Wildcat Game Plays Part of Home Coming Day Program; West Virginia Met Tonight

The Washington and Lee basketball team left Thursday for a two game trip to Kentucky and West Virginia. With the burden of examinations off their minds, the Generals are out to erase the stain of the Alabama game by chalking up a pair of victories over the Wildcats and the Mountaineers.

Tonight the Generals strap the Mountaineers of West Virginia, who last year administered a 48 to 29 beating to the Generals in spite of the fancy shooting of Gene White. Reports from the West Virginia camp indicate that the quint is even stronger this winter.

Museum of Southern History Opened Here

The addition to the Lee Memorial Chapel, formally opened on January 19, has already proved a notable improvement, and has enhanced the value of the chapel as a museum of valuable relics of Southern history.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees last year a committee was appointed to establish a suitable museum for the relics that were already in the possession of the University and all others that might be donated from other sources.

The new museum occupies the two rooms in the forward part of the chapel. These rooms have been used in past years by the Y. M. C. A. and the University Treasurer, but they have been completely renovated to serve their new purpose.

On the opening day there was a continual stream of Trustees, faculty members, students, and townspeople into the chapel and a rather steady flow of students, passersby and visitors has continued since that time.

The old museum also had a fairly busy month during January, with 629 visitors. The usual daily average was about twenty, but during the recent dances the number was sometimes as high as sixty or seventy.

Generals To Meet Maryland On Date Before Turkey Day

Washington and Lee will meet the University of Maryland in Washington or Baltimore the Saturday before Thanksgiving Nov. 24, announcement by the two athletic associations recently stated.

It was the original intention of Graduate Manager R. A. Smith, of the Generals, to leave the pre-Thanksgiving date open again this year, but inability to get together with Curley Byrd, of the Old Liners, on an earlier date, made it necessary to list the annual Maryland-W and L. battle at the time finally decided upon.

This game completes the Generals' schedule, those announced before Christmas remaining as stated at that time. Maryland's complete schedule will be as follows, alternating at home and abroad:

Sept. 29.—Washington College, at College Park.

Oct. 6.—North Carolina, at College Park.

October 13.—South Carolina, at Columbia.

October 20.—Western Maryland, at College Park.

October 27.—Virginia Military Institute, at Richmond.

November 3.—Virginia Poly, at College Park.

November 10.—Yale, at New Haven.

November 17.—Virginia, at College Park.

November 24.—Washington and Lee, at Washington or Baltimore.

Thanksgiving—Johns Hopkins, at Baltimore.

Lexington Alumni Meet At Dinner On Founder's Day

The Lexington Alumni Association of Washington and Lee Alumni was organized at a banquet held on the evening of Founder's day, January 19. Forty-five were present at the dinner, including all the Trustees that had come to Lexington.

Dean Campbell, who spoke early in the evening, reviewed the history of the college bell, and told many interesting anecdotes concerning the University.

J. R. Caskie, '06, of Lynchburg, a member of the Board of Trustees, was the principal speaker of the evening, and addressed the gathering on the "Duties of an Alumnus."

The members voted to make the Lexington and Rockbridge County Alumni dinner on January 19 an annual affair.

Kentucky Defeats W.-L. Friday, 34-28

The University of Kentucky quintet nosed out the Washington and Lee team last night at Lexington, Kentucky, 34 to 28.

At the end of the first half the Generals were well in the lead, on the large end of a 20-11 score, and it was expected by the spectators that the visitors would ride rough shod over the Wildcats.

In the second half, Kentucky quickly caught up with the Generals, and took the lead, which they kept during the rest of the game.

A compulsory meeting of all occupants of both Graham and Lees dormitories will be held Tuesday, February 7, at 7:30 in the Lee Chapel.

GENERALS CONQUER GOBBLERS TO FALL BEFORE ALABAMA QUINTET

Blue and White Cagemen Defeat Techmen in Drive for 2nd State Championship; Crimson Tide defeats Generals after Extra Period

The Generals opened up their drive for another state basketball championship Jan. 26 when they easily trounced the V. P. I. Gobblers by a 35-24 score. It was by far the best all-around exhibition the Blue and White court artists have put on this season, and after the opening few minutes the outcome was never in doubt.

Coach Smith started his speedy little varsity, which played most of the game. The Techmen never threatened until the latter part of the second half, when they outscored the Generals on several sensational long shots.

The Blue and White guards played sensationally, with Wood, Joyner and Groop holding the Gobblers to a single field goal the entire first half, that being made during the opening minute of the game.

The second half was one of the closest fought ever seen on a local court, and four men went out via the personal foul route as a result of too close guarding.

Green and Captain Spotts played sensationally for each team in the last part, with Campbell and Lowry giving each plenty of assistance.

V. P. I. GRAPPLERS HAND GENERALS DOUBLE DEFEAT, 26-3 AND 16-13

Washington and Lee grapplers met with a double defeat at the hands of the V. P. I. matmen Monday evening, January 16, in Doremus gymnasium.

The depressing feature of the Varsity match was the defeat of Captain Seligman by Captain Fussell, of the Gobblers. For ten minutes the two tugged at each other with "Mike" the more aggressive of the two.

