CAPTAIN BEMISS TO HEAD R.O.T.C. UNIT

War Department Makes Appointment After Much Delay—Unit to Organize in Near Future—Training Optional.

Captain Bemiss of the regular army has recently been selected by the war department to take charge of the R. O. T. C. unit at Washington and Lee, after many unsuccessful appointments which were not acceptable to the University. This information was given out by Dr. Smith last week. The new commandant has recently visited Lexington and conferred with President Smith regarding the military work. He made a very favorable impression during his stay in Lexington and it is expected that he will prove a valuable asset to the military department of the University.

Considering the time that he will arrive, there seems to be some doubt but it is expected that the very near future will witness a renewal of the R. O. T. C. work at Washington and Lee. In the old R. O. T. C., which was supplanted last fall by the S. A. T. C., there was a regulation which provided that there must be at least one hundred members to the unit. This ruling has been annulled by the war department and will consequently not apply to the future R. O. T. C.

As stated in a previous issue of the Ring-tum-Phi, the training will be elective unless the Board of Trustees sees fit to make it compulsory, which is not likely.

FINAL WEEK PROGRAMS MUST BE ORDERED NOW

Limited Number to Be Printed and Orders Should be Placed Immediately.

The invitations for Finals are being made by the Chas. Elliott Co. of Philadelphia, the dummy for which is at present on the bulletin board. The cover, which is of special design, is unusually attractive and neat and though the material for the inside has yet to be prepared, this will be done as soon as the orders have been taken and will be along the same lines as that of last year.

Due to an increase in the price of paper, the invitations will be sold this year at an absolute loss for 35 cents.

Every student should make an effort to buy one or more not only on this account but for reasons of his own. The family of every man in college should Lieutenant Harry Miller, '12, of Hinton, W. Va., has been in Lexington in the last few days visiting friends. He was the guest of the Sigma Chi fraternity of which he is a member. Lieutenant Miller was stationed at Camp Funston.

GENERALS TAKE THRILLING GAME FROM LINCOLN NINE

Nerve-Wrecking Fiasco Ends 1 to 0 in Favor of White and Blue. Visitors Threaten in Ninth—Graham Pitches Air-Tight Ball. Mattox's Work Behind Bat and With the Stick Brings Favorable Comment

The Generals defeated Lincoln Memorial University Monday 1 to 0 in a game featured by air-tight pitching on both sides. Mercer was at his best and at no time in the game did he allow himself to become rattled. With three men on in the ninth Graham forced the batters to hit and made two assists, the last resulting in a double play which closed the game. Jimmy Mattox was responsible for the lone run of the Generals, his timely hit coming in the fifth inning. His steal to second, followed by a trip to third on the catcher's bad peg, and his score on Drye's sacrifice fly gives him the run almost single handed.

GAME BY INNINGS

1st Inning: Bailey was thrown out, Graham to Drye. Byrd, C. was safe on Yancey's bad throw to first, Byrd, R. struck out. Bolden was out, Jones to Drye. No runs, no hits, one error.

Bolden threw Gregg out at first. Jones whiffed. Michael popped up to second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

2nd Inning: Joy grounded out, Jones to Drye. Malcolm was out over the same route. Johnson fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Malcolm stopped Mattox's grounder and stepped on first. Drye and Henderson whiffed, Bolden's cross fire proving effective on both. No runs, no hits, no errors.

3rd Inning: Drye muffed Thomas' grounder, Owsley struck out. Bailey went out second to first, Thomas going to second. Jones fumbled Byrd, C's grounder and Thomas advanced to third. Byrd, R., ended the inning with a pop fly to Yancey. No runs, no hits, two errors.

Yancey got a Texas leager to right, but was doubled out on Raines' attempted sacrifice, which resulted in a pop fly to Bolden. Graham took three swings. No runs, one hit, no errors.

4th Inning: Bolden grounded out to first. Loy was safe on Drye's error. Malcolm struck out and Johnson grounded out to Drye. No runs, no hits, one error.

Gregg fouled out to Bailey. Jones struck out and was thrown out by the catcher, after he had dropped the ball. Michael skied out to Johnson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

5th Inning: Thomas grounded out to Jones. Owsley drew a walk, Jones fielded Bailey's grounder, but Michael dropped his throw, both men being safe. Bailey and Owsley pulled a double steal. Byrd, C., struck out. Yancey made a pretty pick up and throw of Byrd's slow grounder. No runs, no hits, one error.

