

STUDENTS WILL GO BY BUS TO GOBBLER SETTO

Athletic Association Arranges With Townes Bus Line For Special Busses For Blacksburg Trip.

Arrangements with Townes Bus Line for special busses to Blacksburg for the game with Virginia Tech have just been completed by the athletic association and the executive committee of the student body. These will take the place of the special train which is usually run every year for this game.

The round trip fare to Blacksburg will be $4.50 from Lexington. These tickets will be good on all busses from Friday noon until Sunday night. This makes it possible for those wishing to leave Friday after classes to take advantage of the special round trip rate.

Special busses will leave Lexington early Saturday morning for Blacksburg. The exact time and place of their departure will be posted on the bulletin board in the Corner within the next few days. It has been assured that enough busses will be on hand to carry all students who wish to go, although all must buy tickets by noon Friday.

If as many as fifteen men want to stay in Blacksburg for the dance Saturday night after the game, a special bus will stay and return to Lexington after the dance. If more men than one bus will carry want to stay over, enough busses will remain to take care of them. In the event that no men want to stay after the game the busses will return to Roanoke, stay there an hour and a half, then return to Lexington.

Likewise, if enough students want to remain in Roanoke Saturday night, a bus will stop over there until 12:30 that night, then return to Lexington. This would give those students who want to take advantage of this an entire evening in Roanoke.

It is expected that a large number of students will make the trip to Blacksburg for the game, as this is the first time the Generals have played V. P. I. there for many years. Further detailed information concerning the special busses will be posted on the bulletin boards in the Corner Thursday or Friday morning.

Glee Club To Sing At Southern Sem

A combined company of 45 performers, which will include the Washington and Lee Glee Club, the Southern Collegians, and Mr. A. D. Tyler, will present a concert at Southern Seminary on Monday night, November 14.

Frank Parker, president of the Glee Club, and Graham Gibson, business manager of the Troubadours, arranged the trip to the Buena Vista institution. A dance will be given immediately after the concert by the administration of the Seminary. The Southern Collegians will furnish the music for this occasion. Mr. A. D. Tyler, director of the Glee Club, has been working hard during October, and those who have heard the University singers declare that it is the best organization in its history. Due to the favorable comments, it is planned to repeat the concert which was given in Lexington sometime ago. Other trips are also being arranged by President Parker and Manager Gibson.

Graham-Lee Meets Thursday Night

A special meeting of the Graham-Lee Literary society will be held in Washington College on Thursday night, November 10, due to the inadvisability of holding a meeting Saturday night after the V. P. I. game. If Thursday night proves to be a better time for the meetings than Saturday night there is a strong possibility that the meetings will be continued on that day.

The program arranged for the meeting Thursday includes two extemporaneous speeches, a number of informal talks, and a debate; "Resolved that co-education is a failure" affirmative, F. S. Nanny, and H. O. Winston; negative, F. Evans, and E. L. Kiel.

AA students are cordially invited to attend this special meeting.

V. P. I. Backs Come To Life To Romp On South Carolina

Though predicted by the dopsters to be the team that would equal Pittsburg's World series record of losing four in a row, the Pony Express of V. P. I. upset all forecasts by swamping the South Carolina Gamecocks, 35 to 0 last Saturday. From all reports the Gobblers have at last found themselves after a peculiar season. This event occurred in the last half of Saturday's affair when the Blacksburg team electrified the Richmond grandstands by running through the entire Gamecock eleven for four touchdowns in fifteen minutes. This was Tech's first victory since the day they became famous by defeating Colgate a month ago. A comparison of scores after this game is interesting. South Carolina beat Virginia, the Cavaliers won out over V. P. I. and the Gobblers ran through the Gamecocks 35-0. Who wants to predict this week's outcome?

Georgia's Bulldogs advanced another step in their fight for the Conference championship and national honors by holding the Florida Gators helpless to win by a 28-0 score. Captain McCrary, though playing but half the game, ran through the Gators for three touchdowns almost single handed. Florida threatened but once, and that was in the closing minutes when they carried the ball down the field. However, with fourth down on the Georgia one-foot line, the Gators backs lacked the punch to take it over as the game ended.

English Debating Team Members Have Been Chosen

The members of the English debating team which is to tour the United States have been chosen by the National Union of Students of England and Wales. The purpose of this debating tour is to encourage the interchange of students and ideas between the two countries.