This was the first time that Captain Seligman has been thrown since becoming a member of the Varsity. Last year Seligman threw Fussell. Tully and Smith in the 145 pound class, put up a stirring match with the former gaining a time decision of 4:10.

This was the first time that Captain Seligman has been thrown since becoming a member of the Varsity. Last year Seligman threw Fussell. Tully and Smith in the 145 pound class, put up a stirring match with the former gaining a time decision of 4:10.

Hughes, the General's unlimited wrestler, gained a 2:56 time decision over Bailey, of the Gobblers. The latter is the football captain-elect at that institution. It was in the extra periods that Hughes gained the advantage.

In the Thompson-Andes match, Referee Denton called a flying fall on Thompson. This hasty decision no doubt had a depressing effect upon the morals of the Washington and Lee grapplers.

Davis, 135-pounder of the Generals, put up a sturdy match against Nard, of the grapplers, but weakened in the extra periods and the latter gained a time decision of 2:51.

In the freshmen match—the Flagg, of Washington and Lee, and Preston, of V. P. I., set to was the most encouraging one. Coach Mathis' protege, threw his opponent in 5:43 with a half nelson and bar arm lock. Coach

Alabama's Crimson Tide wound up its Virginia invasion last Saturday night by winning its first game in three starts, downing the Generals in an extra-period battle, 38-37.

The Tide had previously been routed by V. P. I. Gobblers and V. M. I., but came back strong against the Generals, and with Campbell and Green leading the offensive, managed to eke out a slim victory in one of the most see-saw court games ever witnessed here.

Coach Smith sent his big varsity in to open up against the Tide, with Bobby Howe back in the line-up for the first time in three weeks, since injuring his nose. Bama soon ran up a 10-5 lead, and the faster little varsity was rushed in. With Lowry, Spotts and Wood starring they soon tied it up at 14 all.

The second half was one of the closest fought ever seen on a local court, and four men went out via the personal foul route as a result of too close guarding. The Generals lost their best opportunity to win by not taking advantage of their free throws.

Green and Captain Spotts played sensationally for each team in the last part, with Campbell and Lowry giving each plenty of assistance.

Mathis has a fine prospect in Flagg and will develop handily under his tutelage.

Mitchell, in the unlimited class, pulled a big surprise by throwing his Gobbler opponent, Elliott, in 4:10. He took advantage of an opening after Elliott had thrown him to the mat and followed thru to throw his man with a half-nelson and croch hold.

Palmer came from behind in his match with Stake of V. P. I. in the 135 pound class to gain a time decision of 1:16.

Summary:

Varsity

115 pound class: Grant, of V. P. I., threw Gresham, of W. & L., 4:12, with a bar arm lock and half nelson.

125 pound class: Andes, of V. P. I., threw Thompson, of W. & L., in 1:04. A flying fall.

135 pound class: Nard, of V. P. I., time decision over Davis, of W. & L. 2:51 in extra periods.

145 pound class: Tully, of W. & L., time decision over Smith, of V. P. I., 4:19.

158 pound class: Mahaney, of V. P. I., threw Sperry, of W. & L., in 5:30 with half nelson and bar arm lock.

175 pound class: Captain Fussell, of V. P. I., threw Captain Seligman, W. & L., in extra periods, 2:43.

Unlimited class: Hughes, of W. & L., time decision over Bailey, of V. P. I. in extra periods, 2:56.

Referee: Denton, (A. M. A.)

Frosh

115 pound class: Price, of V. P. I., threw Bowes, of W. & L., in 8:10 with a half nelson and bar arm lock.

125 pound class: Pilcher, of V. P. I., threw Dresham, of W. & L., in 3:29, with a half nelson and croch hold.

135 pound class: Palmer, of W. & L., time decision over Stakes, of V. P. I., 1:16.

145 pound class: Bailey, of V. P. I., time decision over Sutherland, of W. & L., 9:25.

185 pound class: Flagg, of W. & L., threw Preston, of V. P. I., in 5:43, with a half nelson and bar arm lock.

175 pound class: Cecil, of V. P. I., threw Newsom, of W. & L., in 5:12, with a half nelson and arm lock.

Unlimited class: Mitchell, of W. & L., threw Elliott, of V. P. I., in 4:10, with a half nelson and croch hold. Referee: Twombly, (Springfield.)

Indoor Trackmen In Training For Richmond Meet

Under the direction of Coach Fletcher the indoor track squad is fast rounding into shape for the University of Richmond Indoor Carnival, which will take place in Richmond, February 18.

Intensive workouts are being held every day and the second time trials were held this afternoon. In the first time trials, held January 24, Simmons and Amole made the best showing in the mile relay with times of 54-1 and 55-2, respectively.

It is expected that Captain Reardon and Patterson will compete in the hurdles and that new entries will be made in the broad and high jumps.

The relay team has not yet been definitely picked and much will depend on the results of the time trials today. In addition to Simmons and Amole, however, it is probable that Sandifer and Janney will complete the quartet.

