MATTOX LEADS NINE FOR BATTING HONORS

Drye Has Best Average in Field—Gregg Leads in Stolen Bases—Work of Pitching Staff Interesting

Batting honors for the baseball season of 1919 go to Jimmie Mattox, the Generals' diminutive backstop, who has an average of .409, leading his nearest competitor by 76 points. Drye lands in second place with an average of .333. These are the only two men on the team who are swatting the pill above the three hundred mark, the rest ranging from .100 to .250. The table given below might indicate to the observer that the Generals have been exceptionally weak with the willow. While this is true in figures, it is certainly a fact that the Generals have hit when a hit meant a run, and it is this punch which has enabled them to establish the remarkable record which is related elsewhere in this issue.

John Dry leads his team mates for fielding honors, the plucky first baseman acquitting himself with an average of .985. Drye has put out 107 men at the first corner, assisted in three manoeuvres, and made two errors. Mattox is close on his heels with an average of .977. The fielding average of the team as a whole is very good, seven of the personnel fielding above .900 with most of the remainder in the .800 class.

The work of the pitching department will receive perhaps the most favorable comment. Without question the pitching staff has been the best in years and to Graham and Corbett proper credit should be given, for it was through their consistent work that the score of the opposition was kept at a low ebb.

Graham has participated in seven games, won six and lost one. In these engagements 222 men have faced him, 63 have been compelled to walk back to the bench reluctantly while 40 have been able to connect safely. 13 free passes have been dished out by the big pitcher, and two men were unable to get out of the way for which they received passes. These statistics speak for themselves and it is needless to comment further on them.

Jack Corbett has a clean slate for the year though he has not performed in quite as many entertainments as Graham. The speed demon has four victories to his credit with no casualties against him. In these four contests, 126 men have stepped up to the rubber, some willingly while others after compulsion for when Jack turns loose, it's a hard matter to see the ball. Fourteen hits have been registered against our slab artist or a little less than four hits to a game. But this is not all for Jack has 44 strikeouts to his credit, which means that about every third batter breezed the atmosphere; or in other terms, in every game in which Corbett pitched, his team mates had but two men to put out in each inning, for Jack had the other in his hands. Eight men

BOAT CLUBS SELECT CREWS FOR REGATTA

Regatta Promises to Be Interesting—Second Crews to Be Picked Soon—Tub Race Added to Program.

The past two weeks have witnessed a wonderful development in both of the crews training on North river. The crews of the two clubs have been selected and everything is being done by each club to develop a winning crew.

The first crew of the Albert Sidneys is composed of Craig Patterson for stroke, W. B. Patterson for number 3, J. L. Lowman for number 2, C. C. Humphris for number 1, and B. F. Thomas for the position of coxswain. Three of these five men have crew monograms while the other two, Thomas and W. B. Patterson, rowed on last year's second crew.

On the first crew of the Harry Lees is found E. A. Ricker as stroke, G. T. Madison as number 3, H. F. Madison as number 2, W. E. Johnston as number 1, and C. H. Miller as coxswain. G. T. Madison made his monogram last year. The rest of the men rowed on last year's crew.

Neither of the clubs has yet picked its second crew, but both will necessarily do so in the near future.

The development of the crews has been greatly handicapped this spring on account of lack of equipment and lack of money with which to buy the needed apparatus. Consequently the clubs have been forced to make the best use of what they already had and thus have not been able to train any men except those who have had previous experience in rowing. In view of these diverse conditions they both deserve lots of credit for the work they have accomplished. As it is, a very close race is expected for Finals and it is urged that as many as possible be present to witness the event.

In connection with the regular crew races, a tub race will also be held. This should be as interesting as the first race between the first crews.

AMBULANCE UNIT LANDS IN NEW YORK

Men Being Discharged as Fast as Possible. Many Expected for Finals.

The Washington and Lee Ambulance Unit, the pride of the University, landed in New York last Wednesday on the transport Henry R. Mallory according to a telegram from Sergeant Bill Cook to President Henry Louis Smith. Immediately upon the receipt of this message, Dr. Smith wired back the following: "Welcome home in the name of the University. We hope that every member of the Unit can be present for Victory Finals June 20-24."

