

ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET COLORFUL ATHLETIC EVENT

Selection of "Horse" Tips As Captain and "Bill" Ward As Manager of 1927 Big Blue Team Features Annual Banquet

MONOGRAMS AND NUMERALS AWARDED

Tributes to Captain Rauber, Maynard Holt, Mike Palmer and Coach Herron Are Heard

Announcement of the selection of B. B. Tipps as Captain and of W. A. Ward as Manager of the 1927 Generals featured the annual banquet which was tendered the gridiron warriors in the University dining hall Monday evening. The awarding of monograms and numerals for the past season was also made during the informal program which followed the dinner given by the Athletic Association in cooperation with the local Alumni Association. Forest Fletcher in presenting the certificates witnessing the awards, spoke briefly but expressively of the character of men required to earn letters at Washington and Lee.

The dinner was the occasion for glowing tributes to Captain L. J. Rauber for his selection as All-Southern fullback and for his playing during the past three years and to Coach J. P. Herron, who was completing his first year as mentor of the Generals after changing places with Jimmy DeHart. Speakers lauded Rauber and Holt and Palmer, the other two Blue and White gridders who have played their last collegiate game, and traced the careers of these three men from the time they entered Washington and Lee.

E. P. Davis presided at the banquet, and, with E. L. Graham and Stuart Moore, prominent local alumni, attended to the arrangements incidental to the affair. The toastmaster made brief but pointed remarks in introducing the speakers during the evening, and joined with all who took the floor in congratulating the team upon the fight displayed during the recent season.

President Henry Louis Smith spoke a few words of appreciation on the part of the University administration for the sportsmanlike attitude exhibited by the players at all times and commended them for holding true to the ideals of the institution no matter what circumstances surrounded them on the field. The awarding of the monograms and numerals was next made, and the letter men withdrew and chose Tips as their 1927 leader.

In accepting the responsibility of the 1927 captaincy, Tips said that he realized the honor of his selection, but at the same time was fully aware of the added duties which such a position put upon him. He issued a call to all the Varsity men, reserves and freshmen who will be back next year to rally on Wilson field for Spring practice, and closed his remarks with an expression of his determination to "Get Virginia" next year.

Captain Rauber followed his successor, and speaking both personally and for the team as a whole, paid tribute to Coach Herron, both as a coach and as a gentleman. Rauber praised the coach for his work with the team this year and for his success in bringing into existence a formidable machine with the nucleus of a scant half dozen lettermen to work with, and hailed him as a man who "knows football." In closing, the 1926 captain presented the coach with a handsome travelling bag as a memento of the season from the men who have worked under him this fall.

Coach Herron made a speech, which, though short, was one of the most heartfelt ones of the evening. He praised the work and spirit which the players showed throughout the long grind, and was especially high in his commendation of them for the fight displayed in the face of apparent odds and threatening disaster. The way in which they came back after defeats which would have crushed the spirit of other elevens was lauded by the coach and their faithfulness to the hard work of the training season and afternoon sessions on Wilson field was shown as the object of much appreciation upon the part of Herron and Assistant Coach J. K. Thomas. He bid Rauber, Holt, and Palmer goodbye for the remaining members of the squad, and called upon all monogram men still eligible and all reserves as well as the freshmen to return to school next year and prepare for a great season.

Assistant Coach Thomas, R. M. Holt and W. W. Palmer all spoke briefly and E. L. Graham, president of the Lexington Alumni Association, expressed the appreciation of the alumni in

TIPS CAPTAIN, WARD MANAGER

Tips Has Good Record in Three Years Here—Ward Served as Soph and Junior Assistant

B. B. Tipps, of Kennedy, Texas, and W. A. Ward, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., were named captain and manager respectively of the 1927 Generals' gridiron machine in the balloting Monday night. Tipps' selection came after voting by the 16 players who were awarded monograms, while Ward was named at a special meeting of the Athletic Council called that afternoon for the purpose of selecting the managerial staff and making awards for the year. G. H. Lanier, Jr., of West Point, Ga., was named junior assistant manager, with Alfred Boyd, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., as alternate.

