

EDITORIAL IN TIMES SAYS CO-EDS O. K.

Ideas Regarding Women Students Have Changed; Girls Are The More Capable Students.

The following is a reprint of an editorial which appeared in the New York Times under the caption "Cheers For the Co-ed."

Men and women graduated from college within the last ten years have had much to say of late about the merits and faults of co-education.

Judgment is Reversed

By five years of co-educational instruction, his judgment has been completely reversed. He entered his first classroom with deeply rooted convictions of the impossibility of teaching women anything.

True, they wear "new fall creations" and chiffon hose. They use cosmetics liberally. They make a lecture room look like the dressing room of the chorus in a musical comedy.

Five years are hardly enough for examination of a subject so involved and difficult. Mr. De Voto emphasizes the fact that he speaks in generalization of the average student.

Law Clubs Plan To Resume Work

Plans are being made to resume work in the law clubs which were started last year in the law school, and clubs will be organized in each of the classes.

The Board of Student Advisers, which is composed of three men from the Intermediate Law class and four from the Senior Law class, chosen according to scholastic standing, consists of: R. W. Jordan, chairman; J. C. Wilbourn, secretary; W. F. Maynard, B. J. Wagner, H. M. Barker, R. D. Powers, Jr., and J. B. Towill.

SOPHOMORES

There will be a meeting of the sophomores class Thursday night October 6, 1927, on first floor Newcomb Hall at 7:30.

Duke Contest Is Expected To Draw Huge Attendance

A great crowd is expected to see the teams of Washington and Lee and Duke under former mentors Herron and DeHart clash next Saturday on Wilson field.

Extra stands will be erected on the side of the field to accommodate the Student Body while those on the stadium side will be sold as reserved seats.

Officials for the contest have been announced as follows: Carrington (Y.A.), referee; Arnold (Va.), umpire; Klevesahl (Rich.), headlinesman.

Tennis Temporarily Under Direction Of Coach Fletcher

Due to the temporary inactivity of Coach Williams, fall tennis practice for Varsity and freshmen is taking place daily under the indirect supervision of Mr. Fletcher.

Two main squads are out. One, directed by Max Turk, is composed of third and fourth year men, while the other, under McCarty, contains the freshman and sophomores.

In 1919, the second campaign under Dr. Smith's direction was started. This campaign was known as the "Million Dollar Campaign."

Greeks Continue To Pledge Frosh

The following is a list of men pledged to fraternities since the issue of the Ring-tum Phi in which the first list was published: Alpha Tau Omega: T. J. Mayo, Ashland, Ky.;

Spend Night On House Mountain

"Mountain climbing isn't what it's cracked up to be," according to Richard Carver, after spending last Saturday night on the heights of House Mountain with five freshmen.

Being amateur hikers, and under-estimating the distance to the mountain, the explorers were encamped on the mountainside when dusk came, munching their meager meal around a campfire.

Between the howl of mountain lions and the pleadings of mountain dew peddlers, sleeping was a difficult matter, and the party was quite fatigued when it arrived in town Sunday.

YANKEES WIN OPENER, 5-4

The New York Yankees, lead by "Babe" Ruth, won the game of the 1927 World series from Pittsburgh this afternoon, 5 to 4.

Yankees—1 0 3 0 1 0 0 0 0 —5—6—0
Pirates—1 0 1 0 1 0 0 1 0 —4—9—1

Batteries: New York—Hoyt, Moore and Collins. Pittsburgh—Kremer, Miljus, and Smith.

CAMPAIGN FOR ENDOWMENT BIG SUCCESS

Most Successful Fiscal Period In History Of School; Assets Have Been More Than Doubled.

An extensive endowment campaign inaugurated and directed by Dr. Henry Smith since his advent to the presidency of Washington and Lee University in 1912 has been a striking feature in the success of the University in the past decade.

During this time the total assets of the University have been more than doubled and the net increase during this period exceeds the total paid in net increase received during Washington and Lee's entire history prior to 1913.