Freshman team will also be sent to the Richmond meet, and here too the competition is heated. Some of the outstanding men, however, are Grant, Dickey, Vaughan, and Bigham.

Two Students in Hospital

Gregg Kurth and T. C. Pace are the only two students now confined in the hospital, Kurth is suffering with jaundice and Pace has a slight case of grippe.

McDermott Speaks At Founder's Day Exercises Jan. 19

Judge Charles J. McDermott, of New York, member of the Washington and Lee Board of Trustees, was the speaker for the Founder's Day exercises in Doremus gymnasium, January 19. His subject was "Who's Who On Your Campus?"

The compulsory student body assembly opened at 11 o'clock with a prayer, followed by a review of the year's progress in the University by President Henry Louis Smith, who presided over the assembly.

Judge McDermott, who followed Dr. Smith, told how the courtesy shown to Mr. Doremus during a short visit on the campus was the principal reason for his leaving the Doremus Foundation to the University upon his death. He further stressed the importance of such courtesy, saying that "we never know who might happen to visit us."

The student body closed the assembly with the Washington and Lee Swing and a cheer for Judge McDermott.

Troubadours Plan Spring Play Trip

With spring coming, the Troubadours are outlining their plans for their annual spring show and tour which is to take place in all probability during the week immediately following Easter.

This year's show is not likely to be a musical comedy. Eddie Cohen, who trained the chorus last year, is not available this season and as no one can be found to undertake the job, a recent success from Broadway will be staged.

Thames and Gibson announced Friday that either "The Butter and Egg Man" or the "Patsy" will be chosen. The same scenery concern which constructed the effects for the Fall show will handle this spring's effects.

FINALS ARE SET UP WEEK BY TRUSTEES

V. M. I. Finals Follows Directly After Washington and Lee as Before

JAN GARBER TO PLAY

Two Novel Features to be Presented For Finals—Full Moon and New Budge.

The 1928 Washington and Lee Finals have been advanced one week. Commencement and the Final Ball will take place June 5, under the new arrangement.

Under the original plan, as outlined in the University catalogue published last spring, the final day would not have been until June 12, but in order to co-operate with the administration at the Virginia Military Institute, the officials here have arranged that finals will be one week earlier.

The government is instituting a summer camp at V. M. I. this summer, and had the finals dates at Washington and Lee not been changed, the opening of this summer camp would have conflicted with the V. M. I. finals which follow those of Washington and Lee.

Examinations will begin here on Monday, May 21 and will be over Friday, June 1, Wednesday, May 30, National Memorial Day, will be a regular University holiday. No examination will be given on that date.

Final dances will consist of the regular set of five, beginning on Friday, and ending with the Final Ball lasting all the night of Tuesday, June 5. According to tentative plans, Jan Garber will furnish the music for these dances.

There will be two distinctly novel features at finals this year. First, the new memorial bridge will be completed by that time, and according to student prognostications it will be employed during the dances as a veritable lovers lane. Second, on the night of Sunday, June 3, there will be a full moon, at which time, according to popular conception, Dan Cupid reigns supreme. This is the first time that a full moon has taken place during finals for a number of years.

Plans for the dances are still in an embryonic form. Robert F. Howe, of Helena, Arkansas, is president of finals for the current year.

The annual boat race between the Albert Sidney and Harry Lee crews will also take place during the festivities.

Calyx Drive Will End February 15

No subscriptions to the Calyx will be received after February 15, Business Manager R. D. Powers announced today. At that time the order for the copies must be sent to the publishers. Thus far, only 322 subscriptions have been sold and an intensive effort will be made to have 200 more sold before the order to the publishers is placed.

"To insure publication, there should be 600 copies of the Calyx ordered by students and it is expected that this number will be reached before February 15," says Manager Powers.

The business staff has been re-organized and six new members have been selected. A strictly competitive system was used in choosing them. They are: R. D. Hamilton, R. W. Laceyfield, A. L. Roberson, W. C. Sargent, Devereux Hanson, and R. E. E. de Montluzin.

DEBATE TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the Debating team's contest with Randolph-Macon Woman's College will be held Monday night, 7:30 o'clock, in South Lecture room, Tucker hall. The subject to be debated is: Resolved, that co-education is a failure.

KEEP THE SLATE CLEAN.

Washington and Lee students are starting an entirely new semester this week, and have an opportunity to rectify the mistakes which many made during the course of the first four months of the year. Failures in class work, probationary periods for various reasons, conditions in some subjects, and the cold hand of the automatic affected numerous students from time to time, but with the beginning of the new semester, all students can make up for their previous deficiencies if they buckle down to the task and forego some of the good times which so many consider necessary side-lines of a college education.

The usual large number were caught by the automatic this year, and the usual large percentage of these have been or will be reinstated, although conditional upon their improvement and good conduct. To these especially a word of advice is not amiss. Realizing the tendency of freshmen and sophomores to fail to take their work with the seriousness which it deserves, and believing that the average man here enrolled with the original intention of graduating with a good average, the administration studies the facts of each individual case, and, if convinced that the petitioner for reinstatement is sincere in his expression of good intentions for the future, allows him to remain in the university.