Tipps was chosen to lead his team during the 1927 grind after playing two years as a first string regular on the Blue and White Varsity. During these two grinds he has been a steady and consistently good performer. In 1925, playing with J. K. Thomas as captain and Jimmy DeHart as coach "Horse" saw action throughout the season at quarterback, leading the interference into the line and around ends in a most able manner. He succeeded "Ty" Rauber at this job when the 1926 captain was shifted from quarter to full to replace Eddie Cameron. During the year just closed he has been playing regularly at a guard position, and has been a tower of strength to Coach Herron's team and showed marked improvement as the season progressed. His versatility makes him a valuable man, since during his yearling days in the fall of 1924 he proved his ability to buck the line and carry the ball from all formations.

The captain-elect is a junior in the school of commerce, is a member of White Friars and of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity. He has earned two monograms in football, and was a regular outfielder and alternate catcher on the 1926 baseball nine.

Manager-elect Ward was chosen for his post after serving his apprenticeship as sophomore and junior assistant during the last two years. He is also a junior in the school of commerce, and a member of White Friars and of Kappa Alpha social fraternity, and a pledge of Alpha Kappa Psi.

Lanier is a White Friar pledge and a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity. Boyd is a member of the Cotillion club and belongs to the Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

GOING HOME WHEN?

The Executive Committee, in cooperation with the railroads of this section, has put up placards in front of Washington College which students are requested to sign, signifying whether they intend to leave for the Christmas holidays on Friday, Saturday or Monday. This is being done in order to facilitate the transportation of students to their homes by insuring that there be sufficient cars on hand each of these days.

BRILLIANT SET OF DANCES FEATURE OF HOLIDAYS

NAYLOR FURNISHES SNAPPY MUSIC

Over 150 Girls in Lexington For Annual Thanksgiving Dances and Holiday Events.

Sweeping all other campus activities to the side, the Thanksgiving social festivities held supreme dominion Friday night and throughout Saturday. With two formal dances, one dansant, several fraternity hops, the Troubadour show, and numerous dinners and dates, unbridled joy and pleasure were predominate in Lexington and on the campus of Washington and Lee.

Since W. W. Palmer, president of the Cotillion Club, was absent with the football team on Friday night, the customary order of the Thanksgiving dances was reversed and this year the Sophomore Cotillion ushered in the formal social season instead of the Cotillion Club dance as in former years.

Scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock, yet not getting under way until a little after 10, the Sophomore Cotillion opened the holiday gaieties Friday night continuing until past 2 o'clock, it became better each moment and, with Oliver Naylor's orchestra performing in its usual animated style it was a typical Washington and Lee dance in which joy reigned supreme.

The dancing was temporarily halted at 11 o'clock and the members of the Sophomore class formed for their figure. After winding in and out several times the couples halted, making a huge "29"; the orchestra broke into a soft waltz and the members of the figure enjoyed one uninterrupted dance. This figure was led by W. B. Harrington, president of the Sophomore class, with Miss Catherine Coker, of Columbus, Mississippi. R. C. Burris, vice-president of the class, with Miss Jean Wolfe of Charlotte, North Carolina, assisted. Miss Coker and Miss Wolf carried bouquets of red roses. Small silver perfume flasks with "W. L. U. '29" engraved on them were presented the girls in the figure. A light plate supper was served during the intermission.

A snappy dansant given in the gymnasium by the Cotillion Club furnished the entertainment Saturday morning and following the Troubadour show in the afternoon several lively fraternity dances were given, some lasting until 7:30 o'clock.

The Cotillion Club dance Saturday night came as the crowning feature of an unusually enjoyable Thanksgiving holiday. Since it did not begin until 10 o'clock, not quite two hours were available for dancing but its short duration did not prevent this dance from being a brilliant one. If possible, it was even better than the dance the preceding evening, and when it whirled to a close just before midnight one of the best Thanksgiving dances in years was over. At 11 o'clock the members of the Cotillion Club, about 50 in number, with their partners formed the Cotillion Club figure, consisting of the initials "C. C." Following a brief halt the figure dissolved as the couples glided apart to the strains of a well known waltz.