The report shows that during the past fourteen years there have been two distinct fund raising efforts which have now been merged into one on the University books.

In 1919, the second campaign under Dr. Smith's direction was started. This campaign was known as the "Million Dollar Campaign."

A campaign for the reestablishment of the first school of journalism in the United States founded by General Lee, was conceived by Dr. Smith in 1920 and presented by him to the Southern Newspaper Association who agreed to sponsor such a campaign.

GATOR AFFAIR SATURDAY BIG UP-SET OF DOPE

All seven of the Generals' future opponents were seen in action last Saturday, with four of the seven being victorious and three tasting defeat.

Duke Victorious, 25-9

Duke university, of Durham, North Carolina, defeated Boston college at Boston last Saturday to the tune of 25 to 9.

Tigers Nose Out Win

The prospects for a victory over Princeton the week after next are exceedingly bright, especially after the Generals' fine showing against the "Mountaineers" and the impressive opening of the Tigers' season.

Tucky Bows To Hoosiers

Employing a slashing off-tack attack headed by Bennet and Reinhart, the heavy University of Indiana team defeated the Blue Hoosiers of Kentucky at Lexington today, 21 to 0.

Play was nearly even during the first half, but Indiana's weight and superior defense finally caused Kentucky to succumb.

Old Liners Win Easily

Maryland used straight football, combined with a deceptive pass attack, to defeat the University of South Carolina 26 to 0 on October 1.

Bulldogs Swamp Virginia

The Cavaliers from the University of Virginia invaded the kennels of Coach Woodruff's Georgia Bull dogs

CALYX MEETING

There will be a meeting on the first floor of Newcomb Hall, Thursday, at 7:30, for those wishing to try out for the Editorial Staff of the Calyx.

Trustee Writes Open Letter To Captain Of Team

The appended open letter, addressed to the captain of the Generals' football team, "Horses" Tips, was received in Lexington a few hours before the start of the West Virginia game Saturday.

Judge McDermott, one of the trustees of the University, has always been a staunch supporter and follower of Washington and Lee teams, and his continued interest is shown by the statements in the letter that he hopes to be here on the eleventh, and will also attend the Princeton game October 15.

His letter follows:

To the Captain of the W. and L. Football Team:

Congratulations to you, and all of the team, not forgetting the substitutes and squad and your coaches, on your first victory.

(Signed) Charles J. McDermott.

Opening Issue Of "Mink" To Be Snappy Number

Barring all printing troubles, the first issue of the 1927-28 "Mink" will appear on Saturday, October 15, according to W. M. Garrison editor-in-chief of the university comic magazine this year.

All copy and art work is in the hands of the printers in Lynchburg now and work is well under way on the "Opening Number".

The cover will be by "Dud" Carr, an alumnus, whose art work was the feature of last year's "Mink", and which has appeared frequently in "College Humor".

The subscription list is now nearing 700, according to George S. DePass, business manager. Over 1500 copies will be distributed through newstands and sales.

Dean Campbell To Talk To Freshmen

There will be a meeting of the Freshman class in Lee Chapel Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

According to Professor Latture, chairman of the Faculty committee on freshmen, the administrative officers are very much interested in the record which the Freshman class is going to make in the matter of scholarship as well as in student activities.

Second V. C. Finds Two of 8 Present

The second regular meeting of the V. C. was held on Tuesday, October 4, at eight o'clock. Ten charges were received for this meeting, but only two arrived on time.

In the future all men receiving cards from the V. C. will bring three paddles instead of two, as has been the custom.

DUKE BATTLE EXPECTED TO BE FEATURE

Both Teams Fresh From Brilliant Victories; Warner System Used As Former Mates Meet

When the fighting Generals of Washington and Lee line up against the Blue Devils from Duke university on Wilson field this Saturday the fans are going to be handed a choice football morsel.

An unusual and unique situation is to be found in this battle Saturday. Coach Pat Herron of the Generals and Jimmy DeHart of the Blue Devils are former teammates and All-American men from the University of Pittsburgh.

