

Special to Lynchburg News

News Bureau
Washington and Lee University
Lexington, Virginia

Sunday a. m. release

VIRGINIA HEADQUARTERS IN BUSINESS---The "Mother of Presidents" banner goes up over the headquarters of the Virginia state delegation in Lexington as Washington and Lee students prepare for the Monday opening of their two-day Mock Democratic Convention. On the ladders are Jim Thompson, left, of Rustburg, Va.; and Steve Quillen, of Lebanon, Va., chairman of the Old Dominion delegation.

'SECRET SERVICES MAPS PLANS---Charged with the "safety" of keynote speaker Senator Alben W. Barkley during his stay in Lexington for the 1956 Democratic Mock Convention, four Washington and Lee "secret service" agents check the route of the kick-off parade which Senator Barkley will lead. Left to right, the "agents" are Mike Epstein, Plainfield, N. J.; Phillipe Labro, Paris, France; Robert Curran, Chester, Pa.; and Howard Jacobs, Freeport, N. Y.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~