

The Alumni Magazine

Washington and Lee University

DECEMBER, 1951

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
WASHINGTON & LEE UNIVERSITY
LEXINGTON, VA 24450

Mid-Winter Sports Schedule

1951-1952

BASKETBALL

December	1—Norfolk Training Station.....	Lexington, Virginia
December	5—University of Maryland.....	College Park, Maryland
December	8—Kentucky.....	Lexington, Kentucky
December	11—University of Virginia.....	Lexington, Virginia
December	14—Davidson College.....	Davidson, North Carolina
December	15—Furman University.....	Greenville, South Carolina
December	19—University of Maryland.....	Lexington, Virginia
December	21—Tournament at Marshall College.....	Huntington, West Virginia
December	29—Toledo	Toledo, Ohio
January	1—Bradley	Peoria, Illinois
January	5—Roanoke College.....	Salem, Virginia
January	9—University of Richmond.....	Richmond, Virginia
January	11—George Washington University.....	Lexington, Virginia
January	12—Virginia Polytechnic Institute.....	Lexington, Virginia
January	16—William and Mary.....	Lexington, Virginia
January	19—Quantico Marines.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	4—University of Virginia.....	Charlottesville, Virginia
February	8—Virginia Polytechnic Institute.....	Wytheville, Virginia
February	11—William and Mary.....	Williamsburg, Virginia
February	15—West Virginia.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	19—University of Richmond.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	20—Roanoke College.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	26—George Washington University.....	Washington, D.C.
March	1—West Virginia.....	Morgantown, West Virginia
March	7—Southern Conference Tournament

WRESTLING

December	15—Duke University.....	Durham, North Carolina
January	15—Virginia Polytechnic Institute.....	Lexington, Virginia
January	18—North Carolina.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	9—University of Maryland.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	16—West Virginia.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	22—Davidson College.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	26—University of Virginia.....	Charlottesville, Virginia

SWIMMING

December	15—Catholic University.....	Lexington, Virginia
January	10—Randolph-Macon.....	Ashland, Virginia
January	12—University of Virginia.....	Lexington, Virginia
January	19—Virginia Polytechnic Institute.....	Blacksburg, Virginia
February	9—Davidson College.....	Lexington, Virginia
February	16—William and Mary.....	Lexington, Virginia

THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE

Appalachian—Allen Harris, '27, Box 300, Johnson City, Tennessee
Arkansas—John M. Raines, '16, 1600 Arch Street, Little Rock, Arkansas
Atlanta—Thomas E. Schneider, '24, Box 173, Station C
Baltimore—Frank C. Brooks, '46, 1206 West Lake Avenue
Birmingham—Clifford B. Beasley, Jr., '46, 2824 Overhill Road
Charleston, West Virginia—Ralph H. Smith, '39, Dominion Building
Chattanooga—Charles L. Claunch, '27, Chattanooga Bank Building
Chicago—W. H. Hillier, '38, 5521 Blackstone Avenue, Chicago 37, Illinois
Cincinnati—Robert B. Shreve, '40, 576 Howell Avenue
Charlotte—Wilton M. Garrison, '28, The Charlotte Observer
Cleveland—Dr. John Battle, Jr., '34, 3102 Cole-ridge Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio
Danville, Virginia—Neely Young, '43, 309 Dudley
Detroit—George Leyburn Hughes, '10, 1366 National Bank of Commerce Building
Florida West Coast—W. E. Tucker, '48, Tampa
Gulf Stream—L. L. Copley, '25, 1117-1118 Security Building, Miami, Florida
Houston—T. D. Anderson, '34, Union National Bank Building
Jacksonville—Rhydon Latham, '28, Florida National Bank Building
Louisville—A. P. Bondurant, '28, Glenmore Distilleries Company
Lynchburg—Hugh D. Ebert, '29, P.O. Box 893
Memphis—L. V. (Jimmie) Butler, '37, 4158 Tuckahoe Lane
New York—Rayford W. Alley, '10, 30 Broad Street
New Orleans—William B. Wisdom, '21, 715 American Bank Building
New River and Greenbrier—Harry E. Moran, '13, Beckley, West Virginia
Norfolk—Gilbert R. Swink, '35, National Bank of Commerce Building
Northwest Louisiana—E. A. Sartor, Jr., '38, Giddens-Lane Building
North Texas—Harry Rand, '27, Universal Mills, Fort Worth
Philadelphia—Allen Snyder, '39, 201 South Easton Road, Glenside, Pennsylvania
Piedmont—Dr. John Preston Davis, '30, Winston-Salem, North Carolina
Pittsburgh—Allen Harrelson, '35, 3955 Brandon Road
Richmond—Cassell Adamson, '37, 900 Travelers Building
Roanoke—Ed Ould, '29, First National Exchange Bank
San Antonio—Carl C. Wurzbach, '15, 505 Brady Building
St. Louis—John L. Patterson, '21, 304 Pierce Building
Tri-State—H. Preston Henshaw, '39, Hunting-ton, West Virginia
Upper Potomac—William L. Wilson, Jr., '38, 207 Washington Street, Cumberland, Md.
Washington, D. C.—Richard T. Wright, '42, 4607 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Waynesboro, Virginia—J. Fred Cook, '33

Published quarterly by

The Washington and Lee University Alumni, Incorporated
 Drawer 897, Lexington, Virginia

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Lexington, Virginia, September 15, 1924

Printed at the Journalism Laboratory Press
 of Washington and Lee University

Editor HARRY K. (CY) YOUNG, 1917

Vol. XXVII	DECEMBER, 1951	No. 1
------------	----------------	-------

THE WASHINGTON AND LEE ALUMNI, INC.

President KENNETH P. LANE, 1936

Vice-President GEORGE E. BURKS, 1927

Secretary HARRY K. (CY) YOUNG, 1917

Treasurer . . ARCHIBALD A. SPROUL, III, 1937

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

GEORGE E. BURKS, 1927

C. C. MOORE, 1913

KENNETH P. LANE, 1936

ARCHIBALD A. SPROUL, 1937

PAUL C. BUFORD, 1913

HUGH J. BONINO, 1936

EMMETT W. POINDEXTER, 1920

THE COVER

Hup, Two, Three, Four, at My Command—Under student-cadet leadership, B Company, ROTC, marches off to Wilson Field for Drill and Exercise of Command period. Commissioned and non-commissioned positions are rotary among the cadets to provide maximum display of potential leadership.

School Year Opens with 1044 Students

By J. W. BENJAMIN, JR., '54

Orientation in a cool spot

The 203rd opening of Washington and Lee University, in a year of war and world-wide tension, was singularly quiet and normal in tenor.

The opening week was sunny. Rush week and fraternities took precedent over the beginning of classes, on September 21. Freshmen were displaying "beanies," and carefully keeping to the sidewalks. By the following Monday college life was in full swing. Weekdays became quiet and studious. Week-ends became gay and wonderful.

The current world conditions, however, were not without their effect on the students. The faculty—and the students themselves—have noticed a new feeling of seriousness of purpose upon the campus. Contrary to the condition last February when each student felt the next week might be his last before entering the service, General Hershey's liberal draft deferment policy for college students has coupled with a settling of the emotions to produce a hard working student body.

Dean of Students Frank J. Giliam says he is "immensely heartened" by both the large enrollment and the attitude of this year's undergraduates. Last winter it was feared by University officials that the enrollment for this year would drop far below normal. But there are only twelve fewer freshmen on campus this session than last. The total enrollment, 1044, is only 103 beneath that of last year's, 1147. Enough students had a faith in the future and a determination to continue their education so that the number paying the advance registration fee for this session was only one less than the preceding year.

Included among the 1044 students present this year are men from thirty-four states, the District of Columbia, and nine territories and foreign countries. Virginia leads the list with 249 students present. New York has 90, West Virginia 77, Maryland 70, and Pennsylvania has 65 students on campus. Two students are from Maine and even far away California sent four students to Washington and Lee this year. Among the territories and foreign countries five students are from Hawaii, three from Mexico, two from England and Puerto Rico. Brazil, Denmark, France, Germany, and Venezuela, have one student each on campus. In addition there is one student attending the University whose parents recently fled from Czechoslovakia.

An important reason for the unexpected high enrollment this year

Spirited game of volleyball at Freshman Camp is the high average made by the students on the selective service board's tests recently given to aid in determining those eligible to continue their education before going into the service. Unofficial records show that only two Washington and Lee students failed to make the qualifying score. This is an average of only .2 per cent failing as compared to a national collegiate average of 37 per cent failures. University officials state they believe this is direct proof that high entrance requirements and the College Board examination prerequisite are paying off.

Three other reasons have been advanced for the large number of students present. The liberal policy followed by most of the country's boards in regard to college students has resulted in relatively little loss in the upper classes. As yet the induction age hasn't been lowered sufficiently to affect many students prior to their entering as freshmen. The establishment of the new ROTC unit (covered in another article in this issue) has encouraged many old students to return, and has given freshmen enrolled in the course a sense of

94 Sons of Alumni Currently Enrolled

There are 94 sons of alumni now enrolled as students in the University; 23 of whom are in their first year at Washington and Lee. The classes represented by alumni fathers cover a period from 1907 to 1931, the class of 1925, with 15 sons, leading.

Son	Father	Son	Father
Alexander, Thomas Williams.....	Marion B. Alexander, '21	McCain, David Warren.....	Charles Howard McCain, '20
Alford, John Joseph.....	J. Randolph Tucker Alford, '31	McClintock, Fletcher Talley.....	William E. McClintock, '18
Anderson, Willis Martin.....	Willis Carl Anderson, '22	McMurrin, Richard Epes.....	*Lewis Archer McMurrin, '07
Bagley, Thomas Owen.....	*Charles F. Bagley, '07	McMurray, Joseph Harlan.....	Rev. L. A. McMurray, D.D., '19
Barron, William Franklin, Jr.....	William Franklin Barron, '19	Mandak, Nicholas Gregory.....	Nicholas Mandak, '25
Bear, Fred Bowman.....	Fred Cramton Bear, '26	Manning, Preston Cocke, Jr.....	Preston Cocke Manning, '25
Bowes, Watson Allen, Jr.....	Watson Allen Bowes, '31	Matz, Edward Davis, Jr.....	Edward Davis Matz, '25
Brock, Paul Kruesi.....	William E. Brock, Jr., '25	May, Charles Scott.....	Guy Noel May, '26
Brock, William Emerson, III.....	William E. Brock, Jr., '25	Maynard, George Fleming, III.....	George F. Maynard, Jr., '27
Bucholtz, Sam, Jr.....	Sam Bucholtz, '25	Mohler, Alexander Byron, II.....	Byron C. Mohler, '25
Coles, Robert Charlton.....	Robert W. Coles, '28	Mohler, Michael Phillip.....	Byron C. Mohler, '25
Comegys, David Pierson, Jr.....	Dr. David P. Comegys, '28	Moore, Dan Breckinridge.....	James Edward Moore, '19
Davenport, Robert McGee.....	*Rudolph B. Davenport, '25	Moore, John Owens.....	*Dr. Marshall Abner Moore, '11
Davis, Thomas Dewey, Jr.....	Dr. T. Dewey Davis, '19	Moore, William Edward, Jr.....	William Edward Moore, '25
Davis, William Wootton, Jr.....	William Wootton Davis, '26	Murray, David Mott.....	Phillip W. Murray, '10
Dawson, John Hollyday, Jr.....	John Hollyday Dawson, '27	Oast, Edward Linscott, Jr.....	Edward Linscott Oast, '24
Dickey, Robert William, Jr.....	Robert W. Dickey, '10	Oast, James Alden, Jr.....	James Alden Oast, '16
Dunn, Evans, Jr.....	Evans Dunn, '15	Oast Townsend.....	William Henry Oast, '15
Ellis, Edward Evan.....	Thomas Jean Ellis, '23	Paxton, Robert Owen.....	Matthew W. Paxton, '18
Eristoff, George Andrew.....	Dimitri G. Sidamon-Eristoff, '25	Payne, Andrew Allemong, Jr.....	Andrew Allemong Payne, '26
Fellers, Stanord Lee, Jr.....	Stanford Lee Fellers, '13	Pearse, Frederic Montagu Penley, III.....	F. M. P. Pearse, Jr., '28
Ford, William Kent, Jr.....	W. Kent Ford, '22	Quillen, Stephen Marshall.....	Ira M. Quillen, '24
Forman, Benno Marcus.....	Isadore Forman, '12	Ranson, Leonard Buckland, Jr.....	Leonard B. Ranson, '12
Fozzard, Harry Allen.....	Harry B. Fozzard, '29	Riddick, Walter Garrett, Jr.....	Walter G. Riddick, '05
Frantz, James Spencer.....	Virgil Lanier Frantz, '28	Rigg, Kent.....	Benjamin Haines Rigg, '19
French, Wyatt, Jr.....	James Wyatt French, '24	Robbins, Philip.....	Augustus Robbins, Jr., '18
Garlington, Julius Peek, Jr.....	Julius Peek Garlington, '19	Rockwell, William James Kenneth.....	Paul A. Rockwell, '12
Garst, Jack.....	Arthur High Garst, '26	Rolston, Theron Rice, Jr.....	Dr. Theron R. Rolston, '22
Glickstein, Hugh Selwyn.....	Joseph M. Glickstein, '20	Rushton, Robert Woodrow.....	J. Frank Rushton, Jr., '23
Hall, William Guion, Jr.....	William Guion Hall, '25	St. John, Harold Duane, Jr.....	Harold Duane St. John, '25
Hansbarger, Echols Alcott, Jr.....	Echols Alcott Hansbarger, '20	Sherrill, Richard Hall.....	Frontis W. Sherrill, '28
Hansel, John Seybert, Jr.....	John Seybert Hansel, '17	Shipman, Franklin Leonard, Jr.....	Franklin L. Shipman, '30
Hendrix, George Tobias Whip, Jr.....	George T. W. Hendrix, '26	Shull, Owen Clay.....	Dr. Ernest Clay Shull, '17
Hill, Claude Renick, Jr.....	Claude Renick Hill, '17	Smith, Douglas McGruder.....	Herbert G. Smith, '17
Hines, William Edgar.....	Kenneth Hines, '22	Smith, Raymond Dupuy, Jr.....	Raymond Dupuy Smith, '22
Hinkle, James Lisle.....	Clarence E. Hinkle, '25	Smith, Walter Evans.....	Rhydon C. Latham, '28
Hopkins, Henry Lee.....	Abram H. Hopkins, '12	Spence, John Morland, 3rd.....	John Morland Spence, Jr., '28
Jackson, Farris.....	Thomas F. Jackson, '24	Stickler, John Glenwood.....	John O. Stickler, '27
Johnson, William Leslie, Jr.....	William Leslie Johnson, '26	Stump, James William.....	John Sutton Stump, Jr., '24
Jones, Henry Winkelman, Jr.....	Henry W. Jones, '24	Terry, James Victor.....	Dr. Giles Sydnor Terry, '19
Jones, Walk Claridge, III.....	Walk C. Jones, Jr., '26	Thomas, Robert Howe.....	James R. Thomas, '23
Kane, Robert Rhea, III.....	Robert R. Kane, '17	Weinberg, David Sherby.....	Manuel Morton Weinberg, '31
Kelly, Robert King.....	Robert G. Kelly, '21	Whitlock, William Allan.....	Perry Cecil Whitlock, '29
Lanier, Joseph Lamar, Jr.....	Joseph L. Lanier, '27	Whittle, Randolph Gordon, Jr.....	Randolph G. Whittle, '24
Laughlin, Samuel Ott, III.....	Samuel Ott Laughlin, Jr., '14	Williams, Donald Kingsley.....	John Leslie Williams, '17
McCain, Charles Howard, Jr.....	Charles Howard McCain, '20	Winborne, Thomas Packard.....	Roger M. Winborne, '11
		Wilson, George Simpson, II.....	George S. Wilson, Jr., '25
		Wood, William Jennings.....	James Arthur Wood, '24