The W. and L. mentor is former coach at Duke, while DeHart guided the destinies of the Generals up to two years ago.

Assistant coach Palmer of the Generals romped in the backfield with Cameron and Tilson for a Blue and White eleven back in 1924.

It is possible that White, Howe, Stearns, and Barclay, all of whom have played under DeHart, will start in the backfield for Washington and Lee.

According to all reports from Durham the Tar Heels' hopes are high and they have every reason to be confident. With the odds against them they journeyed to Boston to tackle the heavy Boston college eleven.

The unexpected victory caused a frenzied celebration among the student body at Duke. A thousand cheering students met the team at the trains, and held up traffic in Durham for nearly an hour.

Because of the rainy weather the North Carolina boys had only a light workout Monday. They also went through a light practice Tuesday, but Wednesday were sent through a stiff grind, scrimmaging against both the frosh and the second teams.

None the less unexpected was W. and L.'s brilliant showing against the West Virginia Mountaineers. The Duke eleven is fully aware of this fact, but nevertheless are suspected to be a bit overconfident.

Pi Delta Epsilon Meeting Thursday

Pi Delta Epsilon, the honorary journalistic fraternity, will have its initial meeting of the year Thursday afternoon, at 5 o'clock. The convention will be from November tenth to the thirteenth, and the delegates will be the guests of Ohio State university.

There are 20 members of the fraternity now in school, and it is intended that new men will be elected at the meeting. Plans are being made for an edition of the Piedtarrus to be out at the time of the Virginia game, November 5.

TO HAVE DANCES OR NOT

THE term "Dance Regulations" has an ominous sound, but, so long as they are observed by the student body, no terrifying results will accrue, if past results are to be taken as a guide.

A brief explanation of the system of dance control at Washington and Lee is always in vogue as the first informal of the year approaches, however, and it is to familiarize the new men with the rules here and to remind the old men of the necessity of their setting the example in the obedience to them that the regulations are being printed in full elsewhere in this issue.

The university faculty committee on social functions frankly admits their failure at enforcing any kind of regulations, and in turning the control of the dances over to the student dance control committee they do it with the ultimatum of "good order or cessation of dances." In line with this final word the executive committee has constituted the floor committee, and it is to them that the job of enforcing the regulations, impartially and strictly, has been given.

Infliction of the prescribed penalties for violation of the rules has been done in the past, and will be done this year if occasion should arise to make such a step a necessary, those in charge have stated, and it is with a full understanding of their responsibilities that the members of the committee have accepted their positions. To make Washington and Lee dances the functions that they should be, however, the cooperation of every man attending is necessary, and to insure the continuation of these pleasant evenings their strict adherence to the rules as outlined is imperative.

CONGRATULATIONS, GENERALS

VOICING the sentiments of the entire student body, we are sure, we justly say to Captain "Horse" Tips and his teammates who saw service against West Virginia "Congratulations, Generals." The Big Blue proved at Charleston that the title of "Fighting Generals" is no fiction, but a truly descriptive name applied to a great and powerful gridiron machine.

Regardless of the talk to the contrary, Washington and Lee was rated as the under-dog by that masterful diagnoser of chances, the "betting fraternity." Saturday morning West Virginia backers were willing to bet almost any reasonable amount on the Mountaineers at five to three or 25 to 18 odds, or even money that the Rodgers eleven would take the game by a margin of 13 points or more. A strong desire to hedge was noticeable before the first quarter was over, however, as the Generals gave evidence of their ability to hold the Old Gold and Blue at the same time to gain with fair consistency.

West Virginia is no mean team to battle on equal terms. Seasoned observers, who have been watching Mountaineers eleven for years, are authorities for statements that the Morgantown crew carries more dynamite in their punch this season than for several years, and their showing against West Virginia Wesleyan, whom they defeated by several touchdowns September 24, but who held their conquerors to a close decision in 1926, bears out this opinion.