Mattox opened our half with a single to right. He stole second and went to third on Bailey's bad peg. He scored on Drye's sacrifice fly to left. Henderson fanned the air and Yancey fouled out to catcher. One run, one hit, one error.

6th Inning: Bolden drove a long two base hit to center and was out trying to stretch it into a triple. Loy beat out a hit to second, Drye and Graham getting mixed up on the bag. Malcolm fanned and Loy was a victim of Mattox's sure peg to second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Raines struck out. Graham drove a long hit to center, but on account of his weak ankle could get only one bag. Corbett ran for Graham, and advanced to second on Gregg's out to first. Jones was out, second to first. No runs, no hit, no errors.

7th Inning: Johnson singled to right. Yancey missed Thomas' grounder, both men being safe. Owsley out to Drye and both runners moved up a bag. Yancey threw Bailey out at first. No runs, one hit, one error. Michael and Mattox both flew out to left. Drye popped out to second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

8th Inning: Byrd, C. was thrown out, Graham to Drye. Henderson made nice catches of both Byrd's and

MAJOR WOODS GIVES INSTRUCTING TALK

Distinguished Alumnus of the Class of '93 Delivers Address on China, Where He Has Spent Much of His Life.

Major Andrew H. Woods, '93, of the U. S. M. C. since 1917, and before that of Canton Christian College, was the speaker at the University Assembly held on Monday, April 7th. His interesting and instructive address was on the subject of China and the power for good exerted by Canton Christian College.

After the opening prayer by Dr. Shannon and a presentation of the World Fellowship Campaign by Frank Stipes, Dr. H. D. Campbell introduced the speaker, telling of his athletic, scholastic and campus leadership while he was a student here.

Major Woods prefaced his address by saying that the misinformation in regard to China is very great and that now is the time above all others to get the Chinese to understand us and our civilization. He then spoke briefly about the physical qualities and resources of the country. It is a very beautiful land, comparable to all those noted for their scenery, and the three great rivers extending all the way across it are navigable to the fullest extent. The vast mineral wealth of China is not fully utilized because of the Chinese veneration for the customs of their ancestors.

However, he emphasized the success the Chinese make at intensive

WILSON ISSUES CALL FOR DEBATERS

Davidson and Trinity Will be Debated in May. Preliminaries Held This Week.

Preliminaries to elect five inter-collegiate debaters, three for the Trinity debate at Washington and Lee and two for the Davidson debate at Davidson, will be held on Saturday night, April 12th, at 7:30 p. m. in the Washington Literary Society hall. This is necessary, due to the shortness of time before the debates, the Davidson debate coming on May 5th or 6th, and the Trinity debate about the middle of May.

Subject for the preliminary speeches will be: Resolved, That the United States Government Should Own and Operate the Railroads in this Country. Main speeches are limited to ten minutes and rebuttal to three minutes. In the Davidson debate, Washington and Lee has the affirmative of this question and the same subject will most likely be used in the Trinity debate.

All candidates should hand in their names as soon as possible to George Wilson, secretary of the debating council.

DR. MOOMAW MAKING EFFORTS TO GO IN SEARCH OF LIEUT. MOOMAW

Offers Six Months' Service, Without Compensation, to Red Cross if Time is Given Him to Inquire Into His Brother's Case.

Dr. Ben C. Moomaw, brother of Lieutenant Clovis Moomaw, who has been officially reported killed in action by the war department has been in Washington the last few weeks trying to obtain a permit from the government to go in search of Lieutenant Moomaw. In spite of the above report, Dr. Moomaw believes that his brother is still living. The report of the war department announcing his death in action bears the date of Sept. 29, 1918, while many private reports state that Lieutenant Moomaw was seen in action on the 4th, 5th and 6th of October. It is on these reports that Dr. Moomaw bases his hope that his brother is still living.

Dr. Moomaw has been in conference with Mr. W. H. Walling, one of the high officials of the Red Cross and he has offered six months' service in France with the Red Cross, without any compensation, if they will give him a few days of the time to inquire in Lieutenant Moomaw's case. It is necessary that he get a permit from the government before passports will be issued him. As the Ring-tum-Phi goes to press no information has been received as to whether or not Dr. Moomaw has been successful in his efforts.