This is the first team to debate in the United States which will represent Great Britain and not individual universities. Professor M. G. Bauer, coach of the University debating team, has arranged for a debate between the English and Washington and Lee teams.

The National Union is a federation of the Student Unions, and Societies of the universities and colleges in the southern section of Great Britain. It was founded in 1921, largely by ex-service men, in response to the necessities of the international situation, representing England and Wales in the Confederation Internationale des Etudiants.

2 More Students Apply For Degree

The latest applicants for degrees are J. J. Newman for a B. S. in civil engineering and Charles J. Holland for an L. L. B. This brings the total number of applications to 130. Only six men have thus far left the university either from voluntary withdrawal or by the "kicked out" channel.

Sixty-five of the University's 865 students are on probation resulting from their faulty scholastic work last year. They are allowed no class cuts and regular reports are sent to the Dean concerning their present standing in classes. No one is placed on probation this year because of excess class cuts as was the custom last year. Instead quality credits are deducted at the rate of one credit for each excess absence.

FROSH WRESTLERS TO MEET VARSITY

The third match between the Freshman and Varsity wrestling teams is scheduled for 5:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Varsity is determined to get revenge for its defeat last week, and many of the Varsity men who failed to show up at the last encounter have promised to be on hand for the meet this week. Both squads have a victory under their belts, and the match on Thursday should be a real battle. Results will appear in Saturday's edition.

GENERALS ARE GROOMING FOR TECH CONTEST

Blue and White Doggedly Prepare For Gobbler Clash Saturday; Tips and Lott Injured.

With the Virginia game a thing of the past, the Washington and Lee football team, more dogged and determined than ever, is preparing to meet the strong V. P. I. eleven in Blacksburg Saturday. Although the squad was granted a rest Monday afternoon and rain drove them indoors yesterday, the Generals are ready to give the Orange and Maroon the fight of their lives.

Captain Horse Tips was on crutches the early part of the week due to an ankle injury sustained in the Virginia encounter. It is doubtful whether or not he will start the game but it is certain that he will get into the scramble if his team needs him. Billy Lott also received bad bruises Saturday but will probably get a crack at the enemy before the afternoon is over. If Tips is not ready to start, Buck Streit will take his place at guard while Coach Herron will pick either Barclay or Eberhardt for the halfback position in case Lott is out of the game.

Coach Herron is not underestimating the strength of the Blacksburgers. Their sweeping victory over South Carolina last week shows that they have power on the offense. Their pony backfield found the weak spots in the Carolina line to be the ends and proceeded to roll up a big score. However, the Generals flanks are amply protected by Spotts, Dorsey and Sproul, with Howe and Stearns as a secondary defense. Little has been heard of the V. P. I. overhead game since they rely chiefly on running attack.

The forward wall of the Blue and White has the weight advantage over the Gobblers. Fisher and Fitzpatrick will give the Techmen plenty to think about during the afternoon both on the offense and defense, and a battle of giants will take place when Captain Miller of V. P. I. and Captain Tips of Washington and Lee oppose each other in the guard positions. At center, the Gobblers will miss Moran who played such a steady game last year.

Perhaps the two greatest backfields in the state will clash Saturday afternoon. White, Stearns, Howe and Lott, Eberhardt or Barclay will be cutting back through tackle or tossing passes to each other and the ends throughout the game. Peake is the big gun of the V. P. I. attack and is ably supported in circling the ends by Mattox, McEver and Looney.

Captain Tips, Latham, Spotts, Dorsey, Fisher, Howe and Stearns will play their last intercollegiate game on Virginia soil when they face the Gobblers Saturday.

Dr. R. G. Campbell who has been confined to his home all fall, was among those present at the Virginia game Saturday. This is one of the first times Dr. Campbell has been out of his home since the opening of school this year.

Lexington's Largest Crowd Handled Well With But Little Confussion

It's over! The big game. Virginia got the breaks. Wait till next year. Forget Virginia. Get V. P. I.

Before that crowd, estimated by some at 10,000, the Fighting Generals were losers, but still fighters. The Roanoke Times stated an attendance of 7,000, but the stands held 8,500 and each seat was sold with approximately 1,500 others present.

With such a crowd, a certain amount of confusion is to be expected, and criticism of the way in which the spectators were handled has largely been destructive criticism, probably by an individual who happened to be so unfortunate as to have his new hat crushed or a recent shoe shine demolished.