The figure was led by W. W. Palmer, president of the Cotillion Club, with Miss Anne Beth Price, of San Antonio, Texas; J. T. Lowe, secretary and treasurer of the club, with Miss Ruth Thompson, of Leland, Mississippi, assisted. Miss Price and Miss Thompson carried bouquets of white roses.

Approximately 150 girls were in attendance at the dances and were an all important factor in the outstanding success of the holidays. As at all Washington and Lee dances, girls from every section of the country were present but especially were the neighboring schools well represented. Sweet Briar, as usual, sent the largest delegation with about 30.

When the dances began Friday evening, Doremus gymnasium was brilliantly bedecked in red and white. A canopy of twisted serpentine overhead with the numerous lights hung from the ceiling encased by streamers made the gymnasium an attractive ball room.

Oliver Naylor's ten-piece orchestra from Birmingham, Alabama furnished the symphony and throughout the set of dances upheld its national reputation as a first class archestr. From the first quick-timed fox-trot to the final Washington and Lee Swing, its syncopating jazz kept the dances a blaze of gaiety.

GENERALS ARE NOW SOUTH ATLANTIC CHAMPIONS

Although 1926 has been a bad year for champions, Washington and Lee prestige is still unswayed. The Generals have won the South Atlantic Football Championship for the fourth consecutive time, thereby escaping the international "jinx" which has caused the downfall of some of the world's foremost leaders in sports.

Heretofore the Big Blue team has had an undisputed claim to the championship, having had clean slates for the past three years. This year there may be some controversy as to the championship claim, but in the following paragraph one may readily see that Washington and Lee has again come out on top in the South Atlantic Division.

The teams that are included in the South Atlantic area are: Washington and Lee, Virginia, V. P. I., V. M. I., Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina University and North Carolina State. Out of these there are only 3 that can be considered as possible champions: W. L. U., V. P. I. and Virginia. In considering the percentage of these, Washington and Lee is the apparent leader because the Generals have won three games, lost one and tied none; Whereas V. P. I. and Virginia have each won 3, lost 1 and tied one. Virginia Tied Maryland 6-6, but W. and L. beat the Old Liners 3-0. V. P. I. Ted Kentucky 13-13, but W. and L. defeated the Wildcats 14-13. Therefore, by having the same number of wins and losses as the Cavaliers and Techmen, but by beating the teams that tied them, the Generals have a clear access to the title for the past season.

QUINT PRACTICE

Varsity basketball practice opened officially last Monday when approximately 20 candidates reported to Coach Twombly who is handling the squad in the absence of Coach Smith. Only preliminary conditioning and light practice was undertaken in the first workouts, but the squad will be rapidly pushed from now on to prepare for the opening encounter with Maryland, December 17.

Captain Urney, Spotts and Howe are the only monogram men from last year's state championship quint, but Herndon, Nance, and McCandless of the reserves are available as are the members of last season's Frosh team.

HOLT STARS IN GENERALS' LINE

Fumbles Prevent Early Scoring By Both Teams—12,000 Fans See Classic

Washington and Lee; Florida 7. Thus reads the score of the annual Jacksonville classic between the Generals of Washington and Lee, and the 'Gators of University of Florida.

Three periods of brilliant defensive football that failed to produce a single point, gave way to a fourth quarter packed with thrills; and the points that left the two ancient rivals tied—and the dope bucket badly upset again. Battling through three even periods in which both teams were offered golden opportunities to score but failed on their one-yard line, the Virginians broke the deadlock at the offset of the final semester when a long forward pass, spectacularly executed, gave them a touchdown.

Florida Score

Seemingly beaten and forced back with nearly every play, the 'Gators suddenly got the best of an exchange of punts and worked the ball to their 32-yard line.

At this point a pass from Bowyer to Beck for 12 yards was completed, and the latter far over on the right side of the field, apparently caught by the W. & L. defense, reversed his field and ran for a touchdown.

Florida had her full strength in the field for the first time this season, and it was a different 'Gator team that faced the Generals.

Stars For Generals

It was very fitting that in the last game of college football in which they played that Rauber, Palmer and Holt should star. But this is not unusual, as for three seasons Blue and White followers have seen these three men reach the heights of football fame.