The students so affected should vindicate the faith thus placed in them, and should remember that such failure in work cannot be overlooked twice in a school of such standing as Washington and Lee, and that for a repetition of the weakness nothing remains for those in charge of records to do but let the automatic rule apply itself without interference.

THANK MR. GILL.

Those who marvelled at the transformation wrought in Doremus gymnasium Monday evening were even more astonished upon entering the hall Tuesday night to find that again the appearance had been changed entirely, and that decorations comparable to those seen at any festivities in the country adorned the ceiling, walls, ends, and air in every section of the huge building.

Upon every person's lips, especially those who had never attended Fancy Dress ball at W. and L. before, were the words, "How was this done?" We know of but one answer to the query, whether it be asked how, who, why, or what-not.

Carl E. L. Gill, of the Commerce School faculty, and himself a graduate of Washington and Lee, is the man responsible for the beauty of the gymnasium during dance periods. His mind has guided the workers, and his hand has led the laborers in their work for several years, and, while each set of dances appears to witness the climax to his career as a decorator per excellence, yet in the following set his previous designs are invariably outdone.

Students should not take the decoration of the gym as a mere matter-of-fact task, done by freshmen and committees at random. Months of painstaking thought are required on the part of Mr. Gill to perfect the major designs in his mind, and weeks of actual labor follow before the creation is completed in a manner which suits his exacting taste.

We, the student body of Washington and Lee, unite in thanking Mr. Gill for the scarifices he makes in planning and executing the decorations, and, although they are visible for one night only, yet their splendor is so impressive that the thought of them remains until the following set arrives and the same Mr. Gill outdoes himself in creating new impressions on the minds of students and guests.

OUR MOST ORDERLY DANCES.

Eight hundred and fifty students are to be congratulated upon their behavior on the floor of Doremus gymnasium during the set of dances just closed. Expressions of opinion from visitors, chaperones from other cities and schools, official chaperones at the dances, faculty members, and members of the student dance control committee are agreed that the order which prevailed at Junior Prom and Fancy Dress was the best seen at a big set of Washington and Lee dances in recent years.

Everybody enjoyed both functions and a sharp outlook was kept for any breaches of the rules, but they just did not occur—at least, not in a form noticeable to the closest critics.

If the student body continues to conduct its affairs in such orderly fashion as ruled at the recent set of dances, there is no danger of dance control being taken out of student hands. The recent successful application of the rules should lead to recklessness, however, for any reversion to conditions existing several years ago will bring quick action on the part of the faculty.

"Periwig" Makes First Appearance

"The Periwig," revival of a serious literary publication at W. & L., made its initial appearance last Saturday, two days before its scheduled advent. The magazine, published by the Hybiscus club, is a creditable effort to fill a place amid publications of the school left vacant by the death of the "Southern Collegian" a number of years ago.

Although somewhat small and embryonic, the magazine is a worthy development. The make-up is attractive, and is entirely in keeping with the style of a literary magazine, the size of the cover allowing for a larger content in the next issue.

Several of the articles in the magazine are worthy of particular notice. "The Young Writer," by Sherwood Anderson, author of "Dark Laughter" is an attractive written essay, and is particularly suitable for the initial number of such a magazine. "Denouncement," by W. M. Garrison, is an exotic sketch, hauntingly appealing, and worthy of notice. "Between the Ivy and the Stucco Post," by R. B. Ellard, and "And the Band Played On," by Tom Sugrue will attract the eye and are easy and enjoyable reading. The magazine contains a number of other worth-while selections, including essays, poetry, book-reviews and sketches.

The sample given in the first number of "The Periwig" rather gives one the inclination to ask for more. It is hoped that this first issue will justify the faith of its publishers, and that a larger magazine will be forthcoming at the next publication date.

All Varsity Boxing Matches Cancelled

Announcement was made recently that, by action of the Athletic Council, all the remaining matches on the varsity boxing schedule have been cancelled and that team disbanded for the remainder of the season.

No official reason was given for the action, but it is generally thought that the step was taken because of the team's failure to prepare sufficiently for its match with Georgia scheduled for last Saturday night.

It is rumored that the matter will again be brought before the Athletic Council in an effort to have the ruling rescinded.

Cavaliers Take Two Heavy Classes
To Win 4-3 Over Generals;
Captain Price Wins.

Nearly a thousand people saw the Blue and White of Washington and Lee come close in their attempt to down the Virginia pugilists the last Saturday before examination when the Cavaliers, champions of the south, came out on top 4-3 by gaining victories in the last two bouts.

Virginia started off toward what looked like an impressive victory when Kelly, conference champion, proved entirely too much for Holland. It was Holland's first appearance in the ring, but he stood up and took punishment from his more experienced opponent gamely.

Osterman, in the 125-pound class, started off like a whirlwind but tired in the second and third rounds and Bryan got a decision for the invaders.

The Generals then came back strong with Capt. Price, Thompson and Red Merritt clearly outclassing their opponents to win decisions. At this stage the Generals led by a 3-2 count, and needed but one of the two remaining bouts to win the meet.