DR. GRANVILLE CAMPBELL GOES TO FRANCE

W. O. Burtner, '18, Takes Charge of His Classes.

Dr. R. G. Campbell, professor of Political Science, is on a six months' leave of absence to give lectures to the American army of occupation in France, while Mr. W. O. Burtner will take his place teaching Politics during the spring term. Dr. Campbell is under contract with the war work council and will talk to our soldiers chiefly on the subjects of government and government problems. Examinations in Politics were held ahead of time so that he could report in New York on April 1st.

Mr. Burtner is well qualified to teach Political Science. He got his Master's degree last year and has had considerable work in the school of commerce. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in 1917.

LAW CLASS OF 1911 ISSUES ANNUAL

Omer T. Kaylor Edits Book Which Contains Interesting Letters from the Members. Class Has Reunion in 1920.

The eighth edition of the Annual of the Law Class of 1911 has come into the hands of the Ring-tum-Phi in the last few days. It contains many interesting letters from practically all the members of the class who are located in all corners of the Universe. The editor, Omer T. Kaylor, has been unable to locate some of the members but this may be attributed to conditions over which the men have no control. The Class will have a reunion in 1920.

All of the men who have been permitted to practice their profession uninterrupted have attained prominence but all admit that the war has seriously affected litigation and consequently few are rich. W. F. Blanton is circuit judge in Florida, while Claude P. Light has spent the last year in the service of the Department of Justice helping Attorney-General Gregory make the U. S. A. safe for Democracy —“not to say Democrats.” John C. Moowmaw is vice-consul at Weymouth, England. To quote from his letters: “When I went aboard the flagship Utah, some sailors were drawn up to attention on either side of the gangway to receive the “Vice-Consul”—it was good to see our boys about(and I enjoyed their visit very much.”

N. D. Smithson, J. L. Campbell, and Ben Ainsworth are the local members if the class.

JOHNSON AND BABER NOMINATED FOR BANKING POSITIONS

Both Men Have Done Excellent Work in Commerce and Are Expected to Reflect Credit on the University.

J. A. Johnson and H. Baber have been nominated by the University for appointment to the classes in foreign banking, which are conducted by the National City Bank of New York.

These classes are held by the bank in co-operation with several of the leading universities of the country. The purpose of the bank is to fit men to hold responsible positions in its foreign branches. Practically all of the universities that have a full course in Commerce are given the privilege of nominating men for these classes. The nominations must later be ratified by the bank.

The students hold a regular position in the bank, and at the same time take special work outside of the regular working hours. They receive a small salary which is calculated to be sufficient to meet their necessary expenses. The classes run for a period of twelve months, but the students are allowed to take six months of this work during their summer vacations. Both Johnson and Baber have done excellent work in Commerce, and they are expected to reflect credit on the University.

All matter of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief.

We are always glad to publish any communication that may be handed to us. We desire to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

BACK ON THE JOB

After an interruption of two weeks in which our trials were not as pleasant as they might have been, the editors are glad to resume their work on the Ring-tum-Phi.

It is our purpose this term to furnish the student body and the alumni with a newsy paper, and to boost every activity which goes on at Washington and Lee. That, we attempted to do last term, and we believe that we met with a certain degree of success. However, we are not satisfied with attaining only a certain degree of success but we want a hundred per cent success.

Finals will command much of our attention and we assure the Executive Committee that our columns are always open to them for any articles they see fit to insert. We would suggest that an Alumni Edition of the Ring-tum-Phi be published and a copy of it sent to every alumnus. However, the editors of the Ring-tum-Phi cannot accomplish this alone, but must have the consent and the aid of the committee on Finals. Every effort should be made to reach every alumnus, especially those who are returning from the battle fields of France, and mailing them a copy of an Alumni Edition of the paper would perhaps be the most effectual means of reaching them. We hope President Fain and his committee will act on the suggestion in the near future.

The White and Blue nine will not be neglected by us. The Ring-tum-Phi is going to stay behind the team until the season is over whether it is a losing or winning aggregation. The Fishburne game was not at all a fair test of the ability of the team. In fact it was merely a practice game, not a part of the regular schedule.