Maynard Holt playing his last game at tackle, a position he has held for three years, was the star of the line on both the offense and defense. Opposed by the veteran Bowyer, Holt showed his strength by breaking through the Florida fore-wall time and again and beautifully smearing the plays of 'Gator backs. On the offense he broke holes through the line through which Washington and Lee backs plunged for long gains. Florida newspapers were unanimous in proclaiming him one of the greatest linemen ever seen in southern football circles.

Captain Rauber was the star at yard gaining and ploughed through the 'Gator line for many first downs. Brilliant on the offense he worked the ball down the field time after time, and closed his fullback career in brilliant style, and truly and fully proved that he has earned the position of All-Southern fullback, the position he received Sunday.

In his last game Mike Palmer directed the team in his usual heady and generaling manner and was responsible for the first touchdown of the Generals—the forward pass. In circling ends, gaining through the line and generalship, Mike showed up splendid in his last game of his career and proved his worth as his record this year has brilliantly shown.

The first quarter was a kicking duel between Captain Rauber and Bowyer. At the beginning of the second period the 'Gators began an advance from mid-field that carried them to the Generals' 6-yard line where Holt recovered a fumble and Rauber kicked out of danger. Play was in mid-field the remainder of the half.

Washington and Lee came back after the intermission and pierced the 'Gator wall in a manner that seemed destined to yield a touchdown, but Rauber fumbled as he crossed the goal line and Clemmons recovered.

The final stanza opened with the Generals on the Florida 30-yard line. After failing in the first attempted pass, Captain Rauber shot a 25-yard pass to Palmer who dashed the remaining distance for the first score. Florida's offside allowed the extra point to count.

Fletcher Goes To Conference Meet

Appointment of Commissioner of Athletics Among Matters to Be Settled

Coach Forest Fletcher is leaving this afternoon for Jacksonville, Fla., to attend a convention of the representatives of members of the Southern Conference. He has already been preceded by Graduate Manager R. A. Smith.

Among pending matters is a motion that a Commissioner of Athletics be appointed, and that each member of the Conference be assessed $400 yearly to pay his salary and expense. Another matter expected to be brought up is that each member of the Conference shall schedule at least five Southern Conference teams, every year.

It is also proposed that transfers from junior colleges and normal schools not offering a four-year course may continue their athletic careers at a Southern Conference institution after the one year residence rule has been satisfied, but that the five years of eligibility begin with entrance to the junior college or normal school.

The above and many other important questions will be discussed at the meeting, some of which may have an important bearing on Washington and Lee athletics in the future, Coach Fletcher stated.

DURHAM LEAVES FOR MICHIGAN

Prominent Member of Student Body Will Represent University at Student Congress in Ann Arbor This Week

Kenneth A. Durham, vice-president of the Washington and Lee Student Body left today to represent the University at the annual meeting of the National Federation of College Students at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Durham was chosen by the Executive Committee of the Student Body to be Washington and Lee's representative at the meeting, which will take place on December 2, 3, 4.

Durham is president of the Southern Federation of College Students, which met here last spring. He will represent that body at the convention in Michigan.

Durham is from Chattanooga, Tenn., and is a senior in the academic school of the University. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Upsilon, White Friars, Omicron Delta Kappa, and was Monday night awarded a Monogram in varsity football. Last year he was one of the two students chosen by the faculty here as ideal and typical of Washington and Lee men.

Dr. Levitt To Talk To Journalists

"The Law of the Press" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. Albert Levitt, professor of law at Washington and Lee University, to the students of the Lee School of Journalism on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

In Passing

THE Thanksgiving holidays have come and gone. Taking with them many happy memories, they have left with us as many more.

The holidays were a complete success in every way. Not a blot is on the page of the University history where they will be recorded as one of the most brilliant single events in the history of Washington and Lee.

The dances were the "driest" in the history of local terpsichorean art. Nothing could have been more pleasing to the student body, returning alumni, visiting girls, visitors, spectators and the Faculty. Not a word of criticism has been heard concerning the conduct at the two formals, the dansant, the three tea dances and other social events that took place.

And the "Fraternity Rules," as they have now come to be known, were strictly observed. No music was heard in the houses one hour after the dances, and no dancing took place in the homes of the "Greeks" at any time on Sunday morning—from the "wee sma' hours" after the Saturday night dance. The Faculty is pleased with the results—they trusted us and we have lived up to their trust.