To the hundred or more students, and throngs of cheering alumni who witnessed the fray, the Generals looked like an entirely different team from that which displayed only mediocre football against Lynchburg on Wilson Field ten days ago. The line charged as a unit on every play, and the backfield flashed such form and perfect interference on the offense that it was only by desperate efforts that West Virginia was able to hold the local machine to a tie.

The defensive power had improved a hundred per cent also, especially when combating forward passes. Whereas backs and ends of the opposition were frequently in the open in the Lynchburg game, the Mountaineers were allowed to complete only two passes in ten attempts, and three of the remainder were intercepted.

Truly a great team, but their real test is to come in the seven games remaining on the schedule. Duke, Princeton, and Maryland are commonly rated as the hardest nuts to crack, but if the entire student body gives the Generals support in these games proportionate to that given by the handfull of fans who made the journey to Charleston, their task will be made much easier.

WHEN A MAN IS NOT "GENTLEMEN"

FRESHMEN, numbers of them, are taking the admonition to address old men when passing on the campus or down town with the traditional "Hi, Gentlemen" too literally.

At first the action of a great many of the new men in speaking to one upper classman or professor with a "Hi, Gentlemen" greeting was quite amusing, but with the constant usage to which it is being put when the addressing should be in the singular it ceases to be humorous and becomes monotonous, and, withal, exasperating.

A bit of reflection on the part of the freshmen who are guilty of seeing double every time they pass one old man would soon result in the correction of this absurdity, we believe, and it is with this constructive desire in mind that the matter is being called to their attention.

"Hi, Gentlemen" should always be used when passing two or more studnets or members of the faculty, but the Gentlemen should be dropped when only one man is passing.

Michigan Youths' Morals At Stake

Ordered by the school board to appear in class room Monday wearing smocks "reaching to within 10 inches of the floor," 108 women teachers of the Hazel Park, Mich., public school have refused to obey the board's edict. The teachers were understood to have the backing of the suburb's parents-teacher organization. Mrs. Lottie Thisbos and San Durbin, board members and authors of the "smock measure," maintained their ruling was designed to protect the moral integrity of the youth of Hazel Park. "Let them put us out if they don't like the way we run the board," was Mrs. Thisbos' ultimatum.

F. J. Koukol and John Dower, dissenting members of the school board, were of the opinion that teachers cannot be forced to wear the smocks.

About 150 Frosh Attend "Y" Social

About one hundred and fifty freshmen and a number of town girls attended the first Y. M. C. social of the year given in the Y room Saturday night. Entertainment was afforded in plenty during the evening in the newly equipped room. Various games were played, the liveliest of them being cracker-eating and banana-eating contests. Ice cream and cake was served the guests.

Hold Compulsory Assembly Thursday

A compulsory assembly will be held in the Doremus gymnasium Thursday, October 6, at the request of the Executive committee of the Student Body. This meeting, which was officially sanctioned by President Henry Louis Smith, will probably be opened by Dean Campbell in view of the expected absence from town of President Smith on that date.

The assembly will then be turned over to officers of the Student Body Executive committee. The purpose of the meeting is to explain the dance regulations and recommend appropriate action on the part of the Student Body.

Put Tickets On Sale Monday For Virginia Classic

Tickets for the University of Virginia-Washington and Lee game will be put on sale Monday at the Corner and McCrums. This is the announcement made today by Captain Dick Smith who is putting them on sale early on account of the large crowd expected at the game November 5.

The price of the tickets will be two dollars each and students who have girls for the game can buy two seats together, one a student admission and the other a regular ticket.

Four thousand extra seats will be set up for the game in addition to the stadium and bleachers now used by the University. The total seats will number eight thousand. The stadium will be reserved for the University of Virginia students and alumni.

After two years without a football team, St. Stephen's College, Anandale, N. J., has decided that it can not afford to exist as an educational institution without the grid game. Consequently the sport has been reintroduced. Games will be played this year with colleges which have open dates on their schedules. Next year a regular schedule will be made out.