No traffic mishaps of any kind for the day was reported, though in a number of cases such incidents as hooked bumpers, or dented fenders were but a matter of course. A squad of ten extra men was on hand to take care of any over-expressive bellicose feelings that supporters of

Monogram Dance Saturday Evening Is Gay Occasion

Once more Doremus gymnasium became the center of colorful life and glowing youth at the Monogram club dance Saturday night. Approximately 650 boys and 200 girls were present for the evening's festivities.

Music was furnished by the Southern Collegians, who got off on the latest hits in their best and most attractive style. Old and new faces were seen in the famous hot corner, where the latest dance steps were cleverly exhibited. The sting of defeat was temporarily forgotten and the Student body cast aside all worries to assume a care free and happy spirit which resounded throughout the evening's joy.

Hundreds of girls from nearby school and neighboring states graced the floor with their beauty and charm. According to R. F. Howe, president of the Monogram club, the dance went off with the best order and was successful from every standpoint. Mirth and joy were not suppressed, but rowdiness and shames were not in evidence. Howe said: "I appreciate the co-operation of the Student Body in making the Monogram club dance the success it was."

It is customary for the Monogram club to give one dance each year. The larger portion of the financial proceeds are turned over to the Athletic association and a small amount to the Cotillion club. The Monogram club has no running expenses for the year and is closely connected with the Athletic association. Accordingly, the money is given to the Athletic association to be used for athletics at Washington and Lee.

Pideltaurus Makes Annual Appearance At Virginia Game

The yearly Pideltaurus made its appearance Saturday when Lexington was at its gayest revealing uncluttered and unblushingly all the incongruities of the present local colligate life and took the water with a splash.

The biggest news event which was scrawled all over the front page, was the doped statistics of the annual drinking bout with Virginia. So realistic and vivid was the diction that the reader could almost see the tournament in grand array; could almost hear the gurgling sounds of the sparkling, frothy liquid being drained down seduced throats. It was a masterful piece of writing, worthy of being pronounced typical of Collegiate literary age.

Perhaps the strongest local appeal of the publication lay in the direct local items. The fraternity appraisals showed keen insight and this year's members of the freffies, prom trotters, and other clubs were made public.

Some of its aims were missed terribly, and several of its comments were crookedly pointed, but on the whole it was good—a jerking check on who we really are; when we are that way, and why we ought not to be.

CAVALIERS PLUS BREAKS DOWN GENERALS BY 13 TO 7 SCORE

Blue and White Gain 346 Yards To Virginia's 182—Makes 14 Firstdowns To 5; Cavaliers are Outplayed in State Championship Game Saturday

ADJUSTED SCHEDULE

The academic, Commerce, and Science classes regularly scheduled for Monday, November 14 are to be omitted, and those assigned for Saturday, November 12 are to meet on Monday the fourteenth.

Over 1000 Alumni Return For Annual Home-coming Game

It is estimated that more than 1,000 alumni returned to Washington and Lee over the past week-end to witness the game with the University of Virginia. About one-sixth of all the living graduates were here, constituting the largest gathering of alumni in the history of the institution.

Three hundred were present at a luncheon which celebrated the formal opening of the new Alumni headquarters, now located in the old Journalism building. The luncheon, under the supervision of Verbon Kemp, was held between the V. M. I. and W. and L. games on Saturday. Judge E. C. Gaffrey, president of the Alumni association, thanked all donors to the building fund for their help.

Two sections of the W. and L. stands, each seating 700, were sold to alumni and their friends.

Second Payment On Bridge Delinquent

"Only about one half of the total amount due for the second payment has come in," stated Verbon Kemp, alumni secretary and head of the Bridge Fund drive. "We will have to collect the remaining sum this month, and urge all students who are delinquent on the second payment to please try to make some arrangements, so we may be able to tell where we are," Mr. Kemp said.

No extra funds came in over the week-end from any of the alumni, although a number of pledges were paid.

At the assembly of the Freshman Class, in which Ed Miller was in charge, the impression received as to the freshmen aiding in putting over the financing of the bridge, was very favorable. Over fifty pledged the full amount and many others signified that they would do so later.

Intra-mural Play Is Well Under Way

Intra-mural basketball which is held in the gym every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday has progressed very rapidly in the last two or three weeks. Many new men have come out including Varsity men and many of last year's freshman squad. Team 1 is leading the league to date, having lost no games. Lowry, letter man on last year's Varsity, and Bowen from the Frosh of '26 are included in this winning combination. Team 4 captained by Chan Gordon is second having won five and lost four.