The Unit has been sent to Camp Dix, N. J., and the men are being discharged as fast as possible. Geo. Junkin Irwin of Lexington, Va., and a member of the Unit, has already received his discharge and is now at home. It is likely that every man in the Unit will be free once more within the next week or so and every one of them is expected to be present for Finals.

V. C. C. BLANKED BY W. & L. TENNIS TEAM

Visitors No Match For White and Blue Tennis Artists—Cohn's Performance Feature of Contest

The Washington and Lee tennis team easily defeated the team from Virginia Christian College by a score of 5-0 in a match here Wednesday afternoon. The playing of Cohn, who allowed his opponent only one game out of thirteen played, was the feature of the match.

The Washington and Lee players stuck to the old style tennis and played almost entirely a placing game in which they proved themselves far superior to their opponents who tried in vain to use their practised strokes against them. The teams were composed of six men each. Three single and two double matches were played. Each match was valued at one point. A large number of spectators were out to see the match, and much interest was shown in the contest.

The match opened promptly at three o'clock. Cohn won the first five games of the first singles. Walker won the next game, but failed to hold his winning streak. The remaining seven games went to Cohn. Cohn showed that he had the art of "putting them where they ain't" down to perfection.

The most interesting match of the evening was that between Goldberg for W. and L. and English for V. C. C. During the first set, English seemed unable to handle the spin on Goldberg's serve. But he seemed to have solved the mystery in the second set which was a love set in English's favor. Goldberg showed that he had a come-back, and took the third set 6-4.

While these two matches were being played, Baber and Glickstein won the second doubles from Lumkins and Porter. The V. C. C. players seemed unable to handle the speed at which the games were played. W. and L. won the first two sets, 6-2 and 6-4.

The first doubles were played by Jones and Cohn for W. and L. against Hanly and Marshall for V. C. C. Washington and Lee's placing game again proved efficient, and the first two sets were won by the scores, 6-3 and 6-0.

The final match was between Bernstein and Marshall. This match was hotly contested. The first set ran to sixteen games, but Bernstein finally won it, 9-7. He took the next set by the score of 6-4.

This is the first intercollegiate tennis match that Washington and Lee has competed in for the past four years. Other matches are being planned, and it is expected that this somewhat neglected feature of our athletics will be given more importance.

DELTA SIGMA RHO INITIATES

Delta Sigma Rho, the oratorical society, initiated last night. The following men were taken in: C. H. Patterson, P. G. Clark and W. J. Rushton.

11 MONOGRAMS GIVEN BASEBALL PLAYERS

Mercer Graham, Captain of Team for Past Season—T. S. Jones Elected Captain for Next Season

As a reward for their splendid work on the team, eleven men have been recommended for baseball monograms. They are, Mercer Graham, T. S. Jones, Jimmy Maddox, Johnny Drye, Porter Sutton, Bob Yancey, Georgie Gregg, Jack Corbett, Sam Raines, Mat Henderson and Manager Willie Barron.

Through some error it has been generally accepted that T. S. Jones was captain of the team which has just closed the season. However Mercer Graham was elected captain of the team and this correction is made in justice to Mercer as well as to Jones. Shrimp has been elected captain of the team for next year and the choice will no doubt meet with the approval of the student body.

H. D. Jones has been selected by the Athletic Council to manage the baseball team of 1920, replacing Raymond Garcin who has withdrawn from the University.

TULANE UNIVERSITY WILL PROBABLY BE PLAYED ON THANKSGIVING

Coach Raftery and Manager Watts are now in communication with Tulane University for a football game between the two colleges on Thanksgiving in New Orleans. Though the contract has not as yet been signed, it is almost a certainty that the extreme Southern college will be on the gridiron schedule for next year. It is hoped that this game can be secured for it will mean a whole lot to Washington and Lee. These two schools met in 1911 in New Orleans and the game resulted in a tie.