Brilliant dances, the presence of scores of visiting girls, a pleasing football game result, a creditable Troubadour show, and the freedom of four days away from the class room was welcome. We made the best of it—had a good time—and conducted ourselves like gentlemen should. For all of which the RING-TUM PHI, as the voice of the student body, thinks that we may well be proud and "call time out," in passing, to pat ourselves on the back as a reward for a task well done.

The Finale

THANKSGIVING day saw the curtain of Washington and Lee football rung down on a colorful stage on which the Generals have played in a brilliant and successful show all fall. The show has been successful from the fact that the Blue and White has made a successful season. Playing a total of nine games, the Generals have come through with a very creditable record of four wins, three losses and two ties. Not so bad, at all! More than an even break—therefore a success.

Ties with Princeton and Florida, losses to West Virginia, Georgia Tech and Virginia, and wins over Lynchburg, Maryland, V. P. I. and Kentucky constitute the season.

Thursday's game in which the Generals battled with Florida for four quarters to a 7-7 tie saw the season close. This game saw Captain "Ty" Rauber, "Mike" Palmer and Maynard Holt play their last games for the Blue and White. And very creditably did they make their exit—being the stars of the game, as they have been in every game for three long seasons of Washington and Lee football.

To these three men and to the entire Big Blue Team we extend our thanks for their brilliant representation of Washington and Lee at home and on foreign fields, congratulate them on their brilliant fights—whether they were victories or defeats—and assure them that Washington and Lee appreciates their work and is proud of them, to a man.

And now, as the last glow of the 1926 football season is fading into the distance—where it will be written on the pages of time and in the annals of football fame—we say as a last parting word:

A noble fight, Big Blue Team!

A Word Of Commendation

TO the crowd of theatre-goers who filled every seat in the New Theatre Saturday afternoon to watch the annual Thanksgiving show of the Washington and Lee Troubadours was presented a very creditable and enjoyable performance.

The show was good. The music was excellent, and the whole very pleasing. It showed work on the part of the cast, the Glee Club, the musicians, the directors, and the whole organization. To President E. H. Miller and Manager W. P. Woodley especially we extend congratulations for the performance and the way in which their organization functioned. The Troubadours, as a whole, are to be commended for their untiring and successful efforts to represent Washington and Lee in the dramatic world.

"Captain Ty"

IT was with pleasure that Washington and Lee men saw in the Sunday newspapers the All-Southern selection by the authentic Associated Press. For one of the two unanimous selections on the all-star team was that of Captain "Ty" Rauber of Washington and Lee as fullback.

This honor comes to the great fullback of the Big Blue team as a distinct well-earned honor. For three years he has worked toward this end, and he well deserves it. This year he has led a victorious Blue and White team through a victorious season and many valiant fights. He has played in every game, and in every game he has starred. Undoubtedly one of the most outstanding players in the Southern Conference heaven of stars he has fought for and won his honor.

And long after he has worn the Blue and White his name will rest on local football scrolls. And Washington and Lee will wish many times for such a plunging fullback, gentleman, and captain to lead her teams on the field again. Congratulations, Captain "Ty".

A Final Word

THIS column cannot be brought to an end without a word of commendation for two groups of campus men who have played their part in the football season at Washington and Lee. These are: the cheer leaders and the band.

To head cheer leader Charlie Crockett and his assistants we wish to extend a hearty hand for their unflinching support and direction of "pep" and spirit at the games of the Big Blue Team. They kept roaring the fires of loyal support and cheering for the team in a number of games and indirectly played a large part in several victories of the Generals. They saw to it that encouragement for the team out on the field never lagged—for all of which we are appreciative.

To W. G. Gardiner, organizer and director of the Washington and Lee band we are also appreciative for the finest musical organization in the history of the school. Many remarks were heard during the football season on the snappy appearance and good music furnished by the large band. And they too were behind the Generals to the end and helping the cheer leaders keep the well known old fight going strong.