The league lasts only until Christmas. Every one interested in basketball is urged to come out. Sophomores or freshmen who come out for these teams will be excused from regular gym classes until the Christmas holidays.

THREE STUDENTS NOW IN HOSPITAL

Three students are now in the hospital, suffering from severe cases of grippe. H. L. Williams, president of the sophomore class, has been confined for five days with an infected gland caused by grippe. W. C. Wagner has been in the hospital a week because of colds and influenza. The illness of E. T. Clark is also due to grippe, but his case is not as severe as the other two. It is indefinite when the men will be released.

Taking advantage of the breaks of the game the Cavaliers of the University of Virginia defeated the Generals here Saturday afternoon in their annual battle, 13 to 7. The game was hard fought throughout, and it was not until the Generals' last effort was repulsed by Sloan, alert Cavalier halfback, in the final minutes of play that the game was decided.

Coach Herron's eleven outcharged and outplayed their opponents in every department of the game, but couldn't overcome the handicap of the breaks in the first quarter of the contest. On the other hand, the Cavaliers presented a stiff defense at crucial moments and out-guessed the Generals, which ultimately accounted for the victory.

The game Saturday carried with it the state championship and marked the first time in twenty-five years that the Cavaliers have beaten the Generals on the local field. Virginia already held victories over V. P. I. and V. M. I., and Saturday's win made it a clean sweep. The Cavaliers were conceded scant chance before the game but came through with a rush to upset the dope.

The first few minutes of the game found Spotts and Sloan in a punting duel, with the latter getting the edge by a good margin. An alert Cavalier then fell on a Washington and Lee fumble on the latters' 8-yard line, and in four plays put the ball over for their first touchdown. Hushion, clever Virginia quarterback, scored the marker by a sneak play through center. The Generals immediately started a drive down the field and took the ball from their own 36 yard line to their opponents' 4 yard line, and four thrusts at the line fell short of a touchdown by one foot. The Generals' made other attempts, coming as far as the 6-yard line on another occasion, but here again the Virginia defense stiffened and held the charging Blue and White backs. In the third quarter, the Generals marched down the field, with Lott and White running the ball most effectively, and, with the ball on the 1-foot line, White hurdled over center for the necessary distance and the Generals' lone touchdown. Lott droppicked the goal.

The Cavaliers then resorted to the forward passing attack to net them their second touchdown at the start of the last quarter, when Hushion speared Sloan's pass and ran 20 yards, the remaining distance The Generals came back determined and opened up their aerial attack, taking the ball to the Virginia 23-yard line. Then came the play that thwarted the last hope of the Generals, for Sloan intercepted a pass from Howe on his own 8-yard line and a minute later the game was over.

White, Howe, Stearns and Lott played fine games, and the latter in particular. Tommy broke up many a Virginia pass and on the offense took his man out of the play effectively every time. Outside of the first part of the first quarter when the Virginia linesmen outcharged them to hurry Spotts' punts, the Blue and White primary defense was impenetrable. Captain Tips', Spotts', and Fitzpatrick's work was especially noteworthy. Both on the defense and the offense these men bore through their opponents. Spotts came through in his consistent way in completing the forward passing combination of Lott to Spotts. Groop, Fisher, Dorsey and Latham all played determined games and Seligman, replacing Tips, easily held his own with the opposition.

For the Cavaliers, Hushion and Sloan were the two outstanding performers. Hushion showed keen judgment when his team was in possession of the ball, and his head work was the telling factor that guided his mates to victory. On every deciding and crucial play this lad assumed full responsibility and came through each time. With but two minutes to play in the second quarter and the ball deep in his own territory, he called a play that took a minute and five seconds to execute

SATURDAY'S CONDUCT

THE members of the student body are to be congratulated on their conduct at the Monogram Club dance Saturday night. Those students who were in school two years ago when the Cavaliers invaded Lexington, only to be turned back more successfully than they were last week, well remember the hilarious affair held in Doremus gymnasium that night, and the contrast between that night and the recent dance is only too evident.

The attitude prevailing the student body Saturday seemed of be one in which every man realized his responsibility to the student body and dance leaders in their attempt to prove to the faculty that Washington and Lee men are able to control and maintain order at their dances, and the resulting orderly conduct made the dance truly delightful for the many girls, guests, and students present. The close scrutiny at the door which those in charge made of every stranger applying for entrance, and the close conformity to the rules requiring vouching by students for every visitor made misconduct and the admission of undesirable persons practically impossible, and those in charge of the dance are to be congratulated on their handling of the entire affair.

