professor Granville Campbell has sufficiently recovered from his illness to conduct his lectures.

Morgan Keaton, manager of this sheet, was in Roanoke and Lynchburg last week on business.

Charles S. Glasgow has left for Charlotte, N. C., where he will enter the practice of law.

Lawrence Wales has temporarily withdrawn from school on account of sickness. He is now at his home in Norfolk.

Mrs. H. D. Campbell has returned from Baltimore, where she was recuperating from the effects of an operation.

Dabney Kern of Charleston, W. Va., is visiting his parents, Professor and Mrs. J. W. Kern, on Letcher avenue.

Harry Moran returned to Lexington after a successful season as pitcher with the Buffalo Federal league team. The southpaw won ten games and lost but six. His team finished fourth in the running. He will probably matriculate in the law school.

See line of suits made to order, now showing at J. Ed Deaver's.

THE HARRY LEES RETURN THEIR ENTIRE FIRST CREW

Albert Sidney Has But One Oarsman to Rely Upon

Returning only one oarsman, R. N. Latture of last year's first crew, the Albert Sidney boat club is laboring under a serious handicap. However they have taken advantage of the splendid weather lately to send out for fall practice five crews daily. The squad is composed of the following men:

Oarsmen: Old Men—Latture, Utt, Humphries, McMillan, Cox, Gilliam, Thornburg and Worth; new men, Sloan, Anderson, Thomas, H. Brown, Coleman, Marshall, Fisher, H. C. Brown, Lee, Walker, Lopez, Shirk, Platt, Gardner, Callison, Junkin, Miles and Clemmer—coxswains: Old Men—Manning, Preston and Blackford; new men, Thayer, Riley and De la Haba.

The following officers were elected at a recent meeting of the club: R. N. Latture, president; J. R. Manning, vice president; and W. C. Preston, secretary treasurer. These men will also compose the crew committee:

The Harry Lees are more fortunate than their rivals in returning their entire first crew: L. B. White, J. C. Leith, J. S. Oglesby, C. W. Gooch, and G. M. Penick, coxswain. Besides these there are from last year's second crew—L. T. Wales and B. S. Sanford, who will form a fine nucleus for the lesser aggregation. Stribbling and Campbell complete the quota of coxswains.

The club will not, however, rely too much on their present advantage, but will set out on a months fall training immediately.

GEORGETOWN HAS STRONG ELEVEN

eleven can be obtained. However, the heaviest line Washington and Lee can husband will be five or six pounds lighter than the Georgetown array.

In speed and aggressiveness, Coach Elcock focuses his hope of a victory. The W. and L. backfield—composed of Donahue, Young, Gallagher and Sweetland is expected to outluster the opposing combination—Foley, Golden, Murray and Noark in speed, but not in avoirdupois. Upon the aggressiveness of the Generals depends the outcome of the conflict and the W. and L. coaching staff is whipping the men in shape.

Georgetown has made a varied showing so far this season. In the opening game against Fordham, a 0 to 0 score resulted, but in the second battle Navy won by a scant thirteen points.

"JINX" PERSUES ENGLAND

Bob England seems to be followed by a persistent jinx. The plucky halfback suffered a broken collar bone in scrimmage Thursday. It was the first serious injury sustained by a General this season, although a number of minor mishaps have occurred to regulars and substitutes.

Hardly had the season gotten well under way in 1913 than England broke an ankle and was incapacitated for the rest of the year. However he expects to take another fling at the opposing elevens before the campaign closes, if the bone heals sufficiently.

FOR RENT: One large room with heat, light and bath. Apply to No. 22 White street. Suitable for two. For one month only.

Two Shows Nightly

RED AND GREEN HATS WILL APPEAR SOON

P. A. N. and W. F. Societies Select "Goats"—Cotillion Club Elect Also

It will not be many days before Red and Green hats that will outluster those chapeaux of the Freshmen in brilliancy and freakishness will appear. The P. A. N. Ribbon society and the White Friar Ribbon society have held the annual fall meetings and have elected the new members. Soon the newly elected upper classmen will appear in sub freshmen roles, performing the usual bizarre stunts and delivering the routine addresses.

Until after Thanksgiving, the "goats" will be subjected to the "goating" and then the annual initiation will take place, preceded by the show. Billy Wright was elected president of the P. A. N., while Bill Raftery was reelected secretary and treasurer.

The Cotillion club, too, has elected members. Bids were extended during the early part of this week. The membership will be forty as usual.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN BUSY

As the time for the South Atlantic cross country run draws nearer, interest in track is daily increasing. Coach Fletcher expects the date of the run to be Saturday before Thanksgiving.