No. 19—1926-27

The Last And Crowning Attainment—SELF-EXPRESSION

The fourth step in attaining leadership is Self-expression the power and habit of creating something of your own, whether that something is a poem, a railroad, an organization, a new method, or a hither to undiscovered truth. This demands originality, native power, strong individualism, and the faculty of taking the initiative. It is the power and the habit of driving your own plans and ideals and purposes to your own chosen goal. It distinguishes the real leader from the fake variety, from the zealous "copy-cat" who so often wears on a colleg campus the tinsel of shortlived hero-worship.

Let every would-be leader creer into steel his own purposes, deliberately choose his own goals, and cultivate the habit of swinging the crowd his way. That's the way to become a "typical alumnus" of Washington and Lee.

Yale University offers a possible solution for turning away many eligible students: that of raising tuition cost slowly and permitting the rise to have its effect on the less serious applicants.

Take this with you!

If you are an athlete you have been eating SHREDDED WHEAT regularly at the training table. If you've leaned more toward the studious side you have probably long since recognized the energy-value of Shredded Wheat to those of sedentary habits. But, in either case, don't let down on that good Shredded Wheat habit.

SHREDDED WHEAT

provides all the BRAN, SALTS, PROTEINS, CARBOHYDRATES and VITAMINS of Nature's good whole wheat in digestible and palatable form. Its daily use will stimulate the entire system, clear up the complexion, and improve muscles and mind.

Shredded Wheat is as appetizing as it is nourishing. Two bits make a real meal—give strength and energy for the day, every day. Take this thought with you—

Second Issue Of The Mink Appears

"Football Number" Of Recently Revised Humorous Magazine Makes Hit in Comic Circles

Enthusiastic praise of the second issue of the Mink, Washington and Lee's humorous publication, has been heard on the campus since its appearance. The "Football Number", as this edition of the Mink is called contains many entertaining features. A drama entitled "Old Rivals Meet in Annual Clash," describes both the preliminaries and the aftermath of a football game between the inhabitants of Heaven and the residents of Hades. Among the poems of principal interest in this issue are "The Man in the Moleskin Pants," a composition extolling the warriors of the gridiron and a parody on Kipling's "If," describing the accomplished imbiber of alcoholic spirits. Pictures of the adventures of the W. and L. "Week-end Team" at Sweet Briar college appear. On the editorial page, there is a humorous skit satirizing both the psychic and the physical activities of certain spectators at football games. A special section of the magazine is devoted to the reproduction of witticisms from the publications of other universities.

"MRS. MACK" NOW IN FLORIDA

Mrs. McKeever, known to the students of Washington and Lee as "Mrs. Mack," of The Corner, left Tuesday evening with the football team for Jacksonville. Having earned a needed vacation, the first in a long time, she remained true to W. and L., and said nothing could stop her from seeing the game.
 She will spend a month in Jacksonville, where her husband is, before returning to Lexington.

Man-power

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoleonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoleonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted where electricity can do the work better at lower cost.

The laboratories and shops of industry are the sources of many of the enduring attainments of our times. In the General Electric organization is an army of 75,000 persons, co-operating to make electricity do more and better work for humanity.
 A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

Generals Tie 'Gators

 in mid-field, Bowyer shot a pass to Beck who ran 50 yards to a touch-down and a kick added the final point. Washington and Lee made 12 first downs to Florida's 7, and gained 164 yard to 140 for the 'Gators, but the deadly passing of the Floridians earned them an even break. The play of Captain Rauber, Palmer and Holt, all playing their last game, was brilliant.

Moreland's address, led the crowd of a 100 or more in the singing of the "Swing" and of "College Freindships." The entire crowd, consisting of the Varsity squad, freshman numeral men, athletic authorities of the University, members of the faculty and alumni and other invited guests joined in the singing, which closed the evening's program.

Elect Jordan Head Of Pi Delta Epsilon

R. W. Jordan Jr., '28 Law, was elected president of Phi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, at a special meeting held last night to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late president, Isadore Lebow. Jordan has been an active member of the fraternity, and his elevation to the presidency comes as a fitting tribute to his journalistic qualities. Nine new men were elected to membership in the organization, but announcement of these will be withheld until next week. Preliminary plans for the publication of the Pidel-taurus were discussed, but no details were decided upon except the fact that the sheet is to appear some time before Christmas.