*Deceased

security concerning their career.

The students themselves put forth the reasons for the new seriousness of purpose. Says one student, "You have an added incentive to work when you know that being in the upper half of your class may determine whether you can return to college next year or whether you go into the service."

Another states, "I fully intend to enter the service eventually. However, I'd like to finish college first. Just thinking about this gives you a feeling that you'd better grow up and get to work."

A third student says, "When you feel for awhile that you may not be able to finish college, you suddenly realise just how important an education really is."

The Korean war has not affected the age of the student body as yet. Only three Korean veterans are now on campus. But University officials feel that next year, or the year to follow, may bring a small influx of veterans to the school.

"Our experience with the veterans during the years 1945-1950," says Dean Gilliam, "indicates that the new veterans will be a welcome addition to our campus. For the most part they are mature, serious students, with a constructive and sobering influence upon the student body."

But even the new "seriousness of purpose," the war tension, or an unpredictable future, hasn't changed the Washington and Lee campus life. Students spend the days and nights engaging in activities and feverishly "boning" for the next test, the one which is always around the corner no matter what the day. The weekends find the "Minks" with the largest collection of beautiful women to be found on any campus.

The 1951-1952 session of Washington and Lee is off to a good start, and concerning the new school year Dean Gilliam says, "Barring all-out war, we are headed for a good year of productive work, with a student body of remarkably fine spirit."

Students Bob Crocker and Frank Callaham admire the Mace held by marshal of the University, Charles P. Light

MACE: A Symbol of Authority

A mace is a staff traditionally used as a symbol of authority. The British houses of parliament, certain municipalities and corporations, and distinguished universities have long used the mace. It is carried in procession before the officials and then placed in rest to denote the fact that (in this instance) the official University is in session.

The Washington and Lee mace was created in 1951. The carving is the work of Miss Mary Barclay, of Lexington, widely known for her distinguished sculpture in wood. She and her family have for many years been connected with this university. The mace was designed by Professor Marion Junkin, '27, head of the department of Fine Arts.

The wood from which the mace is carved is walnut. It was originally a beam in the old Lexington town fire house (once the home of Matthew White, Washington College, 1885). The wood is about 150 years old.

The beam was first turned at the Virginia Craft House at Harrisonburg, of which Carlyle Lynch, '32, is director, and then the staff and head were separately carved. The length of the mace is four feet. Its head, one foot long, is cut in the shape of an urn and is nine inches across at its widest point.

On each side of the head the Washington and Lee coat of arms is carved, with its scroll and motto, non incautus futuri, which is translated, "Not unmindful of the future," under the coat of arms. On top of the mace are a crown and a bird, both parts of the University crest.

The painting of the mace was done by Professor Junkin: the crown, bird and scroll in gold leaf, and the coat of arms in silver, blue, and red. The remainder of the mace is waxed and highly polished.

Professor Charles P. Light, marshal of the University, carries the mace before the officials and faculty members when in procession.

They're in the Army Now

Alumni returning to the Washington and Lee campus this year will be amazed. Dotting the traditionally civilian University grounds will be students in army uniform. If the alumnus looks at the athletic field he will be apt to see squads of students performing close-order drill, and if he visits the school on the right afternoon he will see a full-fledged Washington and Lee Corps parade. On Saturday nights he will hear students singing Sound off and You're In the Army Now.

For the first time in 202 years Washington and Lee has an efficient complete four year course in ROTC, the Army's Reserve Officer's Training Corps.

Actually it isn't the first time the Army has invaded Washington and Lee. The school had an ROTC unit during the 1917-1918 session. This was dropped the following year and The Student's Army Training Corps came into being. This also lasted only one year. With the ending of World War I and the return to normalcy, Washington and Lee decided it simply wasn't a military minded institution.

But last year, due to the existing world tension, it was thought advisable by the University officials to attempt to bring the ROTC course to Washington and Lee. An application was presented to the War Department, and approved. This year the unit is in full operation with an allowance of government training aids and a cadre of regular Army officers and enlisted men assigned to supervise the training.

Lt. Colonel Richard W. Jones, a graduate of St. John's College of Brooklyn, is Professor of Military Science and Tactics. He received his commission in 1926 and served in the Southwest Pacific during World War II. Lt. Colonel John G. Bowes and Captain George L. Brashears assist Colonel Jones. Four Sergeants have been detailed by the Army to do the administrative work and serve as assistant instructors.

By J. W. BENJAMIN, JR., '54

In keeping with current practices at the Army's own Service Schools, the ROTC makes maximum utilization of graphic training aids, all manner of charts and demonstration equipment, and visual education methods.

The unit here is equipped with an auditorium type 16mm motion picture projector, a large Bal-Optican slide and opaque projector, a Vu-Graph for visual slides, and a powerful 2x2 slide projector for film-strip projection.

Training films and film-strips from the Army's extensive library at Fort Meade covering a host of general military subjects are drawn as required for the individual instruction. Visual-cast slides, dealing with the technical subjects of the course, are sometimes prepared by the Unit's instructors here but most of them are furnished directly by the Transportation School at Fort Eustis, Virginia.

Outdoor assistance is rendered the drillmaster by a complete two-speaker public address system, equipped with turntable for march music when the ROTC band is not itself practicing or drilling on the field. Through the cooperation of the PMS&T, this set has been extensively used by the University, at Freshman Camp and at home football games. The projectors, set up in the Reid Hall ROTC classroom where a large screen has been installed, are likewise available for other departments' use and have been used by them on a number of occasions.

At the present there are 263 first year basic and 25 second year basic students. There are 25 students in the first year advanced course. Advanced students receive credit for prior work in military schools and high school ROTC units.

The Transportation Corps was selected as Washington and Lee's branch of service for three primary reasons. The small student body, the relatively small amount of equipment and ground necessary for training, and Washington and Lee's proven reputation as a producer of graduates skilled in administrative business planning and leadership.

A LESSON IN CARGO HANDLING—ROTC cadets "learn the ropes" on Transportation Corps model landship.

The first two years, the basic course, provide indoctrination in military subjects common to all branches of service. They include: an introduction to Military Science, organization, military policy, evolution of warfare, personnel management, military psychology, and other related subjects. The second year of the basic course includes an introduction into logistics. A third of the training time is devoted to the development of leadership through drill and the exercise of command.

The third and fourth years delve into military transportation techniques in all phases; railway, highway port, and over-sea supply. Between the third and fourth years, students attend a six weeks summer encampment at the Army's Transportation center, Fort Eustis, Virginia.

Academic credit is given at the rate of two hours per year for the basic course, and four hours per year for the advanced course. Advanced students receive monetary allowance of $.90 per day, approximately $27 per month. All uniforms, books, and training materials are furnished by the Army.

Students are required to wear uniform only when attending military classes or in actual training. All military standards of discipline and courtesy are observed during these periods.

The Washington and Lee Battalion is organized into three companies, a marching band, and a headquarters detachment. Advanced students are alternating in the responsible positions, which range from corporal up to lieutenant colonel, the battalion commander.

Training includes two full-dress parades monthly, and also range firing. The ROTC Department is now in the process of obtaining and developing range facilities.

Many activities in connection with the military program are either now underway or planned for the future. Most important is an ROTC marching band which has been organized from the student body under the direction of Colonel Bowes. Dave Comegy is the student director. A full complement of instruments has been obtained from the Army.

It is hoped that the school will have a rifle team and a schedule is now being tentatively arranged with other ROTC schools.

Two military honor organizations will be formed during the year; Scabbard and Blade, and the Washington and Lee Order of Military Merit. A student chapter of the world-wide organization, National Defense Transportation Association, is being organized.

One of the most interesting activities to emerge from the new military set-up is a model railroad club, The Generals' Short Line Railroad. Complete equipment for the building of a large scale-model railway has been received by the military department from the Army, and the construction work is now in process. These activities will be covered in a future issue of this magazine.

Students enrolled in the ROTC under the presidentially determined quota are deferred from the draft until the completion of their college work, provided they are in good standing both in ROTC and academic work. When a student registers for the ROTC he must first agree to accept a commission in the Army, if offered, upon graduation from college, and thereafter to perform twenty-four months military service as a commissioned officer.

Colonel Jones, the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, says he finds Washington and Lee an ideal environment for a technical branch training center. No Virginia Military Institute facilities are used although Washington and Lee maintains an excellent liaison with the VMI ROTC staff.

"We take our work seriously," says Colonel Jones, "Young Americans selected for commissions must have the integrity to lead troops in ground combat. Among the fundamentals of leadership we are attempting to develop here are those of character, initiative, intelligence, and energetic alertness. At Washington and Lee we have found some exceptionally fine material in which to further develop these traits."

"Among the students now in my classes," Colonel Jones continues, "may easily be found some who will eventually serve under me, or even lead my son into battle. With that in mind we cannot afford to be lax. I take my job, and my responsibility, seriously."

Dean of Students Frank J. Gilliam says, "I am amazed at the simplicity and efficiency of the ROTC program. It has fitted into our schedule without a hitch."

And actually, returning alumni will hardly be aware that they are walking among hundreds of future United States Army Officers. The alumnus may be aware that there is a new feeling of seriousness of purpose among the students. But Washington and Lee University, for all intents and purposes, is still a civilian institution.

Dr. L. L. Barrett Translates Novel

DR. L. L. BARRETT, Professor of Romance Languages at Washington and Lee, translated from the Portuguese Erico Verissimo's "Time and the Wind" which was published by the Macmillan Company, New York, late in the summer.

Dr. Barrett has begun a two-year assignment with the Department of State as Public Affairs Officer to the Embassy in Quito, Ecuador, where he is in charge of the United States Information and Educational Exchange (USIE) work for that country. In September, 1953, Dr. Barrett will resume his post at Washington and Lee, which has granted him his present extended leave of absence.

Nation's Radio Executives on Campus

Leaders of the nation's radio and television industry gathered at Washington and Lee University November 12 to mark the dedication of the Alfred I. duPont Foundation awards to purposes of education.

Highlighting the ceremony, which was attended by heads of the four major networks and important communications figures, was the transfer of administration of the duPont awards to Washington and Lee University. In addition, three annual scholarships in the field of communications were created.

O. W. Riegel, director of the Lee Memorial Journalism Foundation at Washington and Lee, was named Curator of the awards, which have been granted for distinguished public service in radio and television since 1942.

Among the visitors were Mrs. Jessie Ball duPont, widow of the famed scientist and founder of the awards, and representatives of the broadcasting industry who were: Wayne Coy, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission; Joseph H. McConnell, president of the National Broadcasting Company; Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting Company, and Frank White, president of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Dr. Francis P. Gaines, president of Washington and Lee University, accepted responsibility for administration of the annual awards on behalf of the University, long a leader in journalistic and communications education.