Numerous students were probably beyond the limit of sobriety requisite for admission, but these at least realized the gravity of the situation and the test which student control of dances was undergoing, and had good judgment enough to remain away.

Even during the day Saturday order throughout the town was generally what we would term good, even considering the cold damp weather and the apparent necessity of having something more than a top-coat or slicker to keep warm enough to enjoy sitting through four quarters of football.

TRANSPORTATION TO BLACKSBURG

STUDENTS will have the opportunity this Saturday to see the Generals get revenge for their recent defeat, when they meet Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg. This is the first time this annual game has been played in the Gobblers' home town in the memory of those now connected with athletics at Washington and Lee, and will be somewhat in the nature of an experiment to see whether or not a home-and-home arrangement with Gustafson's team is a feasible working proposition.

For the last several years the game has been played in Lynchburg, and prior to that time Roanoke was the scene of battle. The change was made by the two athletic associations after some deliberation on the wisdom of the move, and then only after both schools had made sufficient progress on their own athletic plants to apparently insure their ability to handle the crowds expected to witness the fray.

This year the local student body will have the first opportunity to express itself on the charge, and can do so not only by attending, but also by supporting the special means of transportation which will be provided. A number of parlor car busses will be chartered by those in charge of the plan, to run direct through Roanoke.

In past years specials have been run to both Charlottesville and Lynchburg, and the support of the student body has thoroughly vindicated the judgment of those chartering the trains at those times, although when the same plan was tried for a trip to West Virginia two or three years, students signed up for the trip and then did not go, making the entire affair look bad for the university.

This week transportation will be secured only for those signifying their desire by purchasing tickets by Friday noon, and the initiative will be solely up to the students to see that the service is provided in sufficient amount to carry them to the scene of the game.

JUSTICE AND VILLIFICATION

Recent occurrences of a domestic nature at V. M. I. have occasioned comment and publicity throughout not only the State of Virginia, but the entire union. In the newspapers, we, as a corps, have been bitterly maligned, grossly condemned, and unfairly criticised. The majority of press statements have been false, biased, and incomplete.

In view of these facts, it is with sincere appreciation that we have noticed a few just and impartial, comments. The RING-TUM PHI of Washington and Lee University we thank sincerely for a fair editorial. Not knowing the facts, they attempted no criticism, and merely stated that our internal disturbance occasioned a feeling of regret on their part due to a feeling of kinship and they expressed the hope that a just understanding would soon be reached. The VIRGINIA TECH of V. P. I. also attempted no criticism and the expressions of sympathy for their corps served only to strengthen the bonds which already exist between these two institutions. The ROANOKE TIMES acknowledged that they knew nothing of the circumstances, but realized that there were two sides to every question so made no criticism. The LEXINGTON GAZETTE was also most fair in their treatment of us. Others who restrained themselves we also thank. Such material as we furnished was naturally seized upon by avid editors.

Sympathy we could not expect, but justice we do demand. Articles written without understanding or knowledge are villification. As such they should be treated.—V. M. I. Cadet.

Communications

One of the most low-down attacks upon a person or thing appeared as the feature article in the Pideltaurus last Saturday, in the column concerning the Class Bridge and the man who is behind it, "Dick" Smith.

The Student Body owes a big debt to the able and far-sighted management of our Graduate Manager. You cannot realize the growth of the Athletic Department until you look up a Calyx of about ten years ago, and gaze upon the photo of the true "Wilson Field"—a small plot about the size of the main campus, equipped with a small woden grandstand. Since "Captain Dick" has taken over the financial control of Athletics, he has built, by practicing the strictest economy, a new addition to the field which more than triples its size, and has also erected a concrete and steel stadium which will hold about 3,000 people. AND WHAT THANKS DOES HE GET? His wise policy of economy gives some shallow-minded person a subject to falsely and maliciously criticize. If he were not so strict and careful with the Athletic Association's money, we would have mighty poor athletic equipment and facilities now.

If the yellow-livered author of that article did not approve of the Class Bridge, why didn't he have guts enough to get up and say so before the Assembly that voted to back the project, instead of waiting for such a cowardly opportunity to attack it and its backers? It is mighty easy to criticize this plan, and to offer as an "alternative" that the Students should build an Auditorium. Think of the trouble they had (and are having) in collecting $35,000 for the bridge, and then think who you would get to try to collect $250,000 for a "nice, much-needed auditorium".