LYRIC TO BE MANAGED BY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Beginning September 1919, the Lyric Theatre will be run under the management of the Washington and Lee Athletic Association. This announcement comes somewhat as a surprise but is the result of negotiations but authorities of the parties in contract. This is as much as is known at the present and further details will probably be given out in the near future.

During the years 1912-1913 this picture house was run by the Athletic Association and it was quite a success financially. That it will prove a source of revenue for the coming year is beyond a doubt.

S. A. E. AND S. P. E. BATTLE FOR THE CUP

Both Fraternities Have Good Teams and Game Should be Interesting

The S. A. E.'s and S. P. E.'s play today the final game of the Interfraternity series for the interfrat cup. These two teams have survived the elimination contests and both have very good teams.

FRESHMEN GIVEN FINAL INSTRUCTION IN ASSIMILATION

Sophomores Gladly Impart to Their Younger Brothers the Finishing Touches in Paddle Wielding

Last Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, the entire Freshman Class was assembled in the Economics Room at the express invitation of the Vigilance Committee of the Sophomore Class. After the roll had been called to make sure that do one had been so disrespectful as to neglect to honor the invitation, the President of the Sophomore Class made a short address telling his guests the purpose of the entertainment, and heartily welcoming them to the Instruction Class in paddle-wielding.

The Freshmen were then requested to blindfold themselves, and were marched down on the campus in front of the Washington Building, where they caught hands and made an immense ring. Any of the guests who had before been doubtful as to the method of entertainment, now were made aware of the curious hospitality of their hosts. When the time-worn but efficient angle Theta had been assumed, many sharp and biting sounds might be heard rending the still night air.

For inconceivable reasons a parade to Main street and back followed. Along the course of this forced march many weird yells and cries in various tones and keys were uttered. A feature of the night was the pandemonium that ensued when each of the guests was asked to give his favorite high school yell for the assembled crowd in front of McCrum's. Also for inconceivable reasons the guests would insist upon calling themselves "Fresh, Fresh Freshmen."

The climax and conclusion of the evening's entertainment was another feature entitled "Running the Gauntlet." Some one had unearthed this savage relic of heathen barbarism and, although full reports have not yet come in, it seems to have been a success from some viewpoints. If there ever was a time when the guests were in need of their moving faculties it was on this occasion and it is safe to say that the world's champion for the 100 yard dash would have been embarrassed and considered his title at stake had he seen our freshmen run through this gauntlet. The timekeeper reports some incredible records for speed, but for reasons most satisfactory to the reporter, these will not be made public.

The Ring-tum Phi cannot speak from authority upon this matter, but the chances are that, if the separate vote were known, the majority of the guests above referred to, voted for the continuance of the assimilation of the incoming Freshmen by the Sophomore class, when this matter was presented in the Chapel two or three months ago. Such entertainments as were held last Wednesday are a part of such assimilation and it is hoped that the Freshmen enjoyed to the fullest extent what the majority voted for. It is but fair that the newcomers should have what their little hearts desire.

However, the Sophs apparently violated one of their covenants promulgated by their president in the Chapel sometime ago. This was that no one was to be taken out without a hearing. On this occasion public policy probably demanded such a course and every Freshman was taken out without a preliminary examination.

REMAINS OF LIEUTENANT CLOVIS MOOMAW IDENTIFIED

Wrist Watch and Gold Filling in Tooth Only Means of Identification of Former W. and L. Professor

The Roanoke Times of Tuesday contains a startling revelation as to what became of the body of Lieutenant Clovis Moomaw, a member of the faculty of Washington and Lee University, who in the spring of 1918 went to France and as First Lieutenant Company D, 318th Infantry, 80th division, participated in the battles in the Argonne, and there it is known lost his life. We quote from the Roanoke Times of Tuesday morning:

"First Lieutenant Clovis Moomaw, was killed by shell in Bois de Tayes, France, on Oct. 5, 1918, according to a letter received yesterday by Mrs. R. E. L. Schaffer, 526 Grandin Road, from Dr. B. C. Moomaw, a brother of the officer, who recently went to Europe to investigate the circumstances surrounding the disappearance of his brother. Lieutenant Moomaw was reported officially as 'missing in action' and later as 'killed in action.' Neither report was confirmed by the war department to the satisfaction of relatives here, and Dr. Moomaw went overseas to make further inquiries."