It should prove quite an exciting race, as the best men from such schools as Virginia, Georgetown, V. P. I., A. and M., and some others will in all likelihood enter this event.

Coach Fletcher is working hard to develop a team which will be able to bunch together well up to the front at the finish. Each team is allowed to enter twelve men, but may start only seven in the race. The team will not be picked until the time for the race draws closer and the ability of the various candidates is developed to a greater extent.

The coach will pick no man for this event whom he believes will not be able to finish. A fairly large squad is now working daily over the road, among which are the following: J. B. Johnson, Englebert, Hastings, Stuart Moore, A. S. Johnson, Malcolm Johnson, McNitt, Dean, Rivers, Adams, Troiano, McCready, Woodson, Ward, Ogilvie, Allen Beall Stewart and others.

JUNIORS FILL VACANCIES

With a scant attendance, the Junior class Thursday elected four officers to replace four who were chosen last spring. George Ward was elected vice president, to replace Robert Nelson, who failed to return, while L. L. Shirey was chosen secretary as C. W. Gooch resigned. Jimmy Lee was elected treasurer, as Charles Colville failed to return. Reuben A. Lewis was named as historian for the class.

In preparation for the class football season, the Juniors unanimously elected Charles Lynch Christian. The Junior Prom was mooted over, but no committees appointed.

The Presbyterian church gave a reception to the students of Washington and Lee University and cadets of V. M. I. on Friday night, between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock. An unusually large number of students were present, the ladies of the congregation acting as hostesses for the occasion. Refreshments were served.

FIRST COMPULSORY ASSEMBLY THURSDAY

Dr. Poteat, President of Wake Forest College, Will Be the Speaker

The first University assembly, with compulsory attendance will be held in the Lee chapel Thursday morning at 10:30. William Louis Poteat, Ph.D., LL.D., president of Wake Forest College, will address the meeting. The subject of his address has not been announced.

An innovation announced is that the regular recitations of the day will be shortened fifteen minutes, so that the assembly will not make it necessary to omit any part of the regular schedule. President Smith announces that the citizens of Lexington are cordially invited and that the galleries of the chapel will be reserved for them.

The Fateful Edict

At the meeting of the faculty of Oct. 5, 1914, the following resolution was adopted:

1. That students attendance upon University assemblies is compulsory.
2. That every student absent from a University assembly must hand in to the dean within one week after the assembly his written explanation of such absence.

3. If no explanation reaches the dean within the specified time, the student will be dropped from the rolls of his classes and can be restored only by formal application to the President and the payment of a registration fee of two dollars.

The following schedule of exercises for University assembly days was also adopted by the faculty:

9 o'clock recitation	9 to 9:45
10 " " "	9:45 10:30
University Assembly	10:30 11:30
11 o'clock recitations	11:30 12:15
12 " " "	12:15 1:00
1 " " "	1:00 2:00

Exchanges

Vanderbilt boasts of a co-ed engineer.

A. and M. of N. C. has the largest number of agriculture students in the history of the college.

Dave Robertson of the New York Giants and formerly of A. and M. of N. C., will be assistant coach at Wake Forest.

Williams College has organized a student fire department which has regular equipment and covers all campus fires.

In a baseball game played by moonlight the Williams sophomores defeated the freshmen by a score of 3 to 1.

The upper classmen of Union University have ordained that hereafter all freshmen must wear a green cap as a badge of distinction.

The freshmen of the Texas Christian University of Fort Worth are said to have elected the Negro janitor president of their class. It seems that the upper classmen brought about the election and used the steam roller so effectively that the freshmen, not knowing each other, voted for the man so enthusiastically recommended by those in a position to know.

GENERALS REGISTER THEIR THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY

down in the same place. Bunting attempted a line buck but failed, Young intercepted a forward pass and the speedy halfback dashed eighty one yards for touchdown. Young kicked goal. Young for the third time booted over goal line and Roanoke placed ball in scrimmage on her twenty yard line. Quarter ended. Score, W. and L., 28; Roanoke, 0.

Second Quarter: Roanoke's ball on her twenty yard line. Bonham gained one through center. On next play Roanoke was penalized five yards for offside. Bonham failed on third down, Duncan began his famous series of passes out of bounds, W. and L.'s ball on Roanoke's thirty five yard line. Gallagher was thrown for five yard loss. W. and L. penalized fifteen yards for holding, Bunting intercepted a forward pass, and ball went to Roanoke on her thirty yard line. Bonham and Bunting took four through line, but Tavener was thrown for a four yard loss, Duncan again substituted a forward pass out of bounds for punt and ball went to W. and L. in middle of field. Gallagher smashed his way over tackle for nine and on the next play "Cannon Ball" made first down. "Cy" fumbled and lost three yards, Donahue attempted a forward pass but it was not completed. On the next play a forward pass, Young to Schulz, netted fifteen yards, Young fumbled but recovered, Beuhring hit the line for four. Gallagher gained thirteen yards around right end, and "Captain Jiggs" followed this with a twelve yard run for a touchdown. Young kicked goal.