Babe Spotts fought in the 175-pound class. He put up a game battle in the closest fight of the evening, but his opponent, Urmiston, was too experienced for him and won the decision on points.

With the score at 3-3 Buck Street stepped into the ring to attempt to bring the Generals victory. Buck tips the scales at 180 and is but five feet-nine. He was opposed by Bill Luke, a six foot-two giant. Buck put up a game battle and lasted until the third round, when he went down for the count of four and his seconds threw in the towel to give Luke a technical knockout.

Y. M. C. A. Conference For Missions Comes February 24, 25, 26

An invitation to attend the Bridgewater Conference of the Student Volunteer Union for Foreign Missions to be held at Bridgewater College February 24, 25 and 26, has been extended to the faculty and students of Washington and Lee. This conference is under the auspices of the Student Volunteer Union of Virginia, and will be attended by Volunteers and Y. M. C. A. cabinet members from all over the state.

The meeting will be featured by addresses by Dr. W. T. Thompson, who supervised the discussion last year. Speeches will also be made by Dr. P. F. Price, professor at Nanking, China, who was seized by the Nationalists and nearly lost his life in the Nanking riots, and Houston Patterson, Y. M. C. A. secretary at W. & L., who was also in China at that time.

L. L. Davidge has been elected chairman of the Washington and Lee delegation. Each party will be entertained at a private home, where breakfast and supper will be eaten. Luncheon will be served at conference headquarters in the College Street Church of the Brethren, on the College campus.

Students will be on hand to serve as guides to places of entertainment, and trips to the famous caverns of the Shenandoah Valley will be taken Saturday afternoon during the recreation period.

If a sufficient number of passengers is guaranteed, a special bus will run from Staunton, leaving the terminal there about 4:30 in the afternoon, arriving at Bridgewater at 6 o'clock. This bus will return to Staunton immediately after the late session on Saturday night.

All registrations should be sent to Edward K. Ziegler, Conference Registrar, Bridgewater, Virginia, not later than February 15.

Freshmen Beat V. P. I. Rats By Decisive Score

The Washington and Lee Frosh basketball team ran its string of consecutive victories to three by trouncing the V. P. I. rats to the tune of 30 to 21 in the local gym recently. The Little Generals piled up a twenty-to-seven lead during the first half and a desperate rally during the last period by the Techmen fell 9 points short.

Hanna replaced Williams as the high scorer by eluding the Gobler defense five times in the course of the first half to account for ten points of his team's total. He was slozely guarded in the second until he left the game on personal fouls. Williams was the center of the entire play of the Little Generals. Although not ringing up field goals in his accustomed manner, he was well up in the scoring column and played a great floor game. Freeman, who was substituted at forward in the second half, chalked up four two-pointers to help keep his team out in front. Faulkner, Pilley, and Scott handled the guard positions well.

Donaldson and R. Spear were the high lights in the Techmen's play.

Freshmen Defeat Staunton Boxers

The Frosh boxing team emerged victor in a thrilling match with Staunton Military Academy here January 28. The score was two all at the beginning of the last bout, one having been called a draw. It was not long, however, before the match was decisively awarded to the locals after Faulkner, light-heavyweight battler for the Little Generals, had put over a couple "haymakers" of no mean ability and his opponent, Smith, of the visitors, was carried from the ring scarcely more than thirty seconds after the opening bell.

The other two victories for the winners came in the fourth bout when Crenshaw, 145-pounder, outpointed Trainer of the cadets in a fast and interesting battle, and in the 125-pound class, in which Halpern was awarded a decision over Brady of the visitors in the fourth round.

Summary:
115 pound class: Wineman, S. M. A., defeated Noyes; judges' decision.
125 pound class: Halpern, W. & L., defeated Brady; referee's decision.
135 pound class: Lynn, W. & L., vs. Myers; draw.
145 pound class: Crenshaw, W. & L., defeated Trainer; judges' decision.
155 pound class: Ehrig, S. M. A., defeated Tallyn; technical knockout.
175 pound class: Faulkner, W. & L., defeated Smith; knockout.

The Gray Phantom

The fraternity freshman, clad in an ultra-collegiate suit of pajamas, combining the color scheme of a rainbow with the design of an egg fried with one eye open, knelt before his tempting bed—

He began to pray, and the novelty of his prayer caused his bleary-eyed roommate to sit up in astonishment!

"I, Z, the defendant, do hereby, with Q, roommate to the aforesaid Z, as witness, commit myself to that degree of oblivion which in the fourth volume of the annotated code of Morpheus, section 99, clause 13, paragraph 4, on page 6765, is referred to as "sleep" and likewise petition X, the Unknown, the Omnipotent, that He keep under His personal supervision, the soul of Z, the aforesaid defendant, and that if I, Z, the defendant, enter into the capacity of demise from this earthly shell, in which I, Z, the defendant, now reside, I, Z, furthermore, petition X, the Unknown, the Omnipotent, that He will take and forevermore watch over the soul of me, Z, the aforesaid-mentioned defendant. Amen."