"Captain Dick" should realize that the majority of the Students are right behind him, and that the two-faced critics who will be the first to walk across and first to point with pride to "the bridge WE built" do not express the sentiment of the campus in the least. Long after the yellow sheet is forgotten there will stand at Washington and Lee a Field which is not surpassed by any in Virginia and a Class

Bridge which is spoken of as "the highest and most beautiful permanent foot bridge in America"—both of which will be memorials to the man with fore-sight and financial brains who made them possible—Graduate Manager R. A. Smith.

The Gray Phantom

It is a well-known fact, especially among the freshmen of this school, that the various denominations in Lexington give various social entertainments from time to time.

One of Washington and Lee's real "Fireflies", who, incidentally, was overlooked in the scandal sheet recently, has attended every one of these social functions in a condition that may at best be called "fireflying."

Not only was this bespectacled individual in such a condition that even Mussolini would have appeared a friend, but also one of Lexington's belles denied this student the privilege of calling upon her in the future.

If the big blond brute has tears—prepare to see them shed—for life without his fair beloved will mean only a sad, wistful, monotonous existence.

The third road to American leadership is the ability to enlist, inspire, and lead other people. The first step of a young man toward such leadership is to cultivate the faculty and habit of recognizing, appreciating, and being interested in other people.

Sincerity, honesty, reliability, consistency, and steam-engine forcefulness are all essential to genuine high-grade leadership, but as a working-factor toward the same end, which can be acquired best when young, I would place the ability to remember and recognize all your friends and acquaintances, however numerous and casual. Learn it, acquire it, and practise it NOW in your habit-forming youth.

The student body assembly and the journalism banquet at the Robert E. Lee hotel provided "two very superior and responsive audiences," J. Fred Essary, Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, who addressed the two gatherings, wrote President Henry Louis Smith recently. Stating that he has "never faced so keenly intelligent a body of young fellow Americans and never felt so inadequate". Mr. Essary was loud-spoken in his praises of the reception accorded him here.

Mr. Essary was accompanied to Lexington by his wife and Miss Taylor, of England. He characterized his visit as one of the really delightful experiences of his life. Miss Taylor, he stated, secured a glimpse of America while here which entirely too few English visitors ever get.

PLAY BY PLAY OF SATURDAY'S HECTIC BATTLE

Play by play summary:

Lott kicked off to Sloane on Virginia's 5-yard line and the Cavalier halfback ran the ball out to his own 33 yard line. Hutter gained five yards in two line plays and then Sloan kicked out of bounds on the W. & L. 23 yard line. Howe made a yard through tackle. Lott failed to gain but Virginia was penalized 5 yards for being offside on the play. White went through the center of the line for 6 yards and a first down. Luke threw Howe for a three yard loss and then Symington broke through to throw Lott for a 4 yard set-back. Spotts then punted against the wind to his own 41 yard line where Hushion signalled for a fair catch. Hutter made two yards off right tackle and Kaminer hit the center of the Generals line for a 1 yard gain. A long pass from Sloan to Hushion was incomplete. Sloan then kicked to Lott who was downed on his own 14 yard line. White hit the line for two yards and then Lott punted, the ball going out on his own 30 yard line. Stearns then broke up another pass from Sloan to Hushion. Sloan was stopped in an attempted end run. Another Sloan to Hushion heave was broken up and then Sloan got off a nice kick which went out of bounds on the General's 5 yard line. Spotts kick was rushed and went out on his own 23 yard line. Hutter got 3 yards through center. Kaminer gained 2 through left tackle. Hushion was held to a yard around end on a fake pass play. Hutter hit right tackle for 2 yards and it was the Generals ball on downs. On the first play Lott fumbled on the 8 yard line and Daniels recovered for the Cavaliers. On the first play Hutter got through to the 3 yard line through left tackle and on the next play put it within 2 feet of the goal line. Hutter was stopped in his tracks on the third down, but on the Cavalier's last try Hushion pushed through center for a touchdown. Captain Cardwell scored the extra point by a placement kick.