Washington and Lee was the first institution in the world to offer journalistic instruction at the college level, during the presidency of General Robert E. Lee. It was chosen to supervise the administration of the duPont awards, according to the Alfred I. duPont

Foundation, because of its "traditionally sound and universally recognized principles of education."

Under the new scholarship plan, winning radio and television stations and commentators may use the award of $1000 to establish scholarships or fellowships in communications. The award winners may select the student and the university, subject only to certain eligibility requirements and a review by the advisory institution. In some instances, the scholarship's value can be increased to cover all educational expenses from one to four years.

Other important figures in the radio and television field who attended the dedication were:

Mr. Morgan Beatty, Commentator National Broadcasting Company, Washington, D.C.;

Mr. Charles P. Blackley, President, Virginia Association of

Left to right, are O. W. Riegel, newly-appointed Curator of the duPont Awards Foundation; Frank White, president of the Mutual Broadcasting Company; Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting Company; Wayne Coy, Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission; Mrs. Jessie Ball duPont, founder of the duPont Awards; Dr. Francis P. Gaines, chairman of the duPont Awards committee; Joseph H. McConnell, president of National Broadcasting Company; Chris Witting, director of DuMont Television Network; and John Pacey, director of Public Affairs, American Broadcasting Company.

Broadcasters, Staunton, Virginia;

Mr. James E. Edwards, President, WLS, Chicago, Illinois;

Mr. Junius P. Fishburn, Times-World Corporation, Roanoke, Virginia;

Mr. Carter Glass, Jr., Publisher, The Lynchburg Newspapers, Lynchburg, Virginia;

Mr. Ben Gross, Radio Editor, The Daily News, New York, New York;

Mrs. Paul Hartz, President Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, Waverly, Virginia;

Mr. Henry P. Johnston, '29, Executive Vice-President, WSGN, Birmingham, Alabama;

Mr. Victor W. Knauth, President, WAVZ, New Haven, Connecticut;

Mr. Gilmore Nunn, '31, President, The Nunn Stations, Lexington, Kentucky;

Mr. John Pacey, Director of Public Affairs, American Broadcasting Company, New York, New York;

Mr. John Scheuer, Operations Assistant to the General Manager, WFIL, Philadelphia, Pa.;

Mr. William J. Scripps, President, WWJ, Detroit, Michigan;

Mr. Sol Taishoff, Editor and Publisher, Broadcasting Magazine, Washington, D.C.;

Mr. Chris J. Witting, Director, DuMont Television Network, New York, New York.

Four New Faculty Members on Staff

Four new faculty members are on the Washington and Lee staff this year, replacing members who left last June.

Dr. Milton Colvin has replaced Professor George Wolbert on the law faculty. Professor Wolbert is on leave of absence in the Army. Dr. Colvin holds the Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Virginia, and the LL.B. and J.S.D. degrees from Yale University. He has been on the law faculty at the University of Arizona, the Fanning M. Hearon, '27, gives "Danny Boy" an affectionate hug.

Commander Hearon in Korea, Heads Naval Camera Group

Commander Fanning M. Hearon is back on active duty in the Navy as Officer-in-Charge of the Combat Camera Group of the Pacific Fleet. This picture of Hearon and "Danny Boy," a South Korean boy adopted by the Marine Corps, was taken at the Korean air station headquarters of the First Marine Air Wing.

It is Hearon's job to direct the activities of the several units of the Combat Camera Group in making of motion and still pictures of the Navy's combat action and operations. The Group has been in the Korean zone since the beginning of hostilities.

Operating bases are maintained in Korea, Tokyo, the Philippines, Guam, Pearl Harbor and San Diego. The material photographed by the Group is used in newsreels, documentary motion pictures, on television, and in magazines and newspapers.

Commander Hearon volunteered for active duty when the Korean war began in June 1950. At the time he was living on his "Running Ridge Ranch" at Ojai, California. After being released to inactive duty after the last war, Hearon was with RKO Pathe in New York. His last assignment during his last tour of duty was as liaison officer on the Bikini tests.

University of Montana, Tulane University, and the Catholic University. Before coming to Lexington Dr. Colvin was a member of the President's Loyalty Board for Public Housing in Richmond.

Albert B. Schultz, Jr., who has been appointed assistant professor of Spanish, will replace two W. and L. Spanish teachers who did not return this fall. Mr. Schultz, who holds A.B. and M.A. degrees from Princeton University, has replaced Dr. L. L. Barrett who is on leave of absence to serve as cultural attache with the American Embassy in Quito, Ecuador, and Instructor Richard W. Gray, who has returned to the Army. Mr. Schultz has been studying and traveling in Spain for the last two years.

A newcomer in the English department is Dr. Marvin B. Perry. Dr. Perry, a native of Powhatan, Virginia, holds an A.B. degree from the University of Virginia and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard. Since 1947 Dr. Perry has been instructing at the University of Virginia.

Jan Owen, who served as minister to students at the Lexington Presbyterian Church last year, has replaced Dr. Charles Guthrie as Director of Religious Work. Before coming to Lexington, Mr. Owen was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Coleman, Texas. He has worked with students at the University of Texas, and in Houston. A graduate of the University of Texas with an A.B. degree, Mr. Owen is continuing his student work at the Presbyterian Church, and is also serving as minister of the Poplar Hill Presbyterian Church, three miles east of Lexington.

Dr. Francis P. Gaines resumed his duties as President of Washington and Lee the first week in October. Since April 9, Dr. Gaines had been on a six months leave of absence granted by the University Board of Trustees.

Dr. Cluxton Explores Uses of ACTH

All Dr. Harley E. Cluxton, Jr., A.B., '37, has to do these days is to organize the world's intense effort to learn to use one of its newest and most powerful weapons.

It is not the atomic or hydrogen bomb, or a rocket, or a jet fighter—not a weapon of death at all, in fact, but the latest medicine's hormone, known in headline shorthand as ACTH.

In its impact on medicine, ACTH is in the same category with such epochmaking discoveries as anesthesia and asepsis, which opened the field to modern surgery and the sulfa drugs and antibiotics, which gave us control of infectious disease.

ACTH has been much publicized for its power to relieve chronic diseases such as arthritis and rheumatic fever, psoriasis, lupus erythematosus, and other conditions as ugly as their names. For many of them medicine has hitherto had no really effective weapon.

But ACTH is much more than that. It is the first clue, in many medical minds, to the basic mechanism which determines whether we are to be sick or well, and, if sick, what form the disease will take and why. In actual use, it seems to drop a sort of "chemical curtain" between the cells and organs of the body and any sort of injury, whether a blow or a burn, or a bacterium, or a metallic poison, or snake venom.

It does not kill the germ or cure the disease as the antibiotic does; instead it protects the cells from the consequences, the inflammation and the pain, which are the symptoms. It is regarded to exercise tremendous influences on the whole course of medical education and the practice of medicine; but that will not happen until medical men have ferretted out its peculiarities and learned how and when and in what dosage to use it. And that brings us to Harley Cluxton, the 35-year-old director of medical research for Armour Laboratories in Chicago.

Dr. Cluxton received his A.B. degree from Washington and Lee University in 1937, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He received his M.D. degree from the Johns Hopkins Medical School in 1941. He did special work in pathology at Vanderbilt University Medical School in 1939, and also special work in internal medicine at Harvard Medical School in 1940. He interned at the Baltimore City Hospitals. Following the completion of his internship, he entered the Mayo Clinic as a fellow in internal medicine in 1942, and remained there until 1944 at which time he entered the armed services.

Following the completion of his Medical Field Service course at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, he was stationed at the Army and Navy General Hospital, Hot Springs, Arkansas, where for one year he was in the rheumatic disease section and was for two years chief of the general medical section. Major Cluxton received the Unit Citation award and also the Army Commendation Ribbon for meritorious service. After completing his tour of duty in the army, in July, 1947, he went back to the Mayo Clinic where he was awarded the Master of Science degree in medicine, by the University of Minnesota and the Mayo Clinic, in 1949.

Dr. Harley E. Cluxton, Jr., '37

Dr. Cluxton remained at the Mayo Clinic until February, 1949, at which time he opened his office for the practice of internal medicine in Savannah, Georgia, and practiced until October, 1950, at which time he assumed the position of Director of Medical Research for the Armour Laboratories, Chicago, Illinois.

Dr. Cluxton is a member of the following professional organizations: The American Medical Association; The Association for the Study of Internal Secretions; The American Diabetes Association; The American Rheumatism Association; The New York Academy of Sciences; Diplomat of the American Board of Internal Medicine. He has recently returned from Europe where he attended and lectured at Paris, France, Geneva, Switzerland, and attended and lectured at the Second International European Congress on Rheumatism at Barcelona, Spain.

He was married to Miss Elizabeth Parsons King in 1940 and they have two children; Betsy, 8, and Harley, III, 5. Home address: 701 Center Avenue, Lake Bluff, Illinois.

Trustees Meet

The University Board of Trustees held its fall meeting on the campus on October 12, with the following members present: Herbert Fitzpatrick, Clarence A. Avery, W. Lapsley Carson, James R. Caskie, Christopher T. Chenery, Homer A. Holt, Dr. Morrison Hutcheson, John N. Thomas and Randolph Tucker.

The Board granted a cost-of-living salary increase of $300 to all full-time faculty members and salary increases of varying amounts to members of the administrative and maintenance staffs. All increases effective as of November 1.

The trustees said several factors made the modest salary increases possible. First, the unexpected normal enrollment this fall, and second, a substantial gift to the university last spring by Mrs. Jessie Ball duPont, long a benefactress of the school.

Dr. Gaines cited three reasons for Washington and Lee's good enrollment picture. Students made an exceptional showing in the national draft board tests given last spring. In addition, improvement in world conditions and the establishment of an Army ROTC unit on the campus had beneficial results.

Mr. Christopher T. Chenery, '09, invited the Board and the Washington and Lee faculty to be his guests at a reception and dinner on January 18, the date of the next regular meeting of the Board.

Robert Spahr Receives Award

Robert Hoover Spahr, B.S. '09, received the James H. McGraw Award in Technical Education from the Technical Institute Division of the American Society for Engineering Education in June 1951. The award was inaugurated only a year ago, and this is the second time it has been presented. The presentation read as follows:

"To Robert Hoover Spahr for his outstanding contributions to technical institute education; for the stimulus which was provided by his authorship of the technical institute section of the Report of the Investigation of Engineering Education, completed in 1929 under the direction of the late William E. Wickenden; for the enviable example of sound curriculum development and instructional supervision which has characterized the General Motors Institute for more than twenty years under his good-natured and effective leadership; for his stimulating participation in a wide variety of technical education activities of both a national and international significance."

Robert Hoover Spahr, '09

Mr. Spahr, who retired in 1950 as Administrative Chairman of Co-operative Engineering and Dealer Cooperative Programs at General Motors Institute, received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Washington and Lee University in 1909 and his Master of Science from the University of Kentucky in 1912. He did further graduate work at the University of Kentucky and at the University of Chicago.

From 1929 until he retired in 1950, Mr. Spahr was a member of the administrative staff of General Motors Institute. Since his retirement he has been living in Smithsburg, Maryland.

With the Local Chapters

NEW RIVER AND GREENBRIER

Some 50 alumni from Fayette, Raleigh and Summers counties met at the beautiful new White Oak Country Club at Oak Hill, West Virginia, on August 14 for the annual meeting of the New River and Greenbrier chapter. An afternoon of golf was enjoyed, followed by a social hour, followed by a delicious steak dinner at the Club house. Harry Moran, president of the chapter, presided. Representatives from the University were coaches George Barclay, Carl Wise, Russ Crane and Cy Young, Alumni Secretary.

* * *

UPPER POTOMAC

The Upper Potomac Chapter of the Washington and Lee Alumni Association held its annual fall luncheon meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, near Cumberland, Maryland, on Saturday, September 15, with 10 members present.

The President of the chapter, J. Goodloe Jackson, presided and gave the members a full report of the football committee and the Secretary, Billy Wilson, gave an account of the athletic fund. The President also made the necessary arrangements for tickets for the various games during the season.

* * *

APPALACHIAN

The Appalachian Alumni Chapter held its annual meeting on August 18 at Hemlock Haven, near Hungry Mother Park, Smyth County, Virginia.

Prior to the meeting the alumni, their wives and guests of the chapter, were entertained by President Marion S. Sanders and Mrs. Sanders at their beautiful new lodge, "Tree Top House," adjacent to the Park and Hemlock Haven, where the dinner was held. Approximately 70 alumni and their wives from the area were present for the meeting. President Sanders presided at the dinner. Representatives from the University were head football coach George Barclay, who made the principal talk of the evening, assistant coaches Carl Wise and Russ Crane, and Cy Young, Alumni Secretary.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Allen Harris, Jr., '27, of Johnson City, Tennessee, president; Lt. Gov. L. Preston Collins, '20, of Marion, alumni representative; Edwin G. Shaffer, '48, of Wytheville, Charles S. Wassum, Jr., '36, of Marion, Horace F. Sutherland, '50, of Galax, Fred C. Parks, '21, of Abingdon, Dick Rouse, '30, of Bristol and Carl B. Knight, '26, of Big Stone Gap, vice-presidents; James R. Lyle, '48, of Kingsport, Tennessee, secretary-treasurer.