"The remains of Lieutenant Moomaw, says the letter, were found about May 5, exactly six months from the day of the casualty. They were lying beside a path in some brush and apparently had not been touched, the letter continues. Only a gold filling in a right upper front tooth, the color of the hair, the shape of the head and a wrist watch, bearing the initials of a friend, enabled Dr. Moomaw to identify the remains as those of his lost brother."

"Captain Earl Brent of Roanoke, who is with Company E, 305th Engineers, now in France, joined Dr. Moomaw in the search for the missing officer."

"The remains were interred at Roanoke, where the United States government has established a cemetery. Chaplain J. T. Wilcox of Nashville conducted the services."

STATUE OF WASHINGTON ON COLLEGE

The statue of Washington, made by Mr. M. S. Kahle of our village, was raised to its place on the cupola of the centre building of the College on Saturday last. The figure is represented with a sword in the right hand, a scroll in the left and a robe falling in graceful folds over the form, presenting a fine and commanding image of the soldier and statesman. This is Mr. Kahle's first attempt at any thing of the kind, and we have heard better judges of such matters than we can pretend to speak of it as a well executed work of art, in the highest terms of praise.

Our friend Kahle is a kind of "universal genius," and whatever he turns his hand to from the statue of the Father of his Country, down to a cradle for some new born American he does "with all his might," and in a way that is hard to beat. Mr. Kahle is one of our most ingenious and enterprising mechanics, and deserves the encouragement and patronage of a liberal community.—Lexington Gazette, May 30, 1844.

SENIOR BANQUET AT DUTCH INN SATURDAY

For the purpose of passing upon several matters of first importance the Senior Class held a meeting in the Commerce room last Saturday night, May 24. The question of a banquet was first brought up for consideration and it was decided to hold the Senior Banquet at the Dutch Inn next Saturday night, June 7, instead of waiting for Commencement week, which is the usual time for the feed. Plans were discussed concerning some permanent organization of the Class but it was found impracticable to finish this organization definitely at the meeting. It will, however, be thoroughly discussed and settled after the banquet next Saturday. The matter of the Senior Figure also came up and it was unanimously decided to invite the members of the Senior Law Class to participate in same.

George Wilson, president of the class requests that every senior pay his fees as soon as possible in order to insure the success of the banquet. The Dutch Inn requires payment in advance and those who expect to attend the banquet must pay up before Saturday.

LAST REGULAR ISSUE—THE FINAL ISSUE

With this issue, the Ring-tum Phi will rest until Final Week will have past into history, when the editors will for the last time this collegiate year record the events that have taken place on the campus, during the celebration of Victory Finals.

We are informed by the management that the Final issue will be given to all subscribers without additional pay, contrary to the custom in previous years. There are many reasons for this policy, the most potent being the fact that only nineteen issues were able to be published under the existing conditions, whereas under normal conditions, the subscriber is entitled to twenty-eight issues for the price he was charged this year.

As the final issue of the paper comes out the night of the Final Ball or the next morning at the latest, and the vast majority of the men will have boarded a train home, the paper will be mailed to the subscriber's address designated in the catalogue unless different instructions are given to the manager. If one does not expect to be at home during the summer, it is advisable that he give his address to the manager within the next few days.

A word or two about this final issue. To begin with it is twice the size of the regular issue, being eight columns wide and eighteen inches long. It is generally a six page issue, but we are planning to make it an eight page publication if possible. Besides containing a vast amount of interesting news matter, it also has a photogravure section scarcely found in college newspapers. This picture section includes cuts of the various buildings, athletic teams, leaders of the various social events, the boat crews, etc.

Extra copies will not be printed unless special order is made for them. The final issue can be bought for ten cents a copy or three copies for twenty-five cents. Cecil Burns, manager of the paper, will take care of all orders.