Young kicked fifty yards to Harman who returned twenty. Bonham smashed center for three; Hoffman and Tavener failed to gain, Buck Miles stopping both men with vicious tackles; Duncan again passed outside at the center of field, but Washington and Lee was penalized five yards for an offside and Roanoke made first down. Bunting attempted an end dash but was tackled for a small loss. Half ended. Score, Washington and Lee, 35; Roanoke College, 0.

The Last Half

Third Quarter: This time W. and L. presented a slightly different line up. Camp took Dingwall's place, Gallagher going to quarter for Donahue, and Sweetland replaced Gallagher. Young kicked fifty five yards to Tavener who returned ball fifteen, Hoffman failed to gain but Hoffman made three through guard, and came back with two around end on a delayed pass. Camp tackled Bunting viciously and threw him for a loss of two. Duncan's fourth down pass failed to go outside and it was W. and L.'s ball on Roanoke's twelve yard line. Beuhring drove his way through center for five: but on next play the Generals were penalized fifteen yards for holding. Forward pass, Gallagher to Seely, netted eight yards, Gallagher was thrown for a loss of two yards, following this came a perfect place kick by "Cy" Young from the forty yard line. Young kicked off to the ten yard line Hoffman returned twelve, Bunting gained five through center, but Tavener failed to follow with an advance. Duncan again resorted to an out of bounds pass. The ball went to W. and L. on her opponents forty yard line. Sweetland smashed through line for sixteen, Young followed with six, then Sweetland came back with two, Beuhring failed to gain and Gallagher fumbled and lost twenty yards, the ball going to Roanoke on their own twenty-seven yard line. Tavener made no gain, but W. and L. was penalized five on offside. Bonham failed, and Bunting and Hoffman only netted a yard each. Duncan again used his substitute for punting, the out of bounds pass, and the ball went to the Generals on opponents forty five yard line. Bryan replaced Seely; Gallagher gained five yards around right end; Young then made a sensational forty yard run around right end, but Miles was off side and a five yard penalty resulted; on an attempted place kick, Young kicked to the five yard line to Bunting who returned the pigskin fifteen yards. It was Roanoke's ball on her own twenty yard line. Hoffman took around left end. Quarter ended. Score, W. and L., 38; Roanoke, 0.

Fourth Quarter: The Generals wily leader, Donahue, again returned to the fray to take charge, Gallagher being shifted to right half. Sweetland took Beuhring's place and it was Roanoke's ball on their twenty yard line. Bonham advanced the ball six yards on a line plunge; Tavener and Bunting both failed to gain and the ball went to Washington and Lee on Roanoke's twenty seven yard line. Donahue tore off nine; but gain was lost because of holding from which came a fifteen yard penalty. Young recovered the lost distance with a thirty-two yard run; Gallagher sifted through the line for ten more; Sweetland followed with a five yard buck and Young made another touchdown by circling end for the remaining eighth yards. Young kicked goal.

Young kicked off to Roanoke's twenty three yard line, Harman returned five. Bonham smashed center for five; but Bunting fumbled on the next play and Harrison recovered. Sweetland hit the line for three and eight yards, Gallagher followed with a gain of seven through the line, Smith replaced Young. Gallagher took seven through line, Sweetland followed with six yards and went over for a touchdown on the next play. Gallagher kicked goal. Smith kicked to the five yard line, Hoffman returning to the twenty-five yard line, on a quarter back run Bunting gained three, Bonham hit the line for four more, Hoffman added three and Bonham made first down. Tavener made two off tackle, Hoffman and Bonham followed with two yard gains through the line. On the fourth down Duncan passed outside. Then Bryan was put out of the game for roughing, Graham replacing him. "Jiggs" ran thirty six yards for a touchdown, Gallagher kicking goal.

Smith again kicked off to the five yard line, Hoffman returning seventeen, Bonham gained seven through tackle, Bunting squirmed through center for a yard, Bonham advanced the ball another yard but was met by a terrific tackle at the hands of Camp. Duncan again passed out of bounds and it was the General's ball on Roanoke's thirty eight yard line. Donahue was thrown for a five yard loss as time was called, score, Washington and Lee, 59; Roanoke, 0.