Prompt investigation disclosed that the freshman had been in the same room with a senior lawyer just previous to examinations for two solid hours. His case, one of pure insanity, will be referred to the proper authorities.

ONE STUDENT, THREE VISITORS BARRED DURING TWO DANCES

One student was debarred from university dances for one year, and three visitors were debarred indefinitely, for breaking the dance regulations during Junior Prom and Fancy Dress, E. H. Miller, president of the student body announced today. This action was taken at the meeting of the Student Executive committee Thursday night, held in conjunction with the Dance Control Committee.

White's Studio Will Take Last Pictures

The photographer from White Studio has returned to take the remaining pictures for the 1928 Calyx. This is his last trip this season, and those who fail to take advantage of this special trip will be unable to get their pictures in the book.

The photographer will be in the Y. M. C. A. for a week. Those desiring appointments can make them in Washington College.

The final selection for the Beauty Section has been deferred for another week in order to permit those men who have not turned in their girl's picture to do so. Pictures can be given to T. B. Thames or McRee Davis.

A. M. A. Aquaticmen Down Frosh, 48-14

The Frosh swimming team, under the direction of Coach Twombly, journeyed to Fort Defiance, Friday and lost their first meet of the season to Augusta Military Academy, 48 to 14.

The locals have some excellent material out for the team, but lack of experience and the fact that they swam in a fifty foot pool whereas they had been practicing in a seventy foot pool proved their downfall.

Martin, of the Little Generals, won the only first place scored by the losers, in the diving event. He was the only man entered in this event for the Blue and White, and Coach Twombly states that any Freshmen interested or experienced in diving are urged to come out for the team.

The next meet for the locals is scheduled for Monday, February 6, with Randolph Macon Academy at Bedford.

Following is the schedule:
February 6—Randolph Macon Academy (T)

February 13—A. M. A. (H)
February 16—R. M. A. (H)
February 21—S. M. A. (H)
February 25—University of Virginia Frosh (T)

Frosh Basketball On Capital Trip

The Little Generals basketball contingent, headed by Captain Leigh Williams and Coach Eddie Parks Davis, left early Thursday morning for Washington, D. C. In the capitol city they meet two strong aggregations in DeVitt Prep and Catholic university frosh. This is certain to prove a tough assignment for the Washington and Lee freshmen, but with Captain Williams fully recovered from his recent injury, and the rest of the outfit working up to par, they will probably annex two more victories to the growing column of games won.

The startling lineup against DeVitt on Thursday evening will likely see Hanna and Freeman at forwards, the lanky Williams at the pivot position, and Faulkner and Pillely at the guard berths. This is a strong combination for any prep school or freshman team to face, and there is no doubt that the Little Generals' opponents will know they have been in a fast game before Coach Davis' cohorts finish with them. All of the men who made the trip are likely to see plenty of action before the two contests are over.

LITTLE GENERALS RUN ROUGH SHOD OVER S. M. A.

The Little Generals ran rough-shod over the Keydets from Staunton Military Academy Saturday afternoon. The game was characterized by a great deal of unnecessary roughness on the part of both teams, but was full of action and in some sports, of good basketball. The final score was 56 to 16, but the Keydets never let up for a moment, nor did the Frosh slow up at any time. Cox, lanky center for Baby Generals, was high point man of the contest and also played a nice floor game.

Coach Eddie Parks Davis used only six men, while S. M. A. tried their entire squad in a vain attempt to stem the tide of Washington and Lee points. The Freshmen showed a smooth working passing game, and a fair eye for the basket. Their forte, however, was in defense, and in this department, Pillely was outstanding in breaking up S. M. A. passes and shots. Captain Faulkner also did some excellent work at the other guard berth. It is hard to conjecture what the final score would have been had Leigh Williams, regular center been in the game. Certainly, W. & L.'s total would have been much higher.

S. M. A. defeated the yearlings at the University of Virginia on Friday night by a decisive score, and hence prospects are bright for a Freshman win over Virginia. The lineups and scores follows:

Frosh	S. M. A.
Hanna (7)	-F- Cheshire
Freeman (16)	-F- Kasinnssen (8)
Cox (20)	-C- Wise (c)-(5)
(c) Faulkner (6)-G- Whittington (2)
Pillely (7)	-G- Cochrane (1)

The Tide drew first blood in the extra period when Seale sunk a free throw, but Babe again came through with a basket to put the Blue and White out in front. It looked like the Generals game, but with less than thirty seconds left, O'Neil, a last minute substitute, sank the winning basket for the invaders from the side of the court.

Education Society Meeting, Feb. 7

At the January meeting of the Omicron chapter, Kappa Phi Kappa, national Education fraternity, a number of speakers addressed the members. H. E. Francis gave a detailed account of the Mount Hermon School of Massachusetts; Jack L. Stuart, Jr., spoke on the spirit of science in China to-day. Warren Pierpont told of his meeting with Dr. Rivierra H. Jordan, founder and past national president of Kappa Phi Kappa.

The next regular monthly meeting will be held in the physics lecture room on the second floor of Reid hall, on Tuesday evening, February 7, at 8:00 o'clock. All students and those interested are cordially invited to attend.