Intercollegiate debating, the dances, tennis, Y. M. C. A. entertainments, literary societies, etc., will receive the usual publicity that has been given them in the past.

To obtain the ends we have outlined above, we again ask the co-operation of the student body for without its help our efforts must be in vain.

IN THE SPRING

With the March winds replaced by April sunshine and daylight saving adding another hour to the already lengthening afternoons, with the passing of exams and the beginning of the home stretch of the 1918-'19 session, with baseball and tennis and rowing and music in the air, and movies to go to again,—Washington and Lee has caught the "fever," for spring has come. It has been a hard winter with all its intensive study and compulsory gym, and exams and the rest, but all that is now a thing of the past. We are on the session's home stretch with the last three months and the best three months ahead,—three months of spring.

First among the many campus activities claiming attention this spring is baseball, the season's premier sport.

After a two year wartime intermission the national sport has again come into its own at Washington and Lee. Of course it is the privilege and duty of every man to support the White and Blue nine with the physical and mental abilities as has so generously been done along financial lines. And though it might seem unpoetical to speak of such mundane matters now, baseball subscriptions are past due and to make the season a success they must be paid at once.

There will be other sports to serve as outlets for the surplus energy of youth in the next three months. Rowing, tennis, golf, hiking, track, swimming and the immortal "suicide,"—each will claim its devotees among these who desire to avoid setting-up exercises and still follow the faculty's universal prescription of exercises as a substitute for ill health. But who minds, in the spring?

And the dances! "In the spring a young man's fancy," etc., said the poet. Ah yes, the Easter dances are not very far off, and then as the climax of everything comes Finals. "Trip it lightly as ye go" this spring for the muse of terpsichore will come into her own. Perhaps Brownie's orchestra will get busy again with music for the study-weary student as the cool April evenings wax on. Who knows, in the spring?

Then there are three more months of study ahead, a whole form for the accomplishment of good resolutions and the acquirement of knowledge. Every man should remember at all times the one all-important purpose for which he came to college,—to get an education. It may require more will power to study in the spring, but with the third term lengthened this year to make up for war's upheaval, diligent knowledge at the storehouses of knowledge is even more important than formerly.

So through fall, winter and spring, Washington and Lee moves on, each passing day bringing its opportunity for those fortunate ones who breathe of her breath-of-life to acquire their share of her immortal spirit. We are on the session's home stretch with three months of work and play ahead, months of spring; and the final value and success of a year at college still hangs in the balance for every man. It is easy to make each day count for the best in every way, if one will,—in the spring. —E. D. C.

RECONCILIATION

For the past year or so sparks of dissatisfaction due to the extremely high prices charged for a poor-class of pictures at the only picture show in town, the Lyric, have been smouldering in the breasts of all of the Washington and Lee students and also a great many of the town people. These sparks became brighter each day and have been continually fanned by the ever soaring prices for an inferior grade of pictures. However the sparks burst into a conflagration two weeks ago when it was brought to light that last year with war conditions and the Flu epidemic, the management declared a 20 per cent dividend on a three thousand dollar investment, after paying one of the owners $2,100 for rent, and a like sum to the manager though there seems to be some conflict as to the accuracy of these figures.

At a meeting of the student body, which was attended by practically all of the men in college, it was decided by a unanimous vote that the Lyric be boycotted until the price of admission be lowered and a better class of pictures be presented to the public, keeping in mind the fact that we were not trying to confiscate property but wanted a square deal to ourselves and also to the Lyric, though the management could not see this at first. Circulars were distributed presenting the situation in a fair and accurate manner. No unfair means were resorted to but on the contrary the action was orderly and carried on in a business-like manner.

This state of affairs soon came to an end, we are glad to say, after several conference with the management of the Lyric. Mr. Weinberg decided to give our propositions a fair trial and he reduced his prices of admission and this was acceptable to the student body. And now that our difficulties have been reconciled, it is urged that the student body stand behind the Lyric in its sincere efforts to give the most efficient service at the lowest consistent price, allowing for a reasonable return on its investment.

THOSE EASTER HOPS

After two long months rather void of social diversion, Washington and Lee will soon wake to the cymbal and drum, to say nothing of "Old Man Wright's" saxophone. Once more will fair ones trod our streets and view our historic scenery by sunlight, dance by lamplight and—later enjoy the moonlight. Welcome the short interlude will be after the obnoxious exercises we have just passed—or failed to pass.