RESUME OF BASEBALL SEASON

The baseball season of 1919 has come to a close and it is one that will long be remembered by the student body and alumni. It was just about two months ago when Coach Raftery sounded the first call for candidates for the team which has the best record in the state and we venture to say in the South also. The Coach did not have seven letter men back as was the case with V. P. I. but he had three only—one outfielder, one infielder and one pitcher. These men have answered to the expectations of the fans and they have deserved the highest praise. But this was just a third of a team—and it was up to Bill to build up a complete and efficient aggregation around this foundation. Availing himself of the most promising candidates, he concentrated on these men, first giving them instructions in fielding and after this task was performed, he set out to develop the hitting of the team, and the result of his efforts was evident as the season progressed. The most convincing answer to the ability of Bill Raftery as a baseball coach is the fact that the Generals have finished the season with ELEVEN VICTORIES and one defeat under conditions which at first were somewhat discouraging even to the most enthusiastic. So to you, Coach Raftery, the whole student body unites in expressing its appreciation of your efforts in providing us with a championship baseball team. To the men who gave their time so that Washington and Lee might be represented on the diamond, we also are indebted and we honor you. Then last but of as much importance is the credit which is due Willie Barron, manager of the team, who has provided us with a schedule second to none and who has had to guard against a financial deficit.

We have stated above that the Generals of 1919 are the champions of Virginia. No one but a partisan can logically contend otherwise. Comparative scores are all in our favor and we won't even stop to give the detailed basis of our conclusion. We also claim that Washington and Lee has the best record in the South and but for the defeat by Maryland State the only one of the season, which gives us cause for hesitancy, we would assert that Raftery's nine are the South Atlantic Champions.

The season opened with Lincoln Memorial who stepped on the field with victories over University of Virginia, V. P. I. and V. M. I. and with the confidence of adding more honor to their University. The game was a close one and not until the ninth inning was over could it be said that the Generals had won. The pitching of Graham was easily the feature of this contest.

On April 10th, William and Mary was bold enough to attempt a contest with the White and Blue nine. They came and they saw but it took Johnny Drye to send them back home as this gentleman knocked the old pill over in the tennis courts in the ninth inning, thus winning the game and stepping into the limelight.

Next were our friends from Blacksburg with whom we have had many relations this year, athletically speaking. There was a rumor in the air that the Cadets were coming to Lexington for blood—that Coach Bernier had an S. A. team. Well it did not take this bunch long to find out they were in the wrong pew and after eight innings of bombardment the Techs stepped over to V. M. I. where they met with better luck.

Hampden Sidney and Randolph-Macon were easily disposed of though Charlie Moss' team was inclined to be somewhat obstinate at first and the former W. and L. gridiron star was not satisfied until Corbett stole home in the ninth for the winning run, after striking out fifteen of the opposition. This put a quietus on Charlie's happy compliments to Coach Raftery.

Then came the most glorious week of the season and it was on this occasion that we were able to use this headline: "W. AND L. THRASHES PENN. STATE, WALLOPS CAROLINA, AND BLANKS V. P. I." If any one entertained any doubts as to the strength of the Generals, this doubt was fully removed after the above games were played. It was at this time that the potentialities of our team were revealed and the sporting world began to take notice. Penn State was easily outclassed, and was not even able to score. Graham pitched another wonderful game, allowing but three hits. Three days later University of North Carolina received the short end of a 6-5 score in a slugfest featured by the ninth inning punch of the Generals. V. P. I. was given the second walloping of the season and convinced of the fact that her team was wholly inferior to that of W. and L.

The game with V. P. I. was played in Blacksburg on Saturday and on the Monday following Maryland State was on the schedule. Returning to the campus Sunday evening, tired and worn out, the men had little chance to rest, and in justice to the team it must be said that it was not in the best of condition for this game. However, we do not mean to underestimate the strength of the Maryland representatives for they certainly could hit a ball. The result was adverse to us and it marked the first defeat of the season and the only one of the year. In order to satisfy a doubt in our mind we would like to have seen another game with the Marylanders.

The next three games were easy victories for the Generals, for stung to energy by the above defeat, they played with Elon, thrashed Roanoke College unmercifully, and closed the season by blanking Concord State, Graham bringing his college career to a close in a startling manner by striking out seventeen of the State Normal batters.