Football Classic
Holiday Occasion

Washington and Lee's invasion of Charleston last Saturday turned the mountain city into a riot of color and tune worthy of an East-West classic. With nearly 10,000 visitors in town, including most of the "ed" and "co-ed" population of West Virginia and a moderate sized but exceedingly active contingent from Lexington, Charleston "blossomed out," and proceeded to turn collegiate with a vengeance.

The Mountaineers arrived Friday evening and were at once beset by impatient townspeople who wanted a little inside dope on the situation. The Generals arrived Friday night and were the guests of the Holley Hotel. With two big dances ahead of them and with two bands going full blast, everybody turned loose and sampled Charleston's best.

Saturday afternoon came around, and the army of collegians, townspeople, school kids from all over the state, and visiting business men had soon evacuated the city and were mixed up in a nice traffic jam on the roads leading to Laidley Field. Just before the game at 3 o'clock an airplane swooped over the field and dropped a paper barrage. The Mountaineer Band was on the field in force, playing "West Virginia, Hail" while the Charleston High School band took the Generals' part and tootled the "Swing" most valiantly. The usual brigade of tardy fans straggled to their seats, and the game was on.

What happened at the game is now a matter of history; suffice it is to say that the Generals upset the dope bucket and all calculations and set the Mountaineers down with a 6-5 tie for the best game in years.

After the game the Washington and Lee men cut losses and showed the town what the Generals were capable of doing. Friday night there had been a dance at the country Club; Saturday night an even bigger affair was given at the Armory with Coon Saunders Original Nighthawks furnishing the noise. The boys had a great time. And now everything in old Lexington is getting ready for the Duke game Saturday. Such is life.

Frosh Class Holds Run-off Election

Members of the Freshman class met Monday night in Lee Chapel for the purpose of holding a run-off election for candidates for the Executive committee and Secretary-Treasurer. Those elected were: Executive committee, Enoch Piersol; secretary-treasurer, A. Seely.

The offices of president, vice-president, and historian were filled Friday night, but election returns were incomplete in the other two contests due to the failure of the candidates to secure majorities.

Cotillion Club
Elects New Men

The Cotillion Club, holding its first meeting of the year last night, elected twenty-six new men to membership, following which it completed plans for the first informal of the year, which will be held Saturday night of this week.

Those chosen were: T. G. Gibson, M. M. Sproul, W. B. Lott, R. K. Southerland, W. V. Gilbert, L. Y. Foote, T. J. Taylor, Albert Steves, Allen Morgan, H. L. Williams, E. L. Madison, J. B. Oliver, E. M. Wood, T. B. Fitzhugh, E. P. Bledsoe, Jr., W. H. Wilcox, J. A. McVay, H. Gowen, G. H. Lanier, W. N. Offutt, J. D. Jenkins, E. S. Graves, G. N. Lowden, W. P. Battle, G. B. Wiltshire and J. R. Roberts.

M. A. C. Boasts Of New Hazing Stunt

Massachusetts Agricultural College boasts an unusual hazing stunt that may be from old New England system of ducking village scolds and other people who had committed mild offenses. The stunt is called the "Sixty-Man Rope Pull" and is an annual event at the college. This year's pull, which was held recently resulted in the representatives of the freshman class being dragged through the water and mud to their first defeat. Both classes presented a sturdy group of men, but the sophomores got the jump at the start and were never headed from their lead. Upperclassmen, as usual, coached both sides, and slowly and surely the freshmen were dragged towards the water's edge. Here they rallied for a moment, but it was not long before the feet of the first yearling were wet. About four minutes from the starting gun, the line of freshmen had entered the water, after which it was merely a matter of time before the entire team was pulled through. Pat: (after week-end party): Wasn't Peg a wonderful chaperon? Jimmy: Oh-h-h! was she our chaperon?

Georgia Coach To Resign His Place

Coach George "Kidd" Woodruff, head coach at the University of Georgia, for the past four years, announced Saturday that he would resign his position at the close of the present football season to pursue business interests in Columbus, Georgia, his home.

