A TRUSTEE'S VIEW OF WASHINGTON AND LEE

When it was suggested that I write the introduction to this year's University Report from the point of view of the Trustees, I jumped at the chance.

For the Trustees find these to be exciting and eventful times at Washington and Lee. I can speak with particular conviction since I have recently been able to discuss this very subject individually with most of the Trustees.

Washington and Lee is blessed with a highly dedicated, concerned, and hard-working Board, and without exception these men—all of whom are most perceptive—are pleased with the state of the University.

As they see it, our educational standards continue to have that margin of excellence we constantly seek. The curriculum—always a strong one—continues to be broadened through the addition of new courses and, during the past year, a new major. Of particular interest is a successful program in pre-professional ethics that cuts across the College, the Commerce School, and the Law School. There are new programs to train faculty and students in computer science, and a new, much more powerful computer is being installed.

Washington and Lee has begun a major in East Asian Studies with numerous courses in East Asian languages, religion, art and history available for majors and non-majors alike.

The Trustees are particularly pleased that emphasis is placed throughout the College on improving writing and communication skills. In our own businesses and professions, we have all learned that these skills are among the more important contributions to a successful career, and we have all had experience with bright young men who are singularly lacking in those abilities.

The faculty is loyal and strong with the emphasis remaining on teaching. There has been no compromise on the faculty-student ratio which remains about 1 to 11. Faculty salaries have been improved and are at a good level.

Our student body continues to be a good one, and our applications for admission evidence a better trend in number and in quality than that of many other private colleges. We have chosen to remain all male at the undergraduate level, a choice which has had no discernible effect on admission applications.

The Honor System is strong. Each new generation of students re-examines it and takes its own steps to keep it that way.

In Bob Huntley we are convinced that we truly have a President for all seasons—one who relates in inimitable fashion and with equal skill with such diverse constituents as students, faculty, parents, trustees, alumni, donors, and friends of the University. We are continually impressed with his enthusiasm, his knowledge of all facets of University operations, his administrative skills, and his articulateness. He is the right man at the right time for Washington and Lee.

Another source of pride is, of course, our accomplishments during Phase I of our Development Program for the '70s. This program—unusually ambitious when it was formulated—called for raising $36 million in new funds by the end of 1976. In fact, we raised almost $37.5 million, over seven percent of which was contributed by the Board of Trustees with all members participating. Unfortunately, the ravages of inflation prevented this amount from doing all we had planned, but we were able to build or at least begin construction of all of the physical facilities announced as objectives for that first portion of the program.

In place are the new Jonathan Westervelt Warner Athletic Center; the new law building, Lewis Hall; a three-building, on-campus apartment complex for upperclassmen and law students; and major campus utility, service, and landscaping improvements. Begun was the new $9-million undergraduate library and the renovation of the Lee-Jackson House. The building which has been the home of our biology, physics, and engineering departments was named Parmly Hall in honor and recognition of a gift from Mrs. Ruth Parmly of New York City.

The Trustees are particularly grateful to loyal alumni and parents, led by 498 Lee Associates, who have increased the total of the Annual Fund by more than 100 percent in the years since 1970 when Phase I began. Without this increasing support we could not have maintained the balanced budgets we have been able to achieve.

But despite all the achievements of Phase I, the Trustees recognize that the job is by no means finished.

Funds for the completion of the new library must be found. The old McCormick Library building must be renovated to serve as a new home for the School of Commerce, Economics, and Politics. Newcomb Hall will need renovation after the Commerce School moves out. And there are miscellaneous other utility and campus improvements that will need to be made.

Even more urgent is the need for additional endowment. Phase I did not raise as much for endowment as we had planned. At the same time a declining securities market has severely eroded our existing endowment, and annual operating costs are escalating due to inflation. Each new building placed in service also brings with it a further increase in annual costs.

The only way we can hope to offset these multiplying costs is by a significant enlargement of our endowment.

As Bob Huntley has pointed out in a recent letter to alumni, parents, and friends, Washington and Lee is not on easy street. Even the generous bequest from John Lee Pratt, instead of adding to what many erroneously presume to be already bountiful resources, actually has only partially filled an already existing gap.