Professor G. E. Gardner, who has come from Dartmouth to take the place recently temporarily vacated by Professor W. A. Flick, will give a general talk on the educational system at Dartmouth. Waldo Dunnington, Secretary, will give an illustrated lecture on his travels through Germany last summer, with particular reference to the University of Göttingen, and the life of Carl Friedrich Gauss. This lecture will be repeated later at Southern Seminary. At the conclusion of each of these talks, opportunity will be given for questions and answers.

Freshman Quint Downs A. M. A. Here

The Little Generals' basketball quint won their first game in Doremus gym by taking the A. M. A. cadets into camp. Playing this time on a larger court, the Freshmen completely ran away from their prep school opponents and ran up 55 points, while the cadets had to be content with 23. The game was rough and loosely played. Williams again led the team in scoring with 7 2-pointers and a foul, but was pressed for the honors by Faulkner who collected five field goals. Hanna, the only regular forward able to start, played a beautiful floor game during the time he was in action.

Coach Davis shifted the lineup frequently in order to replace his shattered first team with the best men, and uncovered a pair of good shots in Friedman and Cox, who will see plenty of service for the next several weeks.

Wrestlers Lose To N. C. S., 16 To 13

The Generals matmen lost their second match of the season to North Carolina State on Saturday evening, January 21, by a score of 16 to 13. The team showed marked improvement over the former match against V. P. L., but the devastating effect of exams was clearly evident. Every man put up a splendid fight, however, and not a match of the entire program failed to be a close and interesting contest.

The team was the same as for the preceding meets except for the 158 lb. class, where Sperry was replaced by Madison. In his first intercollegiate match, Madison gave an excellent account of himself, and showed that he lacked only some experience to become a valuable man to the team. Tully was the first man to score for Washington and Lee, when he counted with a fall over Moore in 4:55. Tully exhibited great improvement, and splendid ability in this match. Bolton was moved up to the 175 lb. section, replacing Captain Seligman, who was kept out of the meet when it was seen that the Generals could not possibly win. In this way Hughes was given some valuable experience in the unlimited class, and showed his appreciation by scoring a fall over his opponent in 4:48.

The summary: Hobbs (N. C. S.) decision over Gresham (W. & L.) in 4:41—Captain Leary (N. C. S.) decision over Thompson (W. & L.) in 4:13—Frisbie (N. C. S.) fall over Davis (W. & L.) in 3:00—Tully (W. & L.) fall over Moore in 4:55—Morris (N. C. S.) fall over Madison in 4:15—Bolton (W. & L.) decision over Chaplin in 2:16—Hughes (W. & L.) fall over Crowson in 4:48.

Fancy Dress Number of Mink Out Monday

Carrying out the theme of the issue in full, the annual "Fancy Dress Number" of The Mink appeared Monday morning.

A cover design by Dud Carr, art features by Frances French, Leonard Glover, Frances Guthrie and Dud Carr, were outstanding among the features of the issue.

The issue was particularly attractive in general make-up and tone, snappy art work and well arranged material featuring it.

Wilton M. Garrison, editor-in-chief of The Mink, announced today that the next issue will be entitled the "Modern Number" and all material should follow this theme. The deadline for material is February 11.

Lured by Aroma of Neighbor's Tobacco

Boston, Mass., April 21, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: This morning I had a smoking adventure worth recording. Next to me in the smoking car a gentleman was puffing his pipe contentedly. I was not smoking at the moment, and the aroma of his tobacco intrigued me exceedingly. For twelve years I had smoked Edgeworth without being tempted by any other brand, but the fragrance emanating from the pipe of the gentleman beside me was so agreeable that I could not resist the temptation to speak of it. "That is wonderfully fragrant tobacco you have there," I remarked. "Would you mind telling me the name of it?"

"It is Edgeworth," he answered. We then congratulated each other upon our mutual good taste, and I decided that I would continue to use his brand and mine. Sincerely yours, S. H.

A Marvel of National Defense

From this 2½-acre deck, Uncle Sam's battle planes can now leap into action—sure of a landing place on their return, though a thousand miles from shore.

This marvel of national defense was accomplished—and duplicated—when the airplane carrier, U.S.S. Saratoga, and her sister ship, U.S.S. Lexington, were completely electrified.

In each, four General Electric turbine-generators deliver, combined, 180,000 horsepower to the propellers—enough to drive the ship at 33 knots (39 miles an hour)—enough to furnish light and power for a city of half a million people.

The design and construction of the electric equipment for the U. S. S. Saratoga and the U.S.S. Lexington, to which college-trained men contributed in great measure, exemplify the part General Electric plays in promoting the welfare of the nation.

Success Crowns Two Days of Dancing

JUNIOR PROM OFFICIALLY OPENS SOUTH'S MOST GALLANT DANCES

LOWDON LED DANCE WITH MISS SALE

Earl Fitzpatrick, With Mary Linn Petty Assists Figure Leader

Junior Prom officially ushered in Washington and Lee University's mid-winter dances last Monday evening.