THE 1919 CALYX

On yesterday afternoon we had our curiosity satisfied, for the Calyx of 1919 made its appearance on the campus. After a fairly close examination of the annual, we have only words of praise for the editor and manager. The book is truly representative of Washington and Lee and it is free from the loose slang which has been found in previous issues. Though there are a few mistakes, and they can be expected, these cannot be discovered except on close examination.

As the editor has rightly said in his foreword, "And the Calyx 1919 has seen her dark days too. No one knew she was going to exist until January, and then her managership changed hands. But she was determined to live, so she recovered from her spell of breakdown, and—here she is." In this state of uncertainty, when ordinarily half of the book should have been in the printer's hands at this time of the college year, the editor was just beginning his book and the compilation must of necessity have been hurried. After laboring for about six weeks, the announcement was made that the first

ALUMNI OVERSEAS CELEBRATE LIBERTY HALL DAY

Grand Get Together and Final Banquet Before Return to God's Country, Writes Lieut. Keaton, '15.

The alumni of Washington and Lee who are in France with the A. E. F.'s, are tonight having a farewell banquet, first because it is Liberty Hall Day and second because they will soon be returning to America. The following is a letter written by Lieutenant Morgan Keating, '15:

Paris, May 13, 1919.

Editor Ring-tum Phi, Lexington, Va. Sir:—While the peace delegates are making proposals and counter-proposals, the Washington and Lee Alumni are preparing for a grand final "get together" and banquet here June 3, 1919, "Liberty Hall Day." For some time since the signing of the Armistice, such a course has been contemplated, but not until yesterday when Coach Al Orth, Dr. Granville Campbell, Captain Robert L. Anderson, '13, Lieut. Adrian H. Boyd, '17, Lieutenant Morgan Keating, '15, James Cooper, '17, Lieut. James Moore, '18, and Corporal Amory P. Barrow, '16, met at the University Union, did such action receive concrete force.

The banquet in honor of the founding of the grand old Alma Mater will be held in Paris at the American University Union and the above alumni, now attending the University of Paris, Sorbonne, constitute a "committee of the whole," to round up all the A. W. O. L.'s in the A. E. F. and bring them to Paris for the grand alumni fellowship before embarking for God's country.

Many of the W. and L. men have already departed for home, but it is thought that quite a number will still be here to take part in the festivities and every effort is to be made to see that the "get together" is one of the "old pep" style.

Efforts are being made to form a permanent A. E. F. Alumni Association so that the entire world may know the ideals for which the Alma Mater stands as translated by the deeds of Washington and Lee in years gone by, and recently by the heroic deeds of our alumni on the battlefields of France.

sixty-five pages were in the hands of the publishers and from that time on the material was rushed as fast as possible.

And contrary to previous years, the Calyx of 1919 has reached the student on time, three weeks before commencement. With these facts before us, we can utter only words of congratulation because the editors and managers have accomplished a task of no little difficulty. They have done their work admirably.

CLASS OF '22 PAINTS TOWN RED

Men Discard White and Blue Insignia for Real Civilian Hats. Celebration Amusing

Saturday night marked the beginning of a new life for the Freshmen of W. and L. for at 12 o'clock that night they were permitted to discard their caps and dress like the rest of the men on the campus.

At 10.30 the entire class assembled in front of the main building in costumes of varied styles, the oriental fashion being the most popular. After a few words of instruction, Bob Howerton, president of the class, adorned in a white robe and seated in his state-ly carriage, namely, a wheel-barrow, led the stampede, the rest of the celebrators following him. Then came a large wagon drawn by thirty or forty Freshmen, in which was placed a large can designed to be the receptacle of the white and blue spot, which has the historic appellation of "Freshman cap." The most spectacular performance came when the freshmen threw their caps into the can and drew the wagon through Main street after a little kerosene and a match had been applied. Yell after yell was given as the flames consumed the last fragments of the insignias.