During the afternoon there was golf at Holston Hills Country Club in Marion or bathing and boating at Hungry Mother Park. The entire group was invited to the country club by J. Warren Wright, '36, president of the club, for dancing following the dinner meeting.

* * *

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

On Wednesday evening, September 26, the Richmond Washington and Lee Alumni Chapter held its fall meeting at the William Byrd Hotel. The first order of business was election of officers and the names submitted by the nominating committee were elected by unanimous vote; officers for the coming year are as follows: President, V. Cassell Adamson, '37; Vice-President, Adrian L. Bendheim, Jr., '42; Secretary, Edward S. Boze, Jr., '36; and Treasurer, Paul M. Shuford, '43.

Plans were made to hold again a reception after the University of Richmond - W. and L. game on Thanksgiving Day. This reception was one of the high-lights of our program last fall.

Our old friend and honored guest, Cy Young, gave a highly interesting report on the state of the University upon the opening of the 1951-52 year. Acting upon Cy's suggestion the Chapter made plans to inaugurate a policy of visiting the senior classes of our local high schools and prep schools to make available to prospective students information concerning the University. The older members of the Chapter were particularly pleased by the fine showing of our more recent alumni.

* * *

ROANOKE, VIRGINIA

The Roanoke, Virginia, chapter met for dinner at the Shenandoah club on Tuesday, October 23, with 75 alumni present. Almand Coleman, '26, of the Commerce faculty and Cy Young, alumni secretary, represented the University and brought those present up to date on campus affairs.

Before the showing of football film of Washington and Lee's victory over Furman, there was a short business meeting, with Cliff Woodrum, '33, president of the chapter, presiding, and the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year; Ed Ould, '29, President; Barton Morris, '19, Vice-president; William B. Hopkins, '42, Secretary-Treasurer.

* * *

LOUISVILLE

For the second year the Louisville Chapter was host to over 300 alumni and friends on the occasion of the Washington and Lee-University of Louisville football game. The famed Pendennis Club was the scene of the pre-game brunch on Saturday, November 17, which brought together alumni from Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, Indiana, Ohio, Alabama, and Mississippi.

Ed Rietze, '25, was chairman of the Committee on Arrangements. The Pendennis ballroom was beautifully and gaily decorated for this Washington and Lee party in the traditional blue and white colors. Attractive door prizes were awarded through the generosity of local alumni and merchants. "Bucky" Stoops, '38, won the "coming-from-greatest-distance" prize. His home: Kansas City, Missouri.

In the absence of President A. P. Bondurant, '28, R. P. Hobson, '14, presided. At a short business meeting a resolution was passed recommending to the University that Coach George Barclay be given a 10-year contract. Elbridge G. Barker, '26, was elected president for the coming year. Cy Young brought a brief message from the University.

* * *

KNOXVILLE

Some 175 alumni, wives and friends met at the Cherokee Country Club for a breakfast-lunch on November 10, before attending the Washington and Lee-Tennessee football game in the afternoon. In addition to local alumni there were many out-of-state visitors from Kentucky, South Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama. The gathering was informal and was much enjoyed by those present. Arrangements for the party were made by Ted Shultz, '16, Bill Dyer, '35, John Green, '24, and John Sorrells, Jr., '45.

* * *

CLEVELAND

The Cleveland Washington and Lee alumni chapter held its annual football-dinner meeting on Sunday afternoon and evening, October 28, with some 60 alumni and wives present from the Northern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania area. Outside the Greater Cleveland area cities represented were Massillon, Wooster, Toledo, Kent and Warren, Ohio; Erie, Pennsylvania, and Detroit, Michigan. The group attended the professional football game between the Cleveland Browns and the New York Giants at the Cleveland Municipal Stadium as guests of the Chapter, and later met at the Empire Room of the Hotel Cleveland for a social hour, cocktails and dinner. Cy Young, Alumni Secretary, represented the University, and Dr. John D. Battle, Jr., '34, president of the chapter, presided.

The Northern Ohio Alumni Chapter requests that all alumni in this area whose names may not be on its mailing list, write Clinton Van Vliet, 1500 B. F. Keith Building, Cleveland, Ohio, Secretary of the Chapter, giving name, address, class, telephone number and business address.

It was brought to the attention of the group that there are now fifteen students from Greater Cleveland enrolled at the University, and the Chapter expects to entertain the present undergraduates at a luncheon during the Christmas vacation.

Southworth Has All-A Record

RICHARD P. SOUTHWORTH, B.A., '39, LL.B. '41, now training administrator of the Chicago Tile and Trust Company, was a top scholar in the University of Chicago's Executive Program. He scored an all-A record to receive his master of business administration degree in the university's two hundred and forty-seventh convocation on August 31. One of 47 Chicago business men and women who earned MBA's while holding executive positions, Southworth was third executive to complete the two-year program with a perfect score. Two all-A records were achieved in the first class in 1943. The University of Chicago Executive Program, now in its ninth year, is represented by a middle-management group of executives from many of Chicago's leading industries. An evening program, the Executive Program meets twice weekly for three hours. He is pictured receiving congratulations from Chancellor Lawrence A. Kimpton and his two runners-up for scholastic honors.

Richard P. Southworth, B.S., '39, LL.B. '41 (second from left).

Soccer Team Has Good 1951 Record

The Washington and Lee soccer team, under coach Wilson Fewster, had a winning season this fall, although the record wasn't up to pre-season expectations. The Generals won 4, lost 3, and tied 1.

The team opened with an easy 10-1 victory over Roanoke College. Captain Gil Gillespie led the attack.

The Southern Conference championship Maryland team handed the Big Blue a heartbreaking 2-1 loss. Carl Rumpp, W. and L. goalie, played a brilliant game. Dietrich scored the W. and L. goal in the fourth quarter.

North Carolina's South American dominated squad held the Generals to a 1-1 tie. After two overtime periods were played without breaking the deadlock, both teams agreed to let the score stand. Len Hough scored the W. and L. goal.

Roanoke College was smashed for the second time 5-1. Three freshmen, Dick Johnson, Lucky Denué, and Eddie Cohen, stood out for the Generals.

Playing in the rain on a sloppy field the Big Blue lost an overtime struggle with the University of North Carolina, 4-5.

Duke University proved to be the best competition of the year as they smeared W. and L. 5-0.

Alumni Korean Casualties

First Lieutenant JOHN DASHIELL ROUSE was killed in action in Korea on September 2, 1951, Lieutenant Rouse was leading a mortar company in combat along the

John Dashiell Rouse, '49

United Nations front as a part of the Seventh Division. A reserve officer, he had been recalled to active duty in December, 1950, and had been in Korea since February of this year.

Lieutenant Rouse had served throughout World War II, during most of which he was on duty in Duke scored early in the first period, was never in trouble. The magnificent saves of goalie Carl Rumpp kept the score from climbing higher.

The Generals ended the season in a perfect way as they defeated the University of Virginia 4-1. Horace Dietrich, playing his last collegiate game, scored twice to lead the attack.

Dietrich led the scoring for the year with six goals, Gillespie followed with five. Hough and Rumpp were elected co-captains for next season.

Newfoundland as an infantry officer. Between World War II and his recall to service he was an officer of the Bank of Warwick, at Hilton Village, Virginia.

After graduation from the Newport News schools he came to Washington and Lee, graduating in 1949 with the B.S. degree in business administration. He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, social fraternity, and of other collegiate and civic organizations.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Anne Colonna, of Newport News; a son, John Dashiell Rouse, Jr. his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parke Rouse of Newport News, and three brothers, all alumni of Washington and Lee, Parke Rouse, Jr., '37, Randolph Rouse, '39, and William Rouse, '50.

* * *

Wounded in Action

Lieutenant EDWIN GAINES, '50, USMC, at last reports, had almost completely recovered from a thigh wound received in hilltop fighting in Korea on September 14, and expected to be back with his old outfit within a short time. Lieutenant Gaines is the son of President and Mrs. Francis P. Gaines.

* * *

Lieutenant WILLIS A. WOODS was slightly wounded in action in Korea on October 9, and removed to a base hospital. He would have been a member of the '51 graduating class, but was called back to active service in January and left for Japan soon after. He was captain of the '49 baseball team and a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

* * *

Lieutenant NATE L. ADAMS, '48, 2nd USMC, is now in this country after serving in Korea for more than a year. Injured in April, he has received the Purple Heart and the Letter of Commendation medal.

A VICTORY SMILE—Coach Barclay greets Virginia Coach Art Guepe (not shown in picture) after the Generals 42-14 win.

The 1951 Edition of the Generals

The 1951 edition of the Washington and Lee Generals didn't fare as well in the won-lost column as last year's Southern Conference champions, but they made history. For the first time in the annals of Washington and Lee football the Big Blue defeated all three of their big rivals in one year. Virginia was upset 42-14, West Virginia was vanquished 34-0, and VPI was trampled 60-0. In each case it was the largest score rolled up by the Generals in the history of the rivalry.

Led by Coach George Barclay, All-Southern Conference quarterback Gil Bocetti, and end Bob Thomas, the Generals played what was possibly the roughest schedule in the school's history. They were swift lightning on offense, one of the nation's leaders in pass defense, but weak on stopping ground attacks. Taking all things into consideration local fans consider this year's eleven one of the best the University has produced, and the season one of the most successful.

* * *

FURMAN

The Generals opened the '51 season with a convincing 25-7 victory over the Purple Hurricane of Furman. Quarterback Gil Bocetti, completing eight of his last ten passes, accounted for two of the Generals' touchdowns by heaves to ends Dave Hedge and Talbot Trammell. Wes Abrams and Jack Garst accounted for the other two touchdowns with short runs. Thomas kicked the extra point.

Furman scored in the third quarter when Pedrick plunged from the four after a sustained drive.

* * *

MARYLAND

The University of Maryland jumped to a quick 14-0 lead in the opening minutes of the game, and went on from there to humble the Generals 54-14. Broyles dropped a punt with only two minutes of the game gone, and Pete Ladygo, Terp guard, fell on the ball across the goal for the first score. Six minutes later a 14-yard pass from Decker to Lindsey gave the Terps a two-touchdown lead.

Fullerton scored on a pitchout early in the second quarter, and Modzelewski bucked over from the one shortly before the half ended. The hapless Generals, who had an acute case of fumbleitis throughout the game, managed to capitalize on a Terp fumble midway in the third quarter, tackle Rollo Thompson recovering. Gil Bocetti, out with a bruised knee, made one of four appearances during the afternoon to crash over from the two. Jay Handlan converted. Maryland led at the half 27-7.

Early in the second half an interference penalty on an intercepted pass gave the ball to Maryland on the Washington and Lee 11. Modzelewski ran it over. Following this the Big Blue opened up like a sieve and the Terps poured through three more scores. Ray Leister tossed to Bob Thomas on a 70-yard pass play for the other Washington and Lee score. Behind their 205-pound line the Maryland backs rolled up a total gain of 362 yards rushing, to the Generals' 27. Bocetti and Waters were sidelined because of injuries.

* * *

WEST VIRGINIA

Bouncing back from the Maryland landslide, the Generals beat the West Virginia Mountaineers 34-0. Halfback Jack Garst climaxed a 99-yard drive in the first quarter by receiving a 21-yard pass from Bocetti for the first score. Ray Leister's 17-yard run and 40-yard pass to Tal Trammell, set up the scoring play.

Broyles scored twice in the second quarter on runs of one and 49 yards. A 31-yard Bocetti to Thomas pass set up the first of these. Just before the half Trammell snared a 47-yard pass from Bocetti and drove to the one foot line. Bocetti bucked over for a score.

Following a Trammell interception in the fourth quarter, Bocetti pitched 35 yards to end Bob Thomas for the final W. and L. score. Jay Handlan converted four times.

The Mountaineers threatened only once, in the fourth quarter. Sweeny returned a kickoff 53 yards and broke away on the next play for 11 more, placing the ball on the Generals' 34. But these gains were nullified by an intercepted pass.

The Generals completed 10 of 16 passes, and picked up 143 yards with their running attack. The return to action of both Bocetti and Waters aided the Washington and Lee cause considerably.

* * *

VIRGINIA

After thirteen long years the Big Blue finally had its feast as the underdog Generals gobbled up the University of Virginia 42-14.

Playing almost perfection football, the Washington and Lee machine hit paydirt six times. A short punt by Virginia's Hal Hoak went out of bounds on their own 28 early in the first quarter. Broyles broke loose to the nine and Bocetti passed to Thomas for the score.

Virginia bounced back immediately. Jimmy Ashwell grabbed the kickoff following the Generals' score, and dashed 95 yards to tie up the game. But this was the Generals' day. Runs by Garst, Broyles, and Bolt set up the next touchdown, and with four minutes left in the quarter Bocetti passed to Thomas on a 38-yard scoring play.

Early in the second quarter Thomas took a deceptive hand-off from Bocetti to score from eight yards out. With only seconds left in the half Broyles broke into the clear for a 77-yard touchdown gallop. Washington and Lee led at the half, 28-7.