The success of the mid-winter dances showed that Washington and Lee had come back to a pre-war basis socially as in other things. And the report that they "were the best ever" points to still better ones this time. There are more old men back now, and this with many other things will go to make these the best Easter dances for a long, long time.

The first dance on April 21st will be the Thirteen club German, led by L. T. Brown with Miss Elizabeth Adams of Lynchburg, Va. The "13" club affair is always delightful and we can look for a "super-production" this time.

On the afternoon of the 22nd, there will be a dansant given by the baseball team. Further announcement will be given about this later.

That night, April 22nd, the Cotillion dub German will be the attraction, led by J. A. Witt with Miss Cotton Timberlake of Raleigh, N. C. This will be the second affair of the year led by the able Witt, now Chancellor in the Law School, and from the great success of "Fancy Dress" we expect some class under his leadership of the Cotillion dance.

farming. One thing taught in the Christian College is the use that can be made of irrigation in extensive farming.

One very interesting and peculiar fact that the speaker laid special emphasis on at this point was that China possesses very democratic governing units which she has absolutely failed to make use of, i. e., her smaller villages and larger towns. The inhabitants of the villages know very little about the central government of China which has been a democracy, in theory since 1911. Public opinion is in reality the governing power of these local units.

Major Wood then pointed out the three outstanding faults of the Chinese character, which have held her back in her government and civilization. These are China's lack of a common written and spoken language as a medium of information to her people, the theoretic turn of mind of the average Chinaman, and the disdain of the official classes for the masses. All these points were well illustrated from the speaker's ample fund of anecdotes.

He next told of the founding of Canton-Christian College and of the work that is being done there in the up-building of a new China. He said that the fruit of the educational seed being planted there was being felt all over South-China. The future leaders of the republic are being taught practical things and are getting the correct view of Western civilization. The six hundred students learn the English language and over ninety per cent become Christians, to go back to their homes as Christian leaders.

After Major Wood's address Dr. Howe told of a student who had come here from that college and had made good in more than one way. Incidentally he succeeded in getting an A in Chemistry 1.

Dr. Howerton closed the Assembly with a short, concentrated talk on World Citizenship on the Campus. He pointed out the interlinking of the welfare of the United States and that of the world, saying that Major Woods is warring just as much for us in China as he was in France. He made an appeal for world citizenship, with an effort to make the world safe for liberty, civilization and Christianity. He called attention to the advantages which Washington and Lee students enjoy and asked that some of their wealth be shared with the students of Canton Christian College.

DR. HOWERTON DELIVERS STRONG ADDRESS AT Y

"Are You Bearing Fruit?" is the Question Presented by Speaker at Regular Religious Meeting

The regular mid-week meeting of the Y. M. C. A. started again last Wednesday night when Dr. Howerton spoke on the subject "Bearing Fruit." Due probably to the fact that a good many men were still out of town the attendance was not as large as should have been. Those who were there, however, were very much impressed by what they heard and will not be able to get away from the question asked by the speaker, "Are you bearing Fruit?"

Dr. Howerton took for the foundation of his talk the fifteenth chapter of John, where Jesus gave his last message to his disciples before his death. He mentioned the fact that at the end of his active ministry the life of Christ seemed to have ended in an utter failure. Continuing he said that every fruit has for its purpose the reproduction of its kind, and that every parent whether plant, or animal, or spiritual is supposed to multiply its kind on earth. He said, "A man may be a fruitless Christian and the life that has been given him may become extinct." "It seems to me a much greater calamity to die spiritually than physically childless." He said that it should be the ambition of every Christian to bear as much fruit as he possibly can, and asked what per cent of Christians have any power to bring others to Christ. Then he said, "Put that thing to yourself seriously, Are you bearing fruit?" In this connection he said further, "You cannot bring anybody to Christ without the power of the spirit of God. Every soul is born into the kingdom of God because of the spiritual begetting of some other soul.