Byrd then kicked off to Fisher on the 30 yard line and the Blue and White tackle ran it back to the 37 yard line. Lott made a first down on two plays through the line. Howe made two yards around right end and then Lott picked up 15 yards on a beautiful criss-cross play, taking the ball around left end to the Virginia 35 yard line. Lott gained 6 yards on a triple pass and White crashed the center of the line for 3 yards. Howe failed to gain but White hit center for first down on the Cavalier 21 yard line. Lott failed to gain on a double pass. White ran outside after a 4 yard gain on the next play. Howe then made 5 yards on a lateral pass as the quarter ended. Score: Va., 7; W. & L., 0.

Second Quarter

On the first play White went through center for a 3 yard gain and first down. Virginia was penalized 5 yards for offside and the Generals had the ball on the 4 yard mark. White and Howe were both stopped in their tracks by the Orange and Blue line which was fighting with it's back to the wall. Howe then took it again and reached the 2 yard line. White failed by inches to get the touchdown and it was the Cavalier's ball on the goal line. Sloan got off a long kick to the 45 yard line and Lott carried it back to the 35 marker before being stopped. Lott made 6 yards around left end and White made it first down through the line. White was forced out of bounds after a yard gain and then Howe picked up 3 yards on a pretty double pass. A lateral pass was fumbled resulting in a 6 yard loss. Lott's long heave to Howe was just inches to far for Bobby to reach and it was Virginia's ball on their own 28 yard line. The Cavaliers were stopped in their tracks by the fast charging General line and Sloan finally punted to Lott who was downed on his own 36 yard line. Lott made a first down on a lateral pass on the first play. Two criss-cross plays failed to gain however. Washington and Lee was penalized 15 yards on the next play and were forced to punt. Spotts kicked to Hushion who signalled for a fair catch on his own 39 yard line. Three tries through tackle failed to gain more than 5 yards so Sloan punted to Lott on the Blue and White 27 yard line. Lott ran it back 10 yards. On another double pass Howe gained 8 yards. Lott gained 1 but White was stopped so that Spotts punted on the next play. Hushion caught the ball on his own 39 yard line and was downed in his tracks. Pinkerton wriggled through the line for a 3 yard gain and then Sloan, Virginia's diminutive sophomore halfback, went off right tackle for 14 yards to make Virginia's initial first down. On the next play the Generals came right back and Bill Dorsey threw Sloan for a 12 yard loss in breaking up an attempted pass as the whistle blew ending the half. Virginia had the ball on their own 40 yard line. Score: Va., 7; W. & L., 0.

Third Quarter

Captain Cardwell kicked off to Fitzpatrick on the 25 yard line and he ran it out 10 yards. Three plays netted the Generals 9 yards and then Spotts punted to Hushion on his 13 yard line and Lott tackled him in his tracks. Three plays at the Blue and White line were stopped without a gain and then Sloan punted to Lott on the W. & L. 45 yard line. He returned it to the Cavalier 43 yard line. The Generals then opened up another offensive drive. Howe started it with a 7 yard gain on a double pass. Daniel, Virginia's star guard, threw him for a yard loss on his next attempt. On the next play, a triple pass, Lott was tackled on the 2 yard line. Another triple pass, White to Howe to Lott, again caught the Orange and Blue off their guard and was good for 8 yards more. White, in two line plays carried the oval to the 11 yard mark. Lott and Howe were stopped by the Virginia forward wall which never seemed to stiffen until forced down to the goal line. Lott then completed a pass to Howe which put the ball on the 4 yard line. Pinkerton broke up another pass and it was Virginia's ball on their own 5 yard line. Hushion and Pinkerton failed to gain in two plays and Sloan kicked out to Lott on the 47 yard line. Lott ran it back 20 yards. White was forced out after gaining a yard. Lott then passed to Howe for a 12 yard gain. The ball was now on the Virginia 14 yard line. Lott fumbled and Stearns recovered for a 3 yard loss. White crashed through center for 11 yards and on the next play made it first down on the 4 yard line. White failed to gain and Howe then crashed through for two yards. White pushed through to the two foot line, and on the next play went over. Lott droppicked the extra point, tying the score.

Lott kicked off to Sloan who ran it out to his 35 yard line as the third quarter ended. Score: Va., 7; W. & L., 7.