Virginia rallied momentarily in the third quarter when Bob Pate raced 48 yards to score. But the fourth quarter found the Generals on the march again. Bocetti to Thomas accounted for a 62-yard pass play which carried the ball to the Virginia two. Dave Hedge pounced on Abram's fumble over the goal line. When the Big Blue got their hands on the ball again they marched 95 yards to score. Ciro Barcellona's 63-yard run climaxed the drive. Broyles broke through from the one for the score. Jay Handlan booted six for six in a perfect afternoon.

As a result of this game, Lexington's most outstanding and memorable in years, quarterback Gil Bocetti was picked by the Richmond Times-Dispatch as the "back of the week" for the second time this year. Bob Thomas took over the lead in Southern Conference scoring, and Randy Broyles placed fifth.

MIAMI

Washington and Lee was simply swept off its feet when it met the Hurricane of Miami University in the Orange Bowl. The final score was 32-12, favor of Miami.

The Generals fumbled twice in the opening minute of the game and Miami grabbed the second one on the W. and L. 11. Melear scored on a quarterback sneak. The Generals bounced back to drive all the way down the field. Bocetti plunged from the one for the score. But late in the second quarter the Hurricane hammered a second one across to grab a 13-6 halftime lead.

The game was never in doubt in the second half as Miami racked up three more touchdowns. Trammell scored the second Washington and Lee touchdown on a 40-yard runback of an intercepted pass.

* * *

DAVIDSON

Following a sluggish and scoreless first half, the Generals rose to defeat a surprisingly powerful Davidson Wildcat eleven 34-0 for the Homecoming victory.

Washington and Lee couldn't do anything right the first half, and spent the majority of the time staving off repeated Wildcat drives.

Ed Streuli receives Homecoming Decorations prize from Alumni President Kenneth P. Lane, '36, on behalf of S.A.E. Fraternity. Looking on are Alumni Board members, George E. Burks, '27, Paul Buford, '13, and Hugh Bonino, '36.

The second half was a rout. In seven minutes of the third quarter Moody, Broyles, Lindsey, and Trammell hit paydirt to give the Big Blue a 28-0 lead.

Late in the fourth quarter Bay Arnold drove across from the two to end the scoring parade. Moody, sophomore back, in ten runs averaged 11.9 yards per try.

* * *

VPI

The Generals handed the hapless Gobblers of Virginia Polytechnic Institute their worst defeat in 59 years of football when they trounced them, 60-0. All nine Washington and Lee scores were made via the ground.

Moody drove over from the two to climax the first General drive of 80 yards. Two minutes later Broyles crashed from the two for the second score. Following a long Leister to Hedge pass, Leister cracked the Gobbler line from the three. Bill Scott intercepted a Tech pass and lateralled to Bay Arnold to complete the first period scoring.

The Generals scored only once in the second quarter, when Bocetti went ten yards for a touchdown. Early in the third quarter Bocetti threw a long pass to Thomas to set up a score, and then drove over from the two. Wes Abrams, Landis, and Connie Flanders finished the marathon scoring parade, going over with short line bucks. Bob Lafferty kicked four extra points. Bocetti ran two over.

The Generals ground out 394 yards while holding the Techmen to only 76.

* * *

TENNESSEE

The Generals stepped out of their class when they met the high flying Tennessee Volunteers. The nation's top ranking team handed the Generals their worst defeat of the season by rolling up an easy, 60-14, victory.

Two Bocetti to Thomas passes accounted for the W. and L.

scores. The first was an 11-yard pass play in the second quarter. The second, good for 35 yards, occurred late in the fourth quarter. The Volunteers, led by highly touted Hank Lauricella and his replacement, Harold Payne, led at the half, 35-7.

Washington and Lee players described the Tennessee eleven as a perfection team, "loaded with reserves, and talent." Only bright spot of the afternoon for the bruised and battered Big Blue were the Bocetti scoring passes. It was the first time any team had scored against the Vols through the air.

Lauricella carried the ball six times during the afternoon, averaged 19 yards per trip, scored two touchdowns.

* * *

LOUISVILLE

The University of Louisville struck twice with lightning speed, bottled up the Washington and Lee offense, and upset the visiting Lexingtonians, 14-7.

The Cardinals opened the scoring early in the first period when Johnny Unitas stunned the Generals with a long pass from his own 46. Babe Ray pulled it in on the W. and L. 20 and romped into the end zone. The Generals controlled the play the remainder of the half, driving to the 12, 8, and 14-yard lines. But they didn't have a scoring punch.

Jack Williams, Louisville full-back, grabbed the second half kickoff on his own four-yard line and ran it all the way. The Generals had charge of the game from then on, but could only cross the final stripe once. Broyles went ten to score on a pitch-out from Bocetti.

* * *

RICHMOND

The Generals' exhibition against the University of Richmond wasn't its best of the season, but the Big Blue had no trouble in racking up a 39-7 victory.

Bocetti climaxed a brilliantly engineered 73-yard drive by a pitch-out to Randy Broyles for a 14-yard scoring play. A few minutes later Barcellona broke through for a 63-yard touchdown jaunt. Early in the second quarter, Richmond's Bobby Tyler connected with Joe Purinai on a scoring play which covered 45 yards. A Bocetti to Trammell pass gave the Generals a 19-7 half-time lead.

In the third quarter, Dave Waters intercepted a spider pass, and ran it back 73 yards. Wes Abrams went 15 yards through the line for the score. Barcellona stepped off 55 yards for his second touchdown.

On the final play of the game freshman end DeBeer, in his first play in intercollegiate football, intercepted a pass and ran it back to score.

Gil Bocetti was removed from the game two minutes prior to the final gun, and received a standing ovation from the crowd of 7,000 that shook the bleachers. He was sent back in for the final extra point but the one and only point after touchdown kick of his collegiate career was low. Bocetti was named outstanding player of the game.

Designer of Monogram Honored With Plaque

The designer of the Washington and Lee monogram is at last going to be given recognition of his gift to the University. Thomas Green "Tubby" Stone, class of 1905, has been presented with an engraved plaque by the Alumni Association.

Stone, who now lives in Union Mills, N. C., was captain of the 1904 football team.

The plaque itself is of brass mounted on walnut with the following inscription engraved on it: "Presented to Thomas Green 'Tubby' Stone, designer of the Washington and Lee monogram, worn with pride by the sons of the University throughout the years. In grateful appreciation by the Alumni Association."

Before Inflation Struck Football

Rummaging through some old papers a short time ago, John L. Campbell, A.B. '09; LL.B. '11, came upon a wrinkled sheet dated 1906, and on closer examination found it was signed by himself as manager of the Washington and Lee University football team 1906.

Forty-five years after they were compiled, the figures in the report seemed hard to believe. To present W. and L. athletic officials, struggling to hold down the high cost of football, discovery of the old report was like a voice from the forgotten past.

For the entire season of 1906, disbursements totaled $1411.76! Uniforms for the entire team, for example, and "lime, etc." for the playing field—entered in the report as one item—cost only $157.61. Today that sum is hardly enough to fully equip one player.

Biggest item of expense for the 1906 season was the salary and board of Coach R. R. "Buster" Brown—$556. Among the other entries were "guarantees, hotel bills and loss on trips, $513.25"; "telephone, telegraph and advertising, $18.40"; and "printing, $17.25."

At the end of the season, in submitting his report, the manager turned over to the University the balance to his credit amounting to $2.00.

Despite its shoe-string budget the Washington and Lee team of 1906, captained by H. M. Moomaw, now a Roanoke, Virginia, attorney, enjoyed a highly successful season. The Generals won four games, lost one and tied one.

Washington and Lee opened its season by defeating Augusta Military Academy 10-0 (touchdowns counted five points in those days) and closed out the year with a rousing 18-0 victory over the University of Maryland, rated among the top teams in the nation then.

The two other W. and L. wins were at the expense of St. John's College and Randolph-Macon College. The single loss for the Blue and White was to Georgetown University by a one-point margin, 6 to 5. The Generals tied North Carolina State that year, 4-4, with both teams scoring on a field goal.

Even with a winning team the Generals of 1906 were unable to draw the large crowds from miles around that witness W. and L. gridiron contests today. Gate receipts for the 1906 season totalled only $110.37. Season tickets from professors amounted to $10. The bulk of operating revenue came from the Athletic Association.

Members of the team, in addition to Captain Moomaw, were C. B. and C. F. Bagley, both deceased; C. William Streit, now president of the Southern Cement Co., Birmingham, Alabama; C. S. "Pat" Osbourn, in the life insurance business in New York City; Donnell C. Dinges, Alexandria, Tennessee; E. A. C. Hoge, general manager of the Hoge Construction Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; Hiram A. Whittington; H. M. "Burley" White, deceased; E. L. "Dutch" Alderson, Houston, Texas, engineer; John Izard, deceased; T. O. Bagley, Fayetteville, Tennessee, real estate man; and H. M. Dow, Roswell, New Mexico, lawyer.

GENERALS OF 1906—Team members, left to right, are Charles F. Bagley, deceased; Charles B. "Hard Tack" Bagley, deceased; C. W. "Bill" Streit, Birmingham, Alabama; Pat Krebs (in hat), assistant coach; H. M. "Monk" Moomaw, Roanoke, Virginia; Coach R. R. "Buster" Brown, deceased; C. S. "Pat" Osbourn, New York City; D. C. Dinges, Alexandria, Tennessee; John L. Campbell (in hat), manager, Lexington, Virginia; E. A. C. Hoge, Cincinnati, Ohio; Hiram A. Whittington; H. M. "Burley" White, deceased; H. M. Dow, Roswell, New Mexico; E. L. "Dutch" Alderson, Houston, Texas; John Izard, deceased; and T. O. "Shack" Bagley, Fayetteville, Tennessee.

Class

Notes

1895

Rev. C. J. Boppell, after graduating from Princeton Theological Seminary, served for a number of years as a missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Africa, is now retired and living at 2666 37th Avenue, S. W., Seattle 6, Washington, and devoting his time to the writing and distribution of tracts on "Bible Mastery." There are "Bible Mastery" readers in 44 states, 4 provinces of Canada, 6 foreign lands and over 24 denominations.

Dr. Robert Cooke of Lexington, Virginia, received a special invitation to attend the celebration recently held in Gloucester County commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Dr. Walter Reed, conqueror of yellow fever, but was unable to attend. Dr. Cooke is one of two still living of the courageous band of 18 Americans who volunteered in 1900 to submit to yellow fever inoculation by Dr. Reed. The tests were made when an epidemic of yellow fever broke out among U. S. troops in Cuba.

1898

Ernest W. Ripy is in the quarry and crushed stone business in Virginia, about 15 miles from Middlesboro. Home address: Lawrenceburg, Kentucky.

Edward A. O'Neal had a three months trip to Europe last summer visiting his son, who is head of Monsanto Chemical, Ltd., over there. He was driven over England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland, with a visit to Shane Castle. The name his associates gave him while he was a student here was "Shane" O'Neal. While in England he had a visit with his old friend and classmate, John W. Davis, '92. Address: 221 W. Tuscaloosa St., Florence, Alabama.

1902

Richard P. Daniel is a member of the law firm of Daniel & Poucher, 1100 Florida National Bank Building, Jacksonville, Florida. He has recently been elected President of the Florida Historical Society.

Osman E. Swartz is still practicing law in Charleston, West Virginia, principally as General Counsel for United Carbon Company. He sends greetings and best wishes to his friends and classmates of the 1900 era.

Let us remind you again that the material from which these notes was compiled consists of letters received by the class agents during the past spring and summer and from questionnaires returned by alumni during that period. If notes are not up-to-date, we would appreciate any further information you can let us have.

1904

J. B. Akers has been Chief of Engineers for Southern Railway System for the past five years, after having been responsible for maintenance of way and structures and most of the construction work on the System for twenty-odd years before that. Address P. O. Box 1808, Washington 13, D.C.

Judge Julian F. Bouchelle, Thirtieth Judicial Circuit Court of West Virginia, Charleston, West Virginia. He was Assistant Attorney General in 1935-36, and assumed his present duties in the latter year. His law assistant is Maurice J. Crocker, LL.B. '23.

1905

Harvey C. Crabill, who formerly practiced law in Monroeville, Indiana, is now living in Middletown, Virginia, he and his son having purchased some grass land farms in Frederick County, Virginia, and stocked them with young cattle some two years ago. His son has again been called to military service, and he is watching the cattle grow while his son is away.

1908

Philip P. Page, formerly with the Chicago Journal of Commerce, is now with the Pure Oil Company, Evanston, Illinois. Residence: 1124 Maple Avenue, Evanston, Illinois.

Elmer W. Somers is practicing law in Accomac, Virginia. He has two daughters, one of whom will graduate from Randolph Macon Woman's College in June 1952, and the other will enter preparatory school for a final year before college in September 1952.

H. A. Mahler retired from the superintendency of the Thomasville, Georgia, Schools in June, 1950, after thirty-two years as principal of the high school and superintendent. He now has 11 grandchildren. Address: Box 142, Hilton Village, Newport News, Virginia.

John M. Bierer, during the past year, was made President of Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company, P. O. Box 1071, Boston 3, Massachusetts.

1909

Rev. R. Allen Brown is minister of the Presbyterian Church, 132 Ninth Street, East Ocean View, Norfolk 3, Virginia. A little more than a year ago he took over his present charge, where he is kept very busy as he has a live church, which is constantly growing.