But this was not the end of the party as Abrogast led a snake dance while the fellows expressed their unrestrained feelings with such songs as: "Hail, hail the gang's all here" and the Swing. After this public program, many of the men were detailed to paint the artistic "22" in order to have some landmark by which to remember the eventful night. This job was well done as far as territory is concerned for the numeral 22 may be seen every few feet on every sidewalk in Lexington.

Quite an audience collected in front of McCrum's to see the show and strange to say the Lexington police force had been increased extemporaneously.

S. A. E. AND S. P. E. BATTLE FOR THE CUP

The S. A. E.'s easily defeated the Sigma Chi's yesterday by the score of 17 to 3. Scott, who was on the mound for the winner, was never in danger and pitched very good ball while his mates hit the ball all over the lot.

Dink Peale stepped in the pitcher's box for the Sigma Chi and had lots on the ball, but his support was faulty.

The hitting and fielding of the S. A. E. nine was the feature of the contest.

S. P. E.'S DEFEAT A. X. P.'S

Semi-finals in the inter-fraternity league started Saturday, when the S. P. E.'S defeated the A. X. P.'S by the score of 7-0 thus grabbing another leg on the cup. "Red Creedle" pitched for the winners and put across a shut out in fine fashion. However, the Alpha Chi Rho aggregation threatened at all times and had men on bases in practically every inning but seemed to lack the punch to put a man across the plate.

Creedle was easily the star for his brothers for not only did he pitch good ball but in five trips up he laced out a homer and a pair of bingles. The work of Stipes at first featured for the A. X. P.'s. The tall boy handled everything that came around his way at first.

Hainline started in the box for the Alpha Chi Rhos and he pitched good ball, but the errors of his team mates proved fatal. Love replaced Hainline in the fifth and started out by whiffing the first three that faced him and pitched good ball the rest of the game.

Score by innings:
S. P. E. 103 003 00X
A. X. P. 000 000 000

Batteries:
S. P. E., Creedle and Thompson.
A. X. P., Hainline, Love and Johnston.

There will be six infantry camps opened on that day, the various districts being provided for as follows:

Camp Devens, Mass.
3rd and 4th Districts:
Camp Lee, Virginia.
5th and 10th Districts:
Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.
6th and 7th Districts:
Camp Custer, Mich.
8th and 9th Districts:
Camp Funston, Kan.
11th and 12th Districts:
Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.

The above named camps will be devoted to Infantry training primarily. With regard to camps for other service branches information will be furnished later.

Full information respecting the camps, time of reporting, mileage, expenses, equipment, etc., will be published in Unit Memoranda. (This information can be gotten from Major Tuttle.)

It is expected that the attendance will approximate 10,000 students. The Camp will open on June 21st and close on August 2nd. At all of the camp sites selected every facility exists for carrying on a course of instruction which will combine purely military work, physical training, athletics and recreation. Every student who attends can be assured of six weeks of active outdoor work, a varied interesting vacation and a wholesome "good time" as well.

WITH THE Y. M. C. A.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was again held on the campus last Wednesday night, at which time William and Frances Miller spoke. These two men were very active in the work when they were at W. and L. and gave some very helpful hints about a Christian's life. Frances Miller spoke first on "Some Lessons Gained from the War." He said that he is more convinced now than ever before that the world needs men who are honest, love their fellow men, and who are seeking God. The other brother then spoke and told of "Some of the Things That Distinguish a Christian" as he saw them. He mentioned particularly that they should be absolutely Christ's men, and that they must serve Christ all the time, and that they must be willing to undertake the work for which Christ came into the world, bringing the world to Christ.

The first speaker told of a trip that he took with some officers up the Hindenburg Line after the armistice was signed. He said that it should have been a wonderful trip for seeing that part of the country, but somehow the mugginess of the day and the awful desolation began to weigh upon him and gradually the thought framed itself in his mind that the majority of the young men of that country were under the sod and that he himself belonged to the minority, and he wondered why that was. On further thought he decided that it must be because God had something else in the world for him to do. Following this suggestion he made it clear to the audience that the very fact that they were alive constituted an obligation to live differently now that so many have lost their lives for the cause of liberty. He mentioned three marks that those left should have. The first of these is honesty. He said that he realized now as never before the need of just plain honest men who are willing to be honest with themselves and do what they know to be right. The second is love. Mr. Miller said that the very core of a Christian's life is love. The last is that they should be men who are seeking God.