The figure for the evening was led by Graham N. Lowdon, of Washington, D. C., president of the Junior class, with Miss Evelyn Lee Sale, of Welch, West Virginia. He was assisted by Earl A. Fitzpatrick, with Miss Mary Linn Petty, of Roanoke, Virginia.

White carnations were worn by the men in the figure, lending an unusually attractive effect. These were given the members of the Junior class as they entered the gymnasium.

The favors given the girls were especially pretty. They were blue leather picture frames, with a Washington and Lee seal embossed on them, with "Junior Prom-'28, written under the seal of the university. The program of the dance was combined with these favors which the girls in the figure received.

A color scheme of blue and white was very effectively followed for Junior Prom. The ceiling above the heads of the dancers was a mass of blue and white streamers, while the walls carried out the same general scheme.

Junior Prom is always an elaborate introduction to Fancy Dress, and this year was no exception to the standard which was set long ago. No efforts were spared to make this year's Junior Prom one of the best in recent years.

Oliver Naylor's orchestra from Birmingham, Ala., made its 1928 debut at Washington and Lee at the Junior Prom. This orchestra, composed of eleven pieces, came to Washington and Lee from recent engagements at Princeton, Cornell and Penn State. Coming highly recommended, the music-makers lived up to their reputation by giving the dancers the best tricks in their musical instruments.

Junior Prom lives in the memory of Juniors for the figure they took part in. It lives in the memory of other students for the successful dance that it was. It always makes alumni remember their days as juniors.

FRESH TAKE OPENING BATTLES ON JOURNEY

The Little Generals basketball team swamped the American Legion five, of Winchester, to the tune of 65 to 14. On the following evening, they repeated their steamroller tactics, by crushing the Devitt school, in Washington, D. C., in a fast running game, coming out on the long end of a 73-to-16 score.

In both games, the Freshmen showed their superiority by decisively outplaying their opponents in every department of the game.

The RING-TUM PHI, in presenting its annual Fancy Dress Supplement with this issue, is attempting to reflect the true spirit of the South's Premier Dance in all its glory. The leaders and assistant leaders of the dances are pictured, the names of those composing the figure are given, those attending the dance are listed. We hope that the supplement will serve as a symbol of the happiness which reigned throughout the university Monday and Tuesday.

FOUR FRATERNITY DANCES ADD MUCH TO FESTIVITIES OF MONDAY-TUESDAY

In addition to the two regular University dances, four fraternity dances were given during Fancy Dress. The Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity entertained at its house Monday afternoon from four till seven o'clock. The Southern Collegians furnished the music.

Beta Theta Pi social fraternity gave a dance at its house Tuesday from 11 to 2. Five pieces of Oliver Naylor's orchestra played for the affair.

Tuesday afternoon from 3 till 5:30 the Sigma Chi social fraternity was host at a dance given in the fraternity house. Music was furnished by the Southern Collegians.

Later Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7 the Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity gave a dance in the R. E. Lee hotel ballroom. Six pieces of Oliver Naylor's orchestra furnished the music for approximately 250 guests. Punch and sandwiches were served.

Decorations for Fancy Dress Surpass All Former Affairs

Decorations and effects that surpass anything ever before seen at a set of dances at Washington and Lee marked the twenty-second annual Fancy Dress ball on Tuesday night. The theme "In Bookland" was carried out in every detail, even the minor features. A curtain was drawn at the end of the gymnasium when the main figure began, revealing a line of huge books of various titles. From the ends of these books which opened upon the knock of one of the young pages who acted as "Book-Ends," the members of the different tableaux of the figure came forth in order.

The members of each tableaux issuing forth from the books represented the title of the particular book, and the costumes were in accordance with this theme.

The ceiling of the gymnasium was transformed into a huge canopy, which made a roof of colors over the dance floor. A scheme of alternating colors in six different shades composed this canopy, in the peak of which was a huge crystal ball upon which colored spotlights played, casting myriad flecks of color upon the dancers and the floor. Lanterns of various shades hung from this canopy, blinking in alternating moments their glow upon the scene.

A wall of colored balloons against a background of white formed the frieze around the balcony. The actual walls of the gymnasium were hidden by a mass of streamers, moss, balloons and tissue in colors conforming to the general color scheme.

Two huge Dutch wind mills, one at each end of the dance floor, whirled all night, their lighted blades throwing a glow of colored light onto the floor.

Girls in the figure were given French sport walking canes, the heads of which were adorned with doll heads. Leaders of the dance were given special favors.

The decorations were planned and executed under the personal direction and supervision of Professor C. E. L. Gill, as were the different tableaux of the figure and the plan of the dance.

Some call it mellowness . . .

SOME say that Camel is the mellowest cigarette ever made. Some that it's mild and smooth. It's really all good things in one, and that is why it is supreme upon the pinnacle of modern favor. Camel's popularity today is the largest that any cigarette ever had.

that money can buy, and a blending that spares neither time nor expense. Each Camel cigarette is as full of value as the world of tobacco can give.

You can be sure of smoking pleasure, serene and full, in these quality cigarettes. Smoke all of them you want; they simply never tire the taste.

And, it costs something to make this kind of a smoke. It costs the choicest tobaccos