Fourth Quarter

On the first play Sloan passed to Hushion who caught the ball for a 17 yard gain while lying on his back. Two line plays were stopped by Fitzpatrick and Groop and then the Charlottesville team took to the air again to gain 12 yards and the ball was on the Generals' 35 yard line. A pass was grounded and two line plays netted but 5 yards. On the fourth down Sloan heaved another which looked as though it would end up in another score but Stearns rushed over to break it up. It was W. & L.'s ball on their own 20 yard line. Howe and Lott failed to gain. Spotts punted to Sloan who signalled for a fair catch. Smoone failed to see his signal and tackled and the Generals were penalized 15 yards. Sloan made 6 yards on a lateral and on the next play Sloan passed one to Hushion who ran across the goal line for the touchdown that won the game. The pass was 12 yards and Hushion ran the remaining 10 in a clear field. Capt. Cardwell's placement for the extra point was wide.

Cardwell kicked off to White who ran it out to the 40 yard line, but the Generals were penalized 15 yards so that the ball was on the 25 yard line. A pass from Lott to Howe netted 6 yards. Another, this time to White put the ball on the 46 yard mark. Lott gained 2 on a criss-cross. Two passes were broken up and Spotts punted to the Cavaliers 32 yard line. Pinkerton hit the line three times but gained only 3 yards. Sloan punted to Lott on his 25 yard line. Lott ran it back 12 yards. A pass was grounded. On the next play, a triple lateral pass, Howe ran 18 yards before being downed. White hit the line for 4 yards. Another pass failed. Then Lott shot one to Spotts for a 15 yard gain. Still another, this time to Stearns, and the ball was on the Cavalier 23 yard line. Two more passes were broken up and on a third attempt Sloan intercepted one on his own 13 yard line. Three tries at the line netted no gain for the Orange and Blue and as Sloan went back to punt the game was over.

CAVALIERS BREAKS DOWN GENERALS, 13-7 SCORE

which was undoubtedly a strategic move. His receiving of forward passes thrown by Sloan was uncanny. On one play, lying on the ground, he reached up and nabbed a pass, juggled it for a couple of seconds and held it for a good gain. Two plays later he received a 22-yard pass from Sloan and raced the remaining 20 yards for the deciding touchdown. In the line, Captain Cardwell and Luke played steady games. Statistics show that Coach Heron's men gained a total of 346 yards while the Cavalier's gained but 182. The Generals made 14 first downs to 5 for the visitors. Sixteen forward passes were attempted by the Blue and White and 6 of them were completed. Virginia attempted 9 passes, completed 4 and intercepted one. The total yardage gained through passes was 70 for the Generals and 61 for the Cavaliers. Lott gained 103 yards, White 73, and Howe 56 yards from the line of scrimmage. These figures show well that the Virginia offense was far inferior to the Generals'.

COLLEGE GIRLS DRESS FOR THIRTY CENTS?

Just to prove that a college girl can dress on 30 cents if she wants to, a group of young women at Syracuse University did it. Costumes at a dance given on the hill cost each wearer no more than two bits and a nickel, and each girl was fully dressed.

Harvard Paper Sees Change Must Be Made

The well known Harvard superiority complex, so long commented upon that it often takes on the appearance of an inferiority complex, leads the Harvard Crimson to suggest that something need be done to break up the present alignment which finds on one side, Harvard people, and on the other, "a majority of the rest of the world." This the daily agrees is "hardly a satisfactory division of opinion." To bring an end to a smug attitude and an unsatisfactory situation, the student paper suggests that "either Harvard men through a tolerant and intelligent contract with men of other institutions, must come to the conviction that all good things are not centered in Cambridge, or they must sooner or later school themselves to an open-minded acceptance of manners and methods strange, perhaps, but measured by a different standard quite as good."—N. ## Gym Suffers Slight Damage From Fire

Only slight damage resulted to Doremus Memorial gymnasium Sunday morning when a fire burned part way through the floor just inside the entrance to the building. A hole less than three feet wide was burned in the floor, and the door-mat was damaged but aside from this no actual damage was done to the gym. The dance decorations in the room beneath suffered considerably from water however.

The fire originated behind the radiator just inside the door, and no one is sure what started the trouble. The men sleeping in the gym first had their attention attracted to the danger shortly after day-break Sunday, when they smelled smoke, and hurriedly secured the fire hose and soon had it out, although the local fire department was called to insure its safe extinguishment.

The main portion of the gym was not touched, the blaze being only in the entrance hall less than a yard inside the door.

Alarm Clock Causes Death of Student

Don't throw your alarm clocks away after reading this article you might do the world some good by following the course that the student at the University of Mississippi so unfortunately pursued.

Frightened by the sound of an alarm clock, E. L. Motherhead, a freshman at the University of Mississippi, fell from the top of a triple deck bed and died soon after from the injuries received therefrom.