John Jacob Forrer is an assistant chief engineer of the Virginia State Highway Department. He will share jurisdiction over the 10 offices of the department's engineering division with Burton Marye, Jr., assistant chief engineer since 1948 and will supervise maintenance, secondary roads, equipment, tests, cost analysis and research projects, while Marye will be responsible for the engineers in location and for design, construction, bridges, urban work and landscaping. Forrer, native of Harrisonburg, Virginia, is known nationally for his pioneering use of bituminous materials in Southern road construction, and his knowledge and methods used in "black-topping" have been sought by many States and foreign countries. Address: Saluda, Virginia.

Judge Daniel K. Sadler is now serving his third eight-year term as a Justice of the New Mexico Supreme Court, with three full years and the remainder of this year remaining on such term. He sends his warmest regards to his classmates of 1909-Law.

1910

Wyatt C. Hedrick was one of seven alumni of Roanoke College, Salem, Virginia, who received citations at the institution's Convocation on Human Resources, at a dinner held at Hotel Roanoke on November 17. Mr. Hedrick was cited for his achievements in architecture and construction. He is responsible for construction projects worth about $738,000,000 over the period 1922-50. His biggest individual project was the Shamrock Hotel in Houston, a $20,000,000 undertaking owned by oilman Glenn McCarthy. His offices are in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston, Texas. He and his wife have three daughters.

Edward L. Potter, after some twenty-five years as attorney in the office of Chief Counsel, Bureau of Internal Revenue, located in Washington, Atlanta, and Dallas, reached retirement age with the required length of service. He was admitted to the Texas Bar through reciprocity with Virginia, and decided to locate in Houston, Texas, for the exclusive practice of Federal tax law. Address: Niels Esperson Bldg., Houston, Texas.

O. A. Chidester, after leaving school, was in government service in Washington as translator; overseas in the first World War; then with Westinghouse at Pittsburgh. He is now with the Surveyor's Office of the County in San Diego, California, and in his spare time in the evening teaches a stenographic class and a Spanish class. Address: 3080 C. Street, San Diego 2, California.

Hugh R. Hawthorne, President of Pocahontas Fuel Co., Inc., has been elected Chairman of its Board of Directors. Mr. Hawthorne's designation as Chairman of the Board climaxes a career of 33 years with Pocahontas Fuel Co. He has served in positions of increasing responsibility since he joined the firm in 1918 as Secretary and General Manager. Residence address: 502 Park Avenue, New York 22, New York.

1911

Edward E. Brown is in charge of The Mutual Life Insurance Agency, Chattanooga Bank Building, Chattanooga 2, Tennessee. His son, Ed, Jr., B.A. '40, is associated with him in the insurance business and another son, Wesley G., graduated here in June with the degree of B.S. in commerce. The family consists of five boys and two girls.

Frank Bedinger is practicing law in Boydton, Virginia, with his son, Frank, Jr., LL.B. '41. His daughter is the wife of the President of Southwestern University at Georgetown, Texas, and he has two fine grandsons.

F. Briggs Richardson is practicing law at 302 East Grace Street, Richmond 19, Virginia, specializing in title work. He is now president of the Virginia Building and Loan Company, which company he has been with actively since 1937.

1912

Rev. W. Graham Wood is minister of the Presbyterian Church, Low Moor, Virginia, having taken over this field last year. His family of three daughters and one son are growing up and scattering in their various mature occupations, so that his family will soon be what it was thirty years ago.

John L. Campbell, Jr., '42

1913

Herbert W. Wyant is practicing law in Harrisonburg, Virginia, with offices in the First National Bank Building. He practiced law alone until 1949, when he became associated in practice with Henry C. Clark, B.A., LL.B. '48.

H. Wise Kelly is attorney for Potomac Electric and Power Company, 10th and E. Streets, N.W., Washington D.C. His son, H. Wise, Jr., eldest of six children, received his B.A. degree from Washington and Lee in 1945 and LL. B. in '47.

Rev. John A. Bowman is rounding out thirty-five years in the ministry of the Presbyterian Church. He is pastor of the Parkview Presbyterian Church, Newport News, Virginia.

1914

George Lorraine Kerns spent six and one-half years as an independent "faith missionary" in India. He returned to this country in 1945, but hopes and expects to return to India for further missionary work. His youngest son, an U.S.A.F. officer, was killed in action over Tokyo in February, 1945. Home: 4208 River Avenue, Spring Hill, West Virginia.

Thomas F. Ogilvie gives his address at 1200 Atlantic Avenue, Atlantic City, New Jersey, but no further news of himself except that he has three children, two boys and a girl, two of them married and the last boy "teetering on the brink."

1915

James Edwin Bear has been transferred from the Biblical Department, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia, to the Chair of Christian Missions. In this connection he and his wife and two younger children will visit mission work in Mexico during the coming summer.

1917

Dr. G. Holbrook Baber has retired from the active practice of medicine and is living on Long Island at the following address: Box 593, Quogue, Long Island, New York.

Dr. Charles McNitt, his wife and daughter, have recently had a delightful four weeks cruise to the British West Indies, visiting many of the Islands of the lesser Antilles and stopping for two weeks at Bridgetown, Barbadoes. He is practicing in Reno, Nevada, specializing in Dermatology, with offices at 217 North Virginia Street.

Dr. R. Glenn Craig is Associate Clinical Professor of Gynecology at the University of California. He has recently had a three months holiday, flying around the world. He spent most of the time on this trip in South Asia, especially India. Address: Medico-Dental Building, 490 Post Street, San Francisco, California.

1918

E. V. Bowyer is Commercial Manager of the Roanoke Gas Company. He writes: "I always find that Washington and Lee men are better prepared than a good many of the college graduates who come to see me for a position with our company." Address: 123-125 Church Avenue, N.W., Roanoke, Virginia.

1919

George T. Madison completed a term as President of the Louisiana State Bar Association in April 1951. He is a member of the law firm of Madison, Madison, Files & Shell, practicing in Bastrop and Monroe, Louisiana.

1920

C. H. McCain is still in the department store business with the Wm. Hengerer Company, Buffalo, New York. Two of his sons are now students here, Charles, a senior, and David, a freshman.

1922

Robert M. Bear, professor of psychology, Dartmouth College, Hanover, New Hampshire, last year had his third sabbatical year since going to Dartmouth. During his stay in Switzerland, Paris and England he got in touch with psychologists and observed work which was of value to him. He writes: "One of the most interesting things was the three day screening of candidates for higher civil service jobs in Britain. They used psychological procedures and did an excellent piece of work. The Tavistock Institution of Human Relations was another interesting spot."

1923

K. D. McMillan moved to California from New York City in 1949, and is now president of National Tapering Wings, Inc., at 3246 Union Pacific Avenue, Los Angeles 23, California, manufacturing airplane wings. He is married and has a son 14 years old.

O. Forrest McGill has supervised the Mortgage Loan and Real Estate Investment Offices of the Prudential Insurance Company of America of Newark, New Jersey. As of May 1, 1951, he is supervising the nine offices in the South and along the eastern seaboard north to and including New York City. His territory covers 462 square miles. In addition to the regional offices, there are many sub-offices in the more important cities throughout the territory. In these offices are employed 749 people who service 107,900 mortgage loans aggregating well over $1 billion.

Saunders Guerrant is with the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, with offices at 505 Liberty Trust Building, Roanoke, Virginia. He has a wife and 15 year old son who says he wants to be a farmer, but his father thinks he will probably be a soldier.

R. M. Frew is handling labor relations for the Columbia, South Carolina, Division of Pacific Mills. His oldest daughter graduated from the University of South Carolina in June and has entered the business world. The younger daughter is now a Sophomore at the University of South Carolina.

Thomas Jean Ellis is a member of the law firm of Ellis, Ervin & Wakeman, Miami Beach, Florida. His three sons are all now grown, the youngest, Edward, a senior at Washington and Lee.

Weldon T. Kilmon is a Civil Engineer with the Baltimore Asphalt Block and Tile Company, General Contractors, for over twenty years; has been married for twenty years "to the same girl," and they have a son 13 years old. The boy likes baseball and fishing; Weldon likes fishing and gardening; and the wife likes gardening and garden club work, and they all like parties and bridge. So there is quite a cross-section of interests in the family.

Bernie H. Hampton, after deciding to go into the ministry, worked for two years and then went to Emory University's Chandler School of Theology where he spent three years studying for the Methodist ministry. He is married and has three daughters, Mary Adake, 22, Sue Marie, 17, and Bernice, 16. He is Pastor of the Ridgedale Methodist Church, Chattanooga, Tennessee. Last summer his church gave him a 60-day vacation. He bought a camping trailer and took the family on a 12,000 mile trip up the East Coast.

1924

Stuart A. McCorkle, professor of Government at the University of Texas,

Austin, Texas, took a leave from the university last spring to assist Governor Allan Shivers and his group with the Texas Economy Commission, of which he is Executive Director. In April of this year he was elected Mayor Pro Tem for the City of Austin. Address: Box 2305, Capitol Station, Austin 11, Texas. After graduating here with a B.A. degree he received an M.A. degree from the University of Virginia and Ph.D. from Johns-Hopkins. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa here in 1946.

1925

William Carroll Mead was elected chairman of the Southeastern Group of the Investment Bankers Association of America at the annual business meeting of the Southeastern Group on September 15, at the Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia. Mr. Mead is a former president of the Bond Club of Baltimore, Maryland. He is also a past chairman of Group 11 of the National Association of Securities Dealers and a former president of the Baltimore Stock Exchange. Address: Mead, Miller & Company, 111 East Redwood Street, Baltimore 2, Maryland.

Col. J. F. Seals is in the Quartermaster Department stationed in Istanbul, Turkey. In his military duties he has visited the Russian and Bulgarian borders and all the important Turkish defense positions. He writes glowing accounts of the beautiful scenery along the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora.

J. W. ("Ack") Driver is running Seminole Farm, Osceola, Arkansas, "with a little real estate management thrown in." He is the only male in a household of females, having a wife, a daughter, who is a sophomore at the University of Mississippi; another who graduated last spring from Gulf Park College, and entered Hollins in the fall; another daughter, thirteen, and still another daughter, seven.

Harold St. John is with W. H. St. John and Company, freight brokers and forwarding agents, custom house brokers at 18 Pearl Street, New York 4, New York. His son, Harold Duane, 20, entered Washington and Lee last fall after serving a year in Korea with the Marines and recuperating in a naval hospital from an arm wound received while in Korea. His daughter, Sally, 17, is in her last year in high school and expects to enter Mary Baldwin College, Staunton Virginia.

W. E. Moore is practicing law in Waynesboro, Virginia. His daughter, Mary, has completed her freshman year at Randolph-Macon Woman's College and his son Ed is a freshman at Washington and Lee.

F. R. Snyder, Jr., is now a G-I student at the University of Miami School of Law. He and his wife live at 126

Mendoza Avenue, Apartment 10, Coral Gables, Florida.

1926

George T. Hendrix is still in the insurance business in Olean, New York, under the firm name of Both, Branch and Hendrix, Inc., in the First National Bank Building, where he has been since 1936. His son, George, who graduated from Mercersburg Academy in June, is now a student at Washington and Lee; his older daughter entered college in September and a younger daughter is at home "taking care of mother and father."

Charles H. Hamilton, city editor of The Richmond News-Leader since 1936, was named managing editor of the paper in September by David Tennant Bryan, publisher. Hamilton came to the News-Leader in 1926, working in the sports department, of which he became editor in 1932. In 1936 he was named city editor, a position he held until his recent promotion. Home address: 1100 Seminary Place, Richmond 22, Virginia.

P. M. Schuchart writes that he has shaken off the worst of the ill effects of his recent automobile accident. He is now in Washington as head of wire communications for the Federal Civil Defense Administration, but hopes to return to Florida in the fall. Address: 1519 Lee Avenue, Tallahassee, Florida.

Kenneth C. Kimbrough went into the decorating business for himself in March of last year, forming a business under the title of Kimbrough, Inc. They have taken over a fine old Memphis mansion and converted it into a decorating shop, at 1400 Union Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.

1927

Zack Rogers is junior partner and general sales manager of the Gilbert Hyde Chick Company, Oakland, California, manufacturers of hospital, orthopedic and fractural equipment, with factory at Oakland. He opened a branch office last year in his old home town of Elberton, Georgia, built a home there, and gets back for a visit once in a while. Address: 821 Seventy-fifth Avenue, Oakland 21, California.

1928

Oldham Clarke is a member of the law firm of Allen, McElwain, Dinning & Clarke, with offices in the Kentucky Home Life Building. Last December he was elected president of the Louisville Bar Association, which has over six hundred members. His son, Ernest, was a junior at Washington and Lee last year when he left to enter the Navy, and he has a daughter, Louisa, who is 14 years old.

Irvin W. Cubine has been Commonwealth's Attorney for the City of Mar-tinsville, Virginia, since 1942, and is currently president of the Association of Commonwealth Attorneys of Virginia. His son, Irvin, Jr., is in the army, in camp in Georgia and his daughter, Carol, has recently graduated from the University of North Carolina.