The figures have been cited before, but they need to be repeated again. The 1975-76 survey report (the most recent such study) of the Council for Financial Aid to Education lists Washington and Lee's endowment as $12,373 per student. Comparative endowment figures in the same CFAE report for a number of other universities are:

|-------------------|----------|
| Harvard | $66,080 |
| Agnes Scott | $65,463 |
| Rice | $59,782 |
| Amherst | $57,980 |
| Wellesley | $51,915 |
| Swarthmore | $50,993 |
| Berea | $46,291 |
| Wabash | $41,529 |
| Dartmouth | $40,665 |
| Williams | $36,044 |
| Stanford | $35,688 |

|---------------------------------|-----------------|
| Hamilton | $32,695 |
| Smith | $31,982 |
| Grinnell | $30,904 |
| Oberlin | $28,797 |
| Bowdoin | $27,787 |
| Pomona | $26,946 |
| Carleton | $24,579 |
| Emory | $23,626 |
| Mount Holyoke | $23,425 |
| Haverford | $23,256 |
| Trinity (Texas) | $22,150 |
| Sweet Briar | $21,538 |
| University of the South | $21,513 |
| Vanderbilt | $21,118 |
| Lafayette | $20,084 |
| Davidson | $16,267 |
| Duke | $12,891 |
| Washington and Lee | $12,373 |
| Randolph-Macon Woman's ... | $10,129 |
| Hollins | $ 9,326 |

In fact, in any comparison of this kind with recognized independent colleges, Washington and Lee ends up very close to the bottom of the list.

So, our job clearly is not done. We are determined to secure an adequate endowment for Washington and Lee—one that will permit us to maintain our position as an outstanding small private University. If this is not done, our margin of excellence will soon begin to erode.

To this end, the Trustees are planning now for Phase II of our Development Program for the '70s. When announced, it will undoubtedly call for raising more new capital than had originally been thought necessary when the overall program was formulated—and a major part of this will be for increased endowment.

We are confident it can be done.

THE ROBERT E. LEE ASSOCIATES

The Robert E. Lee Associates was established by the Board of Trustees in 1967 to identify and recognize leadership in support of the University's educational program. Alumni and friends are cordially invited to join this fellowship.

Qualification for Membership: An alumnus, parent, or friend may join the Robert E. Lee Associates by contributing $1,000 or more to the University through its Annual Fund for support of current operations in the educational and general budget. This gift may be paid in one or more installments during the fiscal year—July 1 to June 30.

General's Council: A Lee Associate becomes a member of the General's Council for cumulative gifts totaling $10,000 or more in 12 consecutive years or less, or for a pledge to accomplish this result. Thus, a donor may fulfill this requirement by giving—or by pledging to give—$1,000 in any 10 years out of 12, by making larger gifts at less frequent intervals, or by a single gift of $10,000 or more. Listed here are members of the General's Council and those Lee Associates who made a gift to the Annual Fund of $1,000 or more during 1976-77.

THE ANNUAL FUND: PARENTS

JOHN H. VANAMBURGH
Chairman
Current Parents

Listed here are the names of parents who contributed to the 1976-77 Annual Fund. Their gifts represent a generous "extra" investment in the quality of education offered by Washington and Lee—a demonstration of confidence for which the University is extremely grateful. The heading Lee Associate indicates gifts of $1,000 or more made in 1976-77; Colonnade Club indicates gifts of $100-$999 made in 1976-77.

THE ANNUAL FUND: FRIENDS

Washington and Lee receives annually many gifts in support of current operations from persons whose relationship to the University is that of "friends." Most of these gifts are unrestricted, given in the form of direct grants or in the form of memorials. Some are designated for student financial aid to be awarded during the academic year. These gifts are a source of support for which the University is deeply grateful. The heading Lee Associate indicates gifts of $1,000 or more made in 1976-77; Colonnade Club indicates gifts of $100-$999 made in 1976-77.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY/ VIRGINIA FOUNDATION FOR INDEPENDENT COLLEGES

The University's friends in the business and industrial community contributed a significant 17.4% of the total gift income received for support of current operations in 1976-77. The cornerstone of this support in 1976-77 was the $156,862 received through the statewide program of solicitation carried out by the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges. Under the direction of a board that includes 46 business leaders and the presidents of the 12 independent member colleges, this organization enlisted the support of 1,015 Virginia business establishments to raise $1.6 million for private higher education in Virginia. The remainder of the contributions from business and industry came in the form of direct grants and matching gifts made through programs especially designed to aid independent colleges.

A foundation's grant to an educational institution is a welcome addition to operating income and more: It is a public endorsement of the institution's leadership and educational program, an endorsement that is universally respected by other foundations, corporations, and individuals. Consequently, Washington and Lee acknowledges with special gratitude the gifts it received from foundations in support of current operations during 1976-77.