William Miller said that he was glad to find that 85 per cent of the men at W. and L. are professed Christians and pointed to the fact that this is true throughout the country in contrast to the conditions a hundred years ago. In speaking of some of the things that mark Christians he first said that they should be absolutely Christ's men. He explained how in becoming a Christian a man agrees to give up his own plan and live according to the plan that Christ has for him. It was shown how a man must keep on giving himself to Christ if he is to really be Christ's man. The second is that they should serve Christ all the time. He said, "You cannot take a vacation in being a Christian even if you can in other things." It was pointed out that a man is most liable to keep up the pace that is set in college and that in developing it is but logical and right that fruit should be borne all the time. The third and last point was to undertake the work that Christ came on earth for. That is the bringing of others to Christ. In closing he said, "If being a Christian is to mean anything, then we must take the commission Christ gave us....The work of bringing the world to Christ must be the work of every Christian..... If we have really given our lives to Christ the one passion of our lives will be to bring the world to Christ."

DIAMOND CUTS

The Phi Gams have a star in "Fats" Barrow. This speedy keystone hit the pill to all corners of the lot and also pilfered a number of bases during the preliminary games.

Phi Kappa Psi ran around the paths a number of times in the game with the Betas. Buskirk was going good, there being but one of his opponents who could touch him at will. "Pete" Clark landed on "Red" for two bingles and a double.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Phi Kappa Psi aggregations hooked up in one of the closest contests that has been played in the Inter-fraternity league. St. Clair had only one bad inning, which was offset by one of the same by Hansbarger. The five-inning game ran for nine innings with the score balanced at 6 to 6. Fast base work by Roberts, a clean single by Jack Darden and an infield tap by Locke brought the winning run over the pan in the last of the ninth.

The S. O. T. S. proved to be the baseball sensation of the league. With representatives of half of the "Frats" in college stationed at the different corners, the Sots played up behind Sammy Baylor in grand style, and if this team could be counted in the race for the cup it would have made a leg on the cup.

Gilmore knocked a home run in the "Sot" game, and has been threatened by excommunication from that body if he repeats the feat.

CAMPBELL STARS IN A T. O. PHI KAPPA SIG GAME. This would be the headline for the article on this game if space permitted a detailed account. Eddie's uniform, stalwart appearance and perfect manipulation of the ball all contributed to the defeat of the Phi Kaps.

Jimmie Mattox's all-star combination made a few costly slips in the game with the A. X. P.'s which the latter won. F. Love was too good for this bunch. Jesse Ball and Abrogast kept the players in humor at all times.

It is reported that several big league scouts have been in Lexington this week, though they did their best to conceal their presence. The fraternities are in danger for if they don't watch out they are going to lose several men. These games should be staged behind closed gates.

The S. P. E.'s are a hard bunch to crack. They hit the ball hard, and field well. Many of their men have been practicing with the scrubs during most of the season, and for that reason are in better condition than most of the other teams.

"Houston" St. Claire fanned out four times in the S. A. E.-S. Chi game and made four runs. He went to first on a catcher's third strike pass and worked his way round to the platter in every instance.

Buck Bryant slammed the old pill around the lot at a merry nip for the S. X.'s. It is just like playing at guard, he says.

Miller handles the catcher's mitt like a professional. He has caught all of the games for S. A. E. and has showed a good wing and a quick eye.

BATTING HONORS FOR SEASON GO TO MATTOX

were fortunate enough to walk to first unmolested.

Georgie Gregg gets credit for the greatest number of stolen bases with eleven stored away. Sutton is next with seven. Yancey has taken a liking to two-baggers and the peppery third bagger has three to his credit, one more than his nearest competitors. Jones and Gregg have two each. Mattox has laced out two three-base hits besides a home run. Drye is responsible for two circuit clouts and Mat Henderson is proud of the one he drove in the last game of the season.