Hudson Faussett, NBC-TV producer of Armstrong's Circle Theatre, has had 20 years' theatre and screen experience, which includes over 400 roles in many famous winter stock companies, and directorship of over 135 productions. After leaving Washington and Lee, he was sent to Hollywood as a protege of New Jersey Governor Harold G. Hoffman, and subsequently acted in several films. This was followed by travel through Central America, producing and directing a series of short subject pictures on native life. He has held many important theatre assignments in this country, directing several Broadway productions prior to joining NBC last year as staff producer.

1929

Rev. William Wood Glass, III, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Decatur, Alabama, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, at the commencement exercises of Athens College, Athens, Alabama, held on August 22, 1951.

1930

Robert W. Mosley is still teaching Economics and Sociology at Arkansas State Teachers College, Conway, Arkansas. This summer he was working toward his Ph.D. degree in history at the University of Texas. Address: 1454 College Avenue, Conway, Arkansas.

Earl T. Jones is still in the meat business in Raleigh, North Carolina. He reports that so far the government has been very successful in building up a meat reserve by making it practically impossible for the packers and consumers to consume any. Address: Box 1711, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Robert E. Clapp, Jr., writes of the arrival of their third son on January 21, 1951. With a family of three boys he says "we are quite busy at home." Address: Frederick, Maryland.

1931

Talcott C. Lancaster has been transferred from the Union Carbide and Carbon Research Laboratories in Niagara Falls to the Electro Metallurgical Company division of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation in Marietta, Ohio, as Chief Chemist. Address: R.D. 6, Cislser Ridge, Marietta, Ohio.

1932

Ross L. Malone Jr., has been appointed by the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association to the Board of Governors where he will represent the states in the Tenth Federal Judicial Circuit for the next three years. He is a member of the law firm of Atwood, Malone & Campbell, White Building, Roswell, New Mexico.

James E. Leslie is still with the West Virginia Department of Public Assistance and is assigned to the twenty-third judicial district as a juvenile court worker. Address: Care of Jefferson County Department of Public Assistance, Charles Town, West Virginia.

Charles H. Blake is head of The Charles H. Blake Productions, which is a three year old organization producing all forms of musical entertainment. Since its founding it has produced over fifty musicales in all fields, from summer opera to television. Included among its clients are Harvard University and leading industrial shows across the nation.

1933

Wilson Sanders, '33, and O. B. McEwan, LL.B. '40, have announced the formation of a new law partnership under the firm head of Saunders, McEwan & Berson, 49 North Orange Avenue, Orlando, Florida.

Jeb Darby is now Assistant Manager of Foreign Sales for Cutler-Hammer, Inc., electrical manufacturers, 315 12th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. In the fall of 1950 he had a nine weeks' trip through Central and South America and is again looking forward to the next swing through our "Good Neighbor" countries.

Ed Chittum, Division Superintendent of Norfolk County Public Schools, reports a phenomenal increase in school enrollment in his area, and consequently a big school building program. Three Washington and Lee men are teaching and coaching in one of the Norfolk high schools; Charlie Harrington, '49, has served as backfield coach the past two years, and is now head coach; Herbert Miller, B.A. '51, will be assistant coach and Irvin Wicknick, former captain of the W. and L. wrestling team, is wrestling coach in the same school.

John Wallace Kay, '51

1934

Holmes Dyer is representative for Achushnet Process Company of New Bedford, Massachusetts, for the state of New Jersey, New York City and Philadelphia. They manufacture custom molded rubber parts. He is married, has four children (one boy). Address: 15 Sixth Avenue, Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey.

Fred O. Funkhouser was elected president of the Virginia Industrial Bankers Association at its recent meeting at Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke, Virginia. Address: 54 East Market Street, Harrisonburg, Virginia.

Everett E. Fish, Major in active reserve, Infantry, has been called back to service as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the Alameda High School in Alameda, California. His wife and two small daughters accompanied him to Alameda. Address: Box 103, Alameda, California.

1935

William H. Alexander is now the Security Officer, National Production Authority, U. S. Government, Washington, D.C. Address: 1204 Lebanon Street, Silver Spring, Maryland.

1936

Dr. Thomas H. Alphin, former assistant chief medical examiner for the State of Virginia, has been named director of Region Two, Civil Defense Administration. Region Two, with headquarters in Richmond, covers Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia, and Maryland. Address: 401 East Brookland Park Boulevard, Richmond, Virginia.

Dick Gumm is a representative for the Frankfort Distillers Corporation and lives at 824 Glen Drive, San Leandro, California. He says he now "bangs the Fairbanks" for 260—and better.

W. Magruder Drake is in graduate school at the University of North Carolina, working on his Ph. D. in History. He gets back to Lexington frequently.

Paul G. Hervey has completed his ninth year as superintendent of the Enloe, Texas, High Schools. He expected to attend six weeks at the University of Texas, where he has been doing graduate work. He and Mrs. Hervey are the proud parents of a second son, now a little over a year old. The older boy, Richard Morton, is now 11 years old.

1937

Charles D. Withers, Foreign Service Officer from Greenville, S. C., has been transferred from Decca, Pakistan, to Karachi, the capitol. He will serve as Second Secretary-Consul and Political Officer. He received his bachelor's degree from Washington and Lee in 1937. He entered the Department of State in 1942 as Divisional Assistant and the following year joined the Foreign Service Auxiliary as an Economic Analyst. His first assignment was at Leopoldville, and before his appointment in his career of Foreign Service, he also served at Bordeaux and Bombay. Since then he has had assignments at the Department of Commerce and in Decca, where he has been since April 1949. Home Address: 30 Buist Avenue, Greenville, South Carolina.

Lewis D. Williams was a recent visitor to the campus. He is with Summer Chemical Company, Inc., as a technical salesman. Residence address: 700 Cleveland Avenue, Elizabeth, N. J.

C. Arnold Matthews, Lieutenant Commander, Supply Corps, USN, reported for active duty in July and was assigned to the Naval Academy where he is teaching in the Department of English History and Government. Address: 25 Sellers Road, Annapolis, Maryland.

Emerson Dickman, who has coached the Princeton baseball team for the past three years has resigned that position to become New England Sales Manager for Capehart Farnsworth Company which sells television sets and electrical appliances. Address: 669 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

1938

Charles R. Skinner, III, writes that he has been very busy at the Pratt & Whitney Air Craft Division in Hartford, Connecticut. Address: 145 Whiting Lane, West Hartford, Connecticut.

Gerald M. Lively is now with the recently reorganized law firm of Spencer, Fane, Britt, Lucas & Browne, with offices at Suite 2000, Power and Light Building, 106 West 14th Street, Kansas City 6, Missouri.

Wilfred Julius Ritz, A.B., '38, received the Master of Laws degree from Harvard University on June 21, 1951.

Lieutenant Colonel Herbert C. Clendenning has been stationed in Guam since August, 1949. His wife and three children joined him in that year in December just after the typhoon and they got the new roof for their house just two days before they moved in. The second son, Paul, developed rheumatic fever with cardiac involvement and they returned to this country in August, in order to get medical help for him. Colonel Clendenning has been assigned to Washington, D.C., where he will be attending the Army Engineering School. He has spent eleven years in schools; three years at W. and L., four years at West Point as a cadet and three as an instructor, and one year at Cal Tech getting a master's degree in Civil Engineering. He is an Associate of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and also an Associate Member of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Address: The Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Dr. Harry M. Philpott, who has been director of religious activities at the University of Florida at Gainesville, since 1947, will join the staff of Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, as dean of religious life. Dr. Philpott received a doctorate in religious education at Yale Divinity School and spent two years as religious director at Washington and Lee. During World War II, he spent three years as a Navy Chaplain in the Pacific area.

1939

William H. Kibler, Jr., for the past six years, has served as Institutional Chaplain for the Lutheran Service Society of Western Pennsylvania. On September 1, he becomes the institutional chaplain for the Lutheran Welfare League of Central Ohio. In this capacity he will minister to the Lutheran patients in the city, county and state hospitals and institutions of the Central Ohio area.

1940

James W. Hammett is a member of a law firm formed July 1, 1951, under the name Bailey, Hammett and Adams, with offices in the Giddens-Lane Building, Shreveport, Louisiana.

Edward M. Korry is now United Press manager for France, with headquarters in Paris. He is a former U. P. night radio manager in New York, chief Balkans correspondent with headquarters in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and manager for Berlin. Address: Care of United Press, Daily News Building, 220 East 42nd Street, New York City.

1942

John L. Campbell, Jr., was appointed trial justice for Rockbridge County, Virginia, taking office on September 1, 1951. He succeeds D. Allen Penick, LL.B. '30, resigned. A native of Lexington, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Campbell, A. B. '09; LL.B. '11. He was graduated from the Washington and Lee law school in 1942 and the same year entered the United States Marine Corps, serving until 1946, with the rank of captain, and was in the Pacific theatre for two years, going through the Bougainville campaign.

1943

F. Witcher McCullough, Jr., was one of five men cited by the Junior Bar Conference of the American Bar Association, "for outstanding service to Bar public relations during the past year." He is West Virginia director of the public information program of the Junior Bar Conference of the American Bar Association.

Morrison Hutcheson, Jr., finished his internship at the University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston, Texas, and will remain at the Medical Branch as an assistant resident in Medicine for another year.

S. L. Kopald is chairman of the board of the Humko Company, refiners and processors of vegetable oils and manufacturers of hydrogenated vegetable shortening. He and his wife, who was Mimi Daves of Lexington, and two children are living at 71 Devon Way, Memphis, Tennessee. The family were visitors to Lexington during the past summer.

Ed Zelnicker was in the book publishing business for about four years after leaving school and getting out of the service. He is now in the book-seller business, handling out-of-print and rare books. He and his partner have acquired a wonderful old shop with some sixty or seventy thousand books. He has not been back to Lexington since January, '43, but hopes to make the trip before long. He and his wife, Edith, have a son now about a year old, who keeps them pretty busy. Address: 159-18 Riverside Drive, Apartment 4-J, New York, New York.

John W. Goode, Jr., former Assistant District Attorney of Bexar County, Texas, has recently formed a partnership for the practice of Law with Harvey L. Hardy, with offices at 818-819 Frost Bank Building, San Antonio, Texas.

George W. Priest is now a student in the Medical School at Ohio State. He is married and has two sons, Jamie, 19 months old and Stevie, six months old. Address: 369 Roosevelt Court, Apartment No. 1, Columbus 9, Ohio.

U. Grey Flowers, whose marriage to Miss Anne Sharp Williams is announced elsewhere in this issue, has been practicing law for the past five years in Vicksburg, Mississippi, with offices in the First National Bank Building. He is also operating the old family plantation, "Ceres Plantation," about 18 miles from Vicksburg, in Warren County, Mississippi.

1944

James P. Gilman, B.A., '44, received the M.A. degree from Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, on August 31, 1951, majoring in Biology. Address: East Bank, West Virginia.

John D. Schofield, III, is back in the Navy as Chief Engineer and Senior Watch officer of the USS Albuquerque (PF-7).

First Lieutenant A. L. Michaux was wounded in Korea on June 12, and was in a hospital in Japan. He has made good progress and is now back in this country. He was due to be relieved on June 12, and was wounded on June 10. He had been promoted to Captain, but officially cannot accept the promotion until he is able to take the necessary physical examination. Home address: 27 Butler Road, Lindon, Maryland.

Lawrence F. Mansfield received his M.A. degree from the University of Florida in 1949, taught at Duke University for two years, and is now finishing up his work for a Ph.D. at the University of North Carolina, which he expects to receive at Christmas. Address: 1324 Vickers Avenue, Durham, North Carolina.

Robert Henry Moore, Jr., A.B. 1944, received the degree of Master of Business Administration from Harvard University on June 21, 1951.

1945

Robert Edward Jackson is writing political, military, and diplomatic news for United Press in London. Address: United Press, 30 Bouverie Street, London, S.W. 1, England.

1946

Captain Stephen Cooley, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, has been in Korea since January of this year. Service address: 8055 MASH, APO 301, care of Postmaster, San Francisco, California.

Jerry Greenberg, 125 Broad Street, New York, 4, New York, is in the import-export business with his father. He was married on June 17 to Florence Rosen of Passaic, New Jersey, in the Waldorf-Astoria. Jack Grossman and Buddy Morris, both of the class of '46, were in the wedding as was also Eddie Feinman, '48.

Bill Todd is a West Point graduate and has been in the army since his first year at Washington and Lee. He may be reached at Box 248, Reese AFB, Lubbock, Texas.

1947

Arthur Anderson has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army at Camp Jackson, South Carolina, and has been assigned to duty at Fort Rucker, Alabama.

Julian A. Frank was one of three new assistant United States Attorneys sworn into office on August 9, 1951.

1948

Private First Class William L. Hopkins is currently attending the Armed Forces School at Fort Slocum, New York. He was circulation manager for the Calyx and the Southern Collegian for 1946-47, and a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity. Home address: 3836 Fort Avenue, Lynchburg, Virginia.

Joseph Baker McCutcheon, '51

Frederick B. Gillette, Research Director for Montana's Taxpayers' Association, began work as director of Montana's "little Hoover commission" on September 1. The commission will study all state purchasing and construction contracts except those of the highway department. Address: 1125 Leslie Avenue, Helena, Montana.