His announcement was made at the alumni home-coming banquet in Athens after the Virginia-Georgia game, and came as a complete surprise to everyone. No probable successor has been named by officials of the university.

last Saturday and were literally routed with the brilliant aerial attack and devastating line bucks of the Georgia boys, who passed, crashed the line, and punted to a 32-0 advantage before the final whistle.

McCrory, the "Georgia Flash," monopolized the ground-gaining for the day, and was the undisputed star of the encounter, while Captain Chick Shiver of the Bulldogs, and Cavalier Captain Caldwell took the defensive honors.

V. P. I. Defeats Deacons

V. P. I. defeated Hampden-Sidney last Saturday mainly through the efforts of "Monk" Mattox. The count was 13 to 0 but the game was not nearly so close as the score would indicate, as V. P. I. made twelve first downs against Hampden-Sidney's none. V. P. I.'s famous double pass was reasonable for both touchdowns. This reverse play, with the flashy Mattox carrying the ball, never failed to gain a substantial yardage.

Davidson Beats 'Gators

Completely upsetting the dope, the Davidson Wildcats romped through and around the University of Florida line to score a decisive 12 to 0 victory over the Gators last Saturday in gainsville.

Although outweighed 10 pounds to the man, the plucky Carolinians carried the fight to the Gators. Florida was twice on the eve of a touchdown, and ran in Crabtree, their injured backfield ace, but the Davidson linemen held on both occasions.

ENDOWMENT PLAN IS SUCCESSFUL

(Continued from page one) ment were also made in addition to the cash gifts, and chief of which was the promise of a completely equipped linotype machine by the Mergenthaler Co., of Brooklyn, N. Y.

During the period of these campaigns $184,227.29 was given for special purposes such as scholarships, loan funds, and special equipment. Outstanding under this head is the addition to the physical assets of the University by the Athletic association of the athletic field and stadium to which the Athletic Association contributed $46,543.20 over and above the large amount put into it by the University.

The phenomenal success of these efforts caused many skeptics to criticize the campaign and to predict that subscribed amounts would never be collected. However, to January 1, 1927, a total of $958,607.85 has been paid in on subscriptions to endowment and equipment; $34,967.67 to the School of Journalism, and $184,227.20 for aid funds and scholarships. The total of collections since 1913 aggregate $1,177,802.72. The balance of $610,057.60 is still collectible and payments are being constantly made through the office of the Alumni Secretary.

ENTERTAINMENT IN HONOR OF STUDENTS

An entertainment in honor of Washington and Lee students was given at 8:00 o'clock Friday night in the rectory of the R. E. Lee Memorial church. More than 100 students attended and after they had met the congregation, there was a social gathering and dance at the rectory. Music was furnished by a three piece orchestra and refreshments were served later. The students were the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Churchill Gibson the congregation and the student vestry of Washington and Lee.

Mary—I had Fred won a loving cup the other day.

Sue—Really! He must have improved a lot since the last date I had with him!

Bill—You'd never think this street used to be a cowpath, would you?

Pill—Oh, I don't know; look at all the calves on it.

Frosh Regulations Set For Informal

Freshman regulations, as decided upon by the Freshman council at last night's meeting, for the first informal of the year, are as follows:

Freshmen are allowed to attend the dance for one hour only, from 10 till 11 o'clock unless accompanied by a young lady, in which case they may attend the entire function.

All freshmen will be required to wear green ties and socks.

DUKE BATTLE IS TO FEATURE WEEK

Tar Heels were defeated 13 to 7 by Furman in their first game of the season.

Coach Herron put his team through a stiff schedule of limbering up exercises in the gym Monday. The rest of the week will be taken up with hard workouts with the exception of Friday, when a light finishing up practice will end the preparation for Saturday's battle.

Bleachers are being erected on the north side of Wilson field to accommodate the expected large crowd. Duke will send up a big delegation of rooters to back their fighting eleven. The game is attracting widespread attention throughout this section as the battle is one of the most important in the South this week.