In what might be called the second part of his talk Dr. Howerton quoted John 15: 4, "Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in abiding in Him means the dwelling in Him as Lord and Saviour, "the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world." Illustrating from "Pilgrim's Progress" he showed how the burden—the consciousness of guilt—may be still present even after one knows Christ and that the release of it is the consciousness of the peace of Christ. "But he said, "it is possible to pick it up again even after it has been once relieved." Continuing along this line he told of how no man can bear fruit as long as he has the burden of guilt of some sin hanging over him, and that a man can get rid of his burden any time by going to Christ and asking for forgiveness as many times as he becomes guilty.

In conclusion he showed that the second part of abiding in Christ is a man's union with Christ in his life, and that this can be brought about only by "daily and habitual prayer and the reading of His word." He said that the same sermon of a preacher will have power to bring others to Christ or not according as the preacher is abiding or not abiding in Christ. The speaker said that personal work does not take much effort when it is sincere; the embarrassment and hesitation will probably do more than well planned words. He concluded with, "There is nothing that will test your own Christian life more than trying to bring some one else to Christ."

Bolden's flies. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Henderson struck out and Yancey drove his second single to center, Loy making a pretty pick up. Bailey threw Yancey out, trying to steal. Raines was called out on strikes. No runs, one hit, no errors.

9th Inning: Loy drove a hit to right. Yancey fumbled Malcolm's grounder. Johnson drove one to right, filling the bases, a good throw by Raines holding Loy at third. Thomas forced Loy at the plate, Graham to Mattox. A brilliant double play on Owsley's grounder, Graham to Mattox to Drye ended the agony. No runs, two hits, one error.

Mr. and Mrs. Kane will make their future home at 2611 Adams Mill Road, Washington, D. C.

THIRD TERM OPENS WITH SIX NEW MATRICULATES

The third term of Washington and Lee opened on April 2nd, with many men returning late. Seven new men matriculated. These are: G. E. McClure, who left school last year, returns for his A. B.; W. P. McTaggart has returned to the school of Engineering; T. R. Hamilton, '17, entered the Law School; E. A. Amick, Academic; J. P. Mattox, Academic; C. O. Locke, who was here during the S. A. C., returns after spending three months at the University of Va.

That Fishburne game was a wet affair. First base was the only place on the field that kept Drye.

S. A. T. C. MEN MAY KEEP UNIFORMS

War Department Issues Order to That Effect. If Articles Have Been Returned, They May be Reclaimed.

The war department has recently issued an order authorizing discharged S. A. T. C. men to keep the uniforms issued them. The uniforms may be worn provided the distinctive mark of one scarlet chevron is worn on the left arm between the elbow and the shoulder.

A paragraph of the order reads: "In cases where such uniform clothing has been restored to the government, the same or similar articles in kind and value as near as may be shall be supplied to such person upon affidavit setting forth his record of service since April 6, 1917, date and place of discharge and certifying that none of the articles applied for by him were furnished at the time of discharge, or if furnished have been returned to the government as required by the authority as mentioned above; this affidavit to be made before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths, and submitted to the adjutant general of the army for verification of record of service, date and place of discharge.

DIAMOND CUTS

"Georgie" Gregg seems to be there with the brains. His work in the Fishburne game behind third and with the bat was the feature of that fiasco.

Lincoln was fresh from a victory over V. M. I. and University of Va. However, W. & L. in general and Merc Graham in particular, put a crimp in this Freshness.

Coach has a real find in "Jimmy" Maddox. His lightning peg kept would-be demons close to the bags in both games. There is also a steadiness in his work that lends much to the work of the pitcher. He proved his ability with the willow by getting on with a sharp single; stealing and scoring the only run of the Lincoln game on account of it.

Over on the washout:—"Nigger, who dat long guy pitchin' fo' W. & L.?" Wise Coon:—"Nigger, don't you know who dat is? Why dat's Mr. Mercer Graham, wot plays basketball and lieutenants in de army, I spects de big league's after him now."

How about more pep? Cheering is of just as much use when the score is tied and no men on as it is when Maddox crosses the plate with the only run. The bleachers could also start something that would show the players that we are all behind them.

"Mat" Henderson handles himself in the garden like a veteran, but his weakness with the stick is proving a serious handicap.

There were many bones in the Lincoln game, and it was replete with several bobbles. But remember that the season is young, and the material is good. Altogether, a strong pull for the team.

As a last line, let us advise any who is not enthused to sit within some ten or fifteen yards of Coach Raftery at the next game.