Henry J. Foresman was elected vice-president of the Virginia State Bar Association which convened at the Greenbrier Hotel at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, August 9, 10 and 11. He was a delegate to the convention from the Rockbridge County-Buena Vista Bar Association. Graduating from Virginia Military Institute in June 1941, Mr. Foresman served for more than three years in the Southwest Pacific area and was retired from the U. S. Army in 1945, because of injuries sustained while overseas. He received his LL.B. degree from Washington and Lee in 1948 and started practice in Lexington with John L. Campbell, Jr., in 1949, with his own office being opened in Buena Vista in November of that year.

Dave Cofer, after some more study at the University of Texas Law School, was admitted to the Texas Bar, but the army beckoned and he hasn't practiced yet. He was stationed at Fort Bliss for a year or so, but is now due for a tour overseas, probably Germany. Address: Box 325, College Station, Texas.

Walter H. Lee has been promoted to the position of Assistant Manager of the Western Auto Store on Hull Street in Richmond, Virginia. His address is: 2211 Brady Street, Richmond, Virginia.

James R. Lyle has been practicing law in Kingsport, Tennessee, for over a year.

1949

James R. Fain, Jr., is now in Officers Candidate School at Fort Riley, Kansas. He has been in the U. S. Army since September, 1950. Home address: 1830 Buena Vista Road, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Samuel M. Boykin, Jr., has been in the service since last January. Until his letter was written in September he had had no overseas orders, but was expecting them momentarily, since he belongs to the Ninth Airborne Ranger Company at Fort Benning. Home address: 201 Mountain Avenue, Birmingham, Alabama.

1950

John Bell is working for Libby Owens Ford Glass Company as a shift supervisor, and is now in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, learning the ropes in a "Fiberglas" plant there, but will be later connected with the new Fiberglas plant to be opened in Parkersburg, West Virginia. He and his family have recently moved into a new home at 1705 Oak Street, Parkersburg, West Virginia. They have two sons, Johnny, three years six months, and Douglass 15 months.

William A. Gregory, Jr., with the Naval Unit at Tulane University, New Orleans, reports that his midshipman cruise during the summer was a fine one. His ship went to Denmark, Holland and Cuba, with an overland tour to Belgium which was quite interesting. He had the top midshipman billet of the 402 aboard; also he is serving as president of the Student Leadership Council at Tulane and midshipman adjutant of the Battalion. Address: 1514 Arabella, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Private First Class Edward P. Thomas, Jr., is currently attending the Armed Forces Information School at Fort Slocum, New York. He was a four-year letterman in baseball and one year in football, and a member of Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

First Lieutenant Lester H. Lewis, Jr., of 3520 Riverside Avenue, Jacksonville, Florida, recently completed a six weeks course of extensive instruction with the Eighth Division's "Little Benning" Infantry School at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

Pvt. John P. Brown, 123 31st Street, Newport News, Virginia, has completed processing at the 2053d Reception Center and is assigned to the 5th Infantry Division, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pennsylvania, for Army basic training. Before entering the Army, Private Brown was a reporter for the Newport News Press.

1951

W. Gleason Bean, Jr., is with the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, Mutual Building, Richmond, Va.

Private Henry B. Stern, 312 52nd Street, Newport News, Virginia, has been assigned to the 5th Infantry Division, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pennsylvania, for Army basic training after completing processing at 2053d Reception Center at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Private Joe J. Sconce has completed processing at the 2053d Reception Center at Ft. Meade, Maryland, and has been assigned for Army basic training. He graduated from Washington and Lee last June with the B.A. degree. He was captain of the varsity wrestling team and twice Southern Conference champion.

Bernard J. Natkin, of Roanoke, Virginia, LL.B. '51, is now living in Lexington and is associated in the practice of law with Paul G. Ganas, LL.B. '43, Lexington attorney. He has engaged in the practice of law in Lexington since June, 1950, when he passed the Virginia Bar Examination and was admitted to the bar in Roanoke. Before coming to Washington and Lee he received his B.S. degree in economics from Roanoke College. He served for three years in World War II with the 69th Infantry Division, with service in the European theater, and returned to civilian life in 1945.

R. W. (Dick) Hubbard expected to receive his master's degree at New York University Graduate School of Retailing last June, and then head out West. On September 7, 1950, he was married to Diane Dixon of Salt Lake City, Utah, who graduated from Southern Seminary, Buena Vista, Virginia.

Donald R. Taylor transferred from Washington and Lee to William and Mary, majoring in history, and received his A.B. degree last June. He returned there in the fall to work on his M.A. degree which he expects to receive in June 1952.

Guy B. Hammond of Birmingham, Alabama, was awarded a Fulbright scholarship for graduate study in the Netherlands this year. He went to the University of Utrecht, where he is specializing in chemistry. He received the B.A. degree in chemistry at the graduation exercises here last June.

Pvt. John W. Kay has been assigned to the 101st Airborne Division, Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky, for basic training, after completing his processing at the 2053d Reception Center at Fort Meade, Maryland. With the 101st, Pvt.

Cushions Placed in Lee Chapel

Cushions were placed on the seats of the main floor of Lee Chapel at the beginning of the current session. The cushions are of foam rubber with red cloth covering. The donor is anonymous according to E. S. Mattingly, University treasurer. Students have complained for many years that the chapel seats were uncomfortable.

Kay will receive eight weeks of training in basic military subjects necessary for all soldiers. After completing the eight weeks, he will be assigned for further training to the Adjutant General career field. He graduated in June of this year, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree in commerce and was a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity. John was an outstanding guard on the Washington and Lee football team for four years. Home address: 1407 Bridge Road, Charleston, West Virginia.

Pvt. Joseph B. McCutcheon has been assigned to the Signal Replacement Center, Camp Gordon, Georgia, for Army basic training, after completing processing at the 2053d Reception Center at Fort Meade, Maryland. McCutcheon was co-captain of Washington and Lee's Southern Conference football Champions last season. He played center on the varsity squad for four years, winning All-Virginia honors his last two years, and being named second team All-Southern last year behind North Carolina's All-American Irv Holdash. He graduated last June, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree in business administration; was a member of Sigma Chi, social fraternity; Omicron Delta Kappa; and Alpha Kappa Psi, commerce fraternity. Home address: 1325 Frame St., Charleston, West Virginia.

In Memoriam

1886

Rev. John V. McCall, retired Presbyterian minister, died July 30, after a long illness, in Weatherford, Texas.

1893

Judge Jake Fisher, the oldest trial judge in West Virginia in point of service, died September 6, 1951, in the War Memorial District Hospital at the age of 80. His home was in Sutton, West Virginia.

1894

Marshall Henry Guerrant died March 4, 1951. His home was in Umatilla, Florida.

1896

Wilmer Joyner died August 15, 1951, after a brief illness. His home was in Washington, D.C.

1906

Henry E. Thackston died July 26, 1951. His death occurred in a hospital in Fayetteville, North Carolina. He had suffered a heart attack while enroute by train to visit his sisters in North Carolina. His home was in Frederick, Md.

1908

Alan Porter Lee, consulting chemist and engineer, died at his home at 81 Miller Road, Morristown, New Jersey, on August 9, 1951.

Dr. Louis K. Koontz, nationally known historian, died after a brief illness in Los Angeles, California, on August 6, 1951. Dr. Koontz had been a member of the faculty at the University of California at Los Angeles since 1922. He was buried at his home town, Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

1911

Dr. Marshall Moore died October 29, 1951. His home was in Montgomery, West Virginia.

Brown Donnally Truslow died October 11, 1951, in Charleston, West Virginia.

1917

Herbert G. Peters died August 19, 1951. His home was in Bristol, Virginia.

1918

Dr. William Warren Sager, chief of cord injury service at McGuire Veterans Administration Hospital, died September 10, 1951. Burial was in the family cemetery on the Sager Farm near Woodstock, Virginia.

1921

Dean Owens, widely known attorney, died at his home on Thursday, October 11, 1951, in Rome, Georgia.

1922

Albert Rhodes Perdue died October 8, 1951, at his home, "Riverly," on West Paces Ferry Road, N. W., Atlanta, Georgia.

1925

James Madison Weaver, president of a Harrisonburg, Virginia, insurance firm, died November 11, 1951, as the result of a jeep accident in which he was teaching the young son of a friend to drive.

1929

Walter Channing Weaver, Emporia, Virginia, died December 3, 1950. Mrs. Weaver is continuing to run his business, The Nehi Bottling Company, and taking care of their three sons.

1930

Dr. William Edgar Waddell died October 7, 1951, at his home in Lexington, Virginia.

1938

Dwight Ashton File died August 8, 1951, in Beckley, West Virginia.

1941

Pedro Antonio Rodriguez died April 29, 1951, in San Juan, Puerto Rico, after a prolonged illness. He had served as the head of the Legal Division of the Public Service Commission of San Juan.

1950

E. S. Burnett, LL.B. '50, was killed in a hunting accident on November 21, 1951. He had been elected Commonwealth's Attorney of Grayson County on November 6.

Marriages

1937

Walter Glegge Thomas was married to Mary Elizabeth Casebeer on July 24, 1951, in Annapolis, Maryland.

1938

Thomas Hal Clarke was married to Mary Louise Hastings on July 12, 1951, in Griffin, Georgia.

1939

Lieutenant Commander Charles Goddard Gilmore was married to Virginia Ruth Parker on Saturday, September 15, 1951, in the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, New York.

1941

Dr. Henry Morgan Winans, Jr., was married to Barbara Pool on November 10, 1951, in Dallas, Texas.

1942

Bernard Levin was married to Carla de Creny on September 23, 1951, Temple Israel, Lawrence, Long Island.

1942

John Lyle Campbell, Jr., was married to Beatrice Tyer on October 11, 1942, in Andover, Massachusetts. They will make their home in Lexington, Virginia.

1943

U. Grey Flowers was married to Anne Sharpe Williams on August 3, 1951, at the First Presbyterian Church, Vicksburg, Mississippi.

1946

Don Channing Pinck was married to Joan Braverman on August 22, 1951, in Lowell, Massachusetts.

1947

Philip C. Braunschweig was married to Audrey Arlene Askew on October 13, 1951, in Briarcliff Manor, New York.

Robert Stockton Axtell was married to Elizabeth Cousens Chambers on November 3, 1951, in Salem, Massachusetts.

1948

Fred Leland Rush was married to Jennine Claire Bearss on August 25, 1951.

1949

Thomas Reakirt Glass, Lieutenant, United States Air Force, was married to Julia Marguerite Thomas on September 29, 1951, in Huntsville, Texas.

1950

James Arthur Wood, Jr., was married to Sallie Hall Dyck on November 10, 1951, in Petersburg, Virginia.

1951

Thomas Earl Purvis, Jr., was married to Katherine Patricia Owens on November 17, 1951, in Fort Worth, Texas.

Births

1931

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. D. Wagers are the parents of a son, Thomas Byrne Wagers, born November 1, 1950.

1935

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Cooper, Jr., are the parents of a son, Robert Franklin Cooper, III, born July 27, 1951.

1937

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence White Wilson, Jr., are the parents of a son, Laurence White, III, born September 21, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark B. Winter are the parents of a son, Clark B. Winter, Jr., born October 27, 1951.

1940

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Battle Gist, Jr., are the parents of a son, Howard Battle, III, born September, 1951.

1941

Dr. and Mrs. Macy H. Rosenthal are the parents of a daughter, Nancy Beth, born August 6, 1951. They also have two sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edward Lehr are the parents of a son, Ralph Edward, Jr., born August 27, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. George Keith McMurrin are the parents of a son, George Keith McMurrin, Jr., born July 23, 1951.

1942

Mr. and Mrs. Grady H. Forgy, Jr., are the parents of a son, David Russell ("Dave"), born September 23, 1951, in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Worms, Jr., are the parents of a daughter, Carol Ruth, born July 19, 1951.

1943

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Galloway are the parents of a son, Lawrence Werner, Jr. New home address: 4703 Kernwood Avenue, Baltimore 12, Md.

1944

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lynch Christian, Jr., are the parents of a son, C. Lynch Christian, III, born July 20, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Forgy are the parents of a daughter, Lucinda Elizabeth ("Cindy"), born May 6, 1951, in Little Rock, Arkansas.

1945

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Bertini are the parents of a son, Robert H., Jr., born September 29, 1951.

1946

Mr. and Mrs. Garland S. Daniel, Jr., are the parents of a son, Garland Harold, born August 22, 1951, in Greensboro, North Carolina.

1947

Lt. and Mrs. John K. Davidson, Jr., are the parents of a daughter, Lucy Ann, born August 30, 1951.

1948

Major and Mrs. Billy Sheridan Holland are the parents of twins, a son and daughter, Robert Edward, IV, and Robin Elizabeth, born October 15, 1951.

1949

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Carr, Jr., are the parents of a son, Robert H. Carr, III, born August 4, 1951.

1950

Mr. and Mrs. John P. French are the parents of a daughter, Nancy Belinda, born August 23, 1951.

WASHINGTON AND LEE
Commemorative Plates
(Wedgewood)

Colors: Mulberry only at this time
Blue available in the Spring

Sold only in sets of eight different scenes

Price, $18.00 per set
Express Charges Collect

WASHINGTON AND LEE ALUMNI, INC.
Lexington, Virginia