CAPITAL GIFTS

Listed here are the names of contributors—alumni, friends, parents, corporations, and foundations—of gifts in support of the capital objectives in the $36-million Development Program, which was successfully completed on December 31, 1976, with $37.5 million in commitments. These gifts are used either for additions to general or scholarship endowments or for campus building projects. In the list, a class date denotes an alumnus; P, a parent; F, a friend. An asterisk (*) denotes those now deceased.

THE ESTATE PLANNING PROGRAM

EDWIN A. MORRIS
Chairman
Estate Planning Council

Washington and Lee's deferred giving program provides the means by which donors may share some of their capital with Washington and Lee, either by will or by another form of gift to take effect in the future.

The importance of the program to the University can be measured in part by numbers. During the 1976-77 fiscal year, Washington and Lee received in distributions from estates of alumni and friends (other than from the estate of John Lee Pratt) $4,525,829.08, the largest amount of such gifts in many years. The donors of these funds were

Ada S. Boyce
Mrs. Lucille W. Chaffin
Christopher Chenery '09
John Sims Edmondson '20
Howard Gibbons '21L
Richard E. Gooch '30
W. H. Howe
Eben Jackson '33
Miriam Capterton A. McClure
H. Graham Morison '30

Figures alone, however, do not indicate the full importance to Washington and Lee of the increased participation by its friends in this program. The willingness of alumni and other supporters to make this University a part of their estate plans is a gauge of the success of Washington and Lee both in preserving the best of the past, the greatest of our traditions and ideals, and in providing educational leadership for the future, training today's young to meet tomorrow's challenge. No university can remain strong if it does not perform both of these functions.

A deferred gift, a gift of part of one's estate, is a memorial to the donor, and honors what Washington and Lee has been. It also, however, represents a commitment to what

Washington and Lee will be. These gifts are a concrete expression of the donors' faith that Washington and Lee will continue to provide the best in education in the liberal arts and law. Naturally these expressions of faith assist greatly in enabling the University to meet the expectations of the donors.

The purposes for which deferred gifts are made are as varied as the interests of the givers. Many gifts of capital are unrestricted—used as additions to endowments or for capital improvements at the discretion of the Trustees. Others, depending on their size, fund scholarships or professorships, build or restore buildings, provide funds for lectures or the acquisition of books, scientific materials, or works of art. The history of the University and its physical site abound with the names of donors.

Deferred gifts range in size from $500 or $1,000 to many millions of dollars. Each is an equally valued expression of the donor's pride and faith in Washington and Lee.

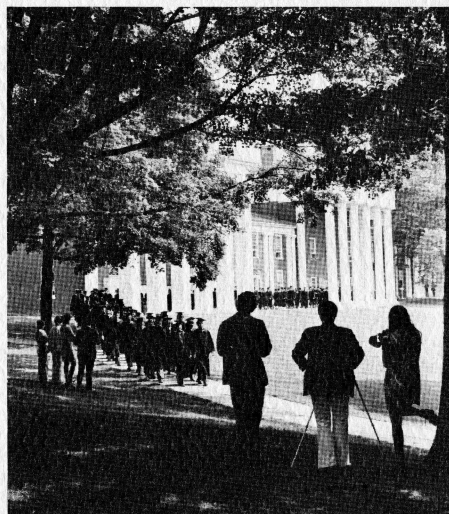

Almost as varied as the purposes and sizes of deferred gifts are the ways in which they are made. Most commonly they take the form of a provision in the donor's will. Younger alumni, especially, frequently use life insurance as the vehicle for their estate planned gifts. Almost $100,000 of policies payable to Washington and Lee are known to the University to be in force now; slightly more than $100,000 has been received from insurance policies in recent years.

More often, donors are creating living trusts which provide a life income to them or to their beneficiary with the principal ultimately coming to Washington and Lee. More than $1,000,000 is now in our Pooled Income Fund, which, quarterly, returns income to those who have merged their gifts to the University in this professionally managed trust. Approximately $1,000,000 is now held in separately invested annuity trusts or unitrusts, each designed to meet the particular needs of the individual donor and each providing funds on which Washington and Lee can base its plans for the future.

Professional management of funds, avoidance of capital gains tax on sales of securities and other income and estate tax advantages make these trusts particularly desirable in a time of economic and market uncertainty. Information about any of these deferred giving plans is available from the Office of University Development.

Washington and Lee has been built on the love and pride of those who know it and on the tangible expressions of this love and pride which many have made through the years. The University is grateful to all those who, now, through their estate plans are building the institution that in the twenty-first century will continue to be an institution worthy of the names it bears.
