NOTICE

In this Survey-Analysis we have named only those insurance coverages which we believe are essential to your present day needs. However, should you at any time wish to call upon us for explanations and premium costs for any coverages, please feel free to do so.

Any estimates of values which we have given herein are based on our judgment of today's labor and materials costs, and are approximate and may not be held binding on either the owner, the agent, or any insurance company as to the actual value of the property in event of loss now or in the future.